IDLE MEN AND CARS

Miners' Strike Has Entered the Second Week

AND THERE'S NO SIGN OF A BREAK

Thousands of Men are Loafing on the Hillsides and Empty Cars are Standing on Many Tracks—Arbitration Movement Started by the Governor of Ohio.

Pittsburg, July 11.—To-day marks the beginning of the second week of the coal miners' strike, and already it gives promise of being one of the great wage struggles in the history of this country. Eight days ago the coal operators in this district and the miners themselves little dreamed that within one week such an area of general suspension could be wrought as now exists in the bituminous mining industry. Then the mouths of the many coal tipplers that dot the Monongahela, Youghiogheny, Allegheny and Peter's Creek Valleys, and the Valleys of Toms and Miller's Run, were open and turning out thousands of tons of coal. Now the vast caverns are like so many graveyards. On the hillsides, in the shade, there is an army of 18 000 unemployed, who are anxiously awaiting for more to join the troops of idlers. On nearly every railroad track leading to the mines there stand empty cars. The success that has attended the movement has greatly elated the miners, and during the next few days every effort will be made to bring out the men in the few mines that are still working. This will be a difficult task, but the strike leaders express confidence in their ability to make the suspension complete before the week is 48 hours old.

From the best information obtainable the Pittsburg operators are in no hurry to have the difficulty adjusted. So many of them had stocks on railroad sidings, which they held for an advance. Much of this was disposed of Saturday at a good profit. One prominent operator said to-day that it would take another week to determine the exact state of the market, and by that time a general cleaning up will have taken place. All interested will be ready to begin business on a new basis and probably at a higher price.

"This whole thing will result in a compromise," said another prominent operator. "The operators are in a position to stand it for some time, and I believe the miners are in about the same condition. It looks as if the business will brighten up, and in that event the operators will be able to get better prices, and the condition of business and the condition of the miners will be simultaneously improved."

Just now the greatest obstacle in the way of the success of the miners is the activity of the diggers in the West Virginia fields. They are working night and day, and are getting ready to supply all the coal that is needed. They are repeating what they did three years ago, when a general suspension was declared. At that time there were a number of operators in the Mountain State that were on the verge of bankruptcy. The general suspension was declared and there came a great demand for coal, at prices that ensured a big profit. The operators rallied around them a large number of men whose friendship and support they have encouraged ever since. The operators profited by thousands and thousands of dollars. When the season had finished and the strike was declared a failure they balanced their books and found things on the proper side of their ledgers. They realized that they owed much of their profit to their miners, and rewarded them for it. On every succeeding pay day the faithful miners were paid bonuses in the shape of gold pieces, and naturally the best of feeling prevails among the employers and employes. This is the condition of affairs the organizers that will go into West Virginia district this week will have to encounter.

It is argued by the miners that there are more men out in that section than there were three years ago, and they express the greatest confidence in bringing them out. This failing, the railroad organizations will be appealed to. This plan of campaign has been outlined by the national officers, and the developments of the week will be watched with interest.

The miners' officials say that the success of the movement depends on the action of the West Virginia miners. They argue that many men in the Pittsburg district who were not affiliated with their organization sacrificed thousands of dollars and joined it. They will tell the Mountain State diggers of the success in this district, and make every effort to have them join. There are a number of operators in the Pittsburg district who have expressed a willingness to pay the price demanded. But the miners have said nay. They will insist that a majority of the operators in the district pay the 69-cent rate or none. This is the ultimatum of the national officers, from which there is no appeal. It is known that some of the miners' officials would be glad to let all the operators paying the 69-cent rate operate their mines, but cannot, owing to the decision of the national officials, who desire to have all the surplus coal taken from the market.

It Is Narrowing Down.

Baltimore, M.D., July 10.—Baltimore and Ohio officials report this morning that all the mines in the gas coal region, between Pittsburg, Connellville and all the mines on the Wheeling Division between Pittsburg and Elm Grove are closed. It is understood that at a meeting held last night all the heads of the different labor organizations decided to appoint committees to go in the West Virginia coal fields and get the miners out. Strong efforts are being made to have the men at the large D'Armitt Mines out, and if this succeeds it will probably close every mine in that territory.

COAL SCARCE AT PITTSBURG.

Every Effort Being Made to Secure Cessation of All Work.

Pittsburg, July 10.—The decision of the labor leaders at last night's conference in this city to send organizers into West Virginia and furnish funds to bring out miners in that State practically narrows down the strike to a fight between the coal operators of West Virginia and the labor unions of the country. The cry of union miners now will be that, with West Virginia in line, the strike ultimately will be successful. No money or efforts will be spared, it is said, to accomplish the suspension of every mine in that State. Special organizers will also be sent to the mines of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company, and every argument used upon the workmen to induce them to join in the movement. Many operators in this district are anxious to get the miners of the New York and Cleveland Company out, and in several instances money has been offered to help pay the wages of D'Armitt men if they consent to strike.

Coal is a very scarce article in the Pittsburg market and it is impossible to buy in carload lots. A representative of an oil well drilling firm said if fuel could not be procured it would cause a suspension of field work in this section. Operators are making every effort to protect contracts for future delivery.

A prominent operator said to-day that the local market will be well cleaned up by the end of the week and higher prices will result next week. Further acquisitions to the ranks of the miners were made to-day.

At Allenport the 200 men in the Vesta Mine last night decided to strike for the district price. To-day the pit is empty and work has been suspended. The Panhandle Mine of Hanna & Co is said to have been shut down completely to-day by the order of Manager Young. About 75 men were at work in this mine yesterday. According to the miners' officials, less than 500 men outside of the 1200 men employed by D'Armitt in the New York and Cleveland Company entered the pits in this district to-day.

District-President Dolan, who is just back from a two-days' tramp through the field, says:

"There was not a speck of coal mined in the Yough Valley from Whitsett to Pittsburg. I have been all over the territory, and I know what I am talking about."

Coal Famine Threatened.

Chicago, July 10.—As a result of the miners' strike every pumping station and all the public institutions of Chicago are threatened with a coal shortage, and the city is in great danger of having its water supply cut off. It was discovered to-day that there is only two days' supply of coal on hand at the various pumping stations, and a conference between Commissioner of Public Works McCann and the leading coal dealers of the city developed that only one dock had a good supply of coal on hand. The commissioner has taken steps to confiscate coal for public use if necessary, but whether there will be any to confiscate is entirely another question.

HIS LEG AMPUTATED.

Daniel Hetheway Fell Between the Cars and is Minus One Limb.

Bracebridge, Ont., July 11.—Daniel Hetheway, a young man 19 years of age, whilst attempting to board a moving freight train at Utterson yesterday morning, fell between the cars and was run over. His right leg was terribly mangled and broken from the knee to the ankle. He was brought to Bracebridge on the Atlantic Express in a very exhausted condition and left to the charity of the town. He had no money and no relatives, except a brother at Swan Lake, N. W. T., where he was trying to get to when the accident happened. His leg has been amputated above the knee

THE TERRIBLE HEAT.

Thousands of Prostrations in the United States.

NEW YORK SUFFERED SEVERELY

But Chicago Heads the List in Fatalities—St. Louis and Cincinnati Hospitals Full and a Heavy Mortality Among Children and Chronic Invalids—Buffalo Hit Hard.

New York, July 11.—The fierce heat, under which the greater portion of the country has sweltered since the first of July, moderated in many localities today, and predictions from the Weather Bureau at Washington indicate that lower temperatures will bring general relief within 24 hours. The record of prostrations and deaths resulting from the long-heated term approaches in magnitude that of a general epidemic. Reports from all sections of the country received by the Associated Press show prostrations numbering in the neighborhood of 2000, with fatalities close to 350. In addition to this there were scores of deaths resulting indirectly from the intolerable heat, the death rate in many of the large cities showing a fearful increase over previous years. The Central States suffered more severely than other sections, the heat being most deadly in Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis. In number of fatalities Chicago heads the list with 87 deaths, Cincinnati and suburban points reporting 65 and St. Louis 42. Throughout the South the heat was intense, but the death rate much lower than in the North. In New York City to-day there were 31 prostrations, four fatal.

Chicago Has 87 Dead.

Chicago, July 11.—Eighty-seven people have died in this city from the effects of the heat since July 1. In addition 6 have been drowned while bathing to escape the sizzling rays of the sun, 6 have been driven insane, a like number have committed suicide, while 347 prostrations, more or less serious, have occurred. The department reports show a great increase in the mortality among children and sufferers from chronic diseases. Eight deaths and 21 prostrations were reported to-day.

Welcome Shower and Coolness.

Buffalo, July 11.—At midnight five additional deaths from heat were reported in this city, making the total number of deaths for the day nine. The prostrations, many of which are serious, number over 50. To-day a heavy thunderstorm and a downpour of rain for three hours has cooled the atmosphere greatly.

Fourteen Dead at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., July 11.—The record of the sun up to 6 o'clock last night in St. Louis was: Dead 14, prostrations 52. Of those prostrated 10 are expected to die to-night. Bakers, teamsters, cooks and organ grinders form the bulk of those prostrated. The city hospital is swamped with heat cases. The emergency wards are packed. Large tents have been ordered placed on the hospital grounds, and all heat cases will be transferred to them.

At dawn this morning the temperature was 88 degrees, at 3 p.m. it was 99. As yet there has been no relief from the heat. The hot spell in St. Louis has lasted 12 days and still continues. Forty-two persons have died from sunstroke on the streets, in ambulances, or in the Emergency Hospital.

Seven Deaths in a Day.

Cincinnati, July 11.—There were seven fatalities from heat prostration here yesterday. There are in Cincinnati hospitals 40 cases of sufferers from sunstroke. Together with 358 cases under treatment, very largely for ailments superinduced by heat. The maximum heat mark by the weather bureau was 93 at 1 p.m. The Coroner reports 53 fatal cases of sunstroke here for the past seven days. This does not include a dozen such fatalities for the week in Covington, Newport and other Kentucky suburbs. There were more than 500 prostrations that were not fatal.

BLAZE AT GRAVENHURST.

Town Hall and Fire Hall Destroyed Despite the Vigorous Efforts of the Firemen Loss $3500.

Gravenhurst, Ont., July 11.—About 3 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in a small vacant house belonging to Joseph Brock. The firemen were called out and, after their return, a large quantity of hose, used at the fire, was hauled up in the hose tower to dry. A spark from the engine, while working over the large tank in the fire hall, must have lodged in the hose tower, as about four hours later fire was discovered in the hose tower. The engine was immediately started to work, but notwithstanding all efforts, the Town Hall and fire hall were completely destroyed, nothing being saved except the furniture of the caretaker. The Orange Hall, only six feet distant, was saved by the well-directed efforts of the fire company. The loss on the buildings is about $3500; insurance $2300. About $500 worth of hose used at the first fire was destroyed. The town fixtures and other fire appliances were destroyed to the value of about $700. There was no insurance on the buildings.

Ohio Miners are Content.

Columbus, O., July 10.—W. C. Pearce, secretary of the United Mine Workers, returned to-day from Gloucester, Ohio. He says the miners there have no more idea of stopping West Virginia coal on trains en route west than he has of stopping cars in Columbus. The miners are home in their garden patches, very quiet and very much satisfied with the suspension of work, because they believe the public to be with them.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

ALTHOUGH last week's shipments of cheese from Montreal across the Atlantic were less than in the like period of 1896, being 64,524 boxes, compared with 66,545 yet the total shipment to date this navigable season is 85,000 in excess of 1896.

THE Diamond Jubilee celebration has resulted in something like the discovery of the colonies by Great Britain, particularly in the case of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Premier of Canada, who has been to the insular Britons a surprising revelation of capacity and dignity. At the same time, Lady Laurier has been as great a success socially as her husband has been politically. This has been a great year for Canada.

THE rumours of cabinet changes, industriously circulated by the Conservative press, are the figments of inventive imaginations inflamed by hot weather. Sir Wilfred Laurier, when asked in England in respect to cabinet changes, said that he knew nothing of it, and in attributing such action to a cabinet in absence of the chief the Conservative papers have been judging by the character of the "nest-of-traitors'" cabinet. The Opposition will find that the "divide et impera" principle won't work with a Liberal cabinet.

MR. PETERSON'S announcement that he has secured the stock subscriptions necessary to ensure the carrying out of his contract with the Canadian Government to furnish a fast Atlantic steamship service is most gratifying. Harper's weekly, commenting on the project, says: "The expectation, in connection with the line, at Ottawa, is that not only will it secure a large part of the passenger trade to the Orient, which now goes from London and Southampton, but that it will cut into the trans-Atlantic passenger trade of New York and Boston. It has been urged ever since the idea was first mooted that Montreal is as convenient a port for a large part of the United States as New York, and that with a fast and luxurious line of steamers it will inevitably become a rival to New York as a trans-Atlantic passenger port."

A "JINGO" JUSTIFICATION.

Montreal Star.

Notwithstanding the powerful display of British naval force at Spithead, which so greatly impressed the foreign beholders, its full significance is not even yet fully realized in some quarters.

The arrival at New York on Wednesday of the Teutonic in her ordinary capacity as a regular mail steamer reminds us of the enormous reserve force which Britain has in her mercantile marine.

Just twenty-four days ago the Teutonic left New York with the mails, crowded passenger cabins and full cargo space; forty-eight hours in Liverpool turned her into a swift cruiser, armed with swift-firing guns, with her crew augmented by naval reserve officers and men supplemented by 300 boys from the training ships in the Mersey; she was furnished with munitions of war and stores, her bunkers filled with the best smokeless coal, and she acquitted herself to the satisfaction of the naval authorities. Yet in scarcely more than three weeks she is again plying the great ocean ferry with placid regularity.

But the object lesson has been given.

We realize that, as in earlier days, England's naval strength is likely to become more apparent the longer any contest lasts in which she may become engaged.

Assuming that disaster should annihilate her great battleships and cruisers, it is only reasonable to suppose that the enemy would proportionately suffer, and should the need for calling out Britain's third line of maritime strength arise, a new navy could be put under the St. George's ensign out of the fleets of the Peninsular and Oriental; the British India, the Cape, the West India and the Cunard Mail Lines alone.

Whatever difference of opinion there may be as to the value of the figures of rival statisticians, even the school boy knows that neither upon this Continent nor the other does any power possess such a reserve of such a class.

One further feature in Britain's favour we are reminded of by the report that her flag has been raised upon one or other of the Solomon Islands—that is, the great coaling station and repairing dock question. Here again Britain and Britain alone is almost independent; and the ports open to her vessels all over the world would be closed to her rivals.

A strong navy is useless to a nation unless her chain of coaling stations and docking facilities extends round the world.

It was not so in the old sailing ship days, so there is still consolation for the nervous grumbler who fears British supremacy on the sea is not so assured as it was in the days of the three decker and the square rigged frigate.

We may be quite sincere in trolling forth the sentiment that "we don't want to fight, but it is not altogether brag to continue the song and add, "but, by 'jingo,' if we do, we've got the ships, we've got the men, we've got the money, too."

The old music hall ditty of 1877, which christened a party "Jingoes," seems much maligned, for, after all, it merely gave bald expression to an indisputable fact.

A LAME BACK.

ONE OF THE MOST PAINFUL OF MALADIES.

Mr. Peter Millar Suffered for Years and Experimented with Many Medicines, Before Finding a Cure.

From the Brockville Recorder.

Perhaps no prettier place is to be seen in Ontario than that at Newman's upper lock on the Rideau Canal. At this station for quarter of a century resided Peter Millar, who during that period acted in the capacity of lockman, and was perhaps the best known man on the canal. Mr. Millar is now a resident of Merrickville, having retired from active life. To a correspondent of the Recorder he related the following experience:—"For many years: I was troubled with a lame back, which gave me great pain at times, and caused me much loss of sleep. I tried different kinds of medicine but found little or no relief. The spring of 1895 I was assisting at getting out ice one day when I felt something snap or give way in my back, and it was some time before I could straighten myself up. I now became so bad that when I laid down I was unable to rise without assistance, and I fully made up my mind that I had become a chronic invalid, and never expected to see a well day again. A couple of weeks after my back had almost entirely given out, I saw by an article in a paper that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured a person troubled similarly, and I immediately sent and procured a box to test them. Before I had finished the box I found my back somewhat stronger so I procured five boxes more and by the time they were used I found myself completely cured. Since I took the last box I have not had a pain or particle of lameness, and my health has been far better than it had been for years before.

To ensure obtaining the genuine always ask for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as there are many pink coloured imitations.

THE WOOL SITUATION.

The delay in passing the United States tariff has been fortunate for Canadian wool growers. It was thought, about ten days ago, that it would be impossible to make any further shipments of wool from Canada under the old tariff after the first of the present month, and the prices for wool in this market promptly dropped 25 per cent. After that exporters determined to make the experiment of continuing shipments, and they have been shipping the wool ever since as quickly as it could be obtained. Prices rallied and growers again were paid the prices at which the market opened for the present clip. It is expected that the United States Congress will soon agree to the whole tariff bill, which includes the wool schedule, in which Canadian wools comes in the second class and the duty will be 22c. per lb. on washed and 11c. on unwashed fleece. This will make it impossible to export any wool or sheepskins to the United States. Unless the American buyers are prepared to pay a reasonable price and the duty for Canadian wool, the dealers in Canada will have to find a market elsewhere for our wool. At the moment the market is firm on a speculative basis, and local dealers are paying 20c for farmers' lots here and from 20c to 21c for jobbers' lots of selected. It is expected by manufacturers here that when our wools are shut out of the United States prices will fall 5c per lb.—Globe, July 10.

A MARIA ST. INCIDENT.

Our Representative Called on Mr. Geo. Vaillilee, the Well-Known Retired House Builder, and the following Conversation Which Ensued Will Interest a Great Many Readers.

"Mr. Vaillilee, it has come to our notice that you have been a sufferer with kidney disease for a long time. Will you tell us something about it for publication?"

"I will be glad to do so."

"When did you first notice symptoms of kidney complaint?"

"Something over three years ago."

"What were the prominent amyptoms?"

"Pains in my back so that I could hardly stoop, no end of headaches, dizziness, puffing under my eyes, swelling of the hands and feet, sleeplessness and urinary difficulties."

"I presume you suffered greatly?"

"Yes, I suffered intensely."

"Did you try any other remedies?"

"Yes, I tried a number of different medicines, but none of them helped me. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, however, I got a box.

"Did they have a good effect?"

"Yes, they are a perfect cure. From the first few doses I got relief, and the improvement continued, until, after using them for six weeks the pains are gone. My appetite has returned, I sleep well, the dizziness, puffing, swelling and headaches have entirely disappeared, and I am better in every way than I have been for years."

"What do you think cured you?"

"Nothing else but Doan's Kidney Pills caused this remarkable cure, and I heartily recommend them to all those who suffer as I did." 182

BIDDING FOR RUSSIAN FAVOR.

A Great Race Between the French President and the German Emperor—An Anti-British Policy.

London, July 11.—There is a great rivalry between Emperor William and President Faure, in the newspapers of their respective countries, as to which of them, the Emperor or the President, will get the more honor out of the visits to St. Petersburg. On one hand it is said that the Czar will appoint President Faure colonel of a Russian regiment, and another story has it that 400 workmen are constructing a floating theatre off an island in the Volga, where the French President will be entertained with a magnificent performance, the stage to be illuminated by 60,000 electric lamps.

On the other hand, the German Emperor is credited with a design to take the wind out of the sails of the French by entering Kronstadt, escorted by a magnificent fleet of ten warships, by which he hopes to give his visit the character of a triumphal progress.

The main business of serious import to be transacted during Emperor William's visit to the Czar will be the formulation of a distinct understanding between Russia and Germany in regard to a frankly anti-British policy in the Orient, especially in connection with Japan and China. In the event of possible complications arising from the critical situation in India, Emperor William will pledge himself systematically to support Russian interests in that part of the word. This policy, in the main, is approved by Prince Hohenlohe, the Imperial Chancellor, and, it is hoped, will further isolate Great Britain.

Russia, on her part, is to promise the weight of her influence in favor of Germany in the event of annexation plans maturing in Samoa and elsewhere.

The Emperor hopes, notwithstanding the natural jealousy of France, growing out of this program, that an entente with the French Republic will in most cases be possible also. It was owing to this outspoken anti-British program, the outlines of which were sketched at the meeting between Emperor William and the Czar at Breslau in 1896, that His Majesty deemed it best to show a great deal of reserve in regard to Queen Victoria's Jubilee and the retiring attitude of the German Embassy in London during the festival was due to the same cause.

On the occasion of the recent visit of Prince Hohenlohe and Baron von Bulow to Prince Bismarck, this matter was discussed at some length, and it is claimed that the ex-Chancellor endorsed the program.

Further developments of the Cabinet crisis will be postponed until His Majesty's return from St. Petersburg. It is probable Prince Hohenlohe will remain in office until autumn.

A majority of the German press continue severely to criticize the Government, condemning it for handing over decisive influence and power "to a small but unscrupulous agrarian party." Even the influential papers, which have hitherto been on good terms with the Government, write in a similar strain.

A sensation has been produced by an editorial in The Cologne Gazette, saying, among other things, that unless a total retracing of steps takes place at Berlin the next elections "will bring a volcanic eruption of popular indignation and a terrible defeat for the aristocracy or nobility of the territory east of the River Elbe."

The Munich Allgemeine Zeitung published a scathing arraignment of Emperor William and his policy, condemning his habit of meddling with everything, and saying that he thereby misses a correct survey of the general situation.

Terrible thunderstorms, hailstorms and cloudbursts have devastated large districts of Wurtemburg, Baden and Alsace. In the district of Oehringen, Wurtemburg, alone, the damage is computed at 10,000,000 marks, with no insurance. At Buchawesler, Alsace, the hail destroyed the growing crops, killing many cattle, and injuring scores of people.

The Boyer Company's world-famed chemical works at Elberfeld, one of the largest German exporters to the United States, have been partially destroyed by fire. All the goods were burned and the damage is estimated at 1,125,000 marks.

The Princess de Chimay, formerly Miss Clara Ward of Detroit, is now at Matrei, in the Tyrol, where she has caused a great sensation. She wears the Tyrolese costume when driving, and her maid acts as courier, on horseback.

The Cologne Gazette advises German exporters to adopt extra precautions in crediting American purchases in view of the commercial depression in the United States.

Herr Beningsen, for years leader of the National Liberal party, is to retire from the Government service in the autumn.

They do not Despair.

An utter loss of hope is not characteristic of consumptives, though no other form of disease is so fatal, unless its progress is arrested by Scott's Emulsion, which is Cod Liver Oil made as palitable as cream.

The ST. GEORGE CLUB

Banquetted the Colonial Premiers in London.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER WAS ABSENT

Having Gone on a Visit to Mr. Gladstone—Cape Colony Presents the Imperial Government With a First-Class Battleship—Powers in Accord Regarding Turkey.

London, July 11.—The St. George's Club, the leading colonial club of London, gave a banquet last night in honor of the visiting colonial Prime Ministers, all of whom were present, with the exception of Sir Wilfrid Laurier of Canada. Mr. R. J. Seddon of New Zealand and the Hon. George H. Reid of New South Wales, who went to Hawarden to-day on a visit to Mr. Gladstone.

Mr. George J. Goschen, First Lord of the Admiralty, who was one of the guests, announced that Cape Colony, through its Prime Minister, Sir Gordon Sprigg, had presented a first-class battleship to Great Britain. The gift was unconditional. The vessel would be built at the expense of the colony, as an addition to the British navy, and not for the defence of the colony. The announcement was received with enthusiastic cheers. Mr. Goschen warmly thanked Cape Colony, on behalf of the Empire, for the gift.

THE POWERS IN ACCORD.

Queen, Kaiser, Czar and President Back Up Francis Joseph.

Constantinople, July 11.—Queen Victoria, Emperor William, Emperor Nicholas, President Faure and King Humbert have replied to the telegram received by them from the Sultan, and all give advice similar to that sent by Emperor Francis Joseph. Emperor William says in substance that he regrets his inability to dissociate himself from the views held by other powers.

Replies to the circular of the Turkish Government to the powers relative to the frontier question have also been received by the ambassadors. Thy all decline to admit the Turkish pretensions.

The Porte has sent another circular to the powers, proposing that, in view of the disturbed condition existing in Crete, Turkey send reinforcements to the island. To this the powers have also replied, endeavoring to dissuade the Porte from such a step. This proposal on the part of the Turkish Government is held to indicate that the Sultan does not intend to yield in regard to the frontier question.

The Deadly Rifle.

Rome, July 11.—Capt. Cei of the Bersaglieri has invented a rifle from which 80 shots a minute may be fired without removing the weapon from the shoulder. Tests of the new arm are being made by the Government.

Sir Patrick Jennings Dead.

Sydney, N.S.W., July 11.—Sir Patrick Alfred Jennings, K.C.M.G., LL.D., member of the Legislative Council of New South Wales, is dead. He was 66 years old.

Uruguayan Rebels Whipped.

London, July 11.—A despatch from Monte Video says that severe fighting between the revolutionists and Government troops has occurred at Acegua, in the province of Cerro Large. According to the Government report, the rebels were obliged to retreat.

Had to Call Out Troops.

Buda Pest, July 11.—Riotous demonstrations led by several members of the Chamber of Deputies have occurred at Eger. The trouble was caused by the refusal of the municipal authorities to allow a public meeting to be held in the Town Hall. The gendarmes were jeered at and insulted by the crowds which gathered, and the mob assumed so threatening an attitude that it was found necessary to summon troops to disperse them. Many arrests were made.

Nordica is Better.

London, July 11.—The condition of Madame Lillian Nordica, the prima donna, who has been ill at the Hotel Savoy for several days, shows a slight improvement.

Emperor William Hit in the Eye.

Odde, Norway, July 11.—Emperor William, while walking upon the deck of his yacht at this place to-day as one of the masts was being lowered, was struck a violent blow on the left eye by a rope, causing an extravasation of blood on the eyeball. A bandage was immediately placed over the injured eye and the pain ceased almost at once.

COUNTY REGISTRAR.

All Else Failing Mr. Geo. C. Ward is Cured by Eight Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope (Special) July 5.—No case of recovery from serious illness that has ever occurred in this community has caused as much talk as that of our esteemed fellow townsman, Mr. Geo. C. Ward, Registrar of this county, residing here. For a long time it had been well known to his intimate friends that he was a sufferer from kidney disorder. But for the past year he grew worse and all efforts to regain his strength were without avail. He is now cured, as he says, by using eight boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and is as well as ever he was in his life.

Here is the Way.

To cure all heart and nerve troubles and weak, weary, tired feeling, sleeplessness, nervousness, etc., do as Mr. Thos. Glover, Chatham, Ont., did. Says Mrs. Glover: "One box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured me. I was so bad that I feared paralysis, but am now well and strong, thanks to these wonderful pills."

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 289 George Street.

Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Lung Troubles are quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam.

TEN THOUSAND MORE MEN.

The Anglo Egyptian Expedition to be Made Strong Enough for a Certainty.

London, July 11.—It is announced that the Anglo-Egyptian expedition is to be increased by 10,000 men. The column will capture Omdurman and reoccupy Darfur, Kordofan, Senaar, Bahr-El-Ghazal and other places. A portion of the forces will advance along the Khartoum side of the Nile.

Colonial Representation.

London, July 11. The Daily Chronicle this morning says that Mr. Chamberlain, finding that his plan for colonial representation in the House of Commons is out of the question, wants Canada, Australia and South Africa, each to have a representative in the House of Lords, and for this reason wished Sir Donald Smith, the Canadian High Commissioner, raised to the Peerage. Mr. Chamberlain hopes that when the Premiers return home and consult their governments they will arrange for the nomination of these representatives. Mr. Chamberlain also hopes, eventually to constitute the colonial agents-general into a sort of advisory council, meeting regularly at the Colonial Offices and giving the Colonial Secretary the benefit of their counsel. In addition to the fact, however, that the conferences held did not run as smoothly as Mr. Chamberlain would have liked, a majority of the Premiers expressing surprise at the dilatory, easy-going methods of the Imperial authorities and the comparative indifference of the colonials towards the new problems created by the United States, whose instant action regarding Hawaii and Samoa as expanding their power, introduced a totally new element into Australian politics.

The Actual Truth.

Quebec, July 11.—Exaggerated reports have been sent from here of disasters in the Lake St. John region caused by cyclones, thunderstorms, etc. The truth is that Monday last lightning struck the belfry of the church at St. Felicien, wrecking it. At Normandin two girls, who were working together in a field, were killed by lightning.

An Ill-Fated Train.

Mr. J. Plimmer, of Windsor, Ont., was on the train which which went through the bridge at St. George, Ont., in 1888. In the accident his kidneys and back were seriously injured, and have since caused him great suffering. Mr. Plimmer says:—"Until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills I never knew what it was to be free from pain. They have entirely removed the pain, and I am able to work every day now. They have produced better results than all the other medicines combined which I have used in all my years of suffering. I regard them as a specific for kidney trouble."

President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength.

"I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very good medicine, especially as a blood purifier. It has done me good many times. For several years I suffered greatly with pains of in one eye and about my temples, especially at night when I had been having a hard day of physical and mental labor. I took many remedies, but found help only in Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me of rheumatism, neuralgia and headache. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself a true friend. I also take Hood's Pills to keep my bowels regular, and like the pills very much." ISAAC LEWIS, Sabina, Ohio.

They will be continued each evening, leaving wharf at 8 o'clock, returning to the wharf every 20 minutes. Accident.

On Thursday night of last week while Mr. N. Nicholls was returning to his home in North Smith, he met with an accident. While driving along the road near Mr. S. Wallace's farm, a horse came along at a furious pace and forced him to the side of the road, and another rig coming towards the village and driven by Mr. Jas. Hanrahan, of Douro, collided with him upsetting his buggy. On examination the buggy was found to be damaged considerably and he received several cuts and bruises. Mr. Jas. Hanrahan was also severely injured, one of his ankles being sprained and being shook up considerably. Assistance was procured and the rigs fixed up to enable both parties to return home. —Lakefield News.

Ho for the "Thousand Islands!"

Please note these details in connection with the grand annual excursion under the auspices of the Fire Brigade, on Thursday, July 15th. This year it is to the world-famed Thousand Islands per special C.P.R. train to Kingston and thence by palatial steamer down the St. Lawrence through the magnificent lake of the Thousand Islands. The steamer will leave the wharf for a five-hour's cruise—touching at all the principal points—among the most magnificent reach of water scenery in the world. Return to Kingston at 6 p.m., leaving two hours more to see the city sights. Train starts for home at 8, reaching town at 11.30. Note this: ☞Return tickets good to return up to Friday, 16th, only $1.75—to be had of the committee (see big bills) or at C.P.R. ticket offices.

A NORWOOD HERO.

A Lad of Twelve Summers Saves Loretta Clancy From Death.

Little Willie Puffer, of Norwood, proved himself a hero on Tuesday last when he boldly plunged into the Norwood pond to the rescue of Lorette Clancy, the 14 year old daughter of Mr. Wm. Clancy, formerly of the City hotel, Peterborough.

Five young girls were in bathing and not knowing the pond well Loretta Clancy got beyond her depth and was sinking for the third time when twelve year old Willie Puffer heard the terrific screams of her companions and running to the pond plunged in to the rescue. The girl seized him and both sank, but through great efforts he dragged her to the shore and shouted for his father, Mr. W. J. Puffer, who came and assisted his son to revive the young lady.

This is surely a case which should be taken up by the Royal Humane Society as a clearer case of heroism pure and simple would be hard to find.

The little fellow was nearly drowned himself last summer and his father then insisted on his learning to swim. The good results attending his acquiring the art were manifested on Tuesday when, but for his bravery a life would certainly have been lost.

DAILY TEMPERATURE RECORD.

The following are readings of the official thermometers for this afternoon, as well as the highest and lowest yesterday—shade temperature:—

To-day—1 p. m. ..... 74° above zero

	Highest.	Lowest.
Yesterday	80°	70°

Rain, .20 of an inch

A few figures relative to the extreme heat of the past week may prove of interest. The average daily maximum temperature of the week, beginning on Sunday, the 5th, was 93 5-7 degrees. The average daily minimum was 66 3-7 degrees, and the mean temperature of the week a fraction over 80 degrees. The officials of the Toronto observatory say that such oppressive heat over such a number of days has not been experienced for 40 years, though higher readings of the thermometer for two or three days in succession have been recorded.

At Idyl Wyld.

A correspondent under date of July 7th, writes from Idyl Wild:—Idyl Wyld was taken by storm to-day, one of the largest excursions and picnics of the season, the principal turnout being from Peterborough. All spent a jolly time and were simply delighted with the place. Mr. Spellman did all in his power to contribute to the pleasure of the visitors, and we must say he proved himself an able manager and a jolly good fellow as well, and these qualities together with the natural beauties of the island—green turf, shady trees and refreshing breezes, make Idyl Wyld one of the most popular of resorts. The steamer North Star runs daily trips, leaving Peterborough (the C.P.R. wharf) at 9 o'clock, reaching the island at 12 o'clock, and starting on the return trip at 4.30.

LOCAL ORANGEMEN ATTENDED CHURCH.

REV. J. G. POTTER PREACHES TO THEM AT ST. ANDREW'S.

One of the Largest Sunday Parades the Order has Ever Held in Peterborough—Votes of Thanks to the Pastor, Choir and Trustees of the Church Passed by the Order.

Fully three hundred Orangemen and True Blues headed by the Fire Brigade Band paraded to St. Andrew's church last evening to attend Divine service. The turn out was one of the largest for an occasion of this kind that Peterborough has ever witnessed, the entire central portion of the church being filled with the members of the Order.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. G. Potter, B. A., pastor of the church and lasted for over an hour.

In opening his address Rev. Mr. Potter took occasion to welcome in the name of the congregation the members of the Order to the church, and hoped that the evening might result in profit as well as pleasure.

For his text he took three verses of Scripture, viz., Judges vii, 18th verse:

"When I blow with a trumpet, I and all that are with me, then blow ye the trumpet also on every side of all the camp and say, The sword of the Lord and of Gideon."

John xviii chapter, 11th verse:

"Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath; the cup which my father hath given me shall I not drink it?"

Galatians v chapter, 13th verse:

"For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another."

The Book of Judges, said the speaker, presents a dark picture of life in Israel. Temple worship was still retained. God was recognized as king, but "every man did that which was right in his own eyes." At such a time that which is required is men and women as leaders who have personal worth and power. In the Book of Hebrews we find four judges are canonized—Gideon, Barak, Samson and Jepthah.

The narrative of to night's lesson presents the fact that after forty years of peace the Midianites had made inroads. It seems as if a calamity had overtaken Israel but a deliverer is raised in the person of Gideon, whose own household is the first to avow allegiance to Jehovah. By a sign from Heaven he is assured of his mission, and from the humblest position in life goes forth in might and valour upon the promise of God. We all know how he prepared for battle and after cutting his army down to 300 men by a strange test, gave unto each a trumpet which all being blown upon at once, the enemy took fright and were scattered.

The confusion was caused in three ways:—By a great noise, with a great blaze and with a great show, and proves the absurdity of sending on word ahead of an attack. The enemy must be taken in his own craftiness.

In the second text, Christ is on His way after being betrayed ruthlessly into the hands of sinners. Peter is ready and drawing his sword, cuts off the ear of Malchus. Jesus says to him "Put up thy sword into the sheath, the cup which My Father hath given Me shall I not drink it."

From these two lessons let us learn the following:

1. Our hope is in God alone—if God is for us who can be against us.

God does not prohibit the use of physical defense and the old maxim holds good—"To trust in God and keep your powder dry."

Britain's prowess causes fear in the hearts of all nations to-day, so that Britishers all the world over realize they have a duty to perform and are bound together by one indissoluble bond of loyalty to our most noble Queen. We are assured that God has given her through her Government the key to all the Empires of the earth.

By the power of God we are a Christian nation and wherever a door has been opened the British ships have been ready to enter in with the proposal of peace. Arms are not used when peace through righteousness reigns, so we find that after the oppression of a tyranical king, William and Mary are called to the throne of England. The conditions laid down are—no fighting and that he be given the rank of king. Thus empowered he began a work to which of its influence, strength, power. That influence is still spreading far and near and the followers of that noble prince and sovereign of Great Britain still cherish in their memories the principles for which he fought and the peace he secured from the onslaught of the oppressor.

God's rewards are not for the idle and the cavillers, but for those who, like Gideon, are "Faint yet pursuing."

Both Peter and Gideon are prepared for defence, but God says stand still and see the salvation of God. We all pray for the day when the swords shall be beaten into plowshares and spears into pruning hooks, but that day will not be hastened by capitulating principles in the clinging to which many of our fathers have died. Let us keep fresh in our memories the true spirit of the martyrs, and let us never bring shame upon such holy men nor the cause they espoused.

Let prejudice, superstition and selfishness be put aside from you. Hark, the Master says: "Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me?" "Feed my lambs."

Let the ministers of the people, the Christian workers and all who are banded together realise that only as we spread the Gospel of a loving Saviour shall that time come when the defensive will give way to earnest work and the protection of principles to the power of God in every life.

On returning to their halls the Orangemen and True Blues both passed cordial votes of thanks to the pastor, the choir and the trustees.

WORRIED BY DOGS.

A Number of Sheep in Smith Worried and Mangled by Dogs.

One day last week Mr. Abraham Miller, of Smith, caught two dogs among his sheep, but before he could catch them they escaped. On examining his flock he found that the dogs had worried two of them, and he had just came along in the nick of time to save them from being killed, as it is he will have hard work to save them. On the same day the same dogs had been over at Mr. Alex. Kidd's farm, where they had worried six sheep, one of which they had killed and the other had its leg broken. From Mr. Kidd's they went to Mr. Miller's place and from there to Mr. John Fairbairn's farm, and while there two sheep were worried before they were chased away. The dogs are brown and white and are said to belong near the Point. Mr. Miller had a good idea who they belong to, and if the dogs are not made away with some person will smart. Such dogs should not be allowed at large, and when they show the slightest tendency to go after sheep should be shot.—Lakefield News.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars. — G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

THE WHEEL.

There were several thousand people at Electric Park, Baltimore, the other night to witness a race between John Lawson, "the terrible Swede," mounted on a bicycle, and Harry Jersey, one of Pawnee Bill's rough riders. The race was ten miles around the half-mile track of the park and the interesting part about it was that the cowboy was to change horses every half mile. With a bicycle rider who can hit off a two-minute gait under favourable circumstances, it would look as if the cowboy would have the worst of such a contest, but he won handily by about fifty yards, although there was never a time in the ten miles where it was not the hottest kind of a race, with no more than 100 yards separating the men.

While the bicyclist did good work, he was not at his best, for the track was lumpy and not in good condition, and he was paced by men on single machines, who did not carry him as fast as he might have gone.

Interest centered, however, in the wonderful riding of the boy. A dozen or more cowboys and Mexicans assisted him in his work. As he neared the end of each half mile he would pull the horse he was riding as nearly to a stop as he could, while willing hands grabbed his horse and subdued him if possible. Jersey would throw himself from the horse as he came to something like a stop and run around behind him to where the other horse was waiting for him. A big Mexican there would grab him and literally throw him in the saddle, a man on the other side would steady him and prevent his fall off on the other side.

All hands would then try to start the horse off as quickly as possible. They would literally push the bronco off on his half-mile journey, beat him with hats and whips, and get him in motion and in the right direction as soon as possible. Jersey did not seem to be using the stirrups at all, or, if he did, he fitted his feet in them after he had started. With a rush he would be off after the bicyclist, who would always get a little the start of him on the change, and within a very few seconds his horse would be stretched out running easily and well under control.

The bicycle beat the horse under the wire in only six of the twenty laps, but quick as the changes were, Lawson would invariably get the lead in the back stretch only to have it cut down as soon as the horse was running free.

The pace was killing from start to finish. The time for the ten miles was 24.21½. This made the average time for a lap, including changes, 1.13 3-40, or 2 16 6-40 for the mile. The fastest lap was the first, which was run in 1.00, and the slowest was run in 1.20½. The time for each lap was as follows: 1.00, 1.07, 1.14, 1.11½, 1.11½, 1.12, 1.12, 1.07½, 1.10, 1.20½, 1.17½, 1.12⅔, 1.08⅓, 1.10½, 1.20, 1.13, 1.18½ 1.18½, 1.15 and 1.17⅔.

At the conclusion of the race the cowboys took their champion off his last horse and carried him about on their shoulders. They bore him off to the bar in triumph, but Jersey was too much worn out by the contest to partitipate. He had to be carried into the air, and it was then some minutes before he recovered sufficiently to talk. He is a good-looking sturdy young man of about twenty-two, and comes from Montana. The cowboys acknowledge him as their crack rider, and even the apathetic Indians highly prize his skill.

THE GLORIOUS 12TH, PORT HOPE.

ANNUAL ORANGE DEMONSTRATION.

The Local Lodges Leave for Port Hope to Spend the Day.

As was the case last year the morning of the 12th dawned somewhat threateningly, but this did not seem to dampen in any the ardour and enthusiasm of the Orangemen and True Blues, who were early a foot making preparations to spend the day in Port Hope.

At about eight o'clock a procession was formed to march over to Ashburnham and receive the lodges from the north who were coming in by special train from Lakefield. The parade formed up as follows:

J B McWilliams, Chief Marshal
H S Armstrong, Deputy County Master.
Sidney B Weir, District Master.
Fire Brigade Band.
Banner.
Rising Sons (Juvenile) Col Saunderson Lodge

Col Sanderson L O L No 321, Downer's Corners.

Jos Saunders, Preceptor,

Unfortunately through a misunderstanding the Lakefield special did not stop at Ashburnham and the procession had therefore to march back to town without the pleasure of welcoming the Lodges from the north.

Amongst the other lodges which accompanied the above mentioned ones to Port Hope were the following:

L O L No 80, Springville,
Mark Hooten, Master.
Fife and Drum Band.
L T B No 48, Peterborough,
W H G Armstrong, Master.
Maple Leaf Lady True Blues, No 7,
Mrs Rome, Mistress.

YOUNG'S POINT.

L T B No 69,
Jas Northcott, Master.
Lakefield Band.

It will undoubtedly be a big day in Port Hope as ten coaches carrying fully 700 passengers left the Grand Trunk depot for that point this morning. The lacrosse club and a large number of followers left at noon. A large number of excursionists went down on the noon express. The South Monaghan and Cavan contingent joined the special train at Frazerville and Millbrook.

The Onieme celebration was also fairly well patronized from this section, a couple of hundred going over there to spend the day.

THE CANAL STRIKE.

The Adjourned Hearing at the Court House.

The charge of intimidation in connection with the strike on the T.V.C. came up for adjourned hearing this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Previous to beginning proceedings Mr. Laverdure made an ultimate offer—the best and all that he would do. He was willing to pay teamsters $2.50 per day, and retain the wages of labourers at $1.00. These were the figures that were paid on the St. Lawrence Canal works, and on Onderdonk's and Aylmer's contracts.

The workmen retired to consider Mr Laverdure's offer, but had not returned to court when this report closed.

PLANS OF THE Y.M.C.A.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

If my statements were misstatements in regard to said plans, it was strange that Mr. Blackwell should have taken two weeks to contradict them, but possibly this has been caused by pressure of business and he has been obliged to call in outside assistance to answer them.

The plans which were handed to Mr. Blackwell at the time of the competition were copies of plans made by myself, with slight changes suggested by the Provincial Secretary. I went to the local secretary to object to those plans going into any other architect's hands, but unfortunately I was too late, they had been passed over to Mr. Blackwell. It was from those plans, as well as some ideas gleaned from my competition plans, that considerable of the present arrangement of the building was obtained.

My statements were correct and I could have added very much to them, but it is not worth the powder.

I claim that my plans submitted at the competition had not such objectionable features about them, such as having the boys' room above the level of the other rooms, but the plans were not submitted to expert judgment, and the Toronto elevations helped him wonderfully.

Yours truly.
F. BARTLETT.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1893 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 35 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large. local consumption double what it has been for the yast two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

KNEW SHE WAS INSANE.

Miss Orpha Ingoldsby Did Not Want to Give Her Brother Any Trouble

Pontiac, Mich., July 9. Miss Orpha Ingoldsby committed suicide last night by hanging herself with a cloth fastened to the bedpost, at her home on Perry street. On the dresser was a note, reading: "My Dearest Brother, I fully realize that my mind is deranged. I cannot live to cause you trouble by my insanity. Good-bye. Your loving sister, Orpha." Her father, Daniel Ingoldsby, one of the best known traveling machine men in the state, died several weeks ago. She had been very nervous ever since, but showed no signs of insanity. After her mother died more than a year ago she assumed the care of the household. Since the father's death she has lived alone with her brother, who is carrying on the business. Miss Ingoldsby was highly respected.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The receipts of live stock on the market yesterday were 47 car loads, made up as follows: 800 cattle, 1800 sheep and lambs, 75 calves and 800 hogs. There was no material change in prices for cattle, and the different grades were much the same as Thursday's market. Export cattle sold at $4.25 to $4.50, and picked lots would be worth a little more. The best butchers' cattle sold from $3.50 to $3.75, and there were a great many grass cattle that sold for less money.

Sheep and lambs were more plentiful, and some of them were unsold, especially the lambs; in fact, there are too many inferior lambs offered. The markets in England are quoted lower for sheep, and the bulk of them sold from $3 to $3.25 per cwt., and a few choice lots brought $3.35. Lambs sold at $2.75 to $3.25 each for the best.

The hog market remains firm for first-class Canadian pen and barley-fed hogs, and for this class as high as $5.50 to $5.65 was paid; but for corn-fed hogs Mr. Harris will not pay any such price. Mr. J. B. Shields, a dealer, had a car load from Essex County, and the best offer made was $5. Mr. Harris said that he would not repeat it, as he did not want them.

Shipments per C.P.R.: J. & J. W. Dunn, 3 double-deckers of sheep and 3 of cattle, all for export. Per G.T.R.: W. Levack 6 cars, James Eakin 6 cars, Brown & Snell 2 cars and S. H. Reynolds 1 car.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Shelburne, July 9.—The Cheese Board met here to-day. Ten factories boarded 1350 boxes. Buyers present Brill, Cope, Booth and Steinhoff. Brill bought 685 boxes at 7c and 7¾c, and Cope 305 boxes at the same price; 300 remained unsold. Board meets again 23rd inst.

Iroquois, July 9.—At the Cheese Board to-day 1047 colored and 320 white were offered and sold at 8¼c for colored and 8 5-16c for white.

Perth, July 9.—On the market to-day there were over 1500 boxes of white cheese. Prices advanced this week ¼c over last week and sold from 8c to 8¼c. Bissil, Webster and Johnston were the buyers, and got the largest quantity of it. Some shipped to Montreal for storage.

South Finch, July 9.—Nine hundred and three boxes boarded, 41 colored, balance white; 204 sold for 8¼c.

It Works Well.

The twenty-four-hour system of recording time just introduced in Belgium is working well. The postoffice, telegraphs and railways have abolished the distinctions of a. m. and p. m., and reckon straight away from midnight round the twenty-four hours, 1 o'clock in the afternoon becoming 13, and so on. It will be some time before the innovation is generally adopted, as all the clocks must be altered.

The Snake's Liver.

A snake has a liver, which fortunately, however, does not often get out of order, only one lobe being developed.

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinging touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

THE SPELLING CLASS IN ACTION.

Great English Achievements in School Recalled by a Middle-Aged Man

"Our views as to what constitutes great achievements," said the middle-aged man, "vary with our years. I well remember the time when I looked upon the boys who could spell such words as 'immateriality' and 'incompatibility' without mistake, with wonder.

"As the words in the spelling book increased in number of syllables there were fewer and fewer words to the lesson. There might be in the two-syllabled words lessons whose columns of words reached half or three-quarters of the way down the page, and with five or six columns across the page. Those seven and eight-syllabled words were in short lessons, only seven or eight words deep, and only two or three columns across the page. But short as they were, these short, compact blocks of words of many syllables presented to the younger boys, who occasionally looked forward in the spelling book at them, difficulties that seemed absolutely insurmountable, and when the youngsters heard the older boys spell these words out on exhibition days at the close of a term, or on days when the trustees paid the school a visit, why it seemed the highest imaginable achievement.

"This highest class, few in number, like the long words in the book, would be ranged in a row in front of the seats, between the seats and the teacher's platform, upon which sat the trustees. The spelling was the culmination of the exercises, and the whole school was interested, and everyone was anxious that the class should acquit itself creditably, and the younger pupils like myself believed that the trustees must be greatly impressed.

"'Immateriality,' comes from the teacher, standing book in hand at one end of the platform, to the head of the class, who repeats the word and proceeds to spell it:

"'Immateriality. I-m im, m-a- ma, imma, t-e te, im-ma-te, r-i ri, im-ma-te-ri, a-l al, im-ma-te-ri-al, i, im-ma-te-ri-a-l, t-y ty, immateriality.'

"He is prompt and confident and loud from start to finish, but the whole school follows him breathlessly and feels easier when he has finished.

"'Indestructibility. I-n in, d-e de, inde, s-t-r-u-c struc, in-de-struc, t-i ti, in-de-struc-ti, b-i-l bil, in-de-struc-ti-bil, ', in-de-struc-ti-bil-i, t-y ty, indestructibility.'

"And so it rattles along, every one prompt and correct until the teacher gives out one of the long words to a timid, shy, little chap who is fairly overcome by the presence of the trustees and the general solemnity and high tension of the whole occasion. He flounders and flounders over it hopelessly, with a faint and shrinking voice. The teacher repeats the word, enunciating the syllables separately, with an almost painful distinctness, to impress them upon the little chap's mind, but he only flounders the more. One of the trustees looks stern, the other two look kind and sympathetic, and presently the stern man comes around, too, but the youngster breaks down utterly, and the teacher gives the word to the next boy. That boy does not realize at all the timid terror of the boy who has just failed; he isn't that kind of a boy, and he rattles the word off boldly and glibly. And so it goes round and round till the words of the lesson are all given out.

"From first to last, half a dozen or more words are bungled by one boy and another, but still the school feels that the class has done very well, and as for me, being a small boy and only as far as the two-syllabled words, I go home to tell my folks of the wonderful deeds performed that day by So-and-so of our school in the spelling examination, and of the particularly tremendous fear of Wiggles, the smallest boy in the class, who never missed a word."

When Caught in a Shower.

We so often hear of laying something aside for a rainy day—well, here's a little advice. The supposition is, of course, that one has been caught out in an unexpected downpour, minus an umbrella. Instead of being too proud to take shelter in a doorway be glad to do so.

Even if one is going but a short distance, it is the best policy to wait; a wetting, minus soap and smoothing irons, does summer finery no good. In fact, that's putting it very mildly as every pupil of Dame Experience knows.

If the shower happens to vent its strength while one is on a trolley car, that is the place to remain until Mr. J. Pluvius has regained his sunny expression. That, in fact, is the moment to decide to ride to the end of the "line." Ten to one the decision will turn out a more than happy one, a rent delight if the car goes through a fine locality, for the shower will have made the air clear and sweet, put a limpid shine on the profusion of roses, and hung the trees with nature's finest diamonds.

Then when the sun-god glorifies it all again, and you're making the return trip (almost sorry its over so soon) the conductor calls out your street and—you go home dry-shod, more than delighted that the powers are so good to those who have a little, even a very little, commonsense.

Neatness and Butter Flavor.

Your butter will naturally have good flavor if your cow stable is kept scrupulously clean and well aired; if you take pains to get no dirt in your milk, either during or after the milking; if you feed only strictly sound, sweet grain and fodder, and if your milkroom and all milk utensils and butter-making vessels and utensils are always kept entirely clean and well aired.

"I was troubled with pimples on my face and head which caused me much annoyance. After trying many remedies without benefit I was advised to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle helped me and I took four bottles. I am now completly cured." JAMES REILLEY, Proprietor Chapman House, Sarnia, Ont.

CHILDREN WITHOUT ARMS

Two Have Been Born to the Cloverly Family and Both are Strong and Hearty.

Laporte, Ind., July 9.—A child was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Cloverly of Noble County last night, without arms. The infant is strong and lusty and will live.

This is the second child born to the same parents without arms. The first child, which is now 3 years of age, has been taught to use its feet with the same facility that it would its arms.

The Nerve of a Setting Hen.

Fire broke out shortly before noon yesterday in a shed in the rear of 549 East Washington street, owned by Geo. Hoffman. The firemen saved a life and prevented the fire from spreading. A sitting hen occupied a nest in the corner of the shed and notwithstanding the fact that she was drenched with chemical matter, she refused to move. The fire was all about her, and finally one of the men picked her up and carried her, nest and all, into the alley. Then the hen showed her disapproval of the familiarity of the fireman by cackling loudly.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

STILL IN HIS PRIME.

North Hastings' Oldest Inhabitant Hale and Hearty.

Josias Moore, of Bancroft, Ont., one of the oldest and best-known residents of Hastings County can boast of wonderful health and vigor for his age.

"Although I am over 84 years of age," he says, "I feel as young as ever I did."

Mr. Moore, however had a narrow escape from death about a year ago. "I was so bad with indigestion," he writes, "that the doctors gave me up. I tried various alleged remedies but found them no good. One day our popular druggist, F. C. Humphries, sent me a sample of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to try. The result was marvellous. After taking two I was able to get up. Then I sent for a box. I could soon eat anything. In a short time I was able to walk two miles, to Bancroft and back, with ease."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will, without fail, cure all kidney, liver, stomach and blood troubles. For sale by all dealers. Price 25 cents. One pill a dose; one cent a dose. Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto.

Perhaps the "New Woman" will be a stronger woman than the old one. Certainly, fresh air and the right exercise will do much for her. Fresh air is a great restorative, exercise a great nerve tonic if a woman be in condition to take it. A healthy woman can avoid disease. She can avoid the seemingly almost inevitable "weakness" of her sex if she pursues the proper hygienic methods. The same methods will not cure her if she be already sick. Taken under medical direction, in connection with the right medicine, they will help effect a cure. No women who suffers at all from so-called "female weakness" should attempt athletics of any sort. She should first put herself into possession of strong and hearty health by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After she is thoroughly well, exercise and diversion will help to keep her well. The cure should come first. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is designed and recommended for only the one thing. It acts directly upon one set of organs. No matter what is the matter with them, it will cure it. It will not cure anything else. It is a wholesome tonic, an invigorating nervine, or nerve-food as well as a healing medicine, and thousands of perfectly well women have found that by taking it regularly during the period of pregnancy, the danger and pain of parturition were much lessened, and in many cases, almost entirely obviated.

In every American household, there should be a copy of Dr. Pierce's great work, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." One copy free to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay for customs and mailing only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE STEEPLE JACK.

Inspector Hookyer had served his 25 years on the detective force, and his colleagues were entertaining him at a little farewell dinner in anticipation of his forthcoming retirement. The chairman having eulogized the guest of the evening to an extent that brought a blush to the face of that case-hardened official, the inspector rose to reply, and at the finish he said:

"The chairman has said that I never let a man slip through my fingers after I had once got on his track, but I am sorry he is wrong. I am bound to acknowledge that once an offender was too clever for me."

"Tell us about it," arose spontaneously from almost every throat, and Inspector Hookyer in response to the request gave the story.

"It was a good many years ago now when I had intrusted to me a case of a young woman named Eliza Thickbroom, who had been found dead, evidently murdered by having her throat cut, in some fields adjoining the canal near a town in Lancashire. She had been a domestic servant, and was of a very retiring, staid disposition and bore an irreproachable character. Her friends lived in quite another part of the country and her mistress had no knowledge of her keeping company or anything of that kind. For some time I had considerable difficulty in fixing the crime or any reason for it upon anyone; but at last, after a lot of enquiry, I ascertained that she had been walking out with a man named Lamprey, who lived near Stockport in Cheshire, some 80 miles from where Eliza Thickbroom resided.

"It seemed that the girl had been in the habit of spending her holiday, when she had a day off, in going to Stockport, where Lamprey met her, and that she had become engaged to him, but that, hearing something to his discredit, she had refused to have anything more to do with him, and so far nothing was known to implicate Lamprey in the crime; but I, of course, at once took train to Stockport and proceeded to hunt up Lamprey, and to make enquiries in the town where he resided.

"I knew nothing about him, except his name, but from the local police and cautious questions of one and another I was certain that he had been a sailor and was then a 'steeple jack' and one of the best climbers known.

"'Jack Lamprey!' cried one man to whom I had spoken. 'Ah, he can climb for sure, can Jack! Why, he climbed up to the very top of yon steeple,' pointing to the church hard by, which had a spire remarkably tall and slender and very hard to mount. 'After the storm had damaged the weathercock Jack climbed up and fixed it all alone for the parson, and he refused to be paid for it.'

"The man seemed to look upon Lamprey's refusing payment as more wonderful than climbing the steeple, and perhaps he was right. Well, bit by bit, I found little things which, when pieced together, pointed unmistakably to Jack Lamprey as the murderer. He had until recently been seen frequently in and about Stockport with the girl, but for the last two or three months she had not been observed in his company. He had been a jolly sort of fellow, but since the girl had ceased her visits it had been noticed that he had become moody and silent, and he had taken to drink a good deal, although he had previously been a most abstemious man.

"He was away from his lodgings on the night of the murder, and on his return early the next day he was travel-stained, as if he had walked a long way. His landlady remembered that he told her he had fallen down in some chemical works where he had been on a job and had stained his clothes, and she recollected that immediately after his arrival home he had busied himself brushing and sponging his garments.

"There was sufficient to justify me in obtaining a warrant, but he was away on a job—no one knew where exactly, except that it was somewhere near Liverpool—and it was useless for me to leave Stockport, where I had the best chance of catching him, on a wild goose chase to Liverpool without better information. My only course was to wait and keep quiet till he came back, which he was expected to do the following day.

"I took every precaution to prevent anyone knowing that he was wanted, but some party must have got to suspect it and given him warning. The police in Liverpool had been wired to and had kept watch of all trains in the direction of Stockport, and toward the evening of the second day I received the intimation that a man resembling his description had taken the train and was on his way. Assisted by a local detective who knew the man, I watched every passenger out of the train on its arrival at Stockport, but no Jack Lamprey alighted, and on inquiring of the guard it seemed pretty certain that he had got out at Cheadle; a station a few miles outside Stockport.

"It was the beginning of winter and night had set in, so that it was extremely doubtful if we could follow the man, but we took a train which was just going out of the station, and in a few minutes were at Cheadle. I there made certain that my man had got out. He had booked for Stockport, and had given up his ticket, but do all we could, we could get no trace of him. He had left the station immediately on having the train. No one knew him, and we could find no one to tell us anything more. So, hoping perhaps to pick up a clew on the road, we walked back to Stockport and on to the town where he lived, which was a few miles the other side, but our tramp was in vain.

"We had left instructions at Stockport for Lamprey's lodgings to be watched, but by some blunder, a man had not been sent there for some time, much to my anger and disgust. When I arrived at his house I found that he had been there, just for five minutes, his landlady said, and had left again with a bag of clothes.

"I was mighty savage, you may guess, both with myself and with the police of the place for not keeping a better look-out, but it was no use losing my head over it, and I at once set to work dodging his footsteps after he had left his lodgings. In the public house which he frequented I came across a man to whom I had previously spoken. He seemed to know Lamprey in a distant sort of way, and I turned the conversation on the man I wanted.

"'Ah! I've just seen him,' said the fellow. 'About an hour ago, or maybap a little more. He was going to Macclesfield, he said, to catch the early train in the morning into Staffordshire, where he got another job. He seemed in a mighty hurry, too.

"I had reason afterward to think that this man was the one who had given Lamprey warning, but whether that was so or not his information that night appeared to be correct, for I met several people who had seen Jack going across the fields toward Marple, which was his best way of getting to Macclesfield from the place he lived in; but when I arrived at Marple station I was at fault again, for no train had been out for quite two hours, and although I waited till the last train to Macclesfield had gone, Lamprey did not show up.

"Tired and vexed beyond description, I tramped back and got what rest I could, hoping that something might turn up in the morning to assist me in recovering the ground I had lost, but afraid that for once I had let my quarry slip and that I might never catch him now that he was aware he was being tracked.

"Sure enough the something did turn up in the morning, and something which confirmed my fears, though I felt that I had got my man dead if I had missed him alive. The postman came round soon after 7, before it was quite light, and had only just got up when a boy came running with a letter, which had been delivered at the police station. It bore the Marple postmark, and was addressed to 'The Detective from London.'

"Tearing it open, I read something like this:

"'From John Lamprey. I know you are after me, and I know what for. I managed to keep out of your way to-night, and I meant to try and get down south, but you are sure to have me sooner or later, so I've determined to make an end of it. Look at the church steeple when you get this to-morrow morning.'

"The church steeple was a tall and prominent feature whichever way you turned, and I had only to go to the end of the street to get a full view of it. When I got there and looked up, I saw something that gave me a start. In the uncertain light of the early morning I could discern against the gray sky, hanging by the neck to one of the iron loops which served for a ladder on the side of the spire, the figure of a man!

"'So much for Jack Lamprey!' I said to myself as I hurried to the police station. 'He has saved me any more trouble.'

"By the time I had been to the station and back to the church it was broad daylight, and, of course, the body hanging aloft had been seen and a crowd had already collected, every one recognizing it as that of Jack Lamprey.

"'A strong freak, I remarked to the sergeant who was with me.

"'I don't think so, he replied 'Jack had made himself a sort of hero over going up the spire to repair the vane and there was nothing more likely to occur to his mind than to finish his career at the same place.'

"There was no one around Stockport who would venture up the spire and a telegram had to be sent to Stalybridge for a man to come and get the body down. It was past midday before the steeple jack arrived, and by that time half Stockport had heard of the affair. Work was discarded, and an immense crowd collected to witness the sight. Every foot of the man's way up the steeple was watched by thousands of eyes, and when at last he approached the swaying body of Jack Lamprey the tongues which had been loudly wagging were hushed as by common consent.

"I shall never forget the few minutes which followed while the steeple jack, now looking the size of a little child, made his preparations for lowering it to his assistant, who was waiting on the top of the square tower to receive it.

"There was something awfully sad and solemn about it all.

"In due course the assistant received the corpse, which he let down to the ground, and every one around me remarked that he swung it roughly to the earth without showing the respect which might have been looked for. In fact, some actually called out 'Shame!'

"But all at once the hush that had fallen upon the crowd was broken by a storm of jeers and laughter. The thing which had given us all this trouble was nothing but a guy, and I never felt such a fall in all my life.

"So that he might get nearly a day's start Lamprey had cleverly misled me the night before. While I had been wasting my time at Marple he had been employed in stuffing the suit of clothes, which he had taken from his lodgings, with straw, making a very passable representation of himself, and in the middle of the night he had climbed the steeple, which was child's play to him and left his effigy there to deceive me and lull me into inaction.

"I need not dwell upon the chaff I received. It is too painful, even now, for me to recall without annoyance, but you may be sure I quickly made myself scarce."

"Did the fellow get clear away?" asked some one.

"Yes. He took the train to the east coast and succeeded in getting to Holland unnoticed," replied Inspector Hookyer. "But he hanged himself in real earnest some considerable time afterward, leaving a letter behind, admitting his guilt and stating that his conscience troubled him so that he could not bear to live."—London Tit-Bits.

The City Owns the Paper.

The city of Dresden owns a daily paper. The Dresdener Anzeiger, which was given to it by its late proprietor on the condition that all profits arising therefrom should be spent upon the public parks. This year a large playground of nearly eight acres was purchased from Prince George, the king's brother and heir apparent, and it will be ready for use this summer. The paper continues to hold the respect of all citizens, for the trust has been carried out in the broadest spirit, and the power has never been employed to foster any school of opinions social, political or religious.—New York Tribune.

Testing Steel.

A new method of testing the hardness of steel balls has been devised in Germany. The balls are dropped from a fixed height on a glass plate set at an angle; if properly tempered they rebound into one receptacle, and if they are too soft they drop into another.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Scranton, July 10.—In the eighth innings to-day Scranton made six hits for eight bases and six runs off Dineen, and then touched Staley for three hits, and another run in the same innings, making the score 9 to 7 against the Canucks. Bonner had a chance in the ninth that might have resulted in a double play, which would have made the score 9 to 8, and it was followed by McHale's hit, that brought in two runs and won the game for Toronto. LONDON BEAT THE HAMS.

London, July 10.—The Hamilton-London game to-day was characterized by uproarious kicking on the part of the Hams, and resulted in Captain Dean being ordered out of the game in the sixth innings and delaying the game. Hickey's error in the seventh sent in the only run the Hams made. In the fifth they had one man on third, with no one out, and failed to score. The heat was oppressive, and Hoffner and Gunther were both prostrated before the end of the game. Score.

Providence, July 11.—The Rochesters had on their batting togs to-day, and after touching up Picher Egan for eight hits, a total of 12 bases, and ten runs, he was relieved and Ruddenham took his place. The latter put a check on the hitting, but it was too late. Yerrick pitched great ball against the Greys. Score:

BASEBALL ON SUNDAY.

At Syracuse—The Stars were shut out for the first time this season. Inability to hit Farmer Brown was the cause. Buffalo banged Lampe so hard in the first and third innings that Willis was substituted, after which there were no runs made. HOT FIGHT IN BARRIE JAIL.

Maloney and Clarke, the Burglars, Attacked the Jailer and Turnkey in an Effort to Escape.

Barrie, July 11.—About 5 o'clock last night, Maloney and Clark, the burglars, who have been doing the safe cracking in these parts, and who are lodged in jail here, attacked Jailer Sissons and Turnkey Caldwell, when the latter entered the corridor to put them into their cells for the night. The weapons they used were legs of a cell stool, which they had divested of its bars and seat, using these legs as clubs. Sissons was struck over the head, and Caldwell on the right arm, which carried a revolver. A prisoner quite properly closed the corridor door, leaving the four men inside to fight it out. Caldwell covered Clark with a revolver and locked him in his cell. Maloney refused to surrender, fighting viciously all the time with the jailer, and the turnkey at the jailer's request fired a shot into Maloney's right leg. He at once gave up and entered his cell. Doctors worked for considerable time to find the bullet, but did not succeed. The jailer used a large key freely on Maloney's head, leaving an ugly wound.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

THE CROP OUTLOOK.

Decreased Acreage of Corn—Winter Wheat in Better Shape Than Last Year—Oats Not So Good.

Washington, July 10.—The July returns to the statistician of the Department of Agriculture indicate the following average conditions:

Corn 82.9, winter wheat 81.2, spring wheat 91.2, combined spring and winter wheat 84.9, oats 87.5, winter rye 95.0, spring rye 90.0, barley 88.5, tobacco 87.5, Irish potatoes 87.8.

The report on the acreage of corn, which is preliminary, shows a decrease of 1.2 per cent., as compared with that of last year. This represents a decrease of about 1,000,000 acres.

The condition of winter wheat, 81.2, is 2.7 points higher than last month and 5.6 points higher than in July of last year; that of spring wheat, 91.2, is 1.6 points higher than last month, but 2.1 points lower than in July of last year. The average condition of spring and winter wheat combined, 84.9, is 1.5 points higher than that of the corresponding period last year. The percentage of the wheat crop of 1896 reported as on hand on July 1, 1897, is 5.46.

The average condition of the oat crop, 87.5, compares very unfavorably with that of July, 1896, but is only a small fraction of 1 per cent. less than the average July condition for the last ten years.

NOTES FROM WINNIPEG.

Orangemen at Church—An Influx of Population Expected.

Winnipeg, July 11.—(Special.)—The Orangemen of the province will celebrate the 12th of July at Killarney and Lake Dauphin. At both places big demonstrations are expected. To-day the Winnipeg brethren held a large church parade, and were addressed by Rev. J. C. Walker.

Two thousand men are expected to come to this country to work on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway. Mayor McCreary will attempt to have these chosen from intending settlers.

Is Dr. Wilson of Keewatin Drowned?

Winnipeg, July 11.—(Special.)—A despatch from Keewatin says Dr. Wilson went out in a canoe and is believed to have been lost, as his canoe was found half full of water, and his dog was near by. Searching parties will go out in the morning.

Through the Crown of your Hat.

Regular hat store prices are revolutionized in our hat department; and bear in mind that our hat department is as big as any ordinary hat store. Take a look through our immense piles of hats of all kinds, and you'll find the newest and nobbiest shapes of light summer felts and straws that have had a quarter and a third chipped off the price. It's foolish extravagance to pay $3 for some highly-advertised manufacturer's hat—$2 for the hat and the balance for the name in the crown. We sell the newest of finest felt shapes for men, made of a good felt, with the same silk bands, warranted not to change colour, and to wear as long as any $3 hat—or your money back—for $2. This is an instance where we can talk better through our hats. It is not much of a trick to sell straw hats at this season of the year. Perhaps we're not the "leaders" in the hat trade, but we're the SELLERS, and that suits us just as well. Gentlemen's fine American straw hats for 75c, worth $1.25; very light weight straw hat, 50c., worth 90c.; fine straw hats, 20c., worth 40c.; boys' hats, 10c., 15c., 20c. and up to 65c. We sell as we buy. In this respect, this store is simply doing its duty by you who have made the business what it is.

A Special Departure In Summer Millinery.

After a most successful stretch of business, we feel like doing something exceptional in the interests of Ladies before the 1st of July.

Perhaps we ought to say we want to sell more Hats and mean to go about it in the quickest and best way to sell them. Please yourself how you consider the matter, but the facts are that the entire stock of Straw Hats in Fancy Shapes, Sailors and Leghorns have been marked down for the balance of this month. We also offer the additional inducement of reduced prices for trimming these Hats—provided, of course, the materials are purchased here.

DESPERADO ESCAPES.

Albert W. McLean Breaks His Prison Bars

AND SKIPS OUT FROM TORONTO.

One of the Most Dangerous Characters in the Country at Large Through the Negligence of Someone With a Crowbar He Broke Out of His Cell.

Toronto, July 13.

Through the rank negligence of someone at Police Headquarters the most desperate criminal that ever got into the hands of the Toronto police made a daring and successful escape from the cells at No. 1 Station yesterday at about 1 o'clock. The man is Albert W. or "Jack" McLean, a desperate character, who puts no value whatever upon human life, who is a murderer, an expert safe blower and burglar, and a member of a gang that has terrorized the central portion of the Province for the past couple of months.

McLean was arrested at the house of Mrs. Maloney, Toronto Junction, by Detective Davis at 2 o'clock on Saturday morning, on a charge of attempting to murder Detective Beardsley of Barrie last Wednesday night. He was locked up at the jail and was yesterday brought to headquarters, handcuffed to a notorious thief named Bob McFadden. He was arraigned and verbally remanded to be taken to Barrie in the afternoon.

Awaiting the arrival of Detective Beardsley from Barrie, McLean was locked up in the cells and at about 1 o'clock Policeman Munro, who was on station duty, took him his dinner. Policeman Charlton went down to the cells with Munro, being curious to see the prisoner, who was seated quietly in his cell and started to eat his dinner at once. In less than half an hour afterwards the prisoner had gained his liberty, and in the closet adjoining his cell an iron crowbar about seven feet long, in addition to a bent bar in the cell and a lock wrenched from the door in the outer corridor, bore mute but strong testimony as to the manner in which the escape had been effected.

After wrenching the lock from the corridor door, the rest of the work of escape was comparatively easy. McLean evidently sneaked upstairs and watched for an opportunity when the station would be empty. Policeman Munro was alone in charge, Sergt. Archer, who is on station duty, being away at his dinner. The policeman had occasion to go to the guard room once or twice, and the door leading to the cells was left open for ventilation. This gave McLean all the chances he could have wished, and he availed himself of them.

In the detective office a couple of hours after the escape the officers were simply disgusted with the manner in which the downstairs business is conducted. The World asked Inspector Stark what he thought of it, but the officer would say nothing, and he was not in a mood to answer many questions. He simply remarked, with a touch of pride, that the bungle was out of his department. Sergt. Reburn was similarly disgusted, and so was everybody else.

Detective Davis, who made the clever capture of the desperado, is one of the bright spots on our very dismal police system. He simply said that the prisoner had gone and that he was afraid it would be hard to get him again. McLean will certainly not hesitate to shoot the man who tries to re-capture him. He told Davis that he would have filled him full of holes if he had only had time to reach his gun on Saturday morning.

Detective Black had no opinion to give, excepting that a man could break any jail on the continent of America with such a weapon as McLean had been kindly provided with. That was somewhat the sentiment expressed by all the other officers.

Detective Beardsley of Barrie arrived at headquarters at about half past four to take his prisoner north, and when he heard of the escape his jaw dropped considerably. He was anxious to get the man who would have taken his life.

Beardsley gave The World a graphic description of the Barrie affray last Wednesday night and told of the desperate attempt made by McLean's pals, Maloney and Clark, to murder Jailer Sissons and Forsey Cahill of the Barrie Jail while attempting to escape on Saturday night.

With Detective Beardsley was Detective Cockburn, the clever young G. T. R. officer. He had abundance of evidence against McLean and the other two of crimes committed in the past four weeks. He told The World now the two had committed burglaries since a month ago in Port Perry and along the Midland and Northern Railways. They burglarized a store at Holden's Landing on June 27, and on the same date blew up the safe in the G.T.R. Station at Bradford, securing about $18. From Holland's Landing they came to Maloney's house at Toronto Junction with some booty they had secured at these places and on the following Tuesday night went to Markham, where they robbed the safe at the G.T.R. station. Then they went to Black Creek, Penetang and Victoria Harbor, where they committed various robberies and on Saturday, July 3, they shipped stuff from the latter place by express to Toronto and on the same night cracked the safe at Victoria Harbor station. Then they drifted to Barrie where the officers run them down and nearly lost their lives.

The above shows the kind of a man McLean is. When he murdered the Sheriff of Michigan State at Saulte Ste. Marie, 12 years ago, he fired five shots into the man's body before he would allow him to enter his saloon, at the rear of which a prize fight was in progress. Unfortunately Michigan laws do not embody capital punishment and McLean was sentenced to 35 years' imprisonment, but on a new trial got it reduced to 10 years. He was always looked upon as a desperate character while in Jackson Penitentiary. He was present when Detective Cuddy's brother, who had a contract at that institution, was murdered by one of the prisoners.

McLean's chums, who are in Barrie Jail, are nearly as bad as he is. They will be sentenced today, having been convicted of burglary, and they will also be tried for attempting to batter out the brains of their jailer with a stool on Saturday night, during which affray Maloney was shot in the leg. Maloney is a desperate criminal, well known to the police, but there is some doubt so far as to Clark's identity. He is either a Detroit burglar or a Torontonian recently released after serving seven years in Kingston. If it is the latter he is a brother of young Clark who was suspected of the unsolved Joe Martin murder mystery and who is now serving a sentence for burglary.

Was at the Junction.

Toronto Junction, July 12.—(Special.)—The notorious Jack McLean, who escaped from the Court-street police station this afternoon by prying his way out with an iron crowbar, lost no time in making for the Junction on regaining his liberty. He wanted the revolver which he had left buried under the sidewalk in front of Mrs. Maloney's house on King's-road on the night he was arrested, and headed straight for the spot, arriving here about two and a half hours after his escape. Detective Cuddy preceded him about 15 minutes, but he had left the house when McLean arrived. His one thought seemed to be the revolver. Not finding it under the sidewalk, he rushed into the house and upstairs, enquiring anxiously about it. But finding that Chief of Police Royce had secured it, he made a hasty exit towards St. Clair-avenue, where he was soon lost to view among the small shrubbery that here dots the country over a large area, towards Black Creek. Detective Cuddy, Chief of Police Royce and Constable Garland were immediately apprised of the criminal's appearance, and lost no time hurrying in the direction pointed out to them; but after a search until nightfall they failed to locate him. Mrs. Maloney was in ignorance of the affair in the Barrie jail until shown the report in this morning's paper.

THE BABE WAS KILLED.

A Little Tot of Two and a Half Years Run Over by an Express Wagon in Toronto.

Toronto, July 13.

Irene Albertie, the 2-year-old child of John E. Albertie, the Yonge-street confectioner, was the victim of a shocking fatality on Yonge-street at 8 o'clock last night. The little girl was run over by a Canadian Express Company wagon, the hind wheel passing over her neck, and she died in Hoar's drug store a few minutes after the accident occurred.

The child was being wheeled in a baby carriage by her 8-year-old sister, who left her precious charge in care of a little companion while she went across the street to get change for a dollar. In some manner the carriage got away from its guardian and rolled down the street. Its little inmate was laughing gaily when the carriage toppled over the curbstone, and threw the child in between the front and hind wheels of the wagon, which was being driven by Joseph Herdman, 361 Rushholme-road. Herdman saw the carriage rolling off the sidewalk, and called to some men to stop it. He pulled his horse up on its haunches, but not in time to prevent the hind wheel going over the baby's neck. He jumped off his wagon and assisted in taking the baby into the drug store.

Drs. G. B. Smith and Adam Wright were summoned, but saw immediately that their services would be of no avail. Coroner Aikins was notified, and after investigating the matter decided that no inquest was necessary.

A FAST LINOTYPE MAN.

Set Over Nine Thousand Ems an Hour in His Ordinary Routine of Work.

Philadelphia, July 12.—William Duffy, a linotype operator employed in the composing room of The Philadelphia Inquirer, set in six days last week the enormous amount of 409,300 ems of nonpareil type. His average per hour was 9192 ems. He worked off the hook, ordinary run of daily copy, principally market and summaries of sporting events, leading his own matter, using point leads, did all his own correcting, passing galley proofs to next operator for correction and kept no account of waits for copy or breaks in machine.

Barn and Horses Burned.

Alvinston, Ont., July 10.—William Hand's barn and contents, in the Township of Euphemia, about seven miles from here, was burned to-day; also one of his horses and a valuable young horse belonging to William Fitzpatrick of this place. There were about 20 tons of hay, all last year's wheat and oats, and several farm implements in the barn. Cause of fire unknown. Insured in the East Lambton Mutual for $700.

Wages Put Up.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 11.—The Pawnee, Kelly and Westville Companies, the largest in Illinois, have posted notices of an increase of 10 cents a ton in the wages for mining coal. The object of this is to keep the men at work and thus break the backbone of the strike.

TWELFTH OF JULY

Was Celebrated Yesterday at Different Points.

A MONSTER PARADE IN TORONTO

Thousands of Men in Line With Numerous Bands and Banners A Big Display at Dunnville Speeches and Sports at Many Places in the Province.

Toronto, July 13.

The 207th anniversary of King William Prince of Orange's victory at the Boyne was most successfully and enthusiastically carried out in Toronto yesterday:

The weather was all that could be desired, and the consequence was that, although the parade was not numerically larger than in some recent years, it was among the largest, and the crowds who witnessed it showed no diminution of interest.

In fact, it was as gay and festive a Twelfth as the most ardent Orangeman could desire. The Protestant boys for they were all boys yesterday—marched bravely, despite the heat, in the most good-humored fashion, the sun shone brightly, the orange lily was seen everywhere, and never were the regalia and banners more resplendent.

The various lodges met at their halls early in the morning, where the members paid their dues and received "the annual," after which they marched to their rendezvous at Victoria Hall, Queen-street east, and took the places assigned them by Chief Marshal Joseph E. Thompson, County Director of Ceremonies, who was ably assisted by William L. Purvis, Centre District; John Hewitt, D.C.M.; John Adair, Western District; W. N. McLatchie, Eastern District; J. H. Allen, Northwestern District; J. Mason, Northern District.

It was 10 minutes past 11 when the carriages containing the Lady True Blues began to move, heading the procession. They occupied 41 carriages, being gaily decorated with Orange colors. Then followed a large representation of True Blues and Orange Young Britons. These were followed by the Loyal Orange Lodges, with the Chief Marshal at their head, the place of honor being given to the Loyal Orange Lodges from Hamilton.

All the procession had scarcely got in motion when the hour of 12 o'clock arrived, when, according to arrangements, a halt was to be made. This was carried out, and as the numerous whistles and bells announced the hour the procession halted, and all the bands, and never before were so many in line, played "God Save the Queen," while those on parade bared their heads.

When this tribute by the Orangemen to Her Majesty was over, the procession moved off again. Cheers went up from thousands all along the line.

Arrived at the Exhibition grounds, it was there that Orangeism was to be seen in all its radiance and glory. The head of the procession reached there about 1 o'clock, and from then on until nearly 3 o'clock there was a steady stream through the gates. It is almost impossible to compute how many thousands there were there, but it suggested one of the best days of the fair. The principal lodges had abiding places for the day in the many buildings, where they dispensed refreshments and hospitality to the members and friends with a free hand. Jollity, mirth, good humor and loyalty prevailed everywhere. All appeared to be out for a pleasant day and bound to have it, and nothing happened to mar the festivities. It was a brilliant and enlivening sight to see the crowds on the grounds. Bands were playing everywhere, enlivening the scene and promoting gaiety.

Youth and beauty gathered in large numbers in the music pavilion, where dancing was enjoyed to their hearts' content.

During the afternoon the various lodges paid fraternal visits to each other's headquarters, where there was much speaking, cheering, eating and drinking at these reunions. The two centres of attraction were McKinley L.O.L., 275, and Northern Star L.O.L., 778. The principal speaking was done at 275's headquarters, where open house was kept all afternoon, its members in turn visiting many of the other lodges.

At McKinley Lodge headquarters, Worshipful Master Charles Noble occupied the chair, where some really good speeches were delivered, notably that of John Ross Robertson, M.P., the Grenadiers' band furnishing music during the intervals.

About 4000 spectators witnessed the Orangemen's games in the ring, from the grand stand and around the fences.

AT OTHER POINTS.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell Took a Leading Part Among His Constituents.

Belleville, July 12.—Sir Mackenzie Bowell attended a very large Orange demonstration in his old constituency of North Hastings at Ivanhoe to-day. The hon. gentleman, who spoke for about half an hour, had a very hearty reception. In his address, which was chiefly devoted to the aims and principles of the order, he referred to the better understanding of them by the people at large, as recently demonstrated at Montreal and in other sections of the country, and in conclusion he said that it would not be possible to govern successfully a country in which there was such a diversity of creed and of race as existed in Canada without a strict adherence to the principles laid down in the constitution of the Orange Order, namely, liberty of conscience, toleration of other's opinions, equal rights to all, and the firm maintenance of the constitutional rights of all classes of Her Majesty's subjects, which sentiments were heartily applauded.

Great Day at Dunnville.

Dunnville, July 12.—To-day Dunnville witnessed the most successful celebration ever held here. The celebration was under the auspices of the Dunnville Orange Lodge, No. 161. Forty lodges were present, representing the Counties of Oxford, Brant, Haldimand, Monck, Welland, Norfolk, and the City of Buffalo, N.Y. Over 2000 Orangemen were in line, and the procession, which was a mile in length, was accompanied by (2) lady True Blues from Brantford and Buffalo. The crowd, numbering about 8000, assembled in Central Park, where an address of welcome was given PRODUCE EXPORTS.

Shipments of cheese from Montreal, says the Herald, have now gone over the half million mark. Shipments of butter from Montreal are nearly three times greater than last year. Both butter and cheese are still increasing.

Here are a few samples of how the export produce trade is floundering along under Liberal rule:

This is not so very bad.

If the Sultan of Turkey could discount at a fair rate the notes he has received from the powers he might realize a substantial addition to his exchequer.

SEVERAL Ottawa aldermen have resigned over a squabble about the purchase of a fire engine. Two engines, a Waterous and a LeFrance, are offered the corporation, and the fight is over a competitive test.

MR. FOSTER predicted a deficit in the Dominion treasury of two millions. Now, with the figures almost complete, it is seen that there will be a very small difference between the two sides of the ledger, and that it is as likely to be on the right side as on the wrong. Mr. Fielding appears to have become better acquainted with the Finance Department in the months that he has been there than Mr. Foster is after his long years of experience.

GREAT BRITAIN AS A COLONISER.

The London, Eng., Chronicle says: "When we hear of the new colonial ambitions of rival powers—be it France, or Germany, or Italy—we can afford to smile. They simply cannot do it. France's interests lie in Europe, and there is hardly a colonial town in which a thousand Frenchmen settle. As for Germany, the shameful fiasco of the African settlements is enough. It is our race that opens the new lands, it hews its way through unknown forests, as in earlier days it steered through unknown seas. We are the adventurers of the earth; and if we sometimes have the rough vices of adventure, as well as its strong qualities, we need not be overmuch ashamed. The mother-folk at home can bring its calmer common sense to bear, when its hot raiders ride too far afield. And while the empire holds together, neither they nor we will fail to understand the other.

This, then, is the proudest moral of the day—the thought that we, and we only, as it seems, are the makers of empire overseas. The more we know the distant lands, the more we shall draw together these unseen bonds, more strong than steel, that bind us altogether. Not in a day, nor in a year—not by braggart boasts or insolent aggression—not by rash schemes either of "Federation" or of "Zollvereins," will the final constitution of the empire be made. That it will be made we doubt not. But it must be made as our own was—founded deep and steady in the slow experience of many years and many minds—rising by practical expedients, no man knowing how, out of the common sense and general good will of all."

ville, and the following speakers addressed the visitors: Bro. R. C. Newman of Toronto, Past Grand Master of True Blues; Bro. William McCleary, M.P., Welland; J. W. Schofield, County Master; Rev. W. E. Hughes, D.C.M. of Tilsonburg; Rev. Wesley Cassin of Dunnville; Rev. Mr. Corcoran, D.G.M. of South Cayuga, and others. Mr. J. W. Holmes acted as marshal, and the best of order prevailed.

At Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Niagara, July 12.—The Orange celebration at Niagara-on-the-Lake was a great success, a large contingent coming in from the surrounding district. About 1 o'clock the procession formed and marched through the principal streets of the town to the park. In the afternoon all kinds of sports were carried out, but the principal interest of the day centered in the bicycle races, the finishes being close and exciting.

Speeches and Sport at Mount Forest.

Mt. Forest, July 12.—To-day has been one of the most successful celebrations held here for years. There were fully 5000 visitors from various points in this vicinity, and there were about 20 lodges present. The main street was very handsomely decorated with evergreens, flags, bunting, etc., and presented a fine appearance. A procession was formed at the Market Square, marching via Wellington and Main-streets to the Horticultural Grounds, where they were addressed by His Worship Mayor Halsted, Revs. Bevan, Williams, Sabine and G. L. Allen, past grand master of Mount Forest, and Revs. Jansen and William McPhaden of Durham, and Henry Irvine of Drayton. After the speaking they had two bicycle races. In the one mile novice, Woodrich of Palmerston took first, Greensides of Mount Forest taking second. In the two-mile open, there were six entries. The track was in poor condition, and the time made was 5 mins. Cuminess taking first place easily, with Woodrich second and Duncan Fletcher a good third.

A baseball match, between Palmerston and Cargill baseball teams was a feature of the day's proceedings. They gave a good exhibition of baseball. The score was 29 to 9 in favor of Palmerston, although there was not the difference in the playing that the score indicated.

Great Crowd at Gravenhurst.

Gravenhurst, July 12.—A tremendous crowd gathered here to-day to celebrate the glorious Twelfth. They came in by special train from Orillia, Coldwater, Waubaushene, and all the districts in that vicinity from the south and from all points north, reaching above Novar, while hundreds of carriages, filled with the "bone and sinew" of the country with their wives and families and sweethearts, poured into town in a continuous stream. The streets were jammed, but as all arrangements had been made for a big crowd everything passed off in the best of order. About 25 lodges with their bands, together with the Midland and Gravenhurst brass bands, formed a procession a mile long. It is estimated that fully 6000 or more visitors came to town. The weather was perfect, and all are satisfied that they had a big day. A lacrosse match is now going on, and the evening will wind up with dancing and other amusements.

The Day at Brighton.

Brighton, Ont., July 12.—Brighton's demonstration to-day was a red-letter one in the history of Orangeism in this district. The town was handsomely decorated and bunting was flying from nearly every building. About 10 o'clock in the morning the several lodges began to arrive and continued to do so until 13 lodges in full regalia were commemorating the Battle of the Boyne.

At the grounds the comfort of man and beast was cared for and the provisions for protection from Old Sol were ample. Two o'clock having arrived, Mr. D. E. Maybee, County Master, after prayer by the Rev. Mr. Scott, of Warkworth, introduced the speakers of the day as follows: Mr. E. Anderson, ex-M. P.; Mr. E. Cochrane, M. P.; Mr. F. L. Webb, B. A., barrister and solicitor, Colborne, and Mr. F. M. Clarke of Belleville, Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Ontario East. The speeches were excellent and expressive of the broadest principles of tolerance and equal rights to all classes.

The day's proceedings were brought to a close by a grand concert in the opera house, followed by a magnificent bicycle parade, for which the finest pyrotechnical display ever given outside of the large cities held the immense crowd for hours. This closed one of the best and most orderly demonstrations this district has ever known.

Orderly and Enthusiastic

Aurora, Ont., July 12.—The Diamond Jubilee celebration of the 12th of July by the Orangemen of this district, held here to-day, surpassed anything of the kind ever seen in this section of country. The crowds on the streets all along the route of march were greater than ever seen before. But the greatest and most distinct feature of the parade to those who witnessed these annual demonstrations was the marked improvement in the general appearance of those in line. A more orderly gathering was never witnessed in the town. There was entire absence of anything in the whole parade which could by any means be construed as offensive to any class of the community. There must have been fully 2000 in the procession.

The chief speakers were John Dunning, William Galbraith of Montreal and Grand Master of the Province of Quebec; W. J. Parkhill of Midland, Edwards of Barrie, J. B. Hopkins of Bedford Park, E. Little, M. L. A., of Barrie, Charles Palling of Allandale, Rev. Mr. Morgan of Thornhill, Rev. H. Lee of Aurora. The chair was occupied by Mr. R. Bell of Innisfil. There were ten bands in the procession, and at the band contest Barrie band carried off the honors. East Toronto True Blues won the prize for the best drilled company, and Cedarvale the prize for the largest lodge, which numbered 84 men.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Lung Troubles are quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam.

Colonial Premiers Charmed With Mr. Gladstone.

THE CONVERSATION WAS INFORMAL

And the Grand Old Man Entertained Them With Reminiscences of Over 60 Years Rebellion in Borneo—Labor War Imminent in England—Armenian Horrors.

London, July 12.—The visit Saturday to Hawarden of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. R. J. Seddon and Mr. George H. Reid, Prime Ministers respectively of Canada, New Zealand and New South Wales, was a great success. The Premiers were much impressed with Mr. Gladstone's mental alertness and physical vigor, and also by his magnetism and charm of manner. They declare it is no wonder that he exercised such influence over his countrymen.

The conversation was informal and familiar. The visitors were engrossed by Mr. Gladstone's vivacious recital of reminiscences and his knowledge of colonial affairs from the time 62 years ago when he was appointed Under Secretary of State for the Colonies. Several group photographs of Mr. Gladstone and his visitors were taken.

A REBELLION IN BORNEO.

Government Station at Gaya Looted. Treasury Sacked and Officers Imprisoned.

Labuan, Island of Labuan, northwest coast of Borneo, July 12.—Matsalley, the rebel leader, with 60 followers, attacked and burned the Government station at Gaya at daybreak yesterday. He looted the town, sacked the treasury, securing about £2000 on deposit, imprisoned the officers in charge and others, and killed a corporal of police.

The British Resident here has gone to Gaya with a small force of Dyaks.

There are no Europeans at Gaya, which is a mere collection of rude huts in charge of an Eurasian (half-breed) officer and a few police.

Matsalley has already been proclaimed an outlaw, and it is believed that his following is small. The Dyaks and Sikhs who are being sent to hunt him out of the jungle will probably capture him easily.

GOD HELP US!

Reports From the French Mission Regarding Cruelties in Armenia.

Paris, July 12.—Paul Charmetant, director-general of the French mission in the Levant, has received by way of the Caucasus and Tiflis a report prepared by a number of Armenian notables, and Gregorian bishops on the situation in Armenia.

It took the messenger who had the document in charge nearly three months to get through the difficulties and dangers along the Turkish frontier, which was carefully guarded against all Armenians or Armenian sympathizers.

The report, which fills 30 printed pages, is very carefully prepared, and goes fully into the situation.

According to its authors, the Turks in Armenia, fearing European intervention, have abandoned the old practices of wholesale massacre, but during the last year there have been clandestine exterminations and most terrible persecutions, especially in the more remote provinces. The Turks openly boast that they have sworn to wipe out the whole Armenian race, slowly but surely.

The document recites in detail various forms of persecution. It appears that the tax collectors seize the inhabitants if they do not pay everything demanded. "Women are taken through the streets with chains around their necks and kept for days without food. In some cases they are fastened to pilars, head downwards. Freezing water is thrown over them or they are beaten until the blood runs. In other cases their hands are tied behind their backs, and then cats, first made furious, are thrown into their bosoms. Often they are burned in various parts of their bodies with red-hot irons. All the highways are guarded so as to prevent emigration. Not a single day passes without our hearing of or witnessing somewhere within our unfortunate provinces some fiendish cruelty. The Turks and Kurds enter the houses of Armenians in gangs, bind the men and then outrage their wives, sisters and daughters before their eyes.

The document concludes with the despairing cry: "Our hope is dying out. God help us. May Europe have pity upon us."

KILLED FORTY PEOPLE.

A Terrible Railway Disaster Which Took Place in Denmark.

Copenhagen, July 12.—A terrible railway disaster took place about midnight at Olentotte. The express from Beisingoer ran into a passenger train standing at the station, wrecked eight carriages, killed 40 persons and injured 60 others. Most of the victims are of the artisan class. The dead and injured have been conveyed to this city.

It appears that the collision was due to an error made by the engineers in reading the signals and by the failure of a brake to act. Thirty-two bodies were extricated and 84 persons were seriously injured.

New York, July 12.—A London cable to The Times says: There has been something like a scare about India, but without apparent reasons. Journalists have been writing as though another mutiny was imminent, because two British officers were murdered in Poonah, and the police were compelled to fire upon the rioters in a suburb of Calcutta. No Sepoys have been concerned in these affairs, and there is no ground for apprehending an outbreak of a military revolution. Since 1857 India has been a military monarchy too strong to be overthrown. It is evident that the people of India are discouraged rather than irritable or resentful. The native races are temporarily disheartened by plague and famine, but their unrest is not considered dangerous by British veterans in London who have spent their lives in India.

LABOR WAR IN ENGLAND,

Engineering Trades About to Cross Swords With the Associated Employers.

London, July 12.—The dispute in the engineering trades seems likely to rank among the greater labor wars. It is a deliberate trial of strength between the associated employers and their men. The trade unions are leagued together to secure an eight-hour day of work at the present nine hours' wage, and unless there is some interposition 100,000 engineers will be idle within a week.

The trades unions are prepared to spend £350,000 of their reserve fund in support of their claims and the struggle promises to be the greatest since the London dock strike 12 years ago. Then the dock companies were not prepared for the fight, but in this case both their employers and the engineers have been anticipating a contest for over a year. Both sides are determined and by good management the strikers have thrown the blame for the strike upon their employers.

The engineers applied for a working day of eight hours, with wages for a nine-hour day, and the masters replied by giving peremptory notice that they would lock out their employes if the demand was not withdrawn. The engineers are among the best organized and highest paid unions in the kingdom and have always been victorious in their fights. They seem eager to welcome a trial of their strength now with their masters. They express perfect confidence in their eventual triumph, and declare that the masters' federation is not so strong as it would like to appear, as a number of the biggest firms are not members.

While the masters do not underrate the strength of the opposition they say that they will spend their last penny before they will submit to a demand which would leave no possibility of profit. Already 40,000 engineers have quit work, and it is expected that by to-morrow, when the time limit of their formal demand expires, fully 120,000 men will have struck in England, Ireland and Scotland.

The Kaiser Was Cautious.

London, July 12.—The Times Berlin correspondent says the Sultan's telegram to Emperor William asked the Emperor "to consider the representations made by the Turkish Ambassador at the German Foreign Office, and to support them in the European concert."

Emperor William replied that he would "examine these representations in a friendly spirit," but abstained from giving any assurance of his aid.

France and Germany Agree.

Paris, July 12.—After seven weeks of difficult but friendly negotiations, France and Germany have concluded a convention of delimitation of the Hinterland between Togo and Dahomey. By the terms of the convention, France obtains exclusive possession of Gurma, while Germany annexes Sandanne Mangu to Togoland.

The Twelfth in Belfast

Belfast, July 12.—The usual celebrations in commemoration of the battle of the Boyne took place to-day. Twenty thousand Orangemen marched in procession and great crowds filled the streets. There was no disturbance, and everything passed off in the most orderly fashion.

Strike of Nail Makers.

London, July 12.—Five thousand wrought nail makers in South Staffordshire and North Worcestershire have struck for a 10 per cent. advance in wages.

DEVOURED BY ALLIGATORS.

Tiger Cat Eloped With a Chief's Wife and the Erring Couple Were Punished in Barbarous Fashion.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., July 12.—An Indian, named Tigercat, eloped with a chief's wife here the other day. The entire tribe pursued him and captured the couple. They were tried by council and sentenced to be eaten by alligators. The two were bound to stakes near the water's edge. A dog was tied between them to attract the attention of alligators.

For an entire day they were exposed to the sun. In the evening a number of the saurians emerged from the water and devoured the dog. Then they literally pulled the man and woman to pieces. Their shrieks of agony were frightful.

THE BIRDS AND I.

A thousand voices whisper it is spring;
Shy flowers start up to greet me on the way,
And homing birds preen their swift wings and sing
The praises of the friendly, lengthening day.

The winds whose breath the glad wind hither bears,
Whose tender secret the young May shall find,
Seem all for me, for me the softer airs,
The gentle warmth, wherewith the day is kind.

Let me rejoice, now skies are blue and bright,
And the round world pays tribute to the spring;
The birds and I will carol our delight,
And every breeze love's messages shall bring.

What matter though sometimes the cup of tears
We drink, instead of the rich wine of mirth?
There are as many springs as there are years;
And, glad or sad, we love this dear old earth.

Shall we come back, like birds, from some far sphere—
We and the spring together—and be glad
With the old joy to hail the sweet, young year,
And to remember what good days we had?

The wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate friends of the contracting parties being present.

STRIKERS' MOTTO IS NO SURRENDER.

THE TEAMSTERS STAND BY THE LABOURERS

In Rejecting Mr. Laverdure's Offer—$2.50 for Teamsters, but Labourers' Wages to Remain at $1.00—Further Hearing of the Intimidation Charge—Magistrate Reserves Decision.

Another act in the Trent Valley Canal strike drama was put on yesterday afternoon. At 3 o'clock Police Magistrate Edmison took the bench. There were present, Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney; Mr. Poussette, representing Thomas Moore, charged with intimidation, and a large number of the men previously employed on the canal. Mr. W. H. Moore and Mr. Laverdure were also present.

Mr. Wood having had another trial to look after, was delayed for some time, and in the interval the most important matter of the afternoon came out. Mr. Laverdure presented an ultimatum, offering the strikers $2.50 per day for the teamsters, but the labourers' wages were to be kept at $1.00 per day. He was quite firm in his decision to do no better, and the men were equally firm in their determination to accept no advance which did not include all the men—a position that does them great credit, so far as one standing by the other is concerned. Therefore the matter still stands in the same position as before.

PRELIMINARY NEGOTIATIONS.

Mr. Poussette referred to the meeting of the gentlemen named to try to effect a settlement. Certain recommendations had been made, which Mr. Laverdure could not, in the absence of Mr. Corry, undertake to deal with in any decisive manner. Mr. Corry was in town now but he had not been appealed to.

Mr. Laverdure said that the teams working on the canal had been getting $2.25 and, without waiting for an answer from Mr. Corry, he (Mr. Laverdure) was willing to make an ultimate offer. It was the best that he could and all that he would do. He said that the teamsters had been getting $2.25 per day, and he was willing to advance this to $2.50, the wages of the labourers to remain at the present figure, namely, $1 per day. This was the last word and he would not deviate from it. All the men that had been working for him, and were not prepared to take $1 per day could come to his office and get the money that was due them—it was waiting for them.

The Magistrate remarked that the difference between the offer of Mr. Laverdure and the price suggested by the compromise committee of citizens seemed to be small—10 cents.

Mr. Poussette remarked that it amounted to

A GOOD DEAL FOR THE MEN—

60 cents per week.

Mr. Laverdure said that if he had to pay it he would think it enough. He went on to remark that the figures at which the contract was taken would not admit of paying a larger wage. The figures he had offered were the same as was paid on the St. Lawrence Canals and upon Onderdonk's and Aylmer's contracts. The same prices were paid in British Columbia, and even, in some cases, lower wages, 90 cents per day, were paid. As to the labourers, he could get plenty of men to work for one dollar a day, but would prefer to have the present residents do the work if they would do it at a reasonable figure. He had no fault to find with the men. They worked hard, but from lack of experience on canal works, could not do work enough to earn more money. Since the 13th of last May there had been no complaint or trouble on the canal, and one man had set the works on fire and brought on the strike. And this man had been working only eight hours. Mr. Laverdure said he should be punished, for he had incited the men to strike.

After some little delay the men and their counsel, Mr. Poussette, retired to consider Mr. Laverdure's offer.

THE ANSWER OF THE MEN.

On the return of the men into court Mr. Poussette stated that if Mr. Laverdure were depending upon any lack of unanimity among the men he would be disappointed; they were unanimous. The conclusions they had arrived at were that the teamsters would accept $2.50 per day, provided they had to pay not more than $1 per day for board. But the teamsters and labourers went out together, and the teamsters say that they will not go back without the labourers are taken back at an advance. If Messrs. Corry & Laverdure would advance labourers to $1.10 per day all would go back at the increased wage. Mr. Laverdure, Mr. Poussette said, had not touched the point recommended by the committee of paying twice a month, which was the common practice.

Mr. Laverdure—Not on public works. If I did that I would have to employ two more clerks, and I can't do that.

Mr. Poussette pointed out that Mr. Laverdure had not referred to the recommendations of the committee against docking the men for time taken to repair tools or implements broken in the service of the contractor. This was a most unjust and unfair condition and was something new recently enforced by Mr. Laverdure. At the meeting of the committee on Friday night, Mr. Laverdure said he could give no formal answer without consulting with Mr. Corry, but he had not done so and this Mr. Poussette said was very disrespectful to the committee. And now he had taken action of his own accord and

MADE A FINAL OFFER.

Mr. Edmison (who was being addressed by Mr. Poussette)—I am not the committee. I am only an intermediary for an an amicable settlement.

Mr. Poussette remarked that he believed Mr. Cory was in sympathy with the men.

Mr. Laverdure—He would not pay more than $1 per day.

Mr. Edmison remarked that the figures were $1 on other canal works.

Mr. Poussette stated that Mr. Aylmer was willing to advance to $1.25 if Corry & Laverdure would do the same.

Mr. Laverdure said that Mr. Aylmer had come to the conclusion in consultation with him (Mr. Laverdure) that he could not afford to pay more than $1 per day so long as other contractors were not paying any more. As to the pay for the teams, he (Mr. Laverdure) was paying them at the rate of $2.50 per day. He was paying them $3.25 and boarding them for $1 per day, whereas they paid $1.25 elsewhere. He could not agree to board all the men—his accommodations were limited.

Mr. Edmison—This seems to be conclusive. I can't do anything more.

WHAT WILL THE MEN DO?

Will they go and get their money or continue to interfere and continue to prevent—

Mr. Poussette—I suppose each man will do individually as he pleases.

All hope of a compromise at the time being set aside, it was decided to continue the hearing for which the court had sat.

Mr. Wood said he would proceed with the charge against Thomas Moore, on the charge of intimidation of Charles Crowe.

Charles Crowe was the first witness. He had been working for Corry & Laverdure till Tuesday, 6th July, at noon. Had been working for the firm some time at $1.00 per day. He quit working on Tuesday on the Smithtown side, and quit work because he could not get leave to work. He was driving a horse and cart, taking stuff out of the cutting, and Thomas Moore stopped him from working. There were about fifty men with him. Thomas Moore came down into the cutting and dumped the cart of witness, which was loaded with stone. He told witness that he and dump his cart. Witness continued his work till six o'clock. He could not give the names of any others. To Mr. Poussette witness said that Moore didn't scare him at all.

E. G. Laverdure, sworn, was contractor on the Trent Valley Canal. He had been interrupted at 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon at Nassau, on top of the pier. He saw a gang of men come along the line of canal from the south. They came to where seven men were putting concrete in the pier, and these men came and tried to stop the men working, and they succeeded. There were over fifty men in the crowd. Moore was one of them. They kept pushing the men from their work. They began to throw stones, but not very strong. Witness said he told the men that if any man came into the pit he would split his head open with a pick, because he wanted to get the batch of concrete into place.

To Mr. Poussette—We managed to keep the crowd back till that batch was put in.

Mr. Alphonse Robert, sworn—Was at Nassau at 4.30. He had been away from the works, and as he was returning saw men approaching from the south. Witness was on this side of the river. He saw Mr. Moore, the defendant. He advised Moore to go to the boarding house, but he said he would "stay with the boys." The mob wanted to prevent those who were employed on the pier from working. Some of the men got on the pier; Moore did not get on the platform.

To Mr. Poussette—The men finished the work and left afterwards, because they could not work to advantage on account of interruption.

To Mr. W. H. Moore—Defendant Moore was on the bank with the crowd, which pulled the shovels out of the hands of the men.

SAW STONES THROWN,

and defendant was among that crowd. The crowd was troublesome and defendant Moore was in that crowd.

This was the evidence in the case.

Mr. Poussette contended that no case had been made out as to Thomas Moore intimidating Charles Crowe.

Mr. Wood contended contra, and the information being amended to meet the evidence given, evidence was taken for the defence, the first witness being

John Long.—He went with the crowd to where Crowe was working on Monday evening. There were about 200 men, and Moore was among them. Saw Crowe's cart dumped, but could not say who dumped it. Couldn't say it was Thomas Moore.

To Mr. Wood—The object of going to Nassau was to get more pay from Mr. Laverdure. Somebody told Crowe he had better take his horse out.

Chas. Crowe (recalled)—When the men came up he was standing beside his cart in the pit. He thought Thomas Moore pulled the dumping pin out of the cart. The most of the stone it contained was thrown out. To Mr. Wood—Moore told witness he had to get out. He had no doubt that it was Moore that dumped the cart.

Mr. Wood moved to amend the information so as to bring the charge within subsection D of Section 523 of the Criminal Code, which provides that any person who "hides any tools, clothes or other property or hinders in the use thereof," is guilty of an offence under the code.

The magistrate said he had a good deal of doubt whether a case had been made out, but he wished to take time to consider the matter deliberately.

The court was adjourned till 2 o'clock this afternoon.

VERY MUCH MIXED.

A Peculiar Case Tried in the Police Court This Morning.

William Wilson was before the magistrate to-day charged with obtaining money under false pretences, and being found guilty was sentenced to a month in goal.

Wilson, it seems, went to Fleming's grocery in the south end, and told Mr. Fleming that Mrs. Fleming had ordered a step ladder. It was taken by Mr. Fleming who gave Wilson $1.25 for it. When Mrs. Fleming, who was out at the time, came home, her husband asked her what she intended to do with the step ladder. Mrs. Fleming knew nothing whatever of the matter, and so the charge was laid against Wilson.

Wilson's story was that the maker of the ladder, one Revoy, had told him that he was unable to sell the goods which he made. Wilson then offered to sell the ladder and took it to Mr. Fleming. He told the court that he had been at Fleming's a few days before with some tubs and had been asked to get them a ladder. He did not know who ordered it, but stated he thought it was Mrs. Fleming.

Wilson had called at the house, but it seems had only seen two little girls when there, and both of them stated that nothing whatever had been said of a step-ladder.

Sentence was accordingly imposed as stated above.

THE STRIKE IS SETTLED.

Trent Valley Canal Labourers and Teamsters Return to Work—The Prosecutions Against Them are Dropped.

The strike on the Corry & Laverdure section of the Trent Valley Canal has been declared off and this morning about two hundred of the men resumed work, on the understanding that all arrears of pay would be settled immediately; the labourers to receive $1 per day and the teamsters $2.50.

Mr. Poussette, counsel for the strikers, gave assurance that no further interference would take place.

In consequence of this settlement the prosecutions against the strikers were dropped, Mr. Laverdure being willing to let the past be forgotten.

In the court this afternoon when this was made known there were not a dozen men in the seats where hundreds had sat on the first day of the trial.

Mr. Poussette, speaking on behalf of Mr. John Drummond, one of the defendants, stated that contrary to a statement made by the County Crown Attorney, Mr. Drummond had never been dependent on the town for charity. He had been in the English Mercantile Service from 1880 until 1874, and his discharges from each voyage had described both his ability and his conduct as being "very good." From 1871 until 1888 he had served on the Metropolitan Police Force of London, England, and when resigning had been given a certificate of good character from the Superintendent and Lord Commissioner of Police.

LACROSSE AS IT IS PLAYED IN PORT HOPE.

THE PETERBOROUGHS WERE ROUGHLY USED AS USUAL.

Port Hope Tried to Make Them Quit in Order That the Guarantee Money Would not Have to be Paid, but the Scheme Didn't Work.

Peterborough went to Port Hope to play lacrosse yesterday and as the result of the game it has been announced by the players that never again will they visit Port Hope as lacrosse players.

It was rough.

Earlier in the year the Port Hope team came to Peterborough and a match was played on the Driving Park. The grounds were as strange to the Peterboroughs as to the Port Hopes, as it has not been used for lacrosse, for several years and the game was played on the north instead of the south side. Notwithstanding this fact the home team made monkeys of the Port Hope players and scored six straight games against them in an hour and a half. There was no room for a kick from the visitors. They were treated as gentlemen and not a "scrap" of the most infinitesimal kind occurred on the field amongst the players.

IN PORT HOPE

yesterday, on the contrary, the atmosphere was charged with threats of what the Port Hope men intended to do in the way of rough play. The object was clear as day. If they could play sufficiently rough, with the help of the spectators, and force the Peterboroughs into a free fight, thus breaking up the game, they would not have to pay the fifty dollar guarantee. It was a great scheme and well worthy of a team which insisted on putting on its own field captain for referee and a drunken man for umpire. But the scheme didn't work as when the Peterborough's found out what their hosts were working for they played a purely defensive game and did not attempt to place the ball when relieving their goals. If a man took the time to see where he intended passing the ball he was brutally laid out.

The teams were composed as follows:

Peterborough.		Port Hope.
Dobbin	goal	Crowhurst
Brown	point	Hayden
McDonough	cover point	Raymond
Mein	1st defence	Tuer
Glover	2nd defence	Hayden
Borland	3rd defence	Frier
King	centre	G Tutton
McCabe	3rd home	Burt
Rubidge	2nd home	F Tutton
Lipsett	1st home	Crowhurst
Phelan	outside home	Coleman
McCabe	inside home	Marvin
J Begley	field captain
C Lebrun	umpire

Referee—D Hooey.

The game was started at 4.07 and the ball was carried in on the Peterborough flags, but Mein, who played on the Peterborough defense during the day, quickly relieved. Then the ball was carried into Port Hope territory and Lipsett got a chance to shoot, striking the goal post. Jack McCabe also made a good shot which was cleverly stopped. The Peterboroughs were playing a beautiful game and their combination work up to this point was splendid.

When Port Hope's defense finally relieved their flags the ball was passed rapidly up the field and Dobbin was given some work to do in the Peterborough goal; but not for long, as the visitors were soon attacking Port Hope's flags again. Crowhurst, in goal, had by actual count to stop seven shots, but he handled them all well. Unfortunately he spoiled the effects of his fine work by a dirty piece of play immediately afterwards. Jack McCabe was after the ball with Crowhurst, behind the goal, when the latter seized McCabe's stick with his hands to prevent him throwing the ball and when Jack finally did get away with the sphere he was struck deliberately by the Port Hope goal tender from behind. McCabe clinched to save himself and the crowd rushed out on the field.

Port Hope all over again.

The referee ordered both players to the fence for the rest of that game and when asked why McCabe was sent off, replied:—"Just to keep the teams even." the ball was brought out from the Peterborough flags and passed to King, who carried it in and passed to Lipsett, who scored the first game. Time, 33 minutes.

Peterborough started off well in the next game, and Lipsett nearly scored again. Then the rough play commenced, and the ladies left the grounds by scores thoroughly disgusted with the way the Port Hope players were using their visitors. The Peterborough defence was no longer able to feed the home, but simply guarded the flags. When the home did get the ball they had lost confidence in themselves, and combination work was conspicuous by its absence. The boys did not "quit" however, and played on to the bitter end. The next game went to Port Hope in five minutes.

The play was rougher than ever after this, but the lowest trick of the day was seen when Marvin ran into Dobbin, when the ball was away in the other end of the field, and dragged him out behind the flags, engaging him in a tussle. When the ball came up the field it was easy, of course, for Port Hope to score.

The referee never saw anything of the row. His spectacles were made of Port Hope glass.

No games were scored before time was called, and Peterborough lost the match by two goals to one.

NOTES.

Lionel King was the first victim. He was knocked insensible with a blow from butcher Marvin's ever-ready weapon, but came to all right.

Even the officials of the Peterborough club were refused admission at the gate, as well as the newspaper representatives, who went down to Port Hope.

It isn't often that the Peterborough team gets rattled, but they went off colour yesterday to save their lives.

When Marvin sent Brown into the fence with a cross check from behind, the crash was heard all over the grounds as the board flew into splinters.

The boys were looking for Marvin after the game, but he very wisely kept off the streets.

The referee refused to remove the Port Hope umpire, when protested, against all the rules of lacrosse and courtesy.

THE GLORIOUS 12TH, PORT HOPE.

THE TOWN IS VISITED BY THOUSANDS FROM THE DISTRICT.

The Big Morning Procession Was Led by Mr. J. B. McWilliams, of Peterborough — Notes of the Day.

Copious showers during Sunday and Monday laid the dust and reduced the temperature to a delightful degree in Port Hope yesterday, so that when the sun broke through the clouds in the morning it did so amidst a coolness that gave a most gratifying relief from the intense and over-powering heat of the past week.

The arrangements effected by the District Committee for the reception of the visiting brethren were very complete, and the long and successful effort on their part to induce the G. T. R. to furnish the necessary number of cars was fully justified by the large number of Orangemen and their friends who took advantage of the opportunity thus afforded them to visit Port Hope and to aid in celebrating the glorious twelfth.

A beautiful arch was erected across the main street in honour of the day and the visitors, and as the brethren bared their heads as they were about to pass under its green boughs, they were greeted with the word "Welcome," and on either side were small shields on which were painted the words "Boyne" and "Derry." On the other side of the arch was the sturdy Orange motto "No Surrender."

At an early hour the members of the order were astir and with the regalia of the different degrees over their shoulders or badges upon their breasts, and soon these were increased by the arrival of the Coldsprings lodge, with their natty uniforms, and then inquiries began to be made as to the arrival of the trains from the north.

The first train to arrive was that bearing the Lakefield and Peterborough contingent, including Young's Point, Smith and Fraserville lodges. Shortly afterwards the Lindsay train came in, bringing the Bethany, Carmel and Garden Hill lodge, and a few minutes later the Cobourg delegation arrived, and Bewdley, Oak Hill, Coldspring and Baliileboro drove in.

At eleven o'clock a procession was formed on the Port Hope market square of the different lodges and the march was begun. There was a much larger turn-out than had been anticipated, and the brethren presented an excellent appearance as they paraded the streets. The procession moved off in the following order:—

J B McWilliams, Past County Master of Peterborough.
Bro E A Powers, Past County Master, Durham.
Peterborough Brass Band.

The procession occupied just nineteen minutes passing a given point, and the lodges were witnessed by thousands of people who lined the sidewalks. On their return to the market square the brethren were dismissed until two o'clock, when they re-formed and marched to the town park where patriotic and stirring Protestant addresses were delivered by several prominent members of the order.

The Indian band attracted a great deal of attention and they played well.

OBITUARY.

Demise of the Late Fred. James Mann Last Week at Oakwood Farm, Smith.

The funeral of the late Fred. J. Mann, son of Jas. H. Mann, Smith, was very largely attended, notwithstanding the oppressive heat, on Sunday last.

The bereaved ones appreciate the expressions of love and sympathy they received from their friends and acquaintances. They also wish to thank those friends who sent the lovely flowers and wreaths.

Fred. contracted a cold in February and it settled on his left lung. The evening he died he had been out walking on the lawn. He went in and sat down and had not been sitting a minute before he got up and went out on the verandah and started to bleed from the lung, dying almost instantly without a struggle.

The deceased was born in the township of Eamismore on Dec. 24th, 1871, and removed from that place with his parents in 1874 to their present residence, Oakwood Farm, Smith. Fred. was of a quiet and retiring disposition, but a general favourite with the young people, by whom he will be greatly missed.

Fred was baptised by the Rev. J. B. Huff in 1887 and joined the Gilmour Memorial Church, and he has been a consistent member ever since. He will be greatly missed in the church, for he was nearly always present in his place on the Lord's day.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 80; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 50; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.60. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

ORIGINAL MARKS THE LAWYER.

Mrs. Stowe Got the Name From Him, But His Character Is Utterly Unlike.

"Marks the lawyer," of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is living in quiet retirement in Kansas City, Mo., says The Chicago Times-Herald. He is Judge Abraham Marks, the man whose name Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe selected for the lawyer in her great book. Any likeness between "Marks the lawyer" of the stage and Judge Marks of real life ends with the name. In appearance and character they are as widely dissimilar as could be imagined. The stage Marks is half buffoon, half brute, with an impossible costume and an inordinate thirst for the blood of runaway slaves; the real Marks the lawyer is a courteous, learned, elderly gentleman of the old school, and with whom it is a delight to talk.

The old gentleman is interesting, not only because his name was given to a character of the stage that has probably made more people laugh and hurt than any other, but he was a schoolmate of Edgar Allen Poe and has a scar on his head made accidentally by the latter when they were big boys robbing hornets' nests together. He played marbles with Chief Justice Marshall, he played cards with Henry Clay, he fought a duel in San Antonio, Texas, where he was wounded by Colonel White men in the place; he sat many a day on the sill of the old log capital of Texas and smoked with Sam Houston; he practiced law for sixty-one years in the north and south and he was a judge in Louisiana in the years just before the war.

He never met Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe before she wrote her famous book. If he had she might not have brought his name to such infamous notoriety. He asked her once how she came to use his name for one of the chief characters in her book. She told him she had been to the south before the story of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" shaped itself in her mind. He was a judge then in Louisiana. His peculiar name stuck in her memory and when she wished to name her lawyer his was the first and only one that suggested itself to her and she used it.

"I have seen the play," said Judge Marks, the other day, as he sat in a comfortable armchair and twirled his eyeglasses between his fingers. "The character of Marks, the lawyer, is a preposterous thing. It's a mistaken character because it is not at all like myself or any other lawyer that ever lived."

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinging touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

NEW ZEALAND'S GOVERNOR.

Lord Ranfurly Passes Through Canada on His Way to His Post.

The Earl of Ranfurly, an Irish landlord, who has accepted the position of Governor of New Zealand, passed through Canada on his way thither. With the development of the Imperial idea in the heart of the empire has come a knowledge that the route across Canada is the best way to the other side of the world; in fact, that the best way to the east and west is by going west. Consequently it is now quite a matter of course for imperial officials to travel to their far-distant destination by way of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The new Governor of New Zealand, of course, knows Canada better than some other Imperial folks, because twelve years ago he spent some considerable time here during the time of the trouble between the Indians and halfbreeds and the Government. His lordship was accompanied by the Countess of Ranfurly; Lady Constance Knox, a charming lady of 12 years of age; Lady Eileen Knox, a dainty little fairy of six; Captain Dudley Alexander, his aide-de-camp, and a host of servants, as well as a mountain of luggage. They make their 12,000 mile trip by easy stages though without any long stops anywhere. That is why only Montreal people had an opportunity of meeting the party in the east.

Lord Ranfurly, although still a young man he is only 41 next August—has probably seen more of Britain's mighty empire than any other half-dozen members of the House of Lords put together. An Irish Earl, he sits in the Upper Chamber as a Baron of Great Britain, and is a Lord-in-waiting to H. Majesty. But he has not been content to expend his energies in the House of Lords. He has visited Canada twice, New Zealand twice and Australia thrice, to say nothing of peregrinations on India's coral strand, and amidst the sunny isles of the South Seas. Lord Ranfurly is Imperial in more than thought. He is Imperial in practical action. A fruit farm at Mildura, in Victoria, Australia, the centre of the irrigation works of the plucky Canadians, the Messrs Chaffey, investments in Canadian ranches and Canadian gold mines prove that his sympathies with the outlying portions of the empire are more than mere theory. They are practical. The only member of the family who is left in England is Viscount Northland, a lad of 15, the heir to the title, who is now at school at Eton. Lord Ranfurly is an Irishman throughout.

Practise Economy

In buying medicine as in other matters. It is economy to get Hood's Sarsaparilla because there is more medicinal value in Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other. Every bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains 100 doses and will average, taken according to directions, to last a month, while others last but a fortnight.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Easy and yet efficient.

For Diagnosing Disease.

In a paper presented to the Paris Academy the growing utilization of radioscopy in the diagnosis of disease is treated by M. Bouchard. He deals with applications of Roentgen rays to the examination and diagnosis of pleurisy, pulmonary tuberculosis and hypertrophy of the heart, and also speaks of a case of cancer of the oesophagus and three cases of disease of the aorta subsequent to acute in rheumatism, in all of which the examinations by the Roentgen rays proved to be of great service. The knowledge gained by the examination of diseased bones in this manner, showing the precise extent of the diseased portion, which can be removed with precision, has rendered unnecessary the immediate amputation of the limb, as has often been necessary before.

Wood Ashes for Heavy Soils.

All heavy soils contain some potash, but it is often in form not available for crops. Hence ashes or other forms of available potash may do as much good on heavy loams as they do on sandy soils, naturally deficient in this mineral. Even if potash is present in sandy soils it is quite likely to be in the form of a silicate of potash, which is insoluble except in contact with something that is fermenting. It is thus that a dressing of stable manure having very little potash itself may make bright, clean straw where it is applied, while on the land not manured the grain and straw will be rusted. It is potash or the lack of it that makes this difference, and the result shows that the manure made soluble enough potash in the soil to maintain healthful plant growth.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

Bore It Like a Soldier.

The real name of General Smolenski, the gallant Greek commander, is Constantine Smolentz, and he come of Dalmatian stock. His father took part in the war of independence, settled at Athens, and married a Greek lady. His two sons adopted a military career, for which they were educated partly at home, partly in France and Belgium. Constantine is the younger of the two, and besides possessing strategetical abilities of a high order, he is endowed with great physical courage. It is related of him that a few years ago he had to visit Germany for the purpose of undergoing a severe surgical operation. The doctors were proceeding to administer an anæsthetic, but Smolentz would have none of it. "Chloroform," he exclaimed, "is only fit for women!" and while the knife was being used, he said, "Go on, gentlemen!" as coolly as though he were a mere spectator, nor did a single expression of pain escape him during the most trying moments.

SKIN DISEASES!

One Remedy Which has Never Failed—Tried and Tested Ointment.

Because other alleged remedies for piles, scrofula, eczematic eruptions, scald head, chafing, black heads, salt rheum and skin diseases generally have proved useless, don't condemn Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. For instance, Nelson Simmons, Meyersburg, Ont., writes:

"I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for Itching Piles, and can recommend it highly. Since using it I have had perfect freedom from the disease."

Peter Vanallen, L'Amable, Que., had the eczema for three years. He tried three doctors, but received no benefit. One box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and three boxes of Dr. Chase's Pills cured him completely. Large scales covered his legs and body, but the Ointment soon removed them. He will swear to these facts.

Chase's Ointment may be had from any dealer or from the manufacturers Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard street, Toronto. Price 60 cents.

Mother's greatest remedy for coughs, colds, bronchicial and lung affections is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. The medicinal taste is wholly disguised making it pleasant to take. Large bottle 25 cents.

—IN TINS ONLY—

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia---Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

The smallest grain of aniline will color a ton of wine. A grain of permanganate of potash will redden seven thousand times its weight of water. The most trifling disorder will disarrange every organ of the body and cause eventual disease and death. It is the little ailments neglected that make the big diseases. Most serious diseases have their inception in disordered digestion and faulty nutrition. It is true of that most deadly of diseases consumption. It is also true of nervous prostration and exhaustion and of all forms of wasting disease. All ailments of this description may not only be prevented but cured by a resort to the right remedy.

An unfailing cure for all diseases that have their origin in disorders of the digestion and faulty nutrition is found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures digestive disorders, restores the appetite, invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood, builds healthy flesh and muscle and drives out disease-germs. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. Thousands have testified to these facts. Druggists who suggest substitutes are dishonest.

Mrs. Ursula Dunham, of Sistersville Tyler Co., W. Va., writes: "I should have been dead had it not been for your medicine. I was nearly dead when I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had a pain in my side all the time, had but little appetite, and grew very thin. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' promptly cured the pain, restored my appetite, and increased my weight."

Dr. Pierce's wonderful free book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," will be sent paper-bound, for thirty-one cents in one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. WHEN I SEE MIRANDY'S FACE.

There's a kinder tender feelin' steals thro' this heart o' mine,
And my soul it keeps a-thrillin' with a melody divine,
An' a sweet exhortation seems to hinder find its way
Through my road in tender whispers of a happy bygone day;
An' a picture like a phantom flits before my fadin' eyes,
Like an echo grand an' solemn from the realms o' paradise,
An' there's waves o' music in the air es in this heart o' mine,
When I see Mirandy's face a-gleamin' thro' the creepin' vine.

Fairies seem to waft the sunshine warmin' like along the breeze,
With a kinder dreamy sadness ez it whistled thro' the trees;
An' the fields a blaze o' glory where the sunlight kissed the dew,
An' the birds wuz gay an' happy an' their songs was happy, too,
An' the ripplin' murmur o' the crick a-comin' from the shore,
The sun a-hidin' jest beyant the wavin' sycamore,
But its brightness faded in a maze o' ecstasy divine,
When I saw Mirandy's face a-gleamin' thro' the creepin' vine.

I don't know much 'bout it 'cept what's in the Bible yet
There's an idee stickin' in my mind that I can't quite forget,
An' that is when we die an' reach the great unknown on high
We'll see some things in this world ag'in up in the sky,
Perhaps there's gates o' dewy pearl, an' streets o' gold an' sich,
An' angels wearin' shinin' robes an' jewels rare an' rich,
But let me see the sunlight glint an' everlastin' shine,
An' see again Mirandy's face a-gleamin' thro' the creepin' vine.

A BOY'S ADVENTURE.

"Well, Charles, my boy, I'm afraid there's nothing for it but to sell old Blaize."

So smoke, with a doleful shake of his gray beard, Pierre Girand, as he sat at his étage door his usual post, just then, thanks to the rheumatism which racked his poor old joints so cruelly, had looked out upon the small, green meadow, which, with the old horse that was grazing upon it, formed his entire possessions.

"What! Part with our old horse, father? Oh, don't do that! The field would look quite strange without him, and I'm sure I shouldn't have any appetite for breakfast if I didn't see him come up to the door for his bit of bread."

"Well, I shall miss him sorely myself; but what's to be done? The rent's due on Saturday, and I can't possibly make it up without selling old Blaize. Everything seems to have gone ill with us, somehow, since your poor mother died; but we must just take what fortune sends. There's a fair at the town to-morrow, so you'd better take Blaize there and see what you can get for him."

Next morning, accordingly, away went Charles, with a very rueful face—riding for the last time on the old horse who seemed to know that there was something wrong, and instead of going along at his usual brisk amble, hung his head and moved as slowly and solemnly as if he were leading a hearse.

Charles himself was not much better. The thought of losing his favorite who used to eat out of his hand and follow him about like a dog, more took away the pleasure of the bright sunshine and the green fields and the fresh flowers, which he would have enjoyed very much at any other time. And, by the time he got to the town, he felt so low that he hardly cared to eat the bread and cheese which his careful father had put in his pocket.

However, the stir and bustle of the fair, with its long lines of carts and waving flags, and jingling bells and painted booths, heaped with toys and cakes, and gayly-dressed acrobats and jugglers, brightened him up a little, and he was glad to find that old Blaize fetched a good price, and to see that the man who bought him seemed to be a good sort of master.

"My name's Blaize, too," said he, as he took the money, "and I'm sure Charles Blaize can't be to blame for the good care of my namesake. I live on the Croix Rouge farm, not far from here, and if you ever want him back again you'll know where to find him."

And now came the paying of the money, which Charles stowed away in the breast of his jacket with no small satisfaction.

But, unluckily, Farmer Blaize had bought so many things ahead that day that he found himself rather short of gold and silver money, and had to make up the amount with a leathern bag full of copper pieces, which Charles found a very unhandy thing to carry.

"You will have a good chance, my lad, on a lonely road at nightfall, with that bag of money clinking in your hands," said the keeper of a little inn at the corner of the market place, who knew him well. "Better remain here for the night than be robbed on the way home. I'll give you a night's lodging and welcome."

But Charles thought of his father, sitting and waiting for him alone, and so he "declined, with thanks," and tramped manfully out of the town, bag and all.

But he found walking much slower work than riding, especially with such a weight to carry, and, hasten as he might, darkness overtook him when he was still a good way from home.

Every sound in the forest seemed to begin to come back to him unpleasantly as he walked along. Stories told in those days, that might or might not be true, were not by any means so rare as they are now, and Charles had just ended and had flooded all the highways with armed ruffians, who had followed the trade of plundering too long while fighting was going on to think of giving it up now, and who, provided they could get hold of a heavy purse, cared little whether it was taken from a countryman or from a foreigner.

Just at this point the road dipped down into a dark, narrow gully, overhung on one side by thick, high bushes, while on the other a broad, rapid stream went dashing and foaming among the huge, black bowlders.

A better place for robbers—or a worse one for any man who wished to avoid them—could hardly be imagined; and, in fact, the spot was so famous for mischances of this kind that the country people had nicknamed it "La Souricière" ("The Mouse Trap").

Charles, feeling more and more uncomfortable as he descended into it, was fain to try and keep up his flagging spirits with a song:

"'Tis pleasant to roam in the fresh, green fields,
When spring is bright in the sky,
When the hawthorn blossom its fragrance yields,
And the buttercup opes its eye.
I gather the flowers that around me grow,
And whistle away my grief,
As gayly along through th ofields I go,
And fear not storm nor thief!"

"Don't you?" said a harsh voice beside him. "We'll see that directly. Hand over that bag, you young rascal, or it'll be the worse for you!"

Charles looked around with a start. The word "thief" seemed to have acted like a spell; for, right in front of him loomed through the twilight a tall man on a gaunt, sinewy brown horse. His slouched hat half concealed his face, but what little could be seen of it hardly needed the thick beard and the huge black patch over one eye to make him as ugly a ruffian as our hero ever saw.

Poor Charles hardly knew what to do. His first thought was to hit the horse on the nose with his stick, and either upset the robber or give him work enough to keep him busy, while he himself got out of reach; but the highwayman's hand was upon one of the pistols in his holsters, and he saw that that would not do. There was nothing for it but to try and gain time.

"If you don't leave me alone," cried he, quite defiantly—though, in reality, he felt frightened enough—"I'll call out for help and there are plenty of folks coming back from the fair who'll hear me!"

"Are there?" retorted the thief, with a grin. "As if the road would be dead quiet like this, if there were so many people about! No more fooling; hand over your money, or I'll send a bullet through you!"

But just as he snatched at the bag a brilliant idea occurred to the boy.

"If I can't keep it," shouted he, "you shan't get it, anyhow!"

And in an instant he had flung the bag with all his strength right across the stream into the long grass on the other side.

The highwayman, fearing that it might roll back into the water, or slip into some hole, and so escape him in the darkness, jumped down and leaped over the stream after it, doubtless meaning to take vengeance on the boy later on. But he was reckoning without his host.

The moment Charles saw his back turned he sprang into the saddle, and, banging the horse's flanks with his cap, went flying down the road at full gallop, while the astonished robber, left alone in the darkness, with only a handful of coppers to confront him, howled and shook his fists in vain.

When old Girand, as he sat by the fire nursing his rheumatism, heard the horse hoofs come clattering up to the door, he thought it must be a fire, or a mounted policeman sent to arrest him, an' hobbled out in a great flurry. But the next moment he recognised the voice of his son. Charles' story was soon told, and over their little supper of black bread and onion soup they laughed at the adventure till the smoky old rafters echoed again.

Master Charles had, in fact, done a better night's work than he imagined. Not only did the highwayman's nag fetch a price—which paid the rent and left them a good balance without touching poor Blaize's purchase money at all—but old Seigneur De Mallet, the greatest man of the whole district, was so delighted at hearing how the robber had been outwitted, that he sent for Charles and took him into his own service.

The lad saved enough money from his wages to buy back old Blaize before very long; and for years after, whenever any unpromising affair turned out well, the people of the district used to call it "throwing coppers over the stream."—Golden Days.

Lone Policeman of Iceland.

There is one country in the world, and probably one only, which gets along with a single policeman. That is Iceland, a land which is remarkable in many ways, but in none more than this.

Iceland is peopled by the old scenarists of Vikings, including many famous warriors and heroes, but they are so law-abiding that they have no need of policemen. The solitary officer, in spite of his apparently great responsibilities, has a very easy time. He is maintained more for ornament and dignity than for use. The Icelanders think it would not do to have a capital without a policeman, and so they keep one. When eminent citizens of this country go round the world studying municipal problems as dealt with by various nations, they may find it interesting to investigate the Police Department of Reykjavik.

The Iceland police force is large in one sense. Its single member is six feet high, broad shouldered and handsomely uniformed.

Iceland is an island 39,756 square miles in extent, or but little smaller than the state of Ohio, and has a population of 70,927.

Shoulder Capes.

Little shoulder capes are elaborately ornamented with accordion-plaited lisse and a number of carriage wraps are covered with lace, kilted, and in its turn overlaid with lace flounces. The latest blouses are either tucked or plaited. Even the parasols, which are really overtrimmed, are covered with accordion plaiting, and they have frillings at the edge of lace and silk. The handles are as well ornate. They are fashioned of gold, silver, mother-of-pearl and Dresden china. The newest thing in wash goods is a suit of white duck made with a box jacket, which has no seams either in the front or back, but it requires skill to make it set right. They are stitched around the edge with two rows of stitching, about a half inch apart. The pockets are long and shallow, with stitched edges. The revers are small. Plaid waists are deemed very swell with these queer little coats, and they are allowed to stand open to reveal them.

Curious, Isn't It,

That when you buy goods on the instalment plan you expect to pay MORE for them than under ordinary circumstances, but when you buy insurance on the same plan you pay LESS.

LACROSSE.

The juniors go down to Hastings for a game on Friday next. They should get in some good practices before then.

The Peterboroughs hereby challenge Port Hope to a game on any neutral ground, except Cobourg, for a side bet of $50 a side, the winning club to take all the gate money as well.

The next game in town will be with Markham on the P.A.A.A. grounds. The Markham team went to Toronto Saturday last and won from the Elms on their own grounds by 7 goals to 1. This is the kind of a team which will give the Peterboroughs a splendid game. The local boys will have to be in better shape than they were yesterday to win against Markham, and the boys are urged to train systematically and be careful of their diet for the next ten days.

THE WHEEL.

A meeting of the Victoria Bicycle Club is called for this evening at eight o'clock for the purpose of completing arrangements for the bicycle race meeting at the last of the month. The members of the Peterborough Club are asked to co-operate and to meet the Victorias at nine o'clock.

GOLF.

C. B. Macdonald and Laurence Curtis, the committee appointed by the Executive Committee of the United States Golf Association on July 18, 1896, to interpret the rules of golf, have made public their report, which has been accepted by the U. S. G. A.

The gist of the more important interpretations may be briefly summarized in this order, as they follow each rule:

Rule 3. The penalty for playing outside the teeing limits shall be: in match play the ball may be recalled, in medal play it must be recalled. No stroke is counted for the misplay.

Rule 4. The penalty is loss of the hole at match play, disqualification at medal play. No ruling is made regarding the style or sizes of golf sticks.

Rule 9. At medal play a stroke may not be recalled should the wrong side play first.

Rule 11. Ice, snow, or hail within club length of the ball through the green may be removed, but on the putting green only "by brushing slightly with the hand only across the put and not along it."

Rule 14. Hereafter when a ball lies on turf in a hazzard, it shall be considered as being on the fair green and the club may be soled.

Rule 15. Long grass and casual water on the fair green are not hazards. Woods are hazards.

Rule 19. The opponent has the right to have a ball dropped again if he thinks it has not been dropped in strict accordance with the rule. In medal play he is obliged to have it dropped again.

Rule 23. If the player's ball strike the other competitor or his caddie or clubs it is a "rub of the green," and the ball shall be played from where it lies.

Rule 28. A player who has not lost his ball may, before giving up the hole, ask his opponent to show his (the opponent's) ball. When both balls are lost it is a halved hole, irrespective of the number of strokes either side may have played.

Rule 35. In medal play, to put before the flag has been taken out of the hole is a disqualification.

Rule 36. When a player's ball knocks in the opponent's ball, in match play it counts as holed out on the previous stroke; in medal play it must be replaced.

The result of the new schedule will be to simplify the working rules of the game. The special rule is made that hereafter a player who is not satisfied with the ruling of the Green Committee on a disputed point may file a protest with the Executive Committee of the U.S.G.A.

GOLDEN WEDDING IN LAKEFIELD.

Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Baker.

An event that comes in the lives of a very few persons was celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Baker, of Lakefield, on Monday, namely, the celebration of their Golden wedding. Mayor Yelland and Mrs. Yelland, who were in Lakefield yesterday and happened to call to leave a message from town at the residence of his old fellow-countryman, who, with his wife, he knew in England over fifty years ago, were made members of the company, which was composed of the children and grandchildren of the aged and venerable couple. These comprised three daughters and a son and daughter-in-law and several grandchildren. One of the daughters, after the usual greetings and congratulations were over, read the following

ADDRESS:

Dear Father and Mother,—On the fiftieth anniversary of your wedding we, your children, cannot allow the day to pass without giving expression of our gratitude to God who has prolonged your lives, and at the same time conveying to you our congratulations. To you has been given a privilege enjoyed by but very few—that of spending together half a century of married life. And as you recall the experiences of the past fifty years there will no doubt come to your mind many things that will fill your hearts with pleasure and gratitude. hardships you have bravely endured, suffering and loss you have borne, but the mutual trust and confidence and the union of hearts and hands have enabled you to overcome all those. To us you have always shown kindness and love; words fail to express our gratitude for this and hope we will, one and all, repay as far as possible the kindness shown us and be worthy for all you have endured for us. We ask you to accept these gifts as reminders of the day. May your closing years be the brightest and happiest of all your life.

(Signed)
MR. WM. BAKER,
MR. CHAS. MCCONKEY,
MRS. GEO. BELL,
MRS. WM. MCILMOYL,
MRS. SILAS MCCONKEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker, who were deeply touched by the sentiments of the address, in reply said:

Dear Children,—We assure you it affords us great pleasure to be thus kindly remembered by you. Accept our thanks for those beautiful gifts which we will always prize very much, not for their value alone, but the motive that prompted the giving of them will always be a source of pleasure to us. Again we thank you one and all and hope the good will that now exists between you as a family will be lasting and that you may form an unbroken circle around the throne of God, in heaven.

The presents referred to included a aspirodid invalid chair and a gold-headed cane for the father, and a luxurious rocking chair and a set of china, with gold ornamentation for the mother, besides numerous other presents.

The venerable old couple were more than delighted with the evidence of affection and thoughtfulness exhibited by their children.

After the formalities were over a sumptuous dinner was served, and a season of social festivity and rejoicing enjoyed.

Mr. Baker is eighty years of age, Mrs. Baker being seventy-two. They are both well and enjoyed the celebration as much as any one present.

Though far advanced in years, Mr. and Mrs. Baker are in sound health and under the stimulus of the occasion, seemed to renew their youth. It is a great mercy for an aged couple, at the close of half a century of wedded life together, to meet and join with the children that God has blessed their union with, and to enjoy such practical evidences of affection. And as they journey to the grave together, they have this consolation that whatever else may befall them, they will have their closing days soothed by the loving hands and tender attentions of their children.

Through the Crown of your Hat.

Regular hat store prices are revolutionized in our hat department; and bear in mind that our hat department is as big as any ordinary hat store. Take a look through our immense piles of hats of all kinds, and you'll find the newest and nobbiest shapes of light summer felts and straws that have had a quarter and a third chipped off the price. It's foolish extravagance to pay $3 for some highly-advertised manufacturer's hat—$2 for the hat and the balance for the name in the crown. We sell the newest of finest felt shapes for men, made of a good felt, with the same silk bands, warranted not to change colour, and to wear as long as any $3 hat—or your money back—for $2. This is an instance where we can talk better through our hats. It is not much of a trick to sell straw hats at this season of the year. Perhaps we're not the "leaders" in the hat trade, but we're the SELLERS, and that suits us just as well. Gentlemen's fine American straw hats for 75c, worth $1.25; very light weight straw hat, 50c., worth 90c.; fine straw hats, 20c., worth 40c.; boys' hats, 10c., 15c., 20c. and up to 65c. We sell as we buy. In this respect, this store is simply doing its duty by you who have made the business what it is.

Cincinnati	5	8	2
New York	8	14	1

At Chicago: The Colts won a slugging match by hitting at the right time. Threecloggers were the long suit, each side getting four. Lange and Griffin again carried off the batting honors by remarkable touches of long hits. Score:

Chicago	13	15	4

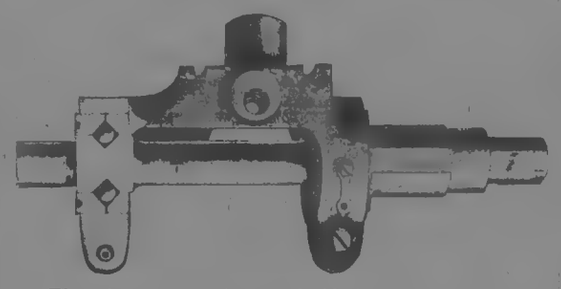
The GENDRON

A Sure, Swift, Strong Mount.

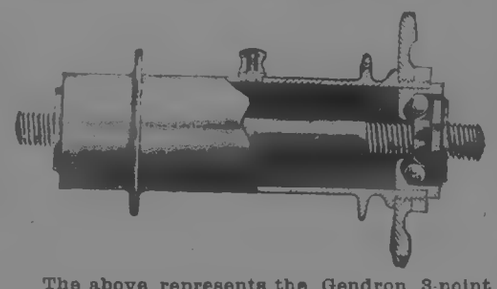
The Proof of the BEARINGS is in the Speed.

1892 — 4 POINT BEARING



The above represents a half size cut of the Gendron 4 point bearing, such as used on the Gendron Bicycle in 1892, discarded in 1893, adopted and PATENTED by other firms in 1895.

3-POINT BEARING — 1897



The above represents the Gendron 3-point bearing, such as used on the celebrated "King of Canadian Roads," since 1892, when the 4-point bearings were then discarded as being a most miserable failure.

Some people still believe that the earth is flat. Their knowledge of natural laws is so limited that they cannot understand how men and women can walk at night when the earth is UPSIDE DOWN! The world tells them that the earth is round, but they cannot understand it, and WHAT THEY CANNOT UNDERSTAND THEY WILL NOT BELIEVE.

The cycling world tells us that the 3-point bearing is the most perfect known. Yet in the face of such odds, owners of imaginary patents have the nerve to claim that the 2 and 4-point bearings are the only good ones. Like the man who believes that the earth is flat—WHAT THEY CANNOT UNDERSTAND THEY WILL NOT BELIEVE.

All the most important events of 1896, with one exception only, have been won on the celebrated 3-point bearing Gendron Bicycle. From the Atlantic to the Pacific it holds the undisputed title of "King of Canadian Roads." It has won from the local 20-mile road race to the Dunlop Trophy Races, London and Winnipeg; from the Manitoba Provincial Tandem Championship to the Canadian Tandem Championships; from the Maritime Province Amateur Championship to the Manitoba Professional Championship. Two-thirds of all professional events of 1897 have already been won on the swift easy running Gendron, which has also captured first, second and third prizes in a Toronto 20-mile road race held recently. Yet, notwithstanding such overwhelming evidence of the superiority of the 3-point bearing over all others, some unscrupulous manufacturers would have us believe that an old-fashioned bearing, discarded by us five years ago as being only fit for a museum for antiquities, is still the best. Like the man who still wonders—WHAT THEY CANNOT UNDERSTAND THEY WILL NOT BELIEVE.

While in every part of Canada the easy-running Gendron is inflicting on their pet the most ignominious defeats, the advocates of the old-fashioned bearings will amuse themselves by showing the public how many wheels can be set in motion with a silk thread.

Now, gentlemen of the old-fashioned bearing fame, you have long been proclaiming the excellence of your bearings, now is the time to give us proofs. Show us your credentials and give the public an account of your achievements. We are weary of your silly arguments.

SUBSTANTIATE YOUR CLAIMS OR KEEP QUIET.

The Gendron 3-point Bearing Bicyle has won more races in one month than all the 4-point Bearing Bicycles put together have won in a year.

The Gendron also won recently, The 5-Mile Championship; The 3-Mile Provincial Championship, St. John, N.B.; The 1-Mile Open, Chatham; The ½ Mile Open, Chatham; The 100 Mile Race, Chatham; 5 Mile Open, St. John, N.B.; The ½-Mile Open, St. John, N.B.

RHODES CONDEMNED

By the Report of the South African Commission.

A HEAVY RESPONSIBILITY ON HIM

The Commissioners Find That He Embarrassed Both the Imperial and Colonial Governments, Assisted Revolution and Deceived the High Commissioner.

London, July 13.—The Parliamentary South Africa Commission that has been inquiring into the Transvaal raid has agreed upon its report.

The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a summary of the conclusions of the committee.

"The report will express an emphatic opinion that, whatever justification there might have been for action on the part of the people of Johannesburg, there was none whatever for Cecil Rhodes' conduct in subsidizing, organizing and stimulating an armed insurrection against the Government of the Transvaal. A heavy responsibility, according to the report, remains with Rhodes, despite the fact that at the last moment Dr. Jameson invaded the Transvaal without Rhodes' direct sanction. The gravity of Rhodes' transaction is weightyil expressed by the committee, who find "that he seriously embarrassed both the Imperial and colonial Governments; that his proceedings resulted in an astounding breach of international comity; that he utilized his position and the great interests he controlled in order to assist and support revolution, and deceived the High Commissioner, as well as concealed his views from the members of the Colonial Ministry and the directors of the Chartered Company."

The committee is of the opinion that of the directors of the Chartered Company, who were examined, only Mr. Beit and Mr. Maguire were cognizant of the plans of Rhodes. As Mr. Beit was intrusted with the money to promote a revolutionary movement, he must share the full responsibility for the consequences. The report adds that Newton also failed in his duty, but in a less degree.

The committee, in conclusion, unite to condemn the raid; but at the same time, they express the opinion that nothing will be gained by proceeding with the proposed extension of the inquiry into the administration of the Chartered Company. They declare Lord Rosmead and Mr. Chamberlain, and the Under Secretaries of the Colonial Office blameless, on the ground that there is no evidence that any of them was in any sense cognisant of the plans for the raid. But they pronounce Sir Graham Bower, Imperial Secretary of the High Commissioner, guilty of a grave dereliction of duty in that he failed to decline to receive from Cecil Rhodes confidential communications wholly incompatible with the duty he owed the High Commissioner.

A voluminous minority report presented by Mr. Henry Labouchere finds that the plan for the raid was concocted by Beit and Rhodes, and sought to be carried out through Phillips, Hammond, Col. Rhodes (Cecil Rhodes' brother), and Leonard. It was devised, according to Mr. Labouchere, in order that certain wealthy men might become more wealthy.

"Rhodes," continues the report, "may possibly be influenced to a certain extent by a vague and hazy idea of a vast African federation under the British flag, in which he would play the leading part, but he was also influenced and is influenced by financial considerations."

Mr. Labouchere does not consider that certain high personages in the Board of Directors of the Chartered Company did their duty, while he thinks that Rhodes and Beit merit "severe punishment" for the raid, "which is one of the most disgraceful epochs of our country's history."

The minority report concludes as follows:

"We regret that the alleged complicity of the Colonial Office has not been probed to the bottom in order the more effectually to remove any idea that there may have been some truth in the statements of certain witnesses that the secret aims of Cecil Rhodes were more or less clearly revealed to Mr. Joseph Chamberlain."

Comments of the London Press

London, July 14.—The Standard commenting editorially upon the investigation carried on by the Parliamentary South Africa Commission and upon the commission's report, says:

"Nothing remains to be said about an episode which has destroyed so many great careers and nearly added a chapter of singular gloom to the history of the Empire in South Africa. Perhaps the leading moral of the inquiry and report is that, even in making an empire, honesty is the best policy."

All the Conservative papers take practically the same view and express the opinion that Cecil Rhodes has been sufficiently punished already, and that the nation should remember his great services and judge his errors leniently.

The Times is very pronouncedly in favor of Rhodes. In an editorial article it urges the advisability of dropping the subject and allowing consideration to smooth the path of progress in South Africa.

Some of the papers complain that the report says nothing about Miss Flora Shaw, who was in charge of the Colonial Bureau of The Times at the time of the Jameson raid.

The papers are almost unanimous in advocating the restoration of their commissions to Major Sir John Willoughby and his brother officers.

The Daily News and The Daily Chronicle denounce the commission for hurking and hushing up the inquiry. The Daily Chronicle declares that the conclusion of the inquiry is disgraceful, and asks whether Cecil Rhodes and Lord Grey are to go scot free. The Chronicle's article concludes thus: "It is for Parliament to vindicate its honor and that of the Empire."

CROP PROSPECTS IN INDIA.

Good Rains in Some Sections, But in Others the Outlook is Gloomy.

London, July 13.—The Earl of Elgin, Viceroy of India, telegraphs from the west coast that the monsoon died away on June 25, and that the weather throughout the country has been fine. Burmah is still receiving a good supply of rain, and a good rain is now falling again on the west coast and in Southern Bombay and Mysore. A fair amount of rain has fallen in the last three days in the Central Provinces, parts of Bengal and the Northwest Provinces, but Bombay, Deccan and Madras are still without rain. If the monsoon again advances the damage will not be very great, but the situation is serious where large areas have been sown. Elsewhere the work of sowing has been suspended and many persons are returning to the relief works. There is a great scarcity of fodder in Bombay, Madras, Hyderabad, Berar and parts of the Central Provinces, and prices are gradually rising.

EIGHT SAYINGS OF CHRIST.

Some of the Interesting Discoveries Made the American Explorers in Egypt.

London, July 13.—Among the discoveries made at Behnesh by Messrs. Grenfell and Hunt, of the Egyptian exploration fund, is a small page, 5 3-4 inches by 3 3-4 inches, containing eight sayings of Christ. The logia consist of detached quotations, each beginning, "Jesus saith."

The first saying is: "And then thou shalt see clearly to cast out the mote that is in thy brother's eye."

The second saying is startling and entirely new. It reads: "Jesus saith, except ye fast to the world ye shall in no wise find the Kingdom of God; and except ye keep the Sabbath, ye shall not see the Father." This being at variance with the accepted teachings of Christ, it is suggested that it is perhaps a Jewish forgery committed with a view to supporting the Jewish Sabbath. Perhaps it is an erroneous report.

The third saying is similar to that contained in John I., but the form is different. Christ describes Himself as standing in the midst of the world, finding all men drunken and none athirst. "And my soul grieveth over the sons of men, because they are blind in their heart."

The fourth saying has perished, only one word remaining. This is the Greek word for beggary. As this was not used by Christ in any gospel, the logion is considered to have been new.

The fifth saying, which contains certain gaps, is of extraordinary interest. It reads:

"Jesus saith, wherever there are (here occurs a gap) and there is one (gap) alone I am with him. Raise the stone and there thou shalt find me; cleave the wood and there I am."

The latter part is entirely new, and it is expected that it will arouse controversy. It seems to indicate a pantheistic philosophy, and perhaps, is a reflection of the mystical occultism of the Gnostics in the early Christian centuries.

The sixth saying coincides in part with Luke, IV., 24: "No prophet is accepted in his own country; neither doth a physician work cures upon them that know him."

This is considered to prove that Luke had the same original records as the logia, because the Greek for accepted, here dekton, was used by Luke only and was hitherto supposed to be one of his mere literary changes on Matthew's collection.

The seventh saying is similar to Matthew V., 14, but is incomplete.

The eighth saying is undecipherable. It is suggested that the date of the document must be from the year 150 to the year 300 A.D., probably not later than 200 A.D.

The Greek of the logia is so clear that a dispute as regards words is impossible. A controversy can only arise in regard to the interpretation of the new passages.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION

Prohibition Convention in Toronto Yesterday.

PARTY POLITICS BROUGHT IN

And the Result Was Heated Discussion—Ontario Government Denounced and Defended—The Dominion Plebiscite is Now the Hope of the Prohibitionists.

Toronto, July 14.

The convention of the Ontario Prohibition Association was opened yesterday, there being about 75 delegates present at the morning session. The meeting had been announced to open at 9 o'clock, but the attendance was so small that it was 10 o'clock before there were sufficient present to warrant the opening of the convention.

In the afternoon there was a little larger attendance, but at no time were there more than 125 delegates present, the larger proportion being ladies.

Upon enquiries being made as to the cause of the small number who attended, one delegate made the excuse that it is a bad time of year, while another, who seems to understand the situation better, said that the great majority of the temperance people have no confidence in the deliberations of the association, as at present constituted, those taking the most active part in the meetings being politicians before everything else. As an instance of this, the delegate pointed out that the committee which was appointed to consider the resolution introduced by Rev. Mr. Courtice was composed entirely of Liberals, viz.: Messrs. Tait, Spence, McLaren and Revs. Parker, Dewart, Williamson, Ross and Stone.

At the morning session, Mr. J. A. Livingston was the means of creating some discussion by the statement that the Legislature, by its enactment at the last sitting, had given cities a legal right to sell liquor which did not exist previously.

A general discussion then took place on the selling of liquor by clubs, it being held by some that by such legislation the Government had legalized the entire prohibition legislation of the Province.

The following resolution was then moved by Rev. A. C. Courtice, which was referred to the Committee on Legislation:

"Whereas two temperance conventions, namely, that in July last and that of March last, have approached and pleaded with the present Provincial Government, asking especially a few very moderate amendments to the license law of the Province, and whereas the Government has not considered our requests favorably or vigorously promoted our interests, and whereas the present Legislature has been urged to help our cause and has proved less responsive and progressive than the Government; therefore resolved that in view of the superior importance and immediate urgency of the plebiscite and Dominion prohibition campaigns we do not make at present any further appeals to the Provincial Government or Legislature, but that we issue a manifesto to our people explaining the Provincial situation and impress the importance of immediate attendance to the character and record of party candidates in the coming Provincial election."

Hon. S. C. Biggs moved: "Whereas the Dominion Government at the opening of the last session of Parliament, in the speech from the throne, promised to the country a bill authorizing and arranging for a plebiscite throughout the Dominion on the prohibition of the liquor traffic, but the promised bill was not introduced for several reasons; and whereas the suggestion has been made by the representatives of the liquor traffic to test the voters in the same vote on the method of taking the necessary revenue if prohibition should carry; therefore resolved that we confidently look for the prompt introduction of the promised bill at the next session of Parliament and respectfully request: 1. That the basis of the vote be the franchise on which the next Parliament will be elected. 2. That the issue of prohibition be submitted separate from all other questions of public policy. Especially do we object to any method of raising revenue being joined with prohibition in the vote, as the problem of revenue has been, is, and will continue to be a public question large and important enough to be dealt with by itself."

The resolution was taken up and discussed clause by clause and finally passed.

The Plebiscite Committee also introduced the following resolution, which was adopted after a short discussion:

"Resolved, we most earnestly exhort all the friends of prohibition in counties or electoral divisions, townships, towns and cities to definitely organize so that the whole force of prohibition sentiment may be brought to bear on the success of the plebiscite and that full and definite provision be made for sermons, lectures, addresses and meetings for prayer; also for the supervision of the voters' lists, the direct canvass of voters and the distribution of literature to all the voters, and that this work be entered upon at once. We recommend that the work be commenced by the calling of conventions for electoral divisions or counties, that the executive have general oversight of the work in the Province and that the counties or ridings where no organization exists take such steps as will secure such organization as speedily as possible."

The Committee on Legislation brought in a report, the first clause of which recommended that the formation of a distinct political prohibition party be not favorably received.

The next clause called for a long and "hot" debate. Here it is:

"The resolution introduced by Rev. A. C. Courtice respecting the recent action of the Ontario Government and outlining a course for future action for temperance voters was considered and the following is the finding of the committee: 1. That while we appreciate the improvements made in the license laws at the recent session of the Provincial Legislature, we regret that more effective measures were not enacted and that the Legislature did not support the Government in all the legislation proposed. 2. That it is therefore necessary to again apply to the Legislature for some more substantial recognition of the strong and growing temperance sentiment of the country in the form of further effective restrictive legislation."

Mr. J. A. Livingston took a strong stand against the treatment accorded the temperance people. He said the people should see that they are not humbugged any longer. There was no denying the fact that at present there is a Government not friendly to temperance.

Rev. B. B. Keefer objected to the clause and could not support it, as he considered that it was not fair to relieve the Liberal party of responsibility. He was of the opinion that the blame rested on those who gave the pledge to the temperance people, and they should have seen

EDITORIAL NOTES.

MR. SAMUEL J. FOX, of Ops township, has been selected by the Conservatives of West Victoria as their candidate in the coming Provincial general elections. Mr. Fox is a farmer and brickmaker. The Liberals must now nominate a bricklayer.

THERE have been great changes in the price of money. The Windsor Hotel, Montreal, has completed a loan of $450,000 at 4½ per cent., payable in 15 years. A similar loan issued in 1882 cost 7 per cent. The new deal, as compared with the old, represents a saving in interest of $11,250 per year, or a total saving for the 15 years term of $168,000.

THE "unconquerable British spirit" is shown in the fact noted in a despatch from Aden to the Evening News of London. It says that on June 22nd the survivors of the wrecked steamship "Aden," after being buffeted for thirteen days by the tremendous seas which swept over the ship as she lay on the reef of Socotra Island, celebrated the Queen's Jubilee and sang "God save the Queen."

THE industries that were "killed" or rather committed industrial suicide to discredit the Liberal tariff, decline to stay dead. After a period of inactivity extending over a period of two months, operations have once more been resumed at the big tobacco factory of W. C. Macdonald, which closed down a few days before the provincial elections in Quebec, at Hochelaga, and this morning over a thousand hands once more started in to work.

THE Canadian Pacific Railway Company announces a new grain tariff, to take effect July 12, on bulk grain in cargo lots from Fort William, via Owen Sound: To Peterborough and Canadian Pacific stations on main and branch lines west to Windsor, inclusive, 11 2 3 cents per 100 pounds. East of Peterborough, to Ottawa, Montreal, and intermediate and branch line stations north of Carleton Junction, 13½ cents. The Montreal rate will not apply to stations north of Carleton Junction, nor to stations on the Ottawa River section, between Montreal and Ottawa.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fee returned on Saturday from a visit to their friends in Rochester.

Our local Court, Canadion Order of Foresters, attended church on the 4th inst. at St. John's, Cavan, and were edified by an able sermon preached by Venerable Archdeacon Allen.

Rev. John Ewing, wife and Miss Ethel are spending a few days with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. C. McFarlane and Master Gordon were the guests of Miss Nellie McLean last week.

Our Presbyterian worshippers are without their pastor for two Sabbaths, Rev. J. A. Tanner having gone on a vacation to his home in Quebec. We wish him a pleasant period of reunion and rest.

Last week Mr. T. W. McLean, of the Literary staff of the Ontario Institution for the Blind at Brantford, returned to his home after having visited Detroit, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

The Foresters' picnic at Ida last Wednesday was a fair success. It was a very hot day; there was a large crowd present. The amusements consisted of racing, swinging and dancing. The excellent spread and the tea were features of the affair.

Mrs. John Best, of Peterborough, called on a number of her friends, here, recently.

Our streets have been improved and a new portion of sidewalk placed. The ashes of our Hotel de Deney mark the place where the once great structure displayed its inviting hospitality to the weary and dust-stained wayfarer.

School is over for a time; the silent bell rusteth meanwhile but its music is replaced by the organic medley of the released youth.

Handley & Preston are busy repairing agricultural implements.

The town pump seems to have lost its influence and we wonder the City Fathers look not to its defects.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

that the pledge they gave was carried out by their successors.

Rev. Dr. Stone took up the cudgels in behalf of the Mowat administration. He denied that nothing had been done for the temperance people. He held that there has been advanced legislation along temperance lines. The temperance people always ask for more than they expect to get. The trouble was that the Government had not the support of the Legislature, in the advanced legislation proposed. He held that the Government was away in advance of its followers. A great many people held that all that is necessary to do is to get a law passed but w... is more necessary than all is to educa... the people on the temperance question. The speaker then referred to the amendments made in the act, and stated that if the new act was not advanced legislation he did not know what advancement meant.

Then Rev. Thomas M. Campbell moved the following amendment, which was discussed for some time:

"That the paragraph of the report be referred back to the committee to be recast, so as to free it from the party-political complexion which seems to clothe it."

Dr. McKay would support Mr. Campbell's amendment, as he did his best in committee to have the clause changed as suggested.

The vote was then taken on Rev. Mr. Campbell's amendment to refer the clause back to the committee to be recast, and was declared carried by a good majority.

Rev. B. B. Keefer then created a disturbance, dozens of delegates shouting interruptions at the same time.

Mr. Keefer said that if the political complexion of that committee had been known those present would not be surprised at the result of its deliberations contained in the report.

This brought forth a storm of objections and shouts of "Take it back!" "Take it back!" amid which Rev. Dr. Dewart got up, and, although shouting at the top of his voice, had to stop in order to be heard.

Finally sufficient order was restored for Dr. Dewart to be heard, and with considerable spirit he stated that the committee was composed of honest men, and called upon Mr. Keefer to retract the reflections made on the committee.

Then there were more shouts of "Take it back," and "Retract," etc.

Mr. Keefer was still on his feet, endeavoring to go on speaking, but the chairman insisted on the remark being withdrawn, which Mr. Keefer was finally compelled to do.

The consideration of the second clause was then taken up, which recommended that the Legislature be again approached for more substantial recognition.

Many were the speeches delivered, both pro and con, until finally Rev. A. C. Courtice introduced a motion to the effect that the Legislature be not again approached, and that the clause be referred back to the committee.

F. S. Spence spoke in opposition to Mr. Courtice's motion.

It was ruled that Mr. Courtice's motion was not an amendment, and that the vote would have to be taken as to whether the clause in the report be adopted or not. This was done, when the report was declared adopted, with the exception of the first clause, Mr. Campbell's amendment taking its place.

At the public meeting held in the Pavilion last night there was a good attendance, the hall being nearly filled, the announcement of such speakers as Hon. G. W. Ross, Dr. Carman and T. Dixon Craig, M.P., no doubt bringing out many people.

When the time had arrived for calling the meeting to order, J. J. Mcclaren was voted to the chair, there being on the platform with him: Senator Vidal, Hon G W Ross, T D Craig, M.P., Rev Dr Carman, Rev Dr Dewart, J W Fitzpatrick, M.L.A., Nova Scotia; Rev Dr Milner, Chicago; Bishop Baldwin, Rev Dr Stone, Rev T M Campbell and others.

The first speaker was Rev. Dr. Carman, who delivered a spirited address, which was frequently punctuated with applause. He commenced by saying that he felt deeply the serious work that the temperance people are engaged in. The proposition before them is a large one. They are called on to lay hold of a custom that is intrenched in the habits of a people, to deal with a force that is well fortified, who think that the drinking usages are perfectly allowable, a habit that is deeply interwoven in the national feeling of their being. He felt that it is not boy's play—not a matter of momentary excitement—but a matter of deep conviction. Some people talk of regenerating the man, others that the circumstances must be regenerated, but he held that if the matter is to be got at right, both must be regenerated.

T. Dixon Craig, M.P., for East Durham, said that to a politician the prohibition question is an unknown one. It is awkward to any candidate, for the reason that he wants to get all the votes he can. He wouldn't refuse a liquor man's vote. [Laughter.]

He then asked the question. Can there be prohibition? to which he answered, Yes, if the people want it.

Do the people want prohibition? Yes, except at election times. [Laughter.] Most politicians think that the temperance people are a lot of humbugs. The speaker didn't think so. Temperance people want prohibition, except at election time, and then they vote for the candidate of their own party.

On the other hand, the liquor men are consistent and won't vote for a temperance man if they know it, while the temperance people vote for the party man of their choice, no matter whether the opposing candidate is a better temperance man or not. Such things hurt prohibition. He contended that the only way to get prohibition is by working and voting for good temperance candidates and helping to pay their expenses if they need it.

In conclusion, he said that some say the time has not come for prohibition, but he held that as soon as a majority of the members of the House of Commons can be got to vote for a prohibitory liquor law the time will have come.

Rev. Dr. Milner, Chicago, then gave his experiences while residing in Kansas, holding that prohibition in that State had been a good thing for the people. It was sufficient for him to know that the passing of the law had reduced the sale of liquor. He was of opinion that the people were going to have one of the greatest opportunities ever given to a people in declaring for prohibition.

Hon. G. W. Ross was then announced, and was greeted warmly. At the outset he said as regards the temperance question he is an optimist so long as he had confidence in those concerned in its management. He believed the temperance cause is moving on fairly well and believed that the people got an average amount of good legislation from the politicians.

The legislators are the trustees for the whole people—sinners as well as Christians—and he was free to admit that the sinners are in the majority.

He doubted if for many years to come the country would have a legislature as advanced in the temperance cause as they would desire, unless they had at their back an advanced public opinion. But he was glad to say that the time is coming when the temperance question can be lifted out of the political arena and placed on the broad shoulders of five million people.

He then went on to cite the many advantages the temperance people had gained, and asked them not to be discouraged. He referred to the teaching of temperance in the schools, to the reduction of the number of licenses, to the shortening of the hours for the sale of liquor, to the raising of the age of those to whom liquor can be sold, to the abolishing of saloons and to other changes, all in the direction of temperance.

He then dealt at length with the Dominion plebiscite about to be submitted. He was of opinion that it should be submitted to the people on the same basis as members are elected to Parliament, free from any other question or any other policy or party, and should not be mixed up with any other question The people should vote on the question on its merits. Give Canada five million sober people and he wouldn't be afraid of the revenue. The members of Parliament will find a solution—that's what they are for. [Applause.]

The speaker then counselled the temperance people to enforce an educational campaign and not to trust to a spasmodic campaign. The public mind can be treated respectfully, and is disposed to listen to honest statements. Get literature ready and let it be true. Don't be afraid to tell all the facts.

He believed that the Dominion Government would submit the question some time next summer and he was glad that the time was so near. He believed that Canada had reached a point which no other country has, and he hoped the time would soon come when we will be able to say that we do not require in this Dominion the sale of liquor as a beverage.

The committee to whom had been referred the task of recasting the clause that was objectionable to a section of the meeting in the afternoon brought in the following amendment:

"That, while we appreciate the improvement made in the license Law at the last session of the Legislature, we regret that the Government did not promote all the legislation we desired, and that the Legislature could not accept all the progressive legislation submitted."

The amendment was rushed through while many were leaving the hall, but there were some who were paying attention, and greeted the clause with groans, one delegation saying quite audibly, "Oh, hell."

The officers were then elected.

Sixty Auto Cars Burned.

Paris, July 13. The works of the Carriage Builders' Society in the Rue Pradier caught fire to-day, and 60 auto-cars were destroyed. The total damage was $200,000. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin, as the outcome of the opposition of the Paris cabmen to the introduction of aut omotors.

Belleville People Speak Freely About the New Conqueror of Heart and Nerve Troubles.

Perhaps Some of Them are Neighbours of Yours—they Speak with Emphasis.

Mrs. E. McConnell, says: "For the last 8 or 10 years I have suffered greatly from heart trouble and nervousness. The pains across my chest and over the heart were very severe. My heart seemed to jump and throb until I could hardly stand it. I often felt as if it would jump out of my body.

I grew so weak that I could not work, and was tired at the slightest exertion. Nervousness also afflicted me so much that I was startled at the least noise or alarm.

Naturally this effected me mentally, and I grew very morbid and despondent. The medicines I took did me no good, and I was almost despairing of a cure when I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills at McKeown's Drug Store.

I experienced prompt relief from the first box, and now am like another woman. My whole system is toned up. All my distressing symptoms have been removed, and I cannot feel to thankful to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for the great good they have done me."

THE BATTLE IN CRETE

British Troops and Bashi-Bazouks Have a Set-to.

A NUMBER KILLED ON BOTH SIDES

The British Troops Intervened to Protect Christians Against the Bashi-Bazouks and a Serious Conflict Followed Turks Ordered to Surrender Their Arms.

London, July 14.—The Times' Athens correspondent says official despatches have been received announcing that a serious conflict has taken place at Candia between a force of British troops and a party of Bashi Bazouks, arising from the British intervening in a skirmish between the Bashi Bazouks and Christians. Sixteen of the British force and a number of the Bashi Bazouks were killed. The admirals of the foreign fleets have sent five warships to Candia to suppress any further Mohammedan movement.

No further details of the conflict have been received, but passengers who have just arrived from Candia state that on account of excesses by Bashi Bazouks 300 British marines have been landed at Candia to replace the Italian garrison stationed there. The Bashi Bazouks have been summoned by proclamation to surrender their arms within four days. They have held a meeting and addressed a petition to the Sultan.

PLAIN WORDS TO THE PORTE.

The Powers Assure the Sultan That He Must Cease His Obstruction.

Constantinople, July 13.—The following is the text of the collective note of the powers to Turkey.

"The great powers have adopted the project of strategical rectification as it has been worked out by the military attaches and communicated to the Sublime Porte. In consequence, they have agreed to assure the Ottoman Government that they have arrived at a firm determination to put an end to the obstruction, the only effect of which is the prevention of the conclusion of a peace eminently in the interest of Europe."

Saadi Bey, formerly chief accountant of the Ministry of Commerce, who was recently appointed Mutessarif of Urfa, refused to go to Urfa until the arrears of his salary shall have been paid. He has fortified his house in Constantinople and surrounded it with armed men, to whom he has given orders to resist any attempt to abduct him.

Saadi Bey's appointment is tantamount to sending him to exile, and was made, it is said, because he was suspected of affiliation with the Young Turkey party.

The Turkish Ministry at a special session of the Cabinet yesterday, discussed the replies of the powers to the circular note of the Porte. Notwithstanding the unfavorable character of the response, a large majority of the Ministers have reiterated their former advice to the Sultan to insist upon the Pencios frontier. It is believed that the Porte, in maintaining this attitude, is acting upon the conviction that the powers would be unable to agree among themselves on any measures of coercion.

Important Move by Turkey.

Berlin, July 13.—The Frankfurt Zeitung's Constantinople correspondent says it is reported that a treaty was concluded at the Yildiz Kiosk to-day between the Roumanian and Turkish Governments by the terms of which Turkey will secure military assistance from Roumania in the event of Bulgaria's developing warlike designs. Ratifications of the treaty will be exchanged next week. It is understood that one of the great powers helped to arrange the treaty.

If the news contained in The Zeitung's despatch is true, it may be regarded as an important move on the part of Turkey, as it was believed in some quarters that the powers meditated using the Bulgarian army as a means of coercing the Sultan into acceptance of the terms of peace offered.

SIR WILFRID AND SIR LOUIS.

The Former Interviewed About the Yukon and the Latter on the Seal Question.

London, July 13.—A large deputation, headed by former Agent General Beeton of British Columbia, waited to-day upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Dominion Premier, and urged upon him the expediency of opening up a route to the Yukon district.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the Government was alive to the importance of assisting in every way the mining interest of British Columbia, and promised to propose an appropriation for exploration purposes.

The Hon. Sir L. H. Davies, the Canadian Minister of Marine, who was summoned to London in connection with the Behring Sea seal controversy, and the Belgian and German trade treaties, said to the correspondent of the Associated Press to-day: "Since my arrival I have conferred with John W. Foster, the United States Special Commissioner on the sealing question, and with the British Colonial Office. The latest phase of the matter is a proposal emanating from the United States Government that the American, Canadian and British Seal Commissioners should meet this autumn, return to the sealing grounds and, in conjunction with officials specially representing the Governments concerned, consider the situation in the light of the later facts collected by specialists.

"This plan was submitted by Mr. Foster only a few days ago. Nothing can be done this season, and Great Britain has decided that there are insufficient data to justify any change. The fact is that the Americans have never loyally accepted the Paris award and have never accepted the fact that the sealing herd, as a herd, is not more theirs than ours.

"It seems that their movement now is more or less controlled by the idea of getting the Paris award altered. From the evidence which I have examined I am strongly of the opinion that, if the interests of the sealers themselves are to be regarded, they cannot stand a further loss of right."

Royalty Will Tour in Ireland.

London, July 13.—The Duke and Duchess of York will start on Aug. 15 on a visit to Ireland. They will remain for ten days in Dublin, and will attend the Leopardstown races and the horse show, after which they will make an extended tour in the north and south of the country.

Irish Tenants to be Reinstated.

London, July 13. Mr. Gerald Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, announced in the House of Commons to-day that large numbers of evicted Irish tenants would be reinstated upon their holdings, by an arrangement with their landlords.

COUNTY REGISTRAR.

All Else Failing Mr. Geo. C. Ward is Cured by Eight Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope (Special) July 5.—No case of recovery from serious illness that has ever occurred in this community has caused as much talk as that of our esteemed fellow townsman, Mr. Geo. C. Ward, Registrar of this county, residing here. For a long time it had been well known to his intimate friends that he was a sufferer from kidney disorder. But for the past year he grew worse and all efforts to regain his strength were without avail. He is now cured, as he says, by using eight boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and is as well as ever he was in his life.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Toronto, July 14.

Dan Shannon's Barons dished up the slugfest sort of ball inadmissible on Orangemen's day and only a handful of spectators turned out to see them trounced in the third and closing game of the series yesterday afternoon. But the select few saw one of the prettiest games of the season. True, Toronto got five in the first, on six hits, a stolen base and an error, but after that Keenan was almost incredible, and was ably backed up by the other fat men behind him.

SCRANTON BEAT THE LEADERS.

At Scranton in an 11 innings' game, filled to the brim with fast plays by Clymer and Gilboy of Buffalo and Beard, Bonner and Massey of the Miners, the latter won on Barry's error and singles by Massey and Maguire, with none out. A peculiar feature is that the Scranton outfield had not a put out nor an opportunity to make one. Up to the seventh inning Beard and Massey had made all but two of the Miners' put outs. Score:

LEAFS BEAT LONDON.

Guelph, July 13.—London was all but shut out this afternoon in a game with the Maple Leafs. Willie Kershaw, London's star pitcher, was hit freely, Guelph making 10 singles, six two-baggers and a home run. On the field London put up a good game. Bradford was in his old time form, and kept the visitors guessing through the game. His support was the best, only one error being made, which accounted for the solitary run London made. Rain in the seventh stopped the game. Score:

Weakness and Dyspepsia Cured.

DEAR SIRS,—I can heartily recommend Burdock Blood Bitters. For a long time I was troubled with dyspepsia and weakness. The least exertion would tire me out. I am glad to say, however, that your B. B. B. has greatly benefited me, curing the dyspepsia and making me strong and well.

Belts and Buckles.

The belt to be worn with the every-day shirt waist is of patent leather, any color you please; it is two inches wide and has a buckle that might have been taken off the harness of one's best horse. Last year these buckles were made in silver on short, fat lines; this year they appear in gold and are long and narrow. These belts are merely the necessities in the mind of the shirt waist girl. What she dearly loves are the belts and buckles that owe their creation to her own individual ideas.

Some Uses for Nuts.

Peanuts are used as a stuffing for ducks and rival the almond for salting purposes. In ice creams the hickory nut, while still popular, is largely superseded by the pistachio nut with its delicious flavor. Chocolate ice cream molded in the form of cantaloupes is sprinkled with chopped pistachios, and almonds also chopped and toasted a light brown.

The Head Master.

Gentlemen,—I have found great satisfaction in the use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberries, and consider it invaluable in all cases of diarrhœa and summer complaint. It is a pleasure to me to recommend it to the public.

The bride looked most charming in a white silk gown of chiffon trimming. She wore a veil caught up with a wreath of orange blossoms and carried white roses.

The bridesmaid was Miss Susie Loucks, of Marmora, sister of the bride, who was most attractively costumed in pink organdy and carried pink roses.

The groom was assisted by Mr. F. D. McKay.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, of St. Paul's church, performed the ceremony, at the conclusion of which the wedding dejeuner was served.

Monday's train brought up Miss Mary Dorris, the girl he left behind him in Peterborough, Ont., and the marriage rite was performed at the bedside of the injured man by Rev. J. A. Wood. Mr. Fairhall was not suffering any pain at the time of the ceremony, and no doubt will make a speedy recovery under the careful nursing of his bride. The Herald wishes long life and happiness to the pair united under such romantic and unusual conditions.

MONCRIEF JUDGMENT WILL BE APPEALED.

THE TOWN COUNCIL SO DECIDED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

A Special Meeting was Called to Consider the Matter—The Question of who Owns the Land Extending From the Market Square to Simcoe Street Decided.

A special meeting of the town council was called yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the advisability of appealing against the judgment in the case of Moncrief vs. Peterborough.

The Mayor was in the chair, and the following councillors were in attendance: Messrs. McWilliams, White, Davis, Cobb, Leplante, Denne, Robertson and Meldrum.

Councillor McWilliams presented the following report on the matter from the Legal Committee:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Legal Committee beg leave to report and recommend that the Town Solicitor be instructed to appeal the case of Moncrief vs the Town of Peterborough, in which judgment was entered against the town by the county judge.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
J. B. MCWILLIAMS,
Chairman.

Peterborough, July 12, 1897.

Councillors McWilliams and Denne moved the adoption of the report, the former stating that the members of the Legal Committee unanimously decided on this course of action.

Councillor Davis was not in favour of appealing against the judgment as affecting the plaintiff Moncrief.

Councillor McWilliams explained that in appealing against the judgment as a whole, time could be gained in which to consider what particular portion of it should be accepted. The evidence would soon be ready for the councillors to peruse. The speaker also remarked that he, himself, had heard the Judge say that the accident would not have happened if the board in question had not been lifted by one of Fairweather's employees.

Councillor Cobb thought there was good ground for appeal, and if the judgment was allowed to stand, the whole town would be suing the corporation.

Councillor Leplante thought a new law should be made governing such matters, providing that notice of the danger should have to be shown to have been lodged previous to the occurrence of the accident. He had seen a team pass over a sidewalk recently at six o'clock in the evening. A break was made in a plank and naturally it could not be repaired until the morning.

The report was then adopted.

THE TOWN OWNS IT.

Councillor McWilliams introduced another matter in referring to the dangerous condition of the sidewalk in the lane leading from the Market Square to Simcoe street. Repairs had been delayed in order to ascertain who owned the property. This question was decided by the following letter from the Town Solicitor:

S. R. Armstrong, Esq., Town Clerk, Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to make the following report with reference to the lane or street between the east wall of Macfarlane Wilson's shop and the adjoining building to the south thereof and the west wall of C. N. Brown's flour and feed store, for the information of the Street and Bridge Committee.

By an agreement dated the 30th day of January, 1896, made between Thomas Bradburn and the Commissioners of the Peterborough Town Trust, Mr. Bradburn released to the Commissioners all the estate, right, title and entire claim and demand which he had in the said lane or street and also covenanted with the commission that he would before the 1st of May, 1896, "remove or cause to be removed from the said street or lane, the verandah at the east side of said building, occupied by McFarlane Wilson and George Matthews and all obstructions in and upon the said street or lane created or permitted by the said Thomas Bradburn."

By memorandum under seal endorsed upon the said agreement, "Maggie Maud Wilson, the lessee of China Hall, and Mcfarlane Wilson, her husband, the former lessee of same, hereby consent to and acquiesce in the several provisions of the within instrument."

I therefore advise that neither Thomas Bradburn nor Macfarlane Wilson, nor his wife, can claim any right or interest in the street or lane between the walls of the building on either side and that it is competent for the council or their street Inspector in repairing the streets to remove any obstruction that may exist upon it.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

The council expressed itself of the belief that the old verandahs should be immediately removed and owners of horses forbidden to leave their animals on the sidewalk. The matter was referred to the Street Bridge and Committee, which will report at the next meeting of council.

SOME ANGRY CITIZENS

Claim That the Street Car Company Wanted to Charge Them Double Fare Last Night.

Several citizens have complained to the EXAMINER to-day that after leaving the street cars last evening and taking the sail on the North Star on the lake, and then wishing to finish their round trip on the cars, they were refused that privilege, although such an arrangement was advertised in the papers. The street car conductor told them, they state, that he had no orders to that effect.

The street car officials say that they will look into the matter, as the conductors were all supposed to know of the arrangement.

GRAND TRUNK OFFICIALS.

They are on an Inspecting Tour, and Passed Through To-day at Noon.

General Superintendent McGuigan, of the Grand Trunk, and his staff of officials, passed through at noon to-day, on an inspecting tour from Montreal west.

The officials came on a special train at half past eleven, and left again almost immediately, the General Superintendent being the only one to leave the car.

THE CAVALRY AND THE JUBILEE PROCESSION

Mr. McWilliams Replies to Captain Johnston.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—In your issue of the 10th inst there is a communication from Capt. Johnston in reply to a few remarks made by me at the last council meeting as to the action of the cavalry troop (or, rather, the officers) in connection with the Jubilee celebration. It appears to me that if Capt. Johnston had no better defence to offer, he would have shown better judgment to keep out of print. He starts out by saying that my remarks were untrue and unfair. I challenge him to point out a single untrue statement, and if unfair, it was in being too lenient with the company. It is just as well that the public should know the facts in connection with the matter.

In the first place Lieut. Bradburn stated in a public meeting that the company would not turn out unless provided with a free dinner, and lest this would not be sufficient inducement, a portion of the men's pay had been kept back, so that they would have to come to town that day. In my remarks I only referred to the first reason given by Lieut. Bradburn, and if Capt. Johnston thinks I was unfair in doing so I have no hesitation in giving the explanation, and he is welcome to all the camfort he can obtain from the second. Capt. Johnson states that "Mr. McWilliams is not an authority on military matters." Perhaps he will find out that I am just as good an authority on military matters as he, and I can tell him that at the time I received my military education not only was it not necessary to promise free dinners to get the men to turn out for celebrations in honour of our Queen or for active service, but if either an officer or a man had hinted at such a thing the uniform would have been stripped off him so quickly he would not have known what was the matter. Let the men who served under the late Col. Poole, one of the best officers ever in connection with the volunteer force in Ontario, imagine what he would have done under the circumstances. But it is not necessary for the public to accept either Capt. Johnson or myself as an authority on military matters. Let the Captain and those who have any doubt on the matter read the report of the Jubilee celebration in London of the Queen's coronation and he will find that the flower of the British Army had the honour of being placed in the rear. Capt. Johnson says that horses move faster than men and that was just one of the reasons why the committee decided to place the cavalry in the rear of the procession. We had loyal old men of 70 or eighty years of age and along side of them the Boys' Brigade and we thought it would be unfair to ask them to keep up the pace set by the cavalry if in front and besides there was the great inconvenience to all parties in the procession from the dust raised by the horses. Any man who has had any experience with horses knows that it is a great deal easier to get horses to strike a slow gait when following than when leading. When Lieut. Bradburn made the statement he did about the troop, I thought he placed them in a very humiliating position, but now Capt. Johnson comes out over his own signature and adds insult to injury by stating that his men are so incompetent as not to be able to control their horses if they would see a street car, or if some small boy would put off a firecracker. Had not the men just returned from their annual drill and if they had never been on a horse before surely two weeks drill should be sufficient to enable any ordinary man to handle a horse. Capt. Johnston must have had his eyes closed that day or he would have seen that the streets were crowded with spectators and there would have been just as much danger of accidents with the cavalry in front as when in rear of the procession. Had Capt. Johnson explained to the committee that he and his men were incapable of handling their horses, our firemen and policemen would have made some arrangements to protect the troop, which could easily have been done by placing the long ladders in front and on each side of them, although I regret that the troop had to take over the Smithtown hill to the woods through all the dust, yet I am pleased to know that the trouble was caused by the small boy's firecrackers, and that it was not the sight of four mounted marshalls who were armed with such superior weapons as riding whips, while Capt. Johnston and his men had only swords and carbines. Perhaps to avoid any danger in the future it would be well for the town council to pass a bylaw to prevent the running of street cars and the use of firecrackers when the cavalry troop is on parade.

Does Capt. Johnson expect that he will be allowed to lead his troops off to the backwoods when called for active service, for if afraid of firecrackers what would they do in front of rifles and cannons, or would they refuse to engage in a battle without their dinners.

In my opinion the Minister of Militia should hold an investigation and find out who is responsible for the humiliating position the cavalry troop has been placed in. For my own part I cannot think that the rank and file, young Canadians descended from ahe old veteran stock of this country, are to blame and if the officers have so little respect for their men that they will publicly charge them with incompetence and disloyalty then decided action should be taken by the Minister of Militia.

Yours truly,
J. B. MCWILLIAMS.

THE PEOPLE AND CHOIR HONOUR FATHER PHELAN.

DOURO'S TRIBUTE OF LOVE AND RESPECT.

Address and Present From the People of St. Joseph's—Rev. Father Phelan's Feeling Reply—Sentimental and Substantial Evidences of Esteem.

Rev. Father Phelan has reason to feel proud of the honours he has received since his elevation to the priesthood about two years ago. These honours do not consist in preferment in office but in the love and esteem which his faithful and loving discharge of his priestly duties have engendered, both in his brethren of the clergy and in the hearts of the people among whom he has laboured as a pastor.

For the past nine months he has been looking the duties of the parish of St. Joseph's, Douro, during the lamentable illness of Rev. Father Kielty, who has, as his many friends rejoice to learn, so far recovered as to be able to resume his position as pastor.

A practical evidence was this morning afforded of how Rev. Father Phelan has endeared himself to the people of Douro during his stay amongst them. They were unwilling to have him leave them, but his Lordship the Bishop, having transferred Rev. Father Phelan to the parish of Trout Creek, he of course responded to the call of duty, and necessarily retired from the parish of St. Joseph's.

But the parishioners could not permit him to leave without expressing their affection for him as a priest, and their appreciation of his services. And the trouble they took to do so may be regarded as an index of the depth and earnestness of their feelings. This morning about three-score and ten of the people of Douro, young and old, ladies and gentlemen, drove to town and waited upon Rev. Father Phelan at his father's residence, Simcoe street, and on behalf of the people, Mr. Wm. O'Brien, township clerk, read the following from the people:

To the Rev. C. J. Phelan:

REV. FATHER,—We, the members of St. Joseph's church, of the parish of Douro, have congregated together on this auspicious occasion for two purposes.

First, we sincerely thank you for the kindness shown by you to all our members, both old and young, of this our parish.

Yes, reverend and dear Father, since you came to our midst, we perceived we were blessed by a good and holy priest, that was ever ready to sacrifice everything most dear to the human heart for the good, both spiritual and corporal, of the people, over whom our beloved Bishop, under the guidance of Almighty God, had placed you.

Everyone amongst us in their hour of trials and sickness, ever found a most consoling friend in the person of their beloved pastor, who was always ready to console, and, like the good Samaritan, to comfort them as far as possible. Again, dear Father, no one ever approached you for either advice or consolation, but went away rejoicing and begging God to bless and protect Father Phelan.

Well may the people of this parish learn to love and respect a priest going amongst us, doing the will of his Heavenly Father.

In the second place, we were hoping that you would be left in our parish, but as our beloved Bishop has ordained otherwise, we bow in humble submission to his will. But we hope dear father that in the event of the Bishop deciding upon a change or removal of a priest from our parish in the future that His Lordship will be pleased to appoint you as parish priest.

We hope Rev. Father that you will accept this small purse as a proof of the sentiments contained in this short address. Begging you, dear father, to remember from time to time in your holy masses and prayers the people of St. Joseph's parish and we on our part assure you of our humble prayers.

May God shower down his choicest blessings on you and in your new field of labour and may your good work be crowned by success in this life and a wreath of eternal glory await you beyond the grave.

Signed on behalf of the congregation of St. Joseph's church, Douro:

On behalf of the people, Mr. John Leary, the venerable treasurer of the township, who has occupied that position for about fifty-five years, made the presentation of a purse of money amounting to $100.

The choir of St. Joseph's also claimed their share in the tribute of love and respect to Rev. Father Phelan, and Mr. Francis P. Moher read the following

ADDRESS FROM THE CHOIR:

To the Rev. C. J. Phelan:

REV. AND DEAR FATHER,—It behooves the members of the choir of St. Joseph's church, of the parish of Douro, to accept this occasion as a most becoming one to express our most sincere thanks for your kindness to our members.

Dear father by your interest in us we have learned to love and respect you as a congregation should their pastor. During your short stay of nine months amongst us you have proved yourself a true and sincere father, a good and pious pastor, a shepherd in every sense of the word. We were led on in hopes of your being with us for many years to come. However, Almighty God in His wisdom through your kind Bishop, has decreed otherwise, so we in humble submission bow our heads with respect. May His will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

Hoping Rev. Father you will accept this small donation as a token of the esteem and respect you were held in by the members of the choir.

Asking God to grant you all the graces and blessings needful in the discharge of your religious duties.

With heartfelt sorrow and regret we bid you farewell and ask a short memento in the holy sacrifice of your masses.

Signed on behalf of St. Joseph's choir, Parish of Douro:

LILLIE O'BRIEN, organist,
FRANCIS P. MOHER,
M. T. MOHER,
W. E. O'BRIEN,
AGGIE O'BRIEN,
CATH. CASEY.

Miss Lily O'Brien made the presentation of a purse of $20.

Rev. Father Phelan, who was pleasantly as he was thoroughly surprised, replied in feeling terms. He said that on on the receipt of such a beautiful and flattering address, as they had just read him, he was at a loss to know how to receive or in what terms to acknowledge it. Scarcely nine months ago he went amongst them, almost a stranger, but before long he recognised that

HE WAS AMONGST FRIENDS.

He needed not this testimony of their appreciation of his services, small though they were, for on more than one occasion, they had given expression to that kindly feeling and high regard which should always exist between the priest and his people. He had endeavored, as far as lay in his power, through the exercise of his sacerdotal functions, to administer to their spiritual wants, and no greater consolation could come to a priest than to know that while labouring for the glory of God and the salvation of souls he still retained the warm affections and co-operation of his people. In the words of the address, they had been pleased to ascribe to him many talents and virtues which he felt he did not possess, but whatever may have been his defects or shortcomings his heart was always in his work and the good people of Douro in his thoughts. They had left an impression upon him that should last forever, and which would be a source of strength and comfort to him in his future labours in the vineyard of the Lord. The longer he lived among them, the better he knew, the more he loved them. The priest was, he said, ordained to do the work of God, to continue the mission of Christ upon earth. That mission is one of peace, charity and mutual forbearance. Of peace, in soothing the trials and troubles which necessarily fall to the lot of man; of charity in extending a helping hand to those in need; of mutual forbearance in pardoning the trivial imperfections to which human nature was subject. This was, and with God's help, ever would be his motto through life.

In conclusion he again thanked them for the kind address and exceeding generous purse and asked fond remembrance in their prayers, and in return would promise to remember both them and their children at God's holy altar. Rev. Father Phelan concluded with the words:—"May God bless you and may His choicest gifts and blessings be yours."

After hearty remarks from others and the warmest personal greetings from the company, Rev. Farther Phelan bade an affecting adieu to his late warmhearted parishioners.

Rev. Father Phelan leaves for his new parish at Trout Creek to-morrow morning followed by the good wishes of his hosts of friends in Peterborough as well as in Douro.

A Special Departure In Summer Millinery.

After a most successful stretch of business, we feel like doing something exceptional in the interests of Ladies before the 1st of July.

Perhaps we ought to say we want to sell more Hats and mean to go about it in the quickest and best way to sell them. Please yourself how you consider the matter, but the facts are that the entire stock of Straw Hats in Fancy Shapes, Sailors and Leghorns have been marked down for the balance of this month. We also offer the additional inducement of reduced prices for trimming these Hats—provided, of course, the materials are purchased here.

MISSES CAHILL

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1894 at 30; 1895 at 33; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 50; 1896 at 55 and in 1897 at 36. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

DOURO'S TRIBUTE OF LOVE AND RESPECT.

They were unwilling to have him leave them, but his Lordship the Bishop, having transferred Rev. Father Phelan to the parish of Trout Creek, he of course responded to the call of duty, and necessarily retired from the parish of St. Joseph's.

But the parishioners could not permit him to leave without expressing their affection for him as a priest, and their appreciation of his services. And the trouble they took to do so may be regarded as an index of the depth and earnestness of their feelings. This morning about three-score and ten of the people of Douro, young and old, ladies and gentlemen, drove to town and waited upon Rev. Father Phelan at his father's residence, Simcoe street, and on behalf of the people, Mr. Wm. O'Brien, township clerk, read the following from the people:

To the Rev. C. J. Phelan:

REV. FATHER,—We, the members of St. Joseph's church, of the parish of Douro, have congregated together on this auspicious occasion for two purposes.

First, we sincerely thank you for the kindness shown by you to all our members, both old and young, of this our parish.

Yes, reverend and dear Father, since you came to our midst, we perceived we were blessed by a good and holy priest that was ever ready to sacrifice everything most dear to the human heart for the good, both spiritual and corporal, of the people, over whom our beloved Bishop, under the guidance of Almighty God, has placed you.

Everyone amongst us in their hour of trials and sickness, ever found a most consoling friend in the person of their beloved pastor, who was always ready to console, and, like the good Samaritan, to comfort them as far as possible. Again, dear Father, no one ever approached you for either advice or consolation, but went away rejoicing and begging God to bless and protect Father Phelan.

Well may the people of this parish learn to love and respect a priest going amongst us, doing the will of his Heavenly Father.

In the second place, we were hoping that you would be left in our parish, but as our beloved Bishop has ordained otherwise, we bow in humble submission to his will. But we hope dear father that in the event of the Bishop deciding upon a change or removal of a priest from our parish in the future that His Lordship will be pleased to appoint you as parish priest.

We hope Rev. Father that you will accept this small purse as a proof of the sentiments contained in this short address. Begging you, dear father, to remember from time to time in your holy masses and prayers the people of St. Joseph's parish and we on our part assure you of our humble prayers.

May God shower down his choicest blessings on you and in your new field of labour and may your good work be crowned by success in this life and a wreath of eternal glory await you beyond the grave.

Signed on behalf of the congregation of St. Joseph's church, Douro:

On behalf of the people, Mr. John Leary, the venerable treasurer of the township, who has occupied that position for about fifty-five years, made the presentation of a purse of money amounting to $100.

The choir of St. Joseph's also claimed their share in the tributes of love and respect to Rev. Father Phelan, and Mr. Francis P. Moher read the following

ADDRESS FROM THE CHOIR:

To the Rev. C. J. Phelan:

REV. AND DEAR FATHER,—It behooves the members of the choir of St. Joseph's church, of the parish of Douro, to accept this occasion as a most becoming one to express our most sincere thanks for your kindness to our members.

Dear father by your interest in us we have learned to love and respect you as a congregation should their pastor. During your short stay of nine months amongst us you have proved yourself a true and sincere father, a good and pious pastor, a shepherd in every sense of the word. We were led on in hopes of your being with us for many years to come. However, Almighty God in His wisdom through your kind Bishop, has decreed otherwise, so we in humble submission bow our heads with respect. May His will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

Hoping Rev. Father you will accept this small donation as a token of the esteem and respect you were held in by the members of the choir.

Asking God to grant you all the graces and blessings needful in the discharge of your religious duties.

With heartfelt sorrow and regret we bid you farewell and ask a short memento in the holy sacrifice of your masses.

Signed on behalf of St. Joseph's choir, Parish of Douro:

LILLIE O'BRIEN, organist.

Miss Lily O'Brien made the presentation of a purse of $20.

Rev. Father Phelan, who was pleasantly as he was thoroughly surprised, replied in feeling terms. He said that on the receipt of such a beautiful and flattering address, as they had just read him, he was at a loss to know how to receive or in what terms to acknowledge it. Scarcely nine months ago he went amongst them, almost a stranger, but before long he recognised that

HE WAS AMONGST FRIENDS.

He needed not this testimony of their appreciation of his services, small though they were, for on more than one occasion they had given expression to that kindly feeling and high regard which should always exist between the priest and his people. He had endeavored, as far as lay in his power, through the exercise of his sacerdotal functions, to administer to their spiritual wants, and no greater consolation could come to a priest than to know that while labouring for the glory of God and the salvation of souls he still retained the warm affections and co-operation of his people. In the words of the address, they had been pleased to ascribe to him many talents and virtues which he felt he did not possess, but whatever may have been his defects or shortcomings his heart was always in his work and the good people of Douro in his thoughts. They had left an impression upon him that should last forever, and which would be a source of strength and comfort to him in his future labours in the vineyard of the Lord. The longer he lived among them, the better he knew, the more he loved them. The priest was, he said, ordained to do the work of God, to continue the mission of Christ upon earth. That mission is one of peace, charity and mutual forbearance. Of peace, in soothing the trials and troubles which necessarily fall to the lot of man; of charity in extending a helping hand to those in need; of mutual forbearance in pardoning the trivial imperfections to which human nature was subject. This was, and with God's help, ever would be his motto through life.

In conclusion he again thanked them for the kind address and exceeding generous purse and asked fond remembrance in their prayers, and in return would promise to remember both them and their children at God's holy altar. Rev. Father Phelan concluded with the words:—"May God bless you and may His choicest gifts and blessings be yours."

After hearty remarks from others and the warmest personal greetings from the company, Rev. Farther Phelan bade an affecting adieu to his late warmhearted parishioners.

Rev. Father Phelan leaves for his new parish at Trout Creek to-morrow morning followed by the good wishes of his hosts of friends in Peterborough as well as in Douro.

After a most successful stretch of business, we feel like doing something exceptional in the interests of Ladies before the 1st of July.

Perhaps we ought to say we want to sell more Hats and mean to go about it in the quickest and best way to sell them. Please yourself how you consider the matter, but the facts are that the entire stock of Straw Hats in Fancy Shapes, Sailors and Leghorns have been marked down for the balance of this month. We also offer the additional inducement of reduced prices for trimming these Hats - provided, of course, the materials are purchased here.

MISSES CAHILL

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1896 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchased can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

William Pike Shot Himself.

Thorold, Ont., July 12.—William Pike, coal dealer and an old resident of the town, committed suicide by shooting about 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Pike discovered the body about noon, lying in the stable with a revolver by its side. No reason can be assigned for the rash act.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from overexertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

For Weak People.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for weak people having heart or nerve troubles, such as palpitation, throbbing, spasms, dizziness, shortness of breath, smothering feeling, pain in the breast, etc., are an invaluable medicine as hundreds of certified cures bear witness. For anemia, debility, after effects of Grippe and lost appetite they are a specific.

Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Lung Troubles are quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam.

SOME RELIGIOUS STATISTICS

Increase in Churches and Preachers in the United States in Ten Years.

The United States is the only country in which [illegible] statistics of religious bodies are collected by the authorities. In every European country, in Canada, South America, India and Australia, when a census is taken by governmental or local authority, inquiry is made into the religious belief of the inhabitants, and the custom is universal to ascribe the infant children of a family to the religion of their parents. In the United States, however, [illegible] antipathy to the mingling of religious with secular matters has always served as a bar against inquiry by census officials on religious matters, and the nearest approach to such information has come, therefore, from statistics of church sittings. These are kept, too, but not by any official authority, a record of the number of members of each religious body [illegible] and a comparison of the [illegible] for the last few years is [illegible] showing the changes which have occurred in the various denominations.

Ten years ago there were in the United States 38,552 Baptist churches and 27,377 Baptist clergymen. There are now 45,802 Baptist churches and 33,601 Baptist clergymen. Ten years ago there were in the United States 48,203 Methodist churches and 28,075 clergymen of the Methodist creed. There are now 52,236 Methodist churches and 33,601 Methodist clergymen. There are thirteen subdivisions of American Baptists and seventeen of American Methodists, but for purposes of ordinary comparison they are spoken of as Methodist and Baptist collectively. Ten years ago there were in the United States 6,910 Catholic churches, and 7,678 Catholic clergymen. There are now 12,427 Catholic churches and 9,986 Catholic clergymen. Ten years ago there were 5,662 Lutheran churches and 4,215 Lutheran clergymen. There are now 9,403 of the former and 5,855 of the latter, the increase being due in considerable measure to the large and steady emigration from north Germany and Scandinavian countries to the United States. Ten years ago there were returned in the United States 369 Jewish synagogues and 302 rabbis occupying pulpits in Jewish synagogues. There are now returned 548 synagogues and 200 rabbis, though obviously the latter number is much too low, and the disparity arises from the fact that there are a considerable number of rabbis who do not appear in the church records as such, as they also follow other pursuits. Ten years ago there were in the United States 12,437 Presbyterian churches and 9654 Presbyterian ministers. By the last figure at hand there were 14,530 Presbyterian churches and 13,476 Presbyterian clergymen. Ten years ago there were 3540 Episcopal churches and 4339 Episcopal clergymen in the United States. There are now 5979 of the former and 4580 of the latter.

All religious organizations in the United States have grown in membership and church accommodations during the last ten years, but the gain, as the figures show, has been somewhat unevenly distributed.—New York Sun.

Can Work all the Time.

"My daughter was suffering with catarrh of the stomach, and tried many different prescriptions without benefit. Finally she began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it helped her at once. She has taken fifteen bottles and is now able to work all the time. We prize Hood's Sarsaparilla very highly." ANNA MERRILL, Eaton, Que.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Cure all liver ills, 25 cents.

Enlarging the Udder.

The relaxation of the udder sack becomes so conspicuous in large milkers, in some instances, as to make it evident that the combined influence of expansion and weight tension together have overborne the natural contractive force of the udder skin, thus permanently enlarging the bag by destroying, or at least effectually suspending, its natural and necessary contractibility. This result is clearly shown in the uncontracting bags of cows that are dried only with great difficulty and breed but seldom, or fail to breed at all. The skin or sack of the udder is, of course, thinned down, as yield and size of bag increases, and this, when carried to excess or affected too rapidly, is doubtless the chief cause of loss of contractile power in the udder skin. Increase of feed being the cause of increased yield, such feed as adds to the bulk of blood increases yield and the size of the udder together. This succulent feed, like grass and roots, tends to enlarge the yield and the bag, and in this will be found a reason for the largest milk-producing cows being generally found in the best natural grass localities, in both dry and humid climates. Thus the best grass countries in America do, or surely will, with equal care and training, produce the largest or best yielding cows as a rule.—Plowman.

Washing the Milk Cans.

If your washed milk cans smell when closed a few hours they are not clean enough for milk. New cans, pails and strainers should be carefully examined for irregular crevices in the soldering; a little more solder will fill these places and make the can perfectly sweet inside. In cleansing cans where no boiler exists for steaming them, wash first in cold water, then in hot water and sal soda. Finally, half fill them with clean, scalding water, put on the covers tightly for a few moments; they will steam themselves completely. By using the hot water that steams our can for the sal soda water for the next one, a limited amount of hot water will thoroughly purify a goodly number of cans.—Journal of Agriculture.

An Ill-Fated Train.

Mr. J. Plimmer, of Windsor, Ont., was on the train which which went through the bridge at St. George, Ont., in 1888. In the accident his kidneys and back were seriously injured, and have since caused him great suffering. Mr. Plimmer says:—"Until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills I never knew what it was to be free from pain. They have entirely removed the pain, and I am able to work every day now. They have produced better results than all the other medicines combined which I have used in all my years of suffering. I regard them as a specific for kidney trouble."

Arthur Denies It.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 10. The attention of Chief P. M. Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was directed to the Associated Press report from Pittsburg that it was reported that he had been asked to issue orders to the engineers not to haul coal until the miners' difficulties are adjusted.

"Have you issued any such orders, Mr. Arthur?" was asked.

"There is absolutely no truth in it," he replied. "We have received no complaints whatever. Our attention has not been directed to the strike situation."

Barn Fired by Lightning.

Brooklin, Ont., July 11. A very heavy thunderstorm passed over this section of country about noon to-day. Lightning struck one of the large barns of Mr. John Morrison, living about one mile east of here, burning it to the ground. It contained about 50 tons of hay, agricultural implements, four pigs and about 200 bushels of peas. The fire spread so rapidly that it was impossible to save the contents. Loss about $2500; partly insured.

THE "BIG" FOUR

A Quartette of Remedies that are Effecting Wonderful Cures.

"I was sick for three years," says James Simpson, of Newcomb, Me. "I tried various alleged patent cures and several boxes of a certain pill which has been greatly cracked up. I got no relief. Then I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since I have been able to work every day and feel like a new man. Your pills alone cured me at a cost of 25c."

"I have been subject to severe colds every fall and spring," says Miss Hattie Delaney, of 174 Crawford street, Toronto. "I used many cough medicines, but none cured me until at a cost of 25 cents I tried Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine."

"My husband was troubled with the worst kind of piles," writes Mrs. Jane Potts, of Meyersburg. "He was often unable to work. Since using your Chase's Ointment he is completely cured. It is truly worth its weight in gold instead of the price you charge, only 60 cents."

"I bought a box of your Catarrh Cure for 25 cents at Mr. Boyle's drug store here," says Henry R. Nicholls of 176 Rectory street, London, Ont. "I am thankful to say it cured me."

Thousands of women are cast up dead on the shores of life because of their own ignorance or neglect. No woman can be free from pain or safe from the ever-threatening breakers of death, who neglects to take proper care of the organs that constitute her womanhood. A woman who neglects her womanly self will be sickly, nervous, pain racked and fretful, and approaching maternity will be a menace of the grave. It is easy for a woman to avoid this suffering and danger.

Well women know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a marvelous remedy for those troubles that make a woman's life miserable, and rid the period of prospective motherhood with fears. It is the discovery of an eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Over 90,000 women have testified to the almost miraculous action of this wonderful remedy. It works directly on the organs distinctly feminine. It makes them strong and healthy. It cures all weakness and disease. It prepares for wifehood and motherhood. It insures baby's health and makes its advent easy and nearly painless. Druggists sell it. Nothing else is "just as good."

Mrs. G. A Connor, of Alleghany Spring, Montgomery Co., Va., writes: "My daughter, aged 15 years, had a goitre coming on her neck and it disfigured her very much. I am happy to say that it has disappeared after the use of one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is in plain English. Contains 1,008 pages and over 300 illustrations. If you want a copy, paper-covered, send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover the cost of customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. If you prefer cloth cover, send 50 stamps.

DR. SVEN HEDIN.

The Swedish Explorer Who Visited the Mysterious Land of Thibet.

Dr. Sven Hedin, the Swedish explorer, who recently returned to Stockholm after exploring the mysterious land of Thibet, has been received with much expression of approval by King

DR. SVEN HEDIN, EXPLORER.

Oscar. The king had a surprise store for the guests at the banquet in augurating the Swedish exhibition. Hedin had been thought dead for a year, and the surprise of the banqueters may be imagined when they saw the king leading the doctor by the hand into the room. The plucky explorer had not only succeeded in penetrating the marvelous country of the Pamirs, but had managed to escape with a whole skin. Hedin's explorations, while more dramatic in every way than Nansen's trip to the north pole, did not attract much attention for the reason of popular ignorance respecting that part of the world which he had visited. Thibet is the highest tableland on earth—fully 20,000 feet above the level of the sea, or nearly five miles. Few travelers have managed to penetrate its fastnesses. The famous Marco Polo, Abbe Hue and other travelers have crossed the Kuen Luen Mountains, but the story of their adventures has been generally disbelieved. For Dr. Hedin was reserved the privilege of exploring Thibet in its entirety, and even constructing a reliable map of its mountains, lakes, rivers and cities. He was the first European traveler to explore the terrible desert of Takla-Makhan. His most important work was the solution of the mystery of Lake Lab-Nor, whose existence has been asserted and denied by many authorities. Hedin found that this body of water disappears and reappears through the action of natural agencies and has forever set at rest a great geographical controversy. Dr. Hedin's journey was undertaken at the instance and under the protection of the Swedish Government. Hence it was that King Oscar had first news of his return.

There's no question about it. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier. This is proven by its wonderful cures of blood diseases.

The Latest Fashions

FRILLS OF FASHION.

The Little Points Which Round Out Proper Dressing.

The new silk petticoats of brocade and light wool soleils are from three to five and a half yards around, made with one deep flounce from the knee, trimmed with a narrow edge, and rows of insertion between clusters of tucks. A wide flounce with a narrow ruffle on the edge, lapping over a double ruche, is a favorite mode of trimming, as it dresses the hips effect at the bottom.

Purses to match or harmonize with the color of your costume is one of fashion's new whims and dainty pocketbooks are made of suede, green, blue and brown leather.

Fancy Oxford ties with a patent leather vamp and finish are made of moire velour in various tints of green, blue, and red and brown.

A becoming veil, carefully adjusted, is an important item of dress, and the woman who makes a selection without any regard to the effect of the mesh on her complexion, makes a mistake. Another point which adds to or detracts very much from the success of her costume is the way she puts it on. If it wrinkles across the face, and the ends are not carefully caught in at the back, it is the first object of interest in her appearance, no matter how elegant and attractive the gown may be. Too plain or too thick meshes are not becoming to anyone, and if the pattern is fancy it is usually very trying. The plain meshes with medium sized chenille dots, not too close together, are most generally becoming, but the elaborate meshes are very much worn, as they come in the finest veiling. Double veiling of plain white tulle, over black with dots, is one of the novelties for summer, but the fashion at summer resorts of wearing two veils, one of dotted chiffon over one of fancy net, still holds good, as it affords great protection to the skin. Veils finished with an edging are worn, but they are not so becoming as the piece veiling, which is more easily arranged. Veiling with tiny flower sprays is a Victorian revival which is shown among the novelties, and you are informed that it is to be worn with larger hats, hanging loose and straight down from the brim, after the manner of fifty years ago.

"Tyrolean hats of the brigand shape" are considered by English women to be the best and most becoming for cycling, and the brims and crowns are often of contrasting color. Canvas hats, too, are very much favored.

One of the many Jubilee souvenirs is an umbrella with a Dresden handle, decorated with gold and a portrait of Queen Victoria in her coronation robes, copied from a picture at Windsor Castle.

A wise authority asserts that a revolution in millinery is going on. That the large hat is not among the latest novelties, and that the proper thing is the medium shape, round and flat, trimmed round the crown, with an assertive osprey or aigrette of ribbons, flowers or lace at the side. When feathers are used they are arranged to droop on the hair at the side.

The Snug Collar.

In fitting a collar the size should be carefully adjusted to the neck, both in height and circumference. The waist of the dress should fit easily and comfortably round the throat and be finished with a bias silk binding. The collar should set down over the outside fully half an inch and the upper edge of the neck binding be firmly caught at intervals to the lining of the collar. To make a well-shaped collar you should have a lining of stiff canvas, cut bias. Fit this at the last fitting of the dress. Nine out of ten collars fasten at the back nowadays. Don't try to make the collar too high, it should look comfortable as well as be comfortable. To be too loose is as bad a fault as to be too tight. To make a plain collar have your goods perfectly on the bias. Baste the lining on the goods, cut out, leaving a half inch margin all round. Turn this over the edge and baste down. Face with a strip of bias silk hemmed on. To make a folded collar and just now collars of even, smooth folds are more stylish than the crush collars the material must be on a true bias and very carefully stretched to form the folds. In adjusting it do not lay the collar flat, but curve it, as if it were around the throat. Fasten half the collar to the waist, sew a hook in the middle of the remaining half and put a loop on the waist to meet it. Anything but a collar that pulls up from the waist. If well fitted it will not do so.

Fitting Your Sleeves.

Sleeves fit the arm moderately tight, but have some kind of a puff, drapery or decoration at the shoulders which gives the effect of breadth. They are quite long, many having Vandyke points or squares which come over the hands. Sleeves of silk waists are often cut in slashes at the wrist, then filled in with lace. On heavy gowns gauntlet cuffs are liked. A ripple over a small leg o' mutton sleeve varies the style and goes well with a jacket with ripple back. The ripple should be lined with some pretty contrasting silk.

I do not know that I can tell you anything more about sleeves, except to cut your linings the same way of the cloth as the outside and thus prevent "skelying," and see that the under arm seam is in the proper place so the sleeve does not twist. Bending the arm and then stretching it out straight while the inner seam of the sleeve is pinned to the armhole will generally indicate whether it is rightly placed or not. See that the armhole is large enough and not too high under the arm. When the arm is down the under arm part of the waist should be smooth and not wrinkle down. Look to it that the fullness in the outer seam is in the right place at the elbow, neither above or below it. Cut away the armhole in the front at the curve, and under the arm till it is comfortable and does not bind or wrinkle.—Mrs. Hunt, in Detroit Free Press.

Uses of the Cucumber.

Most of the expensive toilet luxuries will be found to contain cucumber juice. These hold a very important and expensive place, and just now is the time for the wise housekeeper to preserve their cooling and healing qualities, not only for her own and children's use, but for the comfort of the paler also.

To make cucumber cream, which not only clears and cleanses the complexion, but is a very healing, proceed as follows: Remove the soft part from two or three cucumbers, warm sufficiently to make it squeeze through the colander, then squeeze through a hair sieve; to half a teacupful of this add a teaspoonful of glycerine and five drops of salicylic acid; both the latter are preservatives, and if glycerine does not agree with the skin the salicylate alone will be sufficient. Add a few drops of any perfume liked and the ointment is ready for use.

While cucumbers are plentiful it is well to have thick slices of the softest with the soap on the washstand, and to use after the former, to rub face, hands and throat, rinsing afterward. The clean, soft feeling of the skin will answer for its future use. While tomatoes are ripe and plentiful they are excellent to remove freckles and muddiness from the skin. A woman with a peachlike bloom on her skin declares she has used nothing else besides soap from her girlhood. A thorough rubbing of the skin once or twice daily while the season lasts with a ripe tomato will work wonders, and if this is found to be the very thing for certain complexions the canned may be used occasionally through the winter; those canned nearly whole must be chosen, as they are the least cooked.

That when you buy goods on the instalment plan you expect to pay MORE for them than under ordinary circumstances, but when you buy insurance on the same plan you pay LESS.

The Port Hope Times has the following to say of Monday's game: The doughty and much touted Peterboroughs came to Port Hope yesterday with the set determination to wipe the earth with their light weight opponents, the Ontarios. The Peterboroughs had swept everything before them this season, and to their idea Port Hope would be pie. True the Tecumsehs of Toronto had beaten Peterborough, but only after a close match, and by the way it gave the Tecumsehs such a hard task to beat Peterborough, what would our set do to the Indians if we got at them!

The game was half an hour late in starting, owing to a misunderstanding with the Cobourg band, who were to supply music for the march to the grounds, but instead went direct to the grounds and waited for the crowd. This kept the boys down town until 3.30, and it was four o'clock when referee Dave Hoey blew his whistle and the two teams lined up. There was a marked difference in the physique of the two teams. Peterborough were a chunkier lot of players and little Lang Crowhurst looked like a veritable pigmy along side his burly antagonist, but weight is not skill and the way little Lang crawled in and out and around his check was a treat to the small boy. Tutton and King faced off the rubber and up went a roar from the audience that lined the fence that it was going to be a hot game; that much was sure and the crowd wanted to show the home team where their sympathies were, right from the face off, showed were the Ontarios were to shine on that day, for within 30 seconds Boney Crowhurst was called upon to stop a lightning shot from McCabe's stick, he did it and did it well. During the game many a hot shot that would have played sad havoc with the score was stopped in by this little fellow in the flags. Never has such an exhibition of goal-keeping been given before in this town. It was extraordinary and unstinted, Praise is due Crowhurst, for his good work, which turned a defeat into victory for the home team. From the start to the end of the first game as fast lacrosse as one could wish for was the order of the game.

Peterborough excelled in team work and generally outplayed our boys, but though the ball rushed down the field again and again, not a goal was scored until Crowhurst, going after the ball, McCabe went to check him and not being able to get the ball began belaboring Crowhurst, who, losing his head for a moment, held his opponent's stick with his hand and the eye of referee Hoey being on them they were both ruled off for that game. Shortly after the Peterborough home getting the ball drew out the defence of the Ontarios, a pass from King to Phelan, a low lob from Phelan to McCabe and the latter sent one of his swift shooters from four feet in front of the goal and all was over. Hayden who had taken Crowhurst's place in goal, had no show of stopping the ball. Time, ½ of an hour. After a rest of a few minutes, during which the music of the band was conspicuous by its absence, the ball was again set rolling, and oh what a difference! Just as the ball got going the Orange procession came along from the park. Burt's head went up in the air and he seemed like a war horse who had received an inspiring breeze. "Boyne water" sounded the death knell of the hopes of the Peterborough braves, for the harp in orange and black (the Ontario's colours) as long as the music was in the air, played rings around the opponents. Combinations, play which was so lamentably absent from the former play of the Ontarios, was now their stronghold, and the Peterboroughs' work in comparison to the way our boys were playing was decidedly yellow. From Tutton to Burt to Crowhurst to Colman the ball would go, Peterborough madly chasing the elusive rubber, but all to no avail. After eight minutes' play from a pass of Colman's to Friar, Peterborough got the ball, Phelan checking Friar rather heavily. However, when Phelan did get it Burt went after the big fellow and amid the plaudits of the bleachers soon dispossessed him of the ball, and taking it up field passed to Crowhurst, who sent in a nasty shot which completely nonplussed the Peterborough goal keeper and the score was a tie. Then the crowd went wild, and you could almost hear the cheering down town.

Peterborough's followers were blue, for they could see that the Ontarios had played them to a standstill, and with certain defeat staring them in the face theirs was an unenviable plight. It took twice the length of time to finish the second game, but the result was never in doubt, Frank Tutton doing the trick from mid-field in 16 minutes. The Peterborough goal keeper was cleverly checked by Marvin as the ball whizzed through and he didn't get a chance to attempt a stop. Five minutes now were spent in a fruitless endeavour on the part of Peterborough to equal the score, but in vain, and at 5.30 the referee's whistle was blown, the game was over and the boys had once more shown their superiority to the Peterboroughites.

The crowd meandered down town and everybody was happy. The best of good feeling prevailed among the players. To mention any player is unnecessary. The team as a team played the game of their life, their combination being splendid, and its dollars to doughnuts they could do Peterborough five times in a week. Billy Stephens made his debut as field captain and steadied down the men in fine style. Billy's fog horn voice could be clearly heard from all parts of the field.

THE TURF.

Race meets are often made the vehicle for dead beats and confidence men who prey on the unsuspecting rural visitor and the venturesome city man, but it is seldom that the horsemen who fairly win a purse are deliberately defrauded out of their stake money. Geo. Booth, a Trenton man, was secretary and everything else at the meet held in Trenton on Thursday and Friday last, and to him the horsemen looked for their money, but they could not find him up to noon on Saturday, and so three of them went to Belleville and lodged a complaint against Booth. They claimed that he had cleared out of the country, and that he must have taken between $2,000 and $3,000 with him. Acting on the magistrate's instructions, telegrams were sent in various directions, but no replies have as yet been received. Booth was to have appeared at the police court in connection with the man, Frank Brown, who was tried on Saturday for swindling, but he did not turn up. The horsemen who lodged the complaint were A. L. Phelps and J. S. Yeomans, Colborne, and George Powell, Orillia. Phelps claims $60, Yeomans wants $95 and Powell's claim is $125. Besides these there are several others who have not received their prizes, amongst them being Fred E. Jones, of town, who should have received $250 in prize money won by his runner "Master Fred," and Dr. Johnston, whose pacing mare "Fleetwing" won $125 which was not paid over.—Belleville Sun.

THE WHEEL.

At a meeting of the Victoria Club Racing Board last night it was decided to make arrangements for holding a big bicycle meet on Thursday, August 5th. The Canadian District Circuit begins at Lindsay on July 29th, and meets will be held in all the towns of the district on successive days. Peterborough's prize list will be a good one, and the best men in the county will doubtless be here. An effort will be made to have the stores close for the afternoon.

The Lindsay Post says the race meet to be held here on July 29th under the auspices of the Lindsay Bicycle Club promises to be a very successful and interesting event, as several racing teams have already entered and others have given notice of their intention to do so. Following is the programme: Amateur events—1 mile novice, $20, $12, $7; one mile (boys under 16), $5, $3, $2; two mile club handicap, club trophy; one mile open, $12, $8; three mile handicap, $12, $7, $4; two mile lap race, $10, $6, $4. Professional—Half mile open (heats), $12, $8; mile open, $16; two mile handicap, $14, $8, $3. Entries close Monday, July 26th, at noon.

BASEBALL.

The baseball club will give the Peterborough people a good sample of ball when they meet the crack Elms of Toronto on Saturday in the P. A. A. A. Grounds. Although they have been disappointed on two or three occasions this season, yet there is no fear of a repetition, as arrangements have positively been made for this game.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. John McCamus, who Died on June 11th.

Last month, on June 11th, one of the old and respected residents of this county passed peacefully away, when Elizabeth Armstrong, wife of Mr. John McCamus, died. The deceased had an attack of apoplexy which proved fatal. She was born in Monaghan, Ireland, in 1815, being thus 82 years of age at the time of her death. She was the eldest daughter of the late John Armstrong, who was city missionary of Manchester, England. In 1839 she was united in marriage to John McCamus, who survives her. They came to Canada in 1843 and settled in South Monaghan, but later moved to Otonabee in 1860, and there they have resided ever since, respected and beloved by the community generally with a family of eight children, the survivors of nine that were born to the union. Among the children are Rev. John and Rev. David N. McCamus.

The funeral took place on Saturday, the 12th June, and was largely attended, attesting the esteem in which she was held by the people among whom she had led an exemplarly life as a member of the Methodist church. At the church, which was decorated for the solemn and sad occasion, Rev. Mr. Liddy officiated.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

Through the Crown of your Hat.

Regular hat store prices are revolutionized in our hat department; and bear in mind that our hat department is as big as any ordinary hat store. Take a look through our immense piles of hats of all kinds, and you'll find the newest and nobbiest shapes of light summer felts and straws that have had a quarter and a third chipped off the price. It's foolish extravagance to pay $3 for some highly-advertised manufacturer's hat—$2 for the hat and the balance for the name in the crown. We sell the newest of finest felt shapes for men, made of a good felt, with the same silk bands, warranted not to change colour, and to wear as long as any $3 hat—or your money back—for $2. This is an instance where we can talk better through our hats. It is not much of a trick to sell straw hats at this season of the year. Perhaps we're not the "leaders" in the hat trade, but we're the SELLERS, and that suits us just as well. Gentlemen's fine American straw hats for 75c, worth $1.25; very light weight straw hat, 50c., worth 90c.; fine straw hats, 20c., worth 40c.; boys' hats, 10c., 15c., 20c. and up to 65c. We sell as we buy. In this respect, this store is simply doing its duty by you who have made the business what it is.

Moisture from Sores so Great Changed Cloths 12 Times a Day. Hands Tied for Five Months.

After One Application of CUTICURA Child Slept. Cured Without a Scar.

My baby, when one year old (photograph herewith), broke out all over with a rash. He was a mass of sores. You could not put your finger on him only where there was not a sore. His face looked like a slice of fresh beef. He cried night and day. He would rub, scratch and scream. He was called and left a sore powder to put on him, but it did no good. It would take two to hold him, and one to put medicine on him. We had to bandage sometimes an hour or two before we could get him quieted down. All said that they never saw such a face or body on one as on him. I had to cut the sleeves out of his clothes, and put gauze underwear on him to keep him cool. I had to keep pieces of soft cloth around his neck, it was so wet with moisture from the sores, and had to change the cloths sometimes ten or twelve times a day. I had to tie his hands tight in a cloth, night and day, for five months. My sister had used CUTICURA, and I began to use it and was surprised at the result. After only one application, he lay down and slept as he had not for a month, poor little fellow. After I had used CUTICURA REMEDIES a day he was glad to have me wash and dress him. He has not a scar on him now, and is as fair and his flesh is as soft as any baby just born. He was absolutely cured in three months by one cake CUTICURA SOAP, two boxes CUTICURA (ointment), and one-half bottle CUTICURA RESOLVENT.

MORE TALK OF WAR.

Greece and Turkey Liable to Fight Again.

SO THINKS THE LONDON STANDARD.

And There May Be a General War in Europe—Meanwhile Greece is Being Slowly but Surely Ruined—The Sultan's Wily Reply to the Powers—Cable News.

London, July 14.—The Evening Standard regards the situation in Southeastern Europe as extremely grave, and says there is no doubt that, unless appearances are most deceptive, hostilities between Turkey and Greece will shortly be renewed. The paper says:

"Perhaps we may be at the beginning of a general European war."

Referring to the broad question of an attempt by Europe to coerce Turkey, The Evening Standard says: "So far as England is concerned, public opinion does not favor going to war for the sake of Greece. Perhaps the best way out would be to make a compromise with Turkey, for the existing deadlock is slowly but surely ruining Greece. We have before us the terrible prospect of a European war, and it is not worth running such a risk for the mere sake of rehabilitating Greece."

THE SULTAN'S ANSWER.

He Has Ordered His Ministers to Get Things Fixed Up by Thursday (To-day).

Constantinople, July 14.—Important Ministerial councils were held on Sunday and Monday, at which an indemnity of £6,000,000 was agreed upon as the extreme limit of Turkey's concession. This agreement was sanctioned by an Imperial irade. The councils further prepared a report, stigmatizing the concert of Europe as "a league of cross against crescent." The Sultan, after considering the report, answered by the following irade:

"I am convinced that the effort and energy of the powers are directed entirely towards the maintenance of peace and the prevention of fresh complications. In these circumstances, it is the plain duty of Turkey, whose sentiments are likewise pacific, to put an end to the present abnormal situation.

"Consequently, I command the Ministers, if possible, to find the necessary means for concluding the negotiations and to sign the preliminaries for peace by Thursday."

The foregoing is authentic, but is regarded as a ruse intended to delay a decision, although in some quarters it has led to the belief that to-morrow's council will decide to meet Europe's views in the frontier question.

The Grand Vizier had a long and stormy interview on Monday with Count Nelidoff, the Russian Ambassador to Turkey, who insisted upon the evacuation of Thessaly and, according to rumor, threatened that Russia would retaliate in Asia Minor if Turkey remained obdurate. To this the Grand Vizier replied that Turkey was ready to comply with this demand when Russia should have evacuated Kars and Batoum.

It is stated that the Ambassadors at their conferences have arranged a plan of coercion, by which Russia will blockade the Bosphorus and England the Dardanelles, while Austria will seize the railway to Salonica.

It is rumored that while the Czar's reply to the Sultan's telegram was peremptory, Emperor William promised to consider; but later the German Ambassador strongly advised the Porte to agree with Europe's demands. Confirmation has been received of the report that the Turks are constructing a military road in some of the passes of Mount Olieys and are preparing to resume hostilities.

CANADA CLUB DINNER.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies Delivered Speeches.

London, July 14. A dinner was given by the Canada Club this evening, at which Sir Robert Gillespie presided. There were present Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier; Lord Glenesk, Canadian High Commissioner; Sir Louis H. Davies, the Canadian Minister of Marine; Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, President of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada; Sir Adolphe Caron, Postmaster-General of Canada; Right Hon. Sir John De Villiers, President of the Legislative Council of the Cape of Good Hope; Sir Arthur James Fremantle and 100 other guests.

Addresses were made by Sir Robert Gillespie, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Louis Davies and several others. In the course of his remarks, Sir Louis Davies declared that the Canadian people did not desire any relaxation of the sealing regulations adopted at Paris.

At the conclusion of the dinner, a presentation was made to Mr. T. G. Gillespie, formerly secretary of the club, who, in returning thanks, said he would devote the money to the presentation of a challenge cup to the Dominion Rifle Association, to be competed for at meetings held in Canada.

Fighting Fanatics in Brazil.

London, July 15. The Times' correspondent in Rio Janeiro says that an official telegram, dated the 9th, states that the bombardment of the forces of Canselheiro at Canudos is proceeding, and that fighting is going on daily. The fanatics have got stores of ammunition and make frequent attacks upon the Government troops from ambush in great numbers. At times they hold the road from Canudos to Monte Santo. The Government forces have lost 700 men killed or wounded, including 20 officers, among whom are Cols. Thompson, Flores and Sucupira. Forty-nine of the enemy have been killed or wounded.

Russo-Chinese Alliance.

London, July 15.—Special despatches from Shanghai say it is reported there that before taking his departure Prince Ouchtomsky, chief of the Russian special mission to the Chinese Emperor, discussed with the Emperor's advisers the question of a Russo-Chinese alliance. It is stated, so the despatches say, that Li Hung Chang approves the idea of such an alliance.

Prince Ouchtomsky also urged the adoption of the Russian gauge on all the railways in Northern China, but this suggestion was not accepted.

No British Troops Killed.

London, July 15.—The Times correspondent at Athens says he learns that the report of fighting at Candia, between British troops and Bashi Bazouks, is without foundation. No British troops, the correspondent adds, have been killed at Candia.

Prof. Andree and His Balloon Trip.

Stockholm, July 14.—According to a despatch from Hammerfest, Norway, the northernmost point of Europe, on the Qual-Oe Island (Whale Island), says that the officers of the steamer Lofoten visited Mr. Andree, the aeronaut, at Dane's Island, on the northwest coast of Spitzbergen, on the 10th. Mr. Andree stated that he would not be ready to make the balloon start for the north until the 15th. A strong storm from the south nearly carried off the balloon on the 2nd inst., he stated, and since that time the north winds have been unintermitting.

No Reprieve for Mrs. Carew.

London, July 14.—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has refused leave to appeal from the judgment entered at Yokohama on Feb. 1, sentencing to death Mrs. Carew, convicted of poisoning her husband, Walter Raymond Hallowell Carew, secretary of the Yokohama United Club, which was subsequently commuted by the British Minister of Japan, Sir Ern. Satow to imprisonment for life.

An Ardent Sportsman Dead.

Henley-on-Thames, July 14.—Francis Robert Stoner, fourth Baronet Cazneya, died here to-day. He was an ardent sportsman, and his loss is widely mourned.

HIGHLANDERS' RETURN.

A Great Demonstration in Toronto in Honor of the Victorious Canadians.

Toronto, July 15.

At least two-thirds of the entire population of Toronto turned out last night to welcome the victorious 48th Highlanders and the Toronto portion of the Canadian Jubilee regiment on their return from the Old Country, where their presence redounded to Canada's credit and where the Highlanders' team won honors that any city in the British Empire might justifiably covet. Citizens generally turned out to do honor to those who have done honor to them and their Canadian home. The feeling that a bona fide detachment representing a Toronto regiment had bested the flower of the soldiers of Her Majesty's Empire, regulars or volunteers, made Toronto proud, and the welcome she extended to her kilted heroes was one that reflected great credit upon her, as well as the sturdy athletes to whom it was given. Hamilton, too, rejoiced with us, and sent down her 13th Battalion of Infantry to participate in the program.

The reception at Queen's Park has never been equalled in this city, and never before has so large a crowd congregated in one spot. The soldiers who have been Toronto's representatives in England occupied places on a special stand at the east side of the band pavilion, north of the Parliament Buildings. From the band stand to the east side of the park was every foot taken up with an immense mass of humanity, while to the north and south the crowd stretched out as far as the eye could reach by the six arc lights that were affixed on the pavilion. A conservative estimate of the crowd at the park places the number at 60,000, and at least that many people viewed the procession as it passed through the streets from the Union Station to the park. The wildest enthusiasm was exhibited, and the soldiers must have been much moved by the moustrous welcome they received on their home coming.

The heroes of the night were of course the representatives of the team of the 48th Highlanders that covered itself and Canada with so much glory at Islington. These are the men who were tumultuously cheered as they rode through the streets and marched to the stand in the pavilion:

Sergt. Williams,
Pte. Wasson,
Pte. McLean,
Pte. Rae,
Pte. McCheyne,
Pte. Campbell,
Pte. Rankin and
Pte. Delisle.

Pte. Stewart, the British Empire champion, and Major Henderson, who commanded the team, stayed behind in the Old Land. Stewart will compete at games in Scotland, while Major Henderson will attend the shooting competition at Bisley.

There was an immense crowd at the Union Station, and as the Highlanders' drag went through the gates at half-past eight a mighty cheer went up that must have made the Kilties' hearts beat overtime, and amid cheers, counter-cheers shouts and cheers, the procession started off in the following order: Chief of Police and detachment of mounted men, 13th Batt. Band, Brown's "Ascot" drag, containing the victorious Highlanders and Sergt.-Major Alf Robertson sitting beside his protege, Sergt. Williams; carriages with Mayor and City Council, 48th Highlanders pipe band, 48th Buglers, 48th brass band, Governor-General's Body Guard, Lieut.-Col. Davidson, in command of the Kilties, and the 13th Batt., who were intermingled; drag with the Jubilee Royal Canadian Dragoons and Governor General's Body Guard and other members of the contingent; Queen's Own Rifles, Major Delamere and Major Pellatt, Col. Mason and Mayor Fleming in a carriage at the head of the Royal Grenadiers, who were also preceded by their buglers and brass band; drag containing the Jubilee men of the Royal Grenadiers, Queen's Own, 13th Batt. and 90th Rifles, Boys' Brigade from Scarboro, about 300 strong, under Rev. Mr. Starr; Queen's Own Bicycle Club and large detachment of bicyclists, citizens in hacks and Reception Committee on foot. Thousands turned out to greet the boys on the route all the way to the Park.

A FIGHT ALL ROUND.

Both Parties Have Put Up Candidates in All the Constituencies.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 14. Nominations took place to-day for the Prince Edward Island elections, and both Liberal and Conservative parties put up two candidates in each district. There is also one Patron in the field. Large rallies were held to-night and each side expresses itself as confident of victory. Premier Peters was nominated in both Fort Augustus and Georgetown.

DEAD EASY FOR M'LEAN.

A Fellow-Prisoner at Headquarters Tells How the Desperado Got Hold of the Crowbar.

Toronto, July 15.

The mystery which puzzled the police as to how Jack McLean, the burglar and desperado murderer, who escaped from Police Headquarters, got hold of a crowbar has been set at rest. McLean was astute and his line of action was the simplest in the world. It appears that the then prisoner spent half an hour in the cells before the Police Court opened. He saw the crowbar in the corridor outside the cage or about 20 feet from the cage. McLean went upstairs into the court-room to be remanded temporarily till the Barrie detective arrived in the afternoon. He was one of the first to go downstairs after being remanded. A fellow prisoner named Callahan, who had just been committed to jail for a term, came downstairs just after, while the station duty man remained behind to help a lame prisoner down the stairs. McLean, who was downstairs first, with a quick movement picked up the crowbar lying outside the cage and placed it in the closet near by, where he could reach it from inside the cage. Callahan saw this move, and asked McLean what he did that for. McLean winked knowingly at his fellow prisoner and said: "There's a bad smell from that closet and I want to fix it." In the meantime the station duty man came down with the lame prisoner referred to and of course McLean was at this time quietly in the prisoners' cage. Callahan and the other prisoners were then taken off to Jail, leaving McLean alone. The station duty man locked the door and went away. It was an easy matter then for the burglar to get hold of the crowbar and make good his escape, which he did.

Callahan only learned yesterday that McLean had escaped and told what he knew about the crowbar.

It was reported last night that McLean and his two pals, now in Barrie Jail, were wanted in Buffalo on a charge of murder. A man was knocked down and killed in the streets of that city a few weeks ago by three men, who are said to answer the description of McLean and his pals.

Of course McLean has not been recaptured. Detective Davis cleverly put him in quod, but other members of the force by their carelessness let him go.

McLean, who subsequently eluded the detectives at Toronto Junction, did not skip out on a freight train, as many supposed he would. He slept in a barn on the outskirts of the town not very far from the spot he was followed to, and on the following morning he was at Mr. Baby's estate on Elizabeth-street. When he arrived in town he recognized the face of a man he knew at the Occidental, and, being heated, took a drink at the tap outside and moved on, saying: "I know you," and patting up his hands, turning his head sideways, continued, "You'll hear more of me later," and he did. McLean was evidently very bold in taking the main street of the town to reach King's-road; but had he gone the back way he would most probably have encountered Detective Cuddy. He is believed to be still in the vicinity. It is said he has some very respectable relatives in the vicinity of Markham and many acquaintances around Allandale.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE general provincial elections are now on in Prince Edward Island. The nominations were held yesterday, and the voting takes place a week hence. It appears that the province is divided into three counties, each of which elects five members, and that the county councillors are elected at the same time as the members of the Legislative Assembly.

MR. WHITNEY, leader of the Opposition, is preparing for a drop. He has been proclaiming from a score of platforms that the Province of Ontario was ripe for a change of Government and that the present administration would be swept from power at the general elections. He now qualifies his confidence. He says that if the elections were brought on now he would carry the province flying—presumably while the echoes of his brass band campaign are lingering along the side lines. That's right Mr. Whitney, make a soft place to drop at the next elections.

THE Conservative party are prating about "dissensions" in the Liberal ranks. They mistake independence for dissension. Conservative journals that are accustomed to subscribing to and swearing by everything their leaders do, good or bad, can't understand the independent criticism of the Liberal leaders by Liberal journals. When Conservative governments and ministers make errors in administration, their newspapers uphold them. On the other hand Liberal newspapers speak their mind and show politicians whenever their course may not be in the public interest. That is the way to secure good government.

THE hard times which, according to the predictions—the hopes perhaps—of Conservative politicians, were to have followed the success of of the Liberal party and the inauguration of its policy, have not come, says the Montreal Herald. On the contrary evidences of steadily increasing prosperity are abundant. A government cannot make a people prosperous, however much, on the other hand, it may be able to hamper and obstruct trade by unwise restrictions. What Government can do, however, and what the Laurier Government aims to do is gradually to remove such restrictions as have been already imposed and restore business to its natural channels.

MANITOBA CROP PROSPECTS.

In addition to the general conclusions reached from a resume of the report from 350 correspondents on Manitoba's crops, made to the Department of Agriculture and Immigration last month, we have now the Bulletin No. 52 itself. The area under all crops, according to this, is $1,958,023 acres, which is an increase over any previous year, and comfortably near two millions of acres. Sixty-five per cent. of the whole is in wheat, and the increased sowing of wheat this year is general; about twenty three per cent. in oats, and seven or eight per cent in barley, and the prospect for cereals is good. The area in different grains is shown below by districts of the Province:

District	Wheat. acres	Oats. acres	Barley acres.
North Western	90,000	68,940	13,770
South Western	554,626	169,225	32,856
North Central	240,181	73,786	37,749
South Central	330,000	105,100	44,000
Eastern	83,075	50,330	24,900
Province	1,290,882	468,141	153,266

Rye is sown upon only 2,975 acres; peas on 1,650 acres; corn (we presume maize) on 713 acres. The area in potatoes and roots has not increased, strange to say, according to the comparison furnished. Indeed roots show an actual decline of estimated acreage, from 7,880 in 1894, and 6,715 in 1896, to 6,130 this year. There was no less than 16,716 acres in potatoes in 1895, which has declined to 12,260 last year, and 13,356 acres this year. Most of the reports say that seeding began April 15th, was general by the 20th or 22nd, and the season was a favourable one.

During the second week in June rains were frequent in most parts of the province, and at present date (June 16th) continued rains, with warm weather, have given new life to all crops. Crop prospects are now greatly improved. There is estimated to be 821,370 bushels of wheat still in the hands of Manitoba farmers, of which quantity almost half is held by those of the South-west district. Correspondents were asked to state the number of cattle feed for beef during the winter, and the number of milch cows in their townships, and from their replies the following estimate is prepared:

Northwest district	1,425	11,440
Southwest "	2,375	12,450
North Central "	1,449	13,490
South Central "	1,850	11,460
Eastern "	1,630	16,375
Total	8,729	65,905

There are now 28 creameries and 31 cheese factories in the province.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

WESTWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Glorious Twelfth is over.

Mr. T. Drain, Norwood, paid us a flying visit on Saturday.

Miss Aggie Fraser, Norwood, wheeled up Saturday. She was the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) McNaughton.

Mr. Jas. Sharp has returned from an extended visit to his brother. Mr. Will Sharp, who is stationed at Dairyville.

Mr. Geo. McMillen, Havelock, was the guest of Mr. John McMillen, Sunday.

Several of our citizens went to the S. S. excursion last Thursday. They refrained from eating oxidized salmon cans, hence no sickness.

A trip to the Thousand Islands was nowhere with the journey to Warkworth on the 1st. Our football team, arrayed in their best bib and tuck, arrived in Warkworth about noon. They sat down to a heavy repast with a zest which meant a a clearing, and "it didn't take them long." Thence they proceeded to the grounds where they investigated the general surroundings, especially the lemonade booth. After seeing the big bub-bub-bub-balloon go into the airy atmosphere the chief purpose of our boys was brought forth and the awful match began. Warkworth made the rush but were neatly retarded by our weedy backs and many a close struggle began here and there until Warkworth scored 1-0—half time. Westwood awakened up and a hot fight (gentlemanly though) was kept up to the finish, our boys scoring making the the game a tie—1-1. The Westwood spectators were proud of the letters on the red uniforms and the boys were nearly carried off the field. We cannot say too much in praise of the Warkworth F. C. They are every one gentlemen and we only hope that the next team we face will use us half as well. The following shows the lining up of the teams:

SICK KIDNEYS
CURED KIDNEYS
HEAVY WORK.

When a man's Kidneys are deranged, he's not much good for work of any kind. In fact he does not feel like work. Sick Kidneys sap his strength and undermine his health by permitting the poisons to circulate in the system, that it is their duty to carry off.

Here was Mr. James Clark, of 190 York Street, Hamilton, Ont., a sufferer from Kidney disease. In consequence he was weak, had a poor appetite, and was only able to do the lightest kind of work. Since he has taken Ryckman's Kootenay Cure the pains have left him, his appetite has improved, and now he is employed at the grist mill of Mr. Robson, corner of York and Locke Streets, and his work is of a very heavy nature.

You see the wonderful change Kootenay can make in a man by setting his Kidneys right. The "new ingredient" does the work.

An Ill-Fated Train.

Mr. J. Plimmer, of Windsor, Ont., was on the train which went through the bridge at St. George, Ont., in 1888. In the accident his kidneys and back were seriously injured, and have since caused him great suffering. Mr. Plimmer says:—"Until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills I never knew what it was to be free from pain. They have entirely removed the pain, and I am able to work every day now. They have produced better results than all the other medicines combined which I have used in all my years of suffering. I regard them as a specific for kidney trouble."

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Cincinnati—The New Yorks made their last appearance of the season and had everything their own way for the first three innings. Dwyer was hit hard, ten hits being made off his delivery. In the fourth innings, Damman went in to pitch and the Giants could do nothing with him. The Reds hit Meekin hard after the fourth innings. Burke was sent to the bench by Umpire O'Day for interfering with a play at third base. Score:

At Chicago—Two very rank errors, followed by a streak of hard hitting, gave Brooklyn enough runs in the sixth to win the last game of the series. Griffin's and Anson's batting and the latter's first base play were the features. Score:

At Cleveland—Klobedanz began the game by giving three bases on balls without a strike and the Indians batted him out of the box in the fourth innings, scoring nine runs after two men were out. Wallace's home run to deep centre, which came with the bases full, and brought in the last four runs in this innings, was the feature of the game. Silvetts replaced Klobedanz after the fourth and did much better. Bob Allen, late of Detroit, took Long's place at short. Score:

LONDON WON A GAME.

London, July 14. The Londons pounded Carney, the ex-Cockney pitcher, most unmercifully to-day and added another victory from the Hamiltons to their credit. In the first singles by Slippi and Gunther, and Keenan's home run netted three runs. In the seventh Pfeffer got his base on an error, Hickey and Slippi made doubles and Gunther's home run brought in four runs. Cockman and Keenan hit safely and errors on the part of the visitors let in three more. The Hamiltons scored four in the sixth on singles by Hoffner and Cornwell, and Lauer's double, a passed ball and Johnson's drop of a high fly ball. Score:

Curious, Isn't It,

That when you buy goods on the instalment plan you expect to pay MORE for them than under ordinary circumstances, but when you buy insurance on the same plan you pay LESS.

A straight life policy in the Manufacturers' Life at age of 30 costs $20.40 per annum per $1000.00, while a 20 Instalment Policy for the same amount costs $15.95. DOMINION ALLIANCE.

The Annual Convention Held In Toronto Yesterday.

ANXIETY ABOUT THE PLEBISCITE.

The Members Want a Straight Vote on the Question of Prohibition, and Don't Want the Taxation Question Mixed Up With It Election of Officers.

Toronto, July 15.

These delegates were in attendance: Rev J S Ross, Brantford; Rev D L Brethour, Hamilton; Rev W A Mackay, Woodstock; Rev J A Turnbull, Toronto; Rev J S Williamson, Mount Forest; Rev W Rigsby, Blyth; A M Featherston, Montreal; Rev H Dieman, Chesley; Rev C W Watch, Brighton; J M [illegible], Kettleby; W R Hibbard, St Andrews, P.E.I.; J A Mills, Greenbank; Joseph Tait, Toronto; Miss E S Cosford, London; Mrs M M Brownell, Toronto; Emma A Wheeler, Paris; William Bowman, London; Mrs S V Spence, Toronto; Mrs J H Carson, Montreal; E S Cummer, Mrs L S Cummer, James L Hughes, Toronto; Rev S G Stone, Shelburne; Rev A C Courtice, L C Peaker, A D Weeks, Toronto; W H Bewell, Whitby; George Spence, Toronto; Rev C W Brown, Amherstburg; Mrs A O Rutherford, John J Mackie, [illegible] Stewart, Toronto; J T Middleton, Milton; Dan Ton, Rev W Burns, F Buchanan, Dr E J Fisher, Toronto; J H Carson, Montreal; Rev John W Cooley, St George; J A Au[illegible], Toronto; J George Miller, Greenbank; Rev J Greenfell, Kingston; T Dixon Craig, M.P., Port Hope; Hon George W Ross, Toronto; Hon A Vidal, Sarnia; Rev J Scadden, Athens; Rev S Bond, Seaforth; R A Cameron, Toronto; Mrs Maud Wiley, Richmond Hill; Lillian M Phelps, St Catharines; Rev Austin Potter, Hagersville; W M C Evans, Medicine Hat; Rev W Frizzell, Daniel Rose, Toronto; Rev William Kettlewell, Galt; W H Orr, Toronto; J R Dougall, Montreal; Rev George Stafford, Burnston; Rev T N Campbell, Campbellford; J K Stewart, John A Patterson, Toronto; Mrs H Campbell, Mrs A M Waters, Hamilton; A L McIntyre, Owen Sound; M H Fitzpatrick, M.L.A., Nova Scotia; Rev D V Lucas, Grimsby; Mrs H H Wallace, London; Rev Thomas Griffith, Brockville; Michael Anger, Quebec; Mrs J R Covers, Galt, Mrs T Carlisle, Toronto; Rev D N McCamus, Port Perry; Rev G Washington, Sandford.

The Senator said they had met to take counsel as to the best method to be pursued under the present condition of affairs. He had hoped that the Dominion plebiscite bill would have been submitted to Parliament at the last session, but he was not going to say anything condemnatory of the Government. He held that if the question of prohibition was to be submitted in connection with a vote in regard to direct taxation it would be most dishonorable and unfair. The Government already had sufficient information to submit a prohibitory measure to the people. The information which had been obtained presented a mass sufficient to justify the prohibition legislation asked for. He considered that a more threatening period for the temperance cause had never existed. The liquor traffic had never resorted to tactics such as it was pursuing to-day. They were very powerful and influential, and consequently prohibitionists should not underrate the strength of their opponents. The liquor interests were thoroughly impressed with the fact that the plebiscite was likely to settle the question, and that if it passed the Government would be compelled to give a prohibitory law. It was, therefore, the duty of temperance people to work without ceasing.

In its report, the Executive Committee stated that the date of taking the plebiscite is still uncertain, but thought it would not be postponed longer than till next session of Parliament. The Government had declined to be committed to the proposition that, before legislation, it was necessary to have any particular proportion of the whole vote polled in favor of such legislation. The Premier expressed the view that it was not necessary to submit the question of compensation to the electors, and stated that the matter of submitting the question of taxation would be considered by the Government in framing the bill.

The report was adopted.

Then followed a discussion, during which it was suggested that literature be issued in the English French and German languages.

Rev. Dr. Lucas was firm in the belief that if, in the final proclamation regarding the plebiscite, there was reference to direct taxation, the vote would go against the measure, and that it would wreck the Laurier Government.

Rev. Dr. Ross, Brantford, was of opinion that the Government would not add such a rider to the proclamation, and was not at all alarmed for the fate of the measure by means of this cry. What he feared most was that a clear majority of the votes of those registered might be required, as asked by the liquor men, before the measure became law. This might jeopardize the measure, as so many of the electorate might abstain from voting as to render a clear majority of those on the lists impossible. He believed that such a clear majority of the voters had never been obtained by any Government.

The Plebiscite Committee's report recommended that the Executive Committee urge upon Provincial Executives the perfecting of county and local organization at as early a date as possible. Also that the Executive Committee form a platform bureau in each province with a list of speakers who will be available for addressing meetings.

A short discussion took place on the last clause, occasioned by Rev. Mr. Stafford suggesting that the word "Canadian" be inserted before the word "speakers," so that none but Canadian speakers be employed.

Sir John Ross favored the suggestion, as by adopting such a course professional temperance speakers would be kept out.

A delegate from Quebec said that they could get good men, wherever they could get them.

One thought it would not be well to [illegible] the engaging of well-known temperance men from the United States.

The report was adopted without the [illegible] being made.

The committee on Resolutions expressed its appreciation of the removal of the bar from the House of Commons and regretted that the Senate failed to follow the good example.

The committee also appreciated the work of the temperance women of Canada for the amendment of the liquor traffic, and was of the opinion that properly qualified Women should not longer be denied the right of Parliamentary franchise.

Another recommendation was that a central fund be raised for the dissemination of literature before the Dominion plebiscite is taken.

The committee also recommended that the Executive Committee be instructed to communicate forthwith with the Minister of Militia and the Minister of the Interior to have the sale of liquor abolished in connection with military schools, camps, and officers' mess, canteens of the North-west Mounted Police, and a sobriety of troops for annual drill.

The committee were of opinion that prohibitionists should in every municipality take special steps to procure the registration of all voters favorable to prohibition and a careful revision of the lists on which the plebiscite vote will be taken.

The report was adopted with very little discussion.

The Committee on Parliamentary and Political Action then presented its report, which regretted that the Legislature of Ontario, in which province the plebiscite carried by 82,000 of a majority, failed to support several measures of progressive legislation urged at the last session of the Legislature.

The committee urged that prohibitionist electors who have party affiliations be present in the local caucuses of their party in order to secure such prohibitionist representation in the county nominating conventions as shall secure known and avowed prohibition candidates for Parliament.

Another recommendation was that no candidate, however satisfactory his pledges may be, should be endorsed or supported unless his past record has been such as to show that his support may be counted upon on this question.

After a short discussion on the two latter clauses the report was adopted.

The election of officers followed, resulting as follows:

COUNTY REGISTRAR.

All Else Failing Mr. Geo. C. Ward is Cured by Eight Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope (Special) July 5.—No case of recovery from serious illness that has ever occurred in this community has caused as much talk as that of our esteemed fellow townsman, Mr. Geo. C. Ward, Registrar of this county, residing here. For a long time it had been well known to his intimate friends that he was a sufferer from kidney disorder. But for the past year he grew worse and all efforts to regain his strength were without avail. He is now cured, as he says, by using eight boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and is as well as ever he was in his life.

Victoria the Great.

The dew was on the summer lawn,
The roses bloomed, the woods were green,
When forth there came, as fresh as dawn,
A maiden with majestic mien.

They girt a crown about her brow,
They placed a sceptre in her hand,
And loud rang out a nation's vow,
"God guard the lady of the land."

And now the cuckoo calls once more,
And once again June's roses blow,
And round her throne her people pour,
Recalling sixty years ago.

And all the goodly days between,
Glory and sorrow, love and pain,
The wifely mother, widowed Queen,
The loftiest, as the longest, reign.

She shared her subjects' bane and bliss,
Welcomed the wise, the base withstood,
And taught by her clear life it is
The greatest greatness to be good.

Yet, while for peace she wrought and prayed,
She bore the trident, wore the helm,
And, Mistress of the Main, she made
An Empire of her Island realm.

So, gathering now, from near, from far,
From rule whereon ne'er sets the day,
From Southern Cross and Northern Star,
Her people lift their hearts and pray:

Longer and longer may she reign,
And, through a summer night serene,
Whence day doth never wholly wane,
God spare and bless our Empress-Queen.

WELCOME HOME TO OUR SOLDIER BOYS.

REPRESENTATIVES TO QUEEN'S JUBILEE RETURN TO PETERBOROUGH.

They Are Met at the Train by Officers of the Local Volunteers and a Reception is Tendered Them at the Oriental Hotel, Afterwards —Some Notes of the Trip Abroad.

A big crowd of a decidedly military complexion assembled at the C.P.R. station yesterday afternoon, when it became noised abroad that the Canadian Volunteer contingent which had been in attendance at the Jubilee celebration in England was about to pass through, and that the four representatives from our own Third Prince of Wales Dragoons would disembark here.

As the train swept into the station three cheers were given for the Canadian contingent by the crowd and a large number of the Highlanders and Grenadiers, of Toronto, got off and mixed up with the local military men, who were present more particularly to welcome Sergt.-Major Price, of "C" Troop, Peterborough; Sergt.-Major Terrill, of "D" Troop, Prince Edward Co.; Sergt.-Major Syers, of "B" Troop, Millbrook, and Corp. Smith of "A" Troop, Colborne. As those representatives of the local cavalry said good bye to their comrades in arms with whom they had crossed the ocean, three cheers were given from in their honour.

Accompanied by the officers of the 57th, the artillery and the cavalry the four men marched to the Oriental Hotel, where an informal reception was held.

Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, commanding officer of the Third Prince of Wales Dragoons, was in the chair and called upon those present, in opening the toast list, to drink to the health of the Queen. He then remarked that the guests were the only representatives of the volunteer force of the Midland district who had been chosen to occupy positions on the Canadian contingent, which had been sent to England to do honour to the Queen on the occasion of the celebration of her Diamond Jubilee. He wished more had been able to go, but was glad to see the representatives back again looking so well. All present had read of the Jubilee Day proceedings in England, and therefore anything he could say on that subject would be superfluous. He was proud of the appearance his men had made, which he understood was surpassed by none. Such an event in their lives was one which had given them materials for reminescences which they could relate to future generations. Since departing for England Sergent Major Syers had been gazetted a Lieutenant, but had not learned of the fact until to-day.

Col. Rogers then proposed the health of the men who had represented us at the Jubilee—the Canadian Contingent.

After a very emphatic verse of "They are jolly good fellows," Sergt.-Major Price was called upon for a few words. He stated that Canada had in the entire volunteer corps present at the Jubilee, and the men had got along splendidly with each other during their stay in England.

THE BEST REPRESENTATIVES

Sergt.-Major Terrill spoke of the pleasant time he and his companions had enjoyed at the Queen's Jubilee. They were very much pleased with all they saw. It was simply grand—beyond description. There was no use in trying to tell about it as that would be impossible.

Sgt. Major Syers felt very proud of the reception which he and his comrades were getting in Peterborough. It was the heartiest since their return from England. He was pleased to meet his old friends again.

Corp. Smith was pleased to be home again, and spoke of the very pleasant time he had enjoyed abroad. One of the greatest sights he had witnessed was the review of 60,000 troops on July 1st at Aldershot. They had also seen the Queen, the Prince of Wales, and the royal family there.

The health of the associate corps of Peterborough—the infantry, artillery and cavalry, was then proposed and reponded to first by Major Edwards, who expressed his pleasure at being present to welcome the representatives of the local Canadian volunteers in England. Although there had been none of the local infantry sent from the district, yet the volunteers had been well represented by the cavalry. They had helped to gain the credit for Canada of which all were so proud. They had conducted themselves splendidly. He could conceive no greater pleasure than being a participant in that great scene of which they spoke. On he expressed the hearty feeling existing towards the gallant dragoons and their appreciation of the part they had taken in the great historic event.

Dr. Halliday, after hearing of the way the representatives had acquitted themselves, was doubly proud that they were Canadians.

Capt. Miller declared no soldier could look on the four representatives and not be proud of them. They were four splendid men. No position in life was equal to that of the soldier. Every Canadian was proud of the position the Canadian volunteers had taken in the front.

Capt. Mason expressed the pleasure it gave him to welcome the contingent home again. A pleasure none could expect to enjoy again. The cavalry should be proud of the men who had been sent to represent them in England.

Little knots of admirers then gathered around the four representative cavalry men to hear the narration of their experiences from their own lips.

They were very proud of the bronze medals which had been presented to them and panned on their left breasts by H. R. H. the Prince of Wales. They hung suspended from a ribbon and bore in high relief the Queen's head, on the other side were the words, also in high relief, "In commemoration of the 60th year of the reign of Queen Victoria, June 20th, 1897." Each member of the Colonial Volunteers present received and they could have sold them for almost any price had they so wished, as the only others to receive them were General Wolseley, Lord Roberts and General Herbert, the latter being in charge of the Colonial forces in London during their stay.

MAJOR F. W. HIBBARD, of the Queen's Own Regiment of Canadian Artillery, who accompanied the contingent as a member of the staff of the Premier, was asked by the Montreal Herald regarding the reception of the Canadians in England. He said, 'There is no mistake in saying that the Canadians were the favourite colonials. Our reception was exceedingly enthusiastic, and our treatment everything that could be desired."

The arrival of Her Majesty in front of St. Paul's was, according to Major Hibbard, the most striking and impressive feature of the whole celebration. The idea of power inspired by the splendidly mounted and caparisoned troops that headed the royal procession, the presence of the vast multitude of spectators, and the volume of sound, as led by the choir of two thousand voices, all joined in the Old Hundredth and the National Anthem was sublime.

Mr. Laurier's personality, his dignified, yet modest demeanor, his eloquence and statesmanship, have, Major Hibbard said, made him very popular with the English people. The Major had not time to follow up the conferences between the colonial secretary and the premiers, and could not hazard a guess at their results, but judging from the wealth of affection shown by the people of England to the colonies during the celebrations, he says that every one can rest assured that any changes that the future may bring to the empire will be towards bringing its component parts closer together.

Whilst in England the Colonials were given a chance to see almost everything being taken to Chelsea barracks, Aldershot and places of like interest to military men, also being shown some of the big arsenals and the Maxim guns, some of which shoot 500 rounds a minute.

The local men were greatly pleased over the fact that the corps to which they were attached marched second in the big parade, only being preceded by the Royal Canadian Dragoons.

At Aldershot they formed the special body guard to Her Majesty being drawn up around her carriage as the troops marched past in review.

Each man of the Colonials was called out by nome and presented by the Prince of Wales with a medal and His Highness made a good impression on all by his kindly affable manner.

On the day of the great Jubilee parade the Canadian Boys were in the saddle at 6.45 o'clock in the morning and did not dismount until 4 15 in the afternoon.

THE NAVAL REVIEW

was also grand the men say. They were provided with a launch and steamed up one line and down the other viewing all the ships. There were five rows of ships seven miles long, making in all 35 miles of battleships.

Great credit is due to the local representatives for the efforts which they made to do honour to their country. Their uniforms did not fit them well and at an outlay of $25 00 each they had them cut down to suit and purchased such new accoutrements as they needed. All honour to the boys. They are anxious to preserve the uniforms and accoutrements which they took with them to the Jubilee and doubtless arrangement will be made allowing them to do so.

Everything was free in the way of entertainment. Opera tickets and the like were showered on the men. They speak particularly of the way Canadians were received. On all hands they were accosted as "Our brothers from Canada," and nothing was too good for them. Their songs will never be forgotten and the London gamins sing nothing but now.

The short time the contingent spent in England was one of excitement tempered with hard work. No sooner was one parade over than another had to be prepared, which necessitated much accoutrement cleaning. The day of Jubilee was no picnic for the colonial troops. They had to parade early and to be on their legs some nine hours before they received any refreshment; this is what soldiers have to endure upon such occasions, but the contingent stood it well. The Canadians, in common with the rest of the colonial troops, were initiated into the meaning of Aldershot dust, which is a dust of its own peculiar kind. They had in addition to march and drill, instead of looking on, as at the naval review. They learned what a uniform spoiling place Aldershot is and probably ever will be, and yet by the next morning all ranks had to be spick and span for the inspection at Windsor by Her Majesty.

In short, it was a good time, but they could have put up with an extension of the trip, so as to have a little more holiday without quite so many parades as were necessary during their stay in London. But what will be, will be, and all ranks have returned, benefitted by their trip, and with their loyal feelings to their Queen and empire, if possible, stronger than ever.

One thing that struck our boys as odd was the way that the British soldiers looked upon those medals they got. They had the idea that they might be inclined to consider it a cheap honour, but exactly the reverse was the case. They were speaking to a chap in the Guards who had half a dozen war medals of his own, and he said he'd give a lot to have one of the Jubilee medals. He said that any chap could get a war medal nowadays. All they did was to stick him on a ship and send him somewhere, but it wasn't every day that a diamond jubilee occurred. An order was issued stating that the medal is a Queen's decoration, and as such it is to be worn on the left breast in precedence to all war medals.

FROM THE TIME THEY LANDED

until their departure, it was one succession of victories. Everywhere they went they were cheered, until the impression went abroad that the Diamond Jubilee was gotten up for the special benefit of Canadians. There has been very little play for our troops since they left Canada, most of their time having been spent in parading and in preparing for parades.

The greatest possible attention was shown the officers by the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connought, Lord Wolseley, Lord Roberts, and the others in high command.

The boys found it almost impossible to convince the people that they were not regulars. Flattering as this was to their military qualities, it caused them considerable inconvenience in gaining admission to the theatres, to which they were freely invited. The Australians, on the other hand, having a distinctive uniform, were recognized wherever seen.

They were somewhat disappointed also in not having had more time to visit London, but these are only minor matters and they declare that they never expect to have such a thoroughly enjoyable trip again.

The entire route of seven miles on Jubilee Day was lined on both sides with soldiers four deep and the crowds were under perfect control.

The din of bands playing and of cheering was so great that after a while it was with the greatest difficulty the orders could be distinguished, and it was not until long after they returned to their barracks that they regained their customary sense of hearing.

Upon the day they visited Portsmouth they were up at 3 a.m. They were met by the Mayor of the city, who read an address to them, and in other ways showed how deep was the enthusiasm their visit created.

The Canadian troops were never silent, they sang from daylight to dark, while on board the Koh-i-noor, the day of the naval review, they sang Canadian songs until they were called to attention upon the arrival of Prince of Wales.

The English newspapers say that they have immortalized "The Maple Leaf for Ever" and "The Green Grass Grew All 'Round" and other songs which they introduced.

On board the Scotsman a concert was given, in which the ingenuity of the boys was severely taxed to produce the most ridiculous costumes. It was a great success, however, and the first cabin passengers declare it was the funniest they ever saw.

One of the most pleasant and flattering features of the visit was the special complimentary performance given them by Sir Henry Irving. Upon this occasion they were in the capacity of guests, Sir Henry supplying refreshments ad lib. After the performance he addressed them, and it is said there was hardly a dry eye in the theatre before he concluded.

It was a great trip.

A RACER CURED OF "ROARING."

A St. Johns, New Brunswick, despatch has the following in regard to an unusual operation on a horse: Mr. E. LeRoy Willis is the proprietor of the Dufferin House, and also of "Special Blend," said to be the fastest horse in Canada. The animal had one defect, and that was it was a "roarer." He had the beast examined by the best surgeons, who thought the defect could be cured. On this he sent to Philadelphia and got the best veterinary surgeon there. The latter arrived, and as soon as it was known that he was going to operate on "Special Blend" not only veterinary surgeons, but also medical men thronged in from all quarters to witness it. The horse was put under the influence of chloroform, and then the operator opened the throat, laying bare the windpipe from the junction with the head almost to the shoulder. He located the excrescence which produced the roaring, cut open the windpipe, removed it, and then inserted in the orifice a steel plate for temporary use. The next day this was taken out and the windpipe sewed up, and at last reports the horse is progressing favorably, and it is claimed will suffer no loss of speed, besides being completely cured of the roaring. The whole business cost the owner five hundred dollars.

OBITUARY.

Demise of Michael O'Brien in Ashburnham on Tuesday Last.

The death occurred on Tuesday last at his residence on Concession street, Ashburnham, of Mr. Michael O'Brien, aged 81 years.

Michael O'Brien, son of Maurice and Catherine (O'Leary) O'Brien, was born in the County of Cork, Ireland, 1816. His father came to Canada in 1832 with his family of twelve children and settled in the Township of Douro, on lot 8, concession 3, where he lived till his death.

After Michael O'Brien had reached his adult years he spent some time visiting the principal cities of the United States. Returning home in 1839 he married Anne, daughter of Patrick O'Brien, of Otonabee. He then then settled on a portion of his father's farm. In 1862 he moved to the township of Chandos and located on the 12th concession, where he took up 300 acres of land with a view to settling his sons upon farms. He devoted himself very industriously to his farming duties and also took a great interest in both religious and educational matters, and was instrumental in erecting the only Roman Catholic church in the municipality. During the time he resided in the township of Douro he held the office of municipal treasurer for many years.

He took up his residence in Ashburnham about five years ago, and leaves a widow and seven children to mourn his death.

The funeral took place this morning to the Douro cemetery.

Demise of the Late David Browne, of Lindsay.

Lindsay, July 14.—By the death of David Browne, collector of her majesty's customs here, Lindsay loses one of her oldest and most estimable citizens, and one who, in the early days, took a deep interest in the town's welfare and was honoured by his fellow citizens with many evidences of their confidence. Deceased was born in the County Tyrone, Ireland, in 1828, and came to Canada with his brother John in 1842. They settled first in Port Hope, but soon after removed to Peterborough and purchased a farm in Otonabee. Tiring of agriculture, the deceased came to Lindsay in 1841 and opened out in the hardware and tinware business in a small store situated on Kent street west, and did a brisk trade, being soon compelled to seek larger premises. He was elected a member of the town council after incorporation in 1857, and later on occupied the responsible positions of reeve and mayor in succession, and was also a school trustee for many years. In every case the duties entrusted to him were well and faithfully performed He was appointed collector of customs in 1873. Mr. Browne leaves a wife and six daughters, the wife of Mr. J. T. Mann, deputy inspector of Ontario prisons, being one of the latter, and will be remembered as one of the ladies captured by Chief Big Bear during the Northwest rebellion. The other married daughters are Mrs. F. R. Weston, of Midland, and Mrs. J. M. Knowlson, of this town, while two unmarried daughters remained at home and of late years assisted deceased in performing the duties of the office. Mr. Brown was a member of the Church of England, and in politics was a Conservative of the old school. Up to a few years ago he was in rugged health, but of late heart trouble set in, and his death on Saturday evening was no doubt hastened by exhaustion produced by the heat of the preceding week. The funeral at 3.30 yesterday to Riverside cemetery was largely attended, many of the older citizens attending to pay the last token of respect to a valued friend.

SAFE BLOWERS AT WORK.

They Make a Visit to Campbellford and Operate.

The first attempt at safe breaking in Campbellford was made on Monday morning, the professional operators having tried their hand successfully on the safe in the dry goods store of Messrs. Jas. Waters & Bro., but they secured very little booty for their labour.

Entrance to the building was effected by forcing open the door of the tailor shop, which is built over the river. There they lighted a lamp and ransacked the place, and proceeded to the cellar and then up the steps leading to the store.

At the top of the cellar steps there is a door which was bolted. To overcome this obstruction, they used an auger and bored eleven holes through it, knocked out a piece about 5x7 inches, then drew the bolt, walked through into the store and commenced work at the safe. With a brace and bit they bored a hole just above the combination lock, filled the space inside with powder, attached a fuse and applied a match, and the door was blown open. The outer part was driven with such force against the wall of the building that it was bent and tore away a portion of the plaster, while the inner part containing the fireproof composition, was wrenched from the bolts which fastened the two parts together, and fell upon the floor. The tools the burglars used were a hammer, an auger, a chisel, and a brace and bit, all of which were found lying on the floor near the safe. The hammer was stolen from Mr. R. Linton's blacksmith shop. The other tools were taken from Doxsee's planing mill.

Fortunately for the firm at this particular time, there was only one dollar in money in the safe, and this the burglars secured. They took out all the papers and left them strewn about the floor. The only precaution they took, apparently, to deaden the sound of the explosion was in throwing over the safe a rubber coat, which was found on the floor with a hole burned in it.

It was sometime after three o'clock when the work was done, as Constable Jas. E. Robinson was on the sidewalk at the time, and as soon as he heard the explosion he shook the front doors of the store and then looked around the corner to see if any person was moving about the premises. No one of a suspicious character was seen on the streets during Sunday, and it seems that the burglary might have been done by tramps, as four of them took up their quarters in a grove west of the village on Sunday.

Several persons heard the noise, but no one suspected what was going on.

The door of the safe is a total wreck.

North Star Round Trips.

The 5 cent round trips on the Little Lake last night by the steamer North Star were a grand success. They will be continued each evening, leaving wharf at 8 o'clock, returning to the wharf every 20 minutes. Arrangements have been made so that parties taking the round trip on the street cars may drop off at the wharf and take the boat and then resume their trip on the cars without extra expense.

IN MEMORY OF DAVID F. THOMPSON, WHO DIED JULY 1ST, 1897.

Dear David, thou hast left us all,
Thy life on earth is o'er,
But in heaven above we hope to meet,
Where partings are no more.

A mother's joy, a father's pride—
A loving brother dear,
Has bid farewell to earthly friends,
And gone away from here.

At the early age of twenty-five,
Just in his youth and bloom,
God sent His speedy messenger,
And called dear David home.

He arose on Monday morning,
As usual blithe and gay,
No shadow of his coming doom
Across his spirits lay.

And then he called his brother dear
And clasped him to his breast
"Oh, brother, dear, don't weep for me,
I soon shall be at rest."

In haste God's sudden call was sent,
To bear him to the skies,
And living friends with grief are sad,
But God can dry our eyes.

At home his steps no more they'll hear,
Which was a welcome sound,
No more that loving voice will cheer,
It's silent neath the ground.

On earth no more that face we'll see,
On earth no more we'll meet,
An aching void there'll ever be
Till we in Heaven meet.

Then parents, sisters, brothers, friends,
Let us for death prepare,
That when our Saviour calls us home
We'll meet our loved ones there.

Alone through life we now must wander,
Thy voice no more to hear;
Alas! our home is sad and lonely—
No brother's form now lingers here.

We would not call him back again,
For he is better far—
From sin and sorrow he is safe
Within the gates ajar

His greatest trials are sent through love,
With meek submission say,
Not ours, O Lord, Thy will be done,
Our brother is taken away.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.09; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 35 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

OUR BABY.

Our beautiful baby!
Our bright eyed boy!
His mother's best treasure;
His father's best joy
His eyes were the brownest;
His cheeks were the reddest;
His teeth were the whitest e'er seen;
There ne'er was another
So loved by his mother
And so spoiled by a father, I ween.

The baby soon left us,
The boy took his place;
Of baby's sweet prattle
Was left not a trace,
His laugh was the loudest,
His whistle the shrillest,
His feet were the fleetest e'er seen;
There ne'er was another
So loved by a mother
And so spoiled by a teacher, I ween.

The youth soon appeared,
And the boy stepped aside,
And tried with a mustache
The sweet mouth to hide,
His boots were the blackest,
His hands were the whitest,
His hair was the smoothest e'er seen;
There ne'er was another
So loved by a mother
And so spoiled by the ladies, I ween.

But again the scene changes;
The youth could not hide;
Instead we've the man,
With his wife by his side,
His step is the firmest,
His brain is the clearest,
His heart is the truest e'er seen;
There ne'er was another
So loved by a mother
And so spoiled by a sweet wife, I ween.

– KATE C. NELSON.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from overexertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

All Around the Farm.

In a sandy soil deep planting is best for potatoes.

If the hay is dusty, dampen it for feeding purposes.

Pull the collars away from the horses' shoulders while they are resting.

Ashes may be considered as a special fertilizer for potatoes, improving the yield and quality.

Generally with flower seed, large or coarse seed should be planted much deeper than fine seed.

The most successful work of the farm is done according to the season, rather than by any other set rule.

It will be an exceptional case when some soiling crop cannot be used to a good advantage during the summer.

When the cabbage, tomatoes, or sweet potato plants have grown long and spindling set them deeper into the soil; down to the first leaf is usually a good plan.

If the full number of stock is kept that the pastures will carry during the best part of the growing season, some soiling crop must be grown to help out when the pastures fail.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

Here is the Way.

To cure all heart and nerve troubles and weak, weary, tired feeling, sleeplessness, nervousness, etc., do as Mr. Thos. Glover, Chatham, Ont., did. Says Mrs. Glover: "One box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured me. I was so bad that I feared paralysis, but am now well and strong, thanks to these wonderful pills."

To destroy worms and expel them from children and adults use Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

JACK M'LEAN'S ESCAPE.

The Burglar Had Two Crowbars, No Less—Did He Do the Job at Toronto University?

Toronto, July 14.

The mere mention of the name of Jack McLean at Police Headquarters is now sufficient to call forth a remarkable change from many of the officials and those who are directly connected with the clever burglar's unpopular absence inwardly curse the energy which prompted Detective Davis to go outside the city limits at 2 o'clock in the morning for a desperate criminal who was wanted elsewhere, and bringing him to Toronto to disturb and upset the peaceful serenity and somnolence of their happy little circle of mediocrity by having sufficient gumption to break away from custody, when a couple of seven-foot iron crowbars had been left just as near as possible to where he wanted them.

There is going to be a meeting of the Police Commissioners some day and it will then be decided who is to blame for having left the crowbars so handy to from McLean's cell, that it would be impossible for him to get them without an accomplice. When the Chief of Police investigated the matter yesterday he had all the men immediately concerned, excepting McLean on the carpet, but it is still a mystery how McLean reached out 25 feet and gained possession of the weapon with which he effected his escape.

As already stated McLean got through the station when the constable on duty was employed in another room, the door leading to the cells having been left open for ventilation, which is certainly much needed. After getting clear of the station the fugitive was seen by employes of the Consumers' Gas Company sneaking around the lane at the rear of the stables. He peeped cautiously through the stable door and then walked quickly down the lane at the west side of the station and got clear away. The bar he had wrenched off in his cell was the same one that Carlisle, the pickpocket, beat and got through a couple of years ago. Carlisle was caught when trying to get away.

Since McLean left the Junction Monday afternoon no trace of him has been discovered, although a description of him has been sent all over the Province. For some reason no photograph was taken when the police had him here. The officers, generally, are dubious as to the possibility of his recapture. It is thought that he may have been connected with the unsolved University robbery, and also with a recent bank robbery at Oakville.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Toronto, July 14.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

There was a light run of live stock at the market yesterday. Only 51 carloads offered for sale, consequently the market was firm and nearly everything was sold in good time. The class of cattle generally speking was not good, and too many poor of the butchers' class were offered. The offerings for export also were light and many more first-class cattle could have found a market had they arrived. The present tendency of the market is towards better prices for first-class cattle. The general price for export was $4 to $4.50 and for some picked ones $4.60 was paid. Bulls were not very plentiful, and from $3.25 to $3.75 was paid for heavy ones and $3 for light. Butchers' cattle were somewhat higher for the best grades, $3.75 to $4 being paid for choice cattle.

Stockers were not quite so high, and sold at $2.60 to $2.75. Feeders were worth $3.25 and several loads were bought by H. Peterson of St. Jacob's and A. Badger of Thornbury.

Milk cows were not plentiful, especially good ones, and there were only about a dozen of all kinds offered. Prices ranged all the way from $20 for inferior to $40 for superior ones.

Calves are lower in price and sold at $2 to $5 each.

The demand for sheep has fallen off somewhat and prices are much lower. They sold at $3 to $3.25 and the great bulk went at the former price, only a few picked lots bringing the latter price.

Lambs, of which there were about 400 in, are cheaper and sold at $2 to $3.25 each.

The hog market was firm to-day and prices have advanced to $5.75 for the best quality. About 900 of all grades were offered and sold before 12 o'clock noon.

The shipments per C.P.R. for yesterday were as follows: J. & J. W. Dunn 3 cars, R. Ironsides 1 car, H. A. Mullins 2 cars, W. Levack 5 cars, S. Halligan 4 cars, M. Vincent 2 cars, W. Harris 2 double-deckers of hogs and A. W. Maybee 1 car to St. John, N.B., and per G.T.R. James Eakins 4 cars, Brown & Snell 4 cars and 1 double-decker of sheep, all for export, and W. Levack, 3 cars for Montreal, H. Peterson 2 cars and A. Badger 2 cars.

When a man gets to the point where he has to immerse dead-ly extracts of opium under the skin in order to get rest and sleep, the grave is not far distant. The time to take care of health is before it is utterly and irretrievably gone. The man who works on and on, utterly heedless of health and too busy to occasionally take a little necessary medicine, is committing suicide as surely as if he turned a pistol on his heart. Such a man is by little degrees. First a little indigestion and a little neglect. Then loss of appetite. The bowels get clogged and the blood receives poisons instead of healthy nutriment. Old, inert tissues in flesh, muscle, nerve and brain are not replaced by new. The whole body gets stale. The very sleeping-room of a man in this condition is filled in the morning with unwholesome odors as if it had been occupied by a decomposing corpse. It has been occupied by a man half dead. The poisoned brain refuses to sleep and hates to work. Then comes the resort to the hypodermic injection of morphine and—speedy death.

All this may be prevented by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, makes assimilation perfect, fills the blood with the vital elements that make new tissue, builds healthy flesh, firm muscles, strong nerves and active brain cells. It drives out impurities and disease. Thousands of men in all walks of life have testified to its wonderful merits.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you a substitute for this world-famed medicine. You know what you want. It's his business to meet that want. When he urges some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare. Shun all such dishonest dealers.

The man or woman who is regular as clockwork is seldom troubled with disease or mental or bodily lassitude. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a safe, sure, speedy and permanent cure for constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. You will have reason to regret it if you let a dishonest druggists induce you to take a substitute.

MY MOTHER-IN-LAW.

It was hard to realize, as I came home desolate and forlorn the day of my father's funeral, that I was alone in the world; that no longer my first impulse on entering the house must be to fly with quick steps to the library to see the handsome head raised from his work of writing with some word of love on his lips, when now only an empty chair and soundless space hereafter would prove my greeting. His illness has been so short, so sudden, that it almost seemed as though I should awaken from the frightful nightmare of the past few weeks and find it all a dream, vivid but unreal. Only a fortnight before he had been stricken down, and I had sent in hot haste for my old practitioner, to find him absent and a stranger in his place. At first I felt regret, but when I saw Dr. Phillips and witnessed his earnest, skillful care, that feeling gave way to congratulation and the assurance that if human skill could avail, he would be saved. It was he who told me finally there was no longer hope; he whom I turned upon with quick fury that he should dare assert that my father's life was in absolute danger, when in all the wide world we two were alone together; he who stood beside him at the last, then, with firm, gentle hand, drew me from the chamber of death and himself prepared the sleeping draught which sent restful sleep to quite my strained nerves. In my new sadness, my utter despair, he came and went as of old, until it seemed as though a brother's protection had been offered me, and I began to wait and watch for the hour when I should see him, to feel a keen disappointment if it passed without him, until one evening, sitting alone by the low, smoldering fire in the first day of spring, I was roused by his familiar step.

"Helen," he said, drawing a chair close beside me, "Dr. Edwards, you know, has returned, and my own patients in Philadelphia are demanding my presence among them. I have stayed already longer than I intended."

"And you now are going?" I questioned, while a black cloud swept before my eyes.

"Yes," he answered, "but if you will let me, I am coming back. I did not mean to tell you of my love just yet. I can hardly hope that in all the drear desolation which has overspread your life, love had found time to plant a single germ, but with me it has been different. I have loved you from the first moment I saw you, and my fondest ambition is to see you my wife. Do not answer me now; only when the birds sing and the flowers bloom try to think they breathe a message from me, and when I return in the fall, remember my home will have been made ready for you, and if you can come to my arms, they will open, oh, so gladly! to receive you."

So he left me, and I let him go with no answer, for I did not know my own heart. That it was love beating at its portals for admission—love which had made his coming so welcome, his going so sad, I could not realize until he had gone; and then came only the long, brotherly letters, so full of earnest solicitude for my comfort, so unselfish in the careful guard ever shown in his own feeling for me, till the time drew nigh when he was to come again. Then doubt, uncertainty, all fled, and I knew my heart had passed from out of my keeping. So I went to meet him, standing in the open door of my house as he came up the pathway, and in answer to his question as for a moment he held me off while he looked straight into my eyes: "Helen, is this my wife?" I could only falter: "Yours forevermore."

The succeeding week flew swiftly by. He suddenly grew impatient of delay, and declared he could not go back to his work until I went with him. The thought of my loneliness without him urged me to consent, and so the days were filled with busy preparation, while in the evenings I sat by his side, content and blissful, while he told me of his home, of his widowed mother who shared it, and of the new, sweet daughter he was to bring her. But when all was over, when I had stood in my wedding robes before the gray haired minister, and knelt to receive for the last time his blessing, when my husband's first rapturous kiss had been pressed upon my lips, fervent congratulations offered by the few friends present at our quiet wedding, my wedding dress exchanged for traveling garb, the long journey at last over, it was with a feeling of great relief that the carriage in the dusk of the evening drew up before a handsome house, and my husband welcomed me to my home. But where was his mother? All day visions had danced before my eyes of two loving arms waiting to enfold me, of a sweet, motherly face bending over me to imprint the kiss of greeting on my cheek, of the whispered words: "Welcome, my daughter," sounding in my ears, but no, the door was thrown wide open by a servant in livery, but the handsome hall in its long vista presented to sight no other occupants, and, to my amazement, I was hurried past the elegant drawing-room, where I caught sight of a cheerful fire burning on hearth, and upstairs into my own luxuriously furnished apartments.

"And how does my bird like her nest?" questioned my husband, bending over me with a face as I sank exhausted into

"So much, Hugh, that she feels as though she must stay here forever. May I not have tea here to-night?"

"Oh, darling, mother would be so disappointed not to see you! Come, change your dress and look your prettiest, that I may present you to her."

Change my dress! Even to-night, in the quiet home circle, must I remove my dust-stained garb and go through the exertion of a fresh toilet ere my husband welcome? But I could not refuse, and when,

My wife, mother," Hugh said, while I felt a cold hand take mine in a passionless grasp. A kiss as if a fallen snowflake had rested on my brow, and Mrs. Phillips led back with graceful ease into the chair from which she had risen.

It was some six weeks before her birthday that I once heard her express a wish that she had a picture of her boy for so she ever called Hugh), and instantly a resolution was formed in my brain. I had always had a talent for painting. Before my father's death it had been my delight and his pride, and I determined upon carrying a miniature of Hugh I possessed to an artist I knew well and ask his assistance in transferring the likeness and painting a portrait. Perhaps I thought as my work it might soften her heart toward me. So the next morning I started out, and, to my inexpressible delight, I found my desire feasible, and received the artist's permission to use his studio for four hours each day—the hours I knew Hugh would be away from home. It was not long ere I saw that Mrs. Phillips watched my coming and going with suspicious eyes, but I, picturing her shamed look of surprise when she found my mission, went silently on my way until the picture was almost completed, and I had received the artist's congratulation upon my success, when, entering the house flushed and happy, I overheard her voice in the library addressing my husband:

"Four hours every day, Hugh, she is absent. What can be her purpose? I told you when you brought a young, giddy thing into this house you would regret it. It is your duty to see where she goes and what she does."

But I could hear no more, as, with flashing eyes and head erect, I entered the room.

"Since I entered this house six months ago, a happy bride, a joyous girl, I have met, madam, at your hands, with insults and scorn, which I have suffered in silence. As my reward you now try to take from me the last thing left me—my husband's confidence. What my mission has been you shall know to-morrow. Accept it as my gift—the gift of an injured woman to a cruel injustice. Hugh," (turning to my husband) "the same house no longer can hold us two. Choose between us!" and I turned and left the room.

My husband, following, strove to calm me, but in vain.

"I will not live with your mother," I said. "If you must have her share your home I will go."

"Darling, I cannot ask her to leave it when old age is creeping upon her. She does not know you yet. Wait! Have patience yet a little longer, and you will find your way into her heart, and once there, you will know how really warm it is, which she conceals beneath a cold exterior."

"He has chosen between us. He will not give her up." With this thought hugged to my heart for comfort, I saw him leave me next morning with an anxious frown upon his brow, and I, quickly gathering together a few things, called a carriage and was driven rapidly to the depot from which I had determined to take the first outgoing train. My plans were all formed. I would go to the house of my old nurse, who would care for me in my coming trouble, and if I died there would be none to regret me, since even Hugh had given me up.

"My babe, my bonny child!" Oh, how the words of motherly greeting fell on my heart as she clasped me in her arms when I alighted at her door, and I told her in broken words as much of my story as I thought necessary. But as the weeks grew into months, and I spent long, busy hours in fashioning the tiny garments the little stranger coming was to fill, softer memories began to creep into my heart, and a dim wonder as to whether I had let my pride gain too much ascendancy, and if Hugh really had given up his mother for my sake, could I still have loved him so well? So, drop by drop, the gentle dew of repentance fell on my heart, and tear after tear upon my work, until there came a day when all was done—a day when a child's cry broke for an instant upon my ear as if a sound from Heaven had reached me, and then darkness closed round, and I knew no more.

In the anxious time which followed I was aware of some one near me with Hugh's eyes, some one with Hugh's voice, and I would try to catch and hold it stay, but in vain, until one morning the mists cleared up, and I opened my eyes to see his dear face bending over me, but he sealed my lips with kisses, as he murmured:

"Not a word, my darling! We cannot expect a woman's wisdom from a child, but our little mother must grow wise now for her baby's sake."

Then, with a happy, dreaming smile, I fell asleep again, his hand clasped close in mine. When I was stronger he told me how he never had lost sight of me, but thought it best to let my own better self work out the end, and when he whispered: "There is some one, Helen, waiting to see you—some one who said no one could take care of baby as she could. May she come in?"

I gave glad assent; and when, a few moments later, a sweet, motherly face bent over mine a face from which all the hard lines seemed forever fled, as her arms clasped close a sleeping infant, and her gentle voice whispered: "My daughter," in my ear, I could only clasp my arms around them both and answer: "Mother!"

Horses Holding Their Own.

An observing gentleman from the west says he believes the market for horses is rapidly improving. He says people got the idea that electricity and the bicycle were going to render the demand for horses less than they have. In some parts of the west horses are now becoming scarce because they have been disposed off at an astonishing rate. Electricity has about run its length as a displacer of horses, and the bicycle is covering its own field pretty thoroughly. What the horseless wagon will do in the future is a problem, but until highways are materially improved, it cannot come into general use.

Prospects Are Promising.

The opinion seems to be general among sheepmen that prospects are better this year than they have been any time since 1892. A better demand for both wool and mutton has been anticipated, but, of course, much depends on the general improvement of the times. There is little reason to doubt but that the sheep on an average will show better quality, for not only have feeders been careful in the selection of their stock sheep, but they all realize the importance of feeding to a general finish, and the cheapness of feed will give them an opportunity of doing this.

FIRE IN DUMMER.

Mr. Thos. J. Moore's Barns Struck by Lightning and Burned.

On Sunday afternoon, Mr. T. J. Moore, of concession 4, Dummer, was lying on his verandah. A thunderstorm came up and he was startled by a terrific peal. His wife noticed a moment later a bright glare and it was discovered that the barns 150 feet distant were ablaze. So rapidly did they burn that nothing could be got out of any account. There were no new crops in the barn except about twenty bushels of grain, a load of chop in the wagon, which had been drawn into the barn on Saturday evening, also mower, reaper and considerable farm implements. There were ten pigs stabled in a lean-to and two of these were rescued, but the others and the contents mentioned, as well as the building, were destroyed in a very short time. The rain came down in torrents. Loss between $700 and $800, partially covered by insurance of $250.

THE SEAL QUESTION.

Mr. Sherman's Letter Arouses Resentment In England.

THE RIFLE SHOOTING AT BISLEY

Canadians Made Possibles and Won Substantial Prizes—The Reply of Turkey to the Powers is Evasive and Unsatisfactory — British Trade Improving—Cable News.

London, July 15.—While among the general public here the tone of Secretary Sherman's letter to Ambassador Hay regarding the Behring Sea seal regulations is greatly resented, the correspondent of the Associated Press is in a position to say whatever criticism the British Government may have to make on the phraseology of the communication, the letter has not in any way affected unfavorably the negotiations which Col. Hay has been conducting. A conference will be held in Washington during the autumn, at which the United States, Great Britain, Russia and Japan will be represented.

Since the presentation of Secretary Sherman's note to Lord Salisbury, Ambassador Hay has had repeated conferences with His Lordship, all of which have been of the most friendly character. It may also be taken for granted that Canada does not oppose this decision. Sir Louis Davies, the Canadian Minister of Marine, in an interview with the correspondent of the Associated Press to-day, said: "We regard the latest proposals of the United States as entirely reasonable. There is the friendliest feeling with regard to the negotiations between the two Governments, and, in view of this, the two peoples should not be resentful."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Mr. Sherman's tone is not what it might be, but the nastiest feature of the affair is the publication of the despatch at all."

The Westminster Gazette refers to Mr. Sherman's "somewhat ugly despatch," and says: "Seals, like silver, get into American party politics. It is an ugly symptom that seals should be used to provide the new American Government with a means for a demonstration against England. The McKinley Government will inevitably disappoint the American jingoes in the matter of silver, and thinks it necessary to clear itself of pro-British suspicions by striking a too heroic attitude in the matter of seals."

The St. James Gazette says: "The publication is a further demonstration of trans-Atlantic methods of diplomacy which may one day involve consequences much more serious. The tail-twisters think that a despatch couched in terms of studied discourtesy and menace toward this country is a small matter. We are used to that. The real gist of the situation is the fact that the United States considers that kind of language safe. But it is not safe, and after some affront, more or less flagrant, we may some day find that we cannot yield to them, and then might arise a situation of the gravest peril. There are great nations involved in the present dispute. It affects Canada, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be able to tell Lord Salisbury of the deplorable effect produced on public opinion in Canada by what everyone in America believes to be our recent surrender to the United States."

Evening Papers are Mad.

London, July 15.—The evening newspapers gnash their teeth over the sharp reply of Secretary Sherman to Lord Salisbury in the seal controversy. The half-penny journals issue sensational placards, bearing such lines as "Twisting the Lion's Tail Again" and "America Shrieks at England." The more serious papers deal with the situation editorially. The Globe, in a slashing article, headed: "Yankee Insolence," says: "The memories of Cleveland's impertinent message are all revived by the extraordinary and insulting despatch which Mr. Sherman has permitted to find its way into the papers. Waiving the merits of the question, which, fortunately, is one for the naturalists, the astonishing tone of Mr. Sherman is in defiance, not only of the usages of diplomacy, but of the maxims of ordinary civility. Englishmen will be glad to see that Lord Salisbury has, so far as a portion of the seal fisheries is concerned, treated the message as though it had never been sent. If he were to go a step further and direct Sir Julian Pauncefote to intimate to Mr. McKinley that Her Majesty's Government declines to receive despatches couched in such language, and could only reply to the next by handing Col. Hay his passports, the action would be endorsed by the complete approval of the nation."

Trade is Improving.

London, July 15.—At the meeting of the London Joint Stock Bank to-day the chairman, referring to the gold movement, said that Japan had lately imported £5,000,000 in order to make the gold standard effective, while America had retained most of the bullion shipped during the last half of 1896. The outlook of trade generally was now more promising, he continued; there were evidences of a gradual improvement of trade in the United States. If the currency question could be settled and the engineer dispute arranged, both countries, the United States and England, might speedily enjoy better times.

GOOD SCORES AT BISLEY.

The Canadians Have Done Wonderfully Well in the Competitions.

(Telegram Special.)

Bisley Camp, July 15.—Major Perley, who is ill with bronchitis, is still very poorly.

Lieut. Davidson will shoot off his tie of 92 in the first stage of the Imperial prize to-morrow. The final stage, at 800 yards, will be fired on Saturday.

This morning several of the Canadian team entered for the ordinary competitions, one of which was the service rifle Association Cup, open only to life members of the National Rifle Association, who have paid their subscriptions for the current year; cup, price £25, and £250; N. R. A. prize; distance, 200 and 600 yards (aggregate); number of shots, seven at each distance; first prize, the cup or £25; one of £15, one of £10, seven of £5, twenty of £3 and sixty-five of £2.

At the first range of 200 yards Sergt. R. Corrigan of the 59th Battalion scored a possible 35. Corporal Windatt of the 10th Royal Grenadiers had six consecutive bullseyes to his credit. His seventh shot was, he believed, properly sighted, but it went high, striking the target to the upper right of the centre. Saff-Sergt. Marks made 32, his score being four bullseyes and three inners.

At the second range of 600 yards Corrigan scored 33 points, his fourth and seventh shots being inners. Marks improved in his marksmanship at the 600 yards range and rolled up 34 points, his last shot missing the bullseye.

In the Wilmot prizes to-day, Lieut. King, of the 45th Battalion, scored 33 points, and Color-Sergt. Skedden got 32 points to his credit, missing the bullseye by a narrow margin with his fifth shot.

Sergt. Drysdale went wide of the bullseye with his initial shot, but scored full upon the next six. Lieut. Ross made a possible 35.

Another competition in which the Canadians tried their luck was the L. & S. W. Railway match, Service rifle "Tyros" competition. Open to all S. R. Tyros, £25 10s given by the London & Southwestern Railway Company, and £25 10s added by the N. R. A. Distances 200 and 500 yards (aggregate); number of shots, seven at each distance; position, 200 yards kneeling, 500 yards prone. One prize of £10, one of £9, one of £8, one of £7, one of £6, one of £5, one of £4, one of £3, ten of £2, 33 of £1.

Lieut. Carter put together 33. His first shot was an outer, but he afterwards made six consecutive bullseyes. At 600 yards in the Imperial prize contest Carter had the same hard luck with his first shot, lodging it in the outer circle.

In the Pixley competitions Color-Sergt. Skedden made 33 points, missing the mark with his second shot.

At 500 yards in the L. & S. W. Railway prize, Corp. Kerr scored a possible 35.

At 200 yards in the S. R. Association Cup competition Lieut. Ross landed on the bullseye every time. At 600 yards, in the same match, Lieut. Ross almost repeated that achievement, falling but one short of a possible, his third shot being an inner. For the Pixley prizes Lieut. Ross only managed to put on five bullseyes, the other shots going a bit wide.

The weather is clear and fine.

The following have been chosen by Major Mason to represent Canada in the contest for the Kolapore Cup, which will be fired to-morrow: Sergt. H. C. Blair, 78th Batt.; Capt. W. D. Davidson, 8th R. Rifles; Sergt. J. Drysdale, P. W. Rifles; Lieut. W. C. King, 45th Batt.; Trooper A. Langstroth, 8th Hussars; Sergt. J. Broadhurst, Royal Scots; Lieut. W. L. Ross, 13th Batt.; Copr. C. A. Windatt, R.G. Major Mason is confident that the Canadians will repeat their victory of last year for the Kolapore Cup.

Sergt. Corrigan gave a remarkable exhibition of splendid marksmanship at the 500 yards range in the L. & S. W. Railway prize. He scored a possible 35, every shot striking fairly in the centre of the bullseye.

King and Ross won £2 each in the L. & S. W. Railway competition.

Pte. Swaine's share of the prize money in the Secretary of State for War contest amounted to £15.

London, July 15.—(By Associated Press.)—Swaine, the Canadian, who tied with Wyatt for first prize in the Secretary of War's competition yesterday, won 15 pounds sterling. Windatt who was fourth, won £5; Ross, 19th, £2, and King, 20th, £2.

The Canadians have chosen as the team to represent them in the McKinnon Cup competition: Ross, Davidson, Marks, Skedden, Drysdale, Kerr, Windatt, Broadhurst, Carson and Swaine, Capt. Davidson commanding.

In the Thorburn match, at 800 yards, 10 shots, Lieut. Carter scored 48 out of a possible 50 points. His first two shots counted full, but on his third attempt the shot went high for an outer. His next seven shots marked the bullseye.

Capt. Davidson made 34 in the Wilmot, and Cooper put a possible to his credit. In the S. R. Association Cup competition, at 600 yards, Cooper made 33.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS

Descended on Toronto and Captured the City.

THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS CAME

And Took Possession of the Armouries, Several of the Leading Churches, the Hotels and the Boarding Houses No Resistance Offered and No Bloodshed.

Toronto, July 16.

The inaugural meeting of the Epworth League at Massey Hall yesterday was a brilliant success. The delegates were highly elated with their reception. The speakers of the day acquitted themselves nobly. The enthusiasm inspired by their oratory was spontaneous, earnest and widespread. The effect of the inaugural meeting was to put the delegates in good trim for the work of the convention. It was evident from the proceedings at Massey Hall that the Epworth League and such like organizations wield no little influence even upon the political questions of the day. A faking reference made by one of the speakers to the proposed arbitration treaty between Great Britain and the United States brought the delegates to their feet, and showed in a most dramatic way that if the Methodist Church of the two countries had the settling of the question it would not be long before the proposed arbitration became an actuality. As it is the Epworth League and its sister religious organizations are bound to have a beneficial influence in the maintenance of peace and good will between the two great families of the British race.

The welcome meeting in Massey Hall was attended by between 5000 and 6000 delegates, and was successful in every respect. Only delegates were admitted up to 2.15 o'clock, and they so completely filled the big hall that when the general public rushed in by hundreds they had to be content with back seats in the top gallery and standing room.

The enthusiasm of the delegates broke out before the proceedings opened. A number of good old Methodist hymns were sung in a most hearty and spirited manner. Then came a flag incident. A party of enthusiasts marched into and across the top gallery, carrying the British and American flags. Immediately the huge assemblage rose, waved thousands of handkerchiefs and sang "Marching Through Georgia," which was followed by "God Save the Queen." The flags were hung, side by side, from a top box, and there they rested, forming a significant emblem of the international and peaceful character of the convention. More hymn singing followed and American patriotism and enthusiasm again broke out in the singing of "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

After these interesting and inspiring preliminaries, James L. Hughes took the chair and announced that Prof. Excell of Chicago would conduct the musical portion of the proceedings. By this time the hall was filled to overflowing. Rev. Chancellor Burwash of Victoria University led in prayer and then the chairman introduced Premier Hardy, who was enthusiastically received.

The Premier was in capital form and humor and extended a hearty welcome on behalf of the province. In theatrical language, he made a hit. He expressed his amazement at the rapid growth of the League and referred to the great good that was being accomplished by these modern church societies. It was an Englishman who said that much could be made of a Scotchman if he was caught young. [Laughter.] The Epworth League was evidently acting on this principle. The dignified little Premier proceeded to bestow every kind of compliment upon the visitors. He told them that they were the pick and flower, the youth and beauty, of a great and powerful church in a great country. Did they not speak the same language, sing the same hymns, breathe the same prayers, read the same Bible; in fact, were they not of the same stock as the people of Canada? [Applause.] A good word for Canada was then in order and the Premier spoke it. Ontario, he said, was as fertile as any of the most favored states of the Union. It compared with Ohio in agriculture, with California in mines and with any state in education and general happiness.

The Premier concluded by scattering more compliments and again welcoming the strangers to Toronto and to Ontario.

The singing of "God Save the Queen" and "My Country 'Tis of Thee" followed, and then Rev. Dr. Berry of Chicago read the following message to the convention from the President of the United States:

"Executive Mansion, Washington, D.C.

"I rejoice at the prosperity of your organization, and wish it a most successful re-union. Wm. McKinley."

The following reply was sent immediately:

"To President McKinley, Washington:

"Thanks and greeting from 30,000 Epworth League members now in convention assembled. We pray heaven's richest blessings on the President of the United States in the administration of his great office."

Three ringing cheers for the Queen and the President of the United States followed the reading of this reply.

Rev. Dr. Carman welcomed the delegates on behalf of Canadian Methodism. He said the invaders had taken possession of Toronto's Armoury and arsenal, but they were welcome a thousand times over. Let them go on and take possession of the barracks and umbrella holders and make themselves right at home. Dr. Carman's address of welcome was a long one and was fully up to his usual standard of literary excellence. All his references to Methodism,

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It may be regarded that Cape Colony has somewhat taken the wind out of Canada's sails by the offer of a warship to the Empire, but the preferential trade concession by Canada to Great Britain means more than many warships.

The newspapers belonging to the Conservative party are talking a great deal of moonshine about Liberal dissensions, but, with the two leading organs of the party, the World and Mail and Empire flying at each other's throats and exchanging billingsgate—not to speak of the leaders being at sixes and sevens in perpetuation of the nest of traitors episode, it would seem that there was something like a rift in the Conservate lute.

The stock argument of the Ontario Opposition in support of their claims to be intrusted with the reigns of Government, is that "it is time for a change." Meaning, as are told, that the Mowat Government was so long in power that it had become effete and corrupt. Doubly wrong. The Mowat Government is not in power now, with the Hardy Government is only about a year old, and has all the vigour of youth, and the example of a record of the Mowat Government for 24 years to live up to, and the start that has been made, shows that the new Government will equal. If not break, the record. Instead of a "change" give Hardy a chance; and we have every faith that the people of Ontario will do so.

It is natural for Liberals to take a roseate view of the splendid stroke of statesmanship involved in the one act of giving evidence of practical loyalty to Great Britain by the offer of preferential trade, but it's praise, indeed, when staunch opponents of Mr. Laurier give him credit, as the Orange Sentinel, conducted by Mr. E. F. Clarke, M.P., a prominent member of the Opposition does in the following paragraph:—

"It would be childish folly to attempt to minimise the splendid effect which the bare announcement by Canada of a desire for preferential trade with Great Britain has had on public feeling in the Old Land. Every British newspaper is full of the idea, public men are constantly talking of it, in business circles it is hailed with delight, and patriotic statesmen on both sides of the Imperial Parliament welcome it."

Mr. Whitney will get what he has been looking for in one riding at least. There will be a "change" in North Perth, whether or not it's "time for a change." The Woodstock Sentinel-Review has the following to say on the subject: "The nomination of Hon. Thomas Ballantyne as the Liberal candidate for the Legislature in North Perth, settles the fate of one of Mr. Whitney's colleagues among the alleged leaders of the Provincial Conservatives. Mr. Magwood may regard himself as beaten in advance. The days of humbugging the farmer in the county of Perth having been now long passed, he might as well save himself a lot of trouble and expense by allowing Mr. Ballantyne to take the seat by acclamation. Mr. Magwood would then be in a position to tour the country with Leader Whitney in the vain hope of doing for others what there is no use trying to do for himself at home. Goodbye, Mr. Magwood."

A LESSON TO CHEESE PRODUCERS.

The Woodstock Sentinel Review calls attention to the fact that in a speech in the House of Commons the other day in opposition to Mr. McMullen's Cheese Inspection Bill, Mr. A. F. McLaren, M.P., for North Perth, contended not only that there was no demand throughout the dairy districts in favour of the appointment between buyers and salesmen, but that where any disputes of this nature had arisen, in very rare cases, the fault was invariably in the quality of the cheese, not in the desire of buyers to get out of contracts of purchase. Mr. McLaren said:

"As far as my experience goes, and I have been for over twenty years inspecting and buying and selling cheese I do not think there is any trade under the canopy of heaven which is conducted in a more honourable and straightforward way. The business is all done by word of mouth. Very seldom is there a signed contract or any money paid in advance. I have made contracts for millions and millions of dollars' worth of cheese myself without a stroke of the pen having passed or a dollar of money having been paid, and I never had any trouble. But although our farmers all over have continually been strongly advised not to give improper feed to their cows, they did last year feed them very largely with turnips, apples, rape and rye. In the section north of Stratford there must have been $25,000 less taken for cheese last fall than would have been had the farmers not given these improper foods to their cows, and that is where the whole mischief originated."

The speaker also quoted from a communication from the Ingersoll Packing Company in which they say:

"We fancy, if there were some legislation passed to prohibit farmers feeding turnips, etc., it would be far more beneficial to the cheese industry on both sides of the Atlantic. If you wiseacres could legislate the farmers into taking proper care of their milking utensils, returning no whey in milk cans, allow their cows only pure feed and water, then to regard cleanliness next to godliness, your time would be much better spent in the interests of this fair Dominion than in tinkering up something to settle disputes after the cheese are spoiled. The Britishers want cheese, and will laugh at our legislators when they have to accept cheese because some fortunate Government official, clothed in authority, says they are right."

It is no doubt true as a rule that the buyers of cheese are usually so eager to get goods that there is no danger of them wishing to get out of contracts. It is of course possible to conceive of some buyer wishing to do so on a falling market, but business reputation is always at stake, and this is a guarantee of good faith—as the experience of the trade, to which Mr. McLaren refers amply proves. The real lesson for the farmers to learn from the legislation attempted by Mr. McMullen is, that they should feed properly and make cheese of prime quality. No legislation of any kind will ever force bad flavours, the result of bad feeding, or poor cheese, the work of inferior makers, on the trade.

THE JAMESON RAID.

Mr. Hawksley is Astonished That Cecil Rhodes Should Have Been Condemned.

London, July 15.—Mr. B. F. Hawksley, counsel for Cecil Rhodes in the South Africa investigation, in the course of an interview with a representative of the Associated Press to-day, said he believed that nothing would come of the investigation committee's report. He was astonished that Cecil Rhodes should have been condemned for deceiving his subordinates by leading them to suppose that his plans were approved by his superiors. There were members of the committee who knew as well as he did that his condemnation was unmerited. The cable despatch of Miss Flora Shaw, who was in charge of the colonial bureau of The Times when the Jameson raid occurred, alone sufficiently showed this. Again the committee found that none of the officials of the Colonial Office had received any information; but Fairfield's letter conclusively showed that Fairfield knew that the chartered company's troops were being brought down in connection with the discontent in Johannesburg, while troops were being brought from England to Cape Town. The whole report, Mr. Hawksley declared, read as though the enquiry was being conducted, not into the raid, but into Rhodes' conduct. Could and student of precedent cite an instance of an enquiry authorized by the Government without official evidence, putting the committee in possession of all the evidence? The Department of State was responsible. It knew of the business.

Mr. Hawksley said there was no doubt that Cecil Rhodes would be angry with him for speaking frankly, but this was no time for silence.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

WINNIPEG OUT OF IT

Beaten in the Second Heat at Henley-on-Thames.

THE NEW COLLEGE CREW OF OXFORD

Outrowed Them, But Had to Beat the Record to Do It They Took Their Defeat Gracefully and Received Many Compliments Other Sporting News.

Henley-on-the Thames, July 15.—The second day of the regatta was favored with beautiful weather, with a light wind blowing up the course.

The third heat of the Grand Challenge Cup contest was won by the Leander Boat Club, beating the Utrecht University Boat Club, Triton. Leander won easily, after a processional 1½ lengths. Time 7.11.

The fourth heat for the Grand Challenge Cup was won by New College, Oxford, who beat Trinity Hall, Cambridge.

The fifth trial heat for the Ladies' Challenge Plate was won by Emmanuel College, Cambridge, beating Christ Church College, Oxford.

The fifth trial heat for the Thames Challenge Cup was won by the Kingston Rowing Club, who beat the Delft Students' Rowing Club.

The sixth trial heat for the Ladies' Challenge Plate was won by Eton College, who beat King's College, Cambridge.

Dr. McDowall, in the fifth trial heat for the Diamond Sculls, defeated T. J. Hogan, New Ross Boat Club, Ireland, winning as he liked in 8m. 37s. Hogan got away first and soon led by half a length. McDowall was after him at full speed, soon collared him, and, when they reached open water, began to pass him. Then, to everybody's astonishment, Hogan showed signs of being winded, and of losing his head. He collided with almost everything in sight, and was thrice mixed up with the piles. McDowall slowed up, looked contemptuously at his rival, and then proceeded onward the finish very quietly, and as if he were out rowing for pleasure. Indeed, he allowed Hogan to overtake him, and they were almost even at the finish. Time: ½m. 1.45; ½m. 3.03; 1, 6.56.

The sixth trial heat for the Diamond Sculls was won by H. T. Blackstaffe, Vesta Rowing Club, who beat A. F. G. Everitt, London Rowing Club.

The first trial heat for the Visitors' Challenge Cup was won by Trinity College, Oxford, who beat New College, Oxford.

The second trial heat for the Nickalls Challenge Cup was won by A. S. Bell and W. J. Fernie, Trinity Hall, Cambridge, who beat J. A. Thine and F. K. E. Hussey, Royal Chester Rowing Club.

The third heat for the Nickalls Challenge Cup was won by E. R. Balfour and Nickalls, Leander Club, who beat H. G. Gold and R. Cord, Magdalen College, Oxford.

In the sixth heat for the Thames Challenge Cup Christ Church, Oxford, beat King's College, Cambridge.

The seventh trial heat for the Diamond Sculls was won by E. H. Ten Eyck, Wachusett Boat Club, Massachusetts, who beat J. J. Blusse of the De Hoop Rowing Club. Time 9m. 15s. He paddled home leisurely. Ten Eyck and Blusse started even, but the American promptly poked the nose of his boat in front, and when it cleared Temple Island was three-quarters of a length ahead, rowing a stroke of 35 to the minute. He reached the quarter-mile stake in 1m. 18s. and then had a lead of two lengths. Ten Eyck at no time exerted himself, except for a moment or so immediately after the start. But his form then quite surprised his English critics.

J. J. Blusse, after the race with Ten Eyck, was taken in a fainting condition to the boat house, where the physicians found that he was suffering from a sunstroke. He is hanging between life and death.

The third trial heat for the Stewards' Challenge Cup was won by the Leander Club, beating the London Rowing Club.

The first trial heat for the Wyfold Challenge Cup was won by Jesus College, Cambridge, who beat the Thames Rowing Club.

The second heat for the Wyfold Challenge Cup was won by the Kingston Rowing Club, who beat the London Rowing Club.

The eighth trial heat for the Diamond Sculls was won by R. H. Howell, Trinity Hall, Cambridge, who beat G. McHenry, the Thames Rowing Club. Howell is a young American studying at Cambridge. He defeated McHenry with the greatest ease. The time was 8m. 58s.

The fourth heat for the Stewards' Challenge Cup was won by New College, Oxford, who beat the Winnipeg Rowing Club. New College was the favorite. Since yesterday Mr. Murphy has been carefully cautioning the Winnipegs about steering. Armytage was specially warned to listen to the umpire's whistle when getting out of his course. The Winnipegs were an eighth of a length ahead at the end of Temple Island, rowing 40 strokes to the minute, as against 37 for New. They then drew out and got a lead of a length. The half-mile stake was reached in three minutes and 34 seconds. When beyond Fawley Court boathouse, New College in a few powerful strokes drove their boat even with the Winnipegs. At the three-quarters stake, which was reached in four minutes and twelve seconds, the Winnipegs were half a length behind, and from that point, although they spurted grandly, and decreased the lead of New College by three or four feet, they never could catch the Oxonians, who finished winners by a length in the record time of 7m. 33s. The steering of the Winnipegs was decidedly better than yesterday's and they were less exhausted than their rivals.

At the finish the Winnipegs proposed three cheers for New College. The men in the New boat heartily responded, and the cheer was caught up on the shore, after which the Winnipegs were loudly cheered in return. The captain of the Winnipegs said after the race:

"It was the best race we ever rowed and as it is our first experience on the Henley [illegible] satisfied with [illegible] record. The trouble was that our rivals rowed four [illegible] better than the record.

"We were beaten by a better crew. We tried our best at the finish, but could not negotiate it. We were pretty well pumped [illegible] wind, but we stayed the course."

The Winnipegs after the race were greeted on every side in the most cordial fashion, and the English crews going to their quarters, complimenting them upon their plucky behavior and praising them for the sports manlike way in which they accepted defeat. The Winnipegs are enthusiastic over the treatment they are receiving since they proved the stuff they are made of. They will sail for home on Aug 20. Mr. Murphy, the trainer said:

"I would like to have seen them win, but I may say that whenever the Winnipegs are defeated the record is always lowered. The boat was not altogether satisfactory. I hope we may see Henley again."

The result of the Diamond Sculls heats leaves three Americans and one Englishman in the semi-finals. Ten Eyck meets McDowall, Blackstaffe meets Howell.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Springfield, July 15.—Toronto trounced the Ponies here to-day in the oddest sort of fashion. Lush was out of the game, owing to a spain, and Casey went to short. The visitors made six errors, while the home team went them six better, and the fans are content to say it was the poorest game of the year. Toronto easily earned the victory with seven hits and half the errors that Springfield made. Toronto's 14 hits were good for a total of 22 bases, while the Ponies' 11 only totalled 16. Both catchers made errors and Snyder showed up better than Donegan. Wilson kept the hits well scattered. Score:

Toronto	2	2	0 3 0 1 1 1 4 x	13	14	1
Springfield	3	0	0 0 0 0 0 4 1 —	8	11	6

At Providence Providence clouted the leaders to-day by going at Farmer Brown's pitching and lambasting it as it has not done before this season. It was not merely the number of hits made, but they way they were placed and bunched and mixed. Buffalo could do nothing against Braun's fine pitching and support until the Grays had the game well in hand with runs to spare. Score:

At Wilkes Barre Four hits were all Syracuse got off Keenan, and Wilkes-Barre got 10 off Malarkey. Sharp fielding upon the part of the visitors, however, kept the score down. After two men had been retired in the ninth inning Dan Shannon's single brought in the winning run for the home team. Score:

At Scranton Rochester had a safe lead up to the seventh inning, when Gannon gave three bases on balls and two singles and was relieved by Yerrick in the middle of the inning. He was found for a total of five singles, a walk and hit a batsman, enabling Scranton to win out by one run. Score:

WILLIAM BUCK IS DEAD.

The Well-Known Stove Manufacturer of Brantford Expired While Witnessing Buffalo Bill's Show.

Brantford, July 15.—This evening Mr. William Buck and family went to see Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show, which is exhibiting here to-day. Mr. Buck and Mayor Elliott were sitting together and chatting, about 8.15, shortly after the performance commenced, when Mr. Buck fell over against Mr. Elliott and expired in a few moments. He was removed to the open air, and medical aid summoned, but too late, as he had departed.

Mr. Buck was 68 years of age, one of Canada's most enterprising manufacturers and one of Brantford's most wealthy and respected citizens. He was a firm member of the Park Baptist Church. Mr. Buck was apparently in good health, and death is attributed to heart failure. Mr. Buck leaves a wife, three sons and two married daughters. His death casts a gloom over the city, and his sorrowing friends have the deepest sympathy of our citizens.

A Husband's Horrible Experience.

London, July 15.—Emma Symonds, wife of an engine fitter, cut the throats of her four young children and then her own. Symonds returned home about 1 o'clock this morning, and as he entered his bedroom he stumbled over the bodies of two of his children. Turning in horror toward the bed, he saw his wife and two children, sitting bolt upright, their throats cut from ear to ear, though life was not then extinct. It is not possible that any can survive.

WHAT A LOT OF THEM!

Montreal Produces Its Share.

What a Wonderful lot of People there are who Suffer from Backache.

From the Millionaire Sitting in His Office Clipping Coupons Down to the Humble Citizen who Swings a Pick for a Dollar a Day. Nobody is Free from it, and it all Comes From the Same Cause—The Kidneys are to Blame.

Backache is really nothing but kidney ache.

You can be perfectly sure that it means a disordered condition of the kidneys.

Here is some Montreal proof worth reading:—

Mrs. Laby, says: "My uncle, Mr. John Hughes, has been a very great sufferer from kidney disease, pain across the back, frightful headaches and dizziness, as well as severe urinary difficulties.

He was in a fearful state, could not rest, and often had to walk the floor half the night so great were the pains. We gave him a great many kinds of medicine, but they did him no good. He then went to the hospital, but the doctors there said that he had a complication of diseases, and only afforded him temporary relief. On coming back home he was soon as bad as ever.

Well, we saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and thought he might as well try them, as they could do him no harm, so he started to use them and got better in a very short time. In fact, he only used them for six weeks.

He is all right now, the pains have disappeared entirely, he eats well, sleeps well and works right along every day. We can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly. 126

"Not Worth a Curse."

Curse, anything worthless. Corruption of the old English word kerse, a small sour wild cherry; French cerise; German, kirsch. "Vision of Piers Ploughman":

Wisdom and witt nowe is not worth a kerse,
But if it be carded with coatis as clothers
Kombe their woole.

The expression "not worth a curse," used frequently nowadays, is therefore not properly profane, though it is frequently intensified by a profane expletive. Horne Tooke says from kerse, or cress. The expression "not worth a tinker's curse," may or may not have arisen from misapplication of the word's origin, though as now used it certainly means curse in its usual sense.—The Slang Dictionary.

Dear Sirs,—I can heartily recommend Burbock Blood Bitters. For a long time I was troubled with dyspepsia and weakness. The least exertion would tire me out. I am glad to say, however, that your B. B. B. has greatly benefited me, curing the dyspepsia and making me strong and well.

RESULTS OF THE ROAD RACES.

G. H. Dawson Wins First Place and Bruce Rickey Takes the Time Prize.

Hundreds of the citizens who are interested in wheeling assembled last evening at the corner of George and McDonel streets to witness the start of the participants in the bicycle road race to Chemong. The race was organized by Mr. P. J. Galvin and the arrangements were looked after at the start by Messrs. Peter Campbell, A. H. Stratton and Alf. Terrill, whilst the judges at Chemong were Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner, F. D. McKay and James Smith.

The start was made at 7.10 p.m., the first man off being A. Jobe, who had the limit (4 1-2 minutes). R. M. Glover was sent away half a minute later. W. Lush and Geo. Dawson started together in another half minute, being on the 3 1-2 minute mark. Those having three minutes start were Angus McPherson, Geo. Riley, Wesley, E. Lynch and J. H. Hall. In another half minute Fred. Logan, W. Lush, Fred. Lefevre, Shoemaker, Percy Rubidge and Fred Davidson were sent away.

The next batch were on the two minute mark and were Vernon McGill, Roger Davidson, W. Milburn and H. Lush. Those having one minute start on the scratch men were Frank McPherson, M. J. Galvin, E. Wasson, Arthur McNee and Will Borland.

Rickey and Pakenham were on scratch being the last men to leave and being sent off at 7.14½.

The one minute men nearly had an upset at the start, Wasson losing a spoke in the tangle and having to retire from the race. No one fell.

All the riders started off at a hot pace and in consequence the hills were hard to negotiate, an easier clip at the start would probably have resulted in better time being made.

The first man to reach Chemong was George Dawson, being almost a minute ahead of any rider. After that they came with a rush and all had crossed the tape seven minutes later.

The scoring was done in the following order:

No.	Name.	Handicap.	Time Finish.
13	G H Dawson	3½	7.32½
12	Wesley Milburn	3	7.33
37	A Jobe	4½	7.33.5
17	F Davidson	2½	7.34
38	W Lush	3½	7.34.01
36	F Lefevre	2½	7.34.30
15	W Borland	1	7.34.30
10	Geo Riley	3	7.34.30½
2	F McPherson	1	7.34.30½
3	W B Rickey	Scratch.	7.34.47
42	P Rubidge	2½	7.35.30
21	E Lynch	2½	7.35.30
19	A McNee	1	7.35.50
39	R Davidson	2	7.35.51
8	F Logan	2½	7.36
28	F Lush	2½	7.36

7	A J McPherson	3	7.37.18
41	S T Shoemaker	2½	7.38.24

TIME PRIZES.

1—Bruce Rickey	20.17
2—W Milburn	20.30
3—W Borland	21.00

The prize of a cyclometer awarded by Fairweather & Co for the first Gendron to finish was won by F. Davidson.

It was a good record for the Brantfords—first and second.

That record of 20.17 made by Rickey will keep the boys working to beat. He states that with pacemakers he thinks that he can cut it down three minutes lower.

Mr. Galvin wishes to express his thanks to those who arranged the handicaps and acted as officials for the race.

The prizes can be obtained this evening at the Oriental Hotel.

The time was at first given out incorrectly, as the judges were given the time at which the limit men left as being the time at which the scratch men were sent off. This of course made a difference of 4½ min. in the time. The correct result is announced above.

The road was in splendid condition—the wheel thus winning credit for improving the highways.

WATCH STEALING CASE.

A Portion of the Evidence was Taken This Morning in the Police Court.

John McCann was again before the magistrate this morning in connection with the watch stealing case, in which he is charged with being the principal party concerned in the theft.

It seems that on the night of July 8th Alexander Trotter, an employee on the canal, went to bed in Murphy's boarding house with all his clothing on except his coat. His watch was in his trousers' pocket and his suspenders were passed through the ring. When he awoke in the morning the watch was gone. The prisoner occupied a bed in the same room and has been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the theft.

At the hearing before the magistrate this morning a second hand goods dealer gave evidence that McCann had tried to sell him a watch about ten days ago but not wanting it he did not examine it. Other witnesses testified that the prisoner had no watch to their knowledge, as he worked in the same gang with them on the canal and at different times would inquire the time of day.

The police have so far been unable to locate the watch, which is a silver one with the initials M. H. scratched on the inside of the outside case. Any one returning it to the police will receive the money back which it cost them. Information concerning its whereabouts will be thankfully received at the police station.

REV. J. H. BEER REMEMBERED.

His Sunday School Class Express Their Regret at Losing Him.

A very pleasant event took place at the residence of Mr. Wm. Wand, last evening when the members of the Sabbath school class of Mr. J. Herman Beer, met to tender him their sincere thanks for the faithful service he had rendered them as teacher and their regret at losing one so highly esteemed by all. During the evening Miss Edna Armstrong read the following address, and Miss Lizzie Taylor presented Mr. Beer with a handsomely bound hymn book:

Mr. J. H. Beer:

DEAR TEACHER,—We the members of your class of Mark street Sabbath school cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing our gratitude for the services you have rendered us as our teacher, and the deepest regret that the time has come when we must lose a highly esteemed friend.

As a class we realize the loss we are about to sustain. During the past two years and a half we have ever felt that we had a teacher so interested in our welfare as to never weary in impressing spiritual truth on the mind of each and in bringing before us the beautiful character of Christ in all His love and mercy. And we always know that in you we had a sympathizing friend, ever ready to aid us in the removal of difficulties from our way. We thank you for the example of earnest, hopeful Christianity that you have constantly set before us, and we pray that in following the footsteps of our Master we may never lose sight of the worthy example we have had amongst us.

We ask you to accept this hymn book, not for its great intrinsic value, but as a slight token of the high regard and estimation in which we hold you, and our most earnest wish is that God, whose praises it contains, may ever watch over you, so that you may be a living witness of our Saviour and a faithful servant in his vine yard.

Though in future we may be separated by distance we can work together in the service of our Saviour, and we hope where so'er you may be, that God may prosper you in the salvation of souls and that his kindest blessings may be the response to our prayers for your success and encouragement. And although we may not meet again here we shall meet at Jesus' feet, and receive the Master's "Well done good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.

Signed by the class.

LIZZIE TAYLOR,
ELEANOR COURTNEY,
KATIE WAND,
LOTTIE KINDRED,

Mr. Beer replied very feelingly to the above address, thanking the class for their faithful attendance and work in the Sabbath school and expressing deep regret at leaving them. At the conclusion of the reply Mrs. Wand kindly served refreshments, and after singing "God be with you" the class dispersed, feeling very deeply the loss of their teacher. Mr. Beer left for his new home this morning.

BATHING IN THE LAKE.

Steps Should be Immediately Taken to Supervise It.

Every year as the bathing season comes around, the complaint of the canoeist is heard concerning the bathing of the boys at the places where the river joins Little Lake.

The smaller lads it seems have sufficient fear of the law, to conform to its requirements and wear trunks but dozens of the larger ones bathe in a perfectly nude condition much to the embarassment of ladies who are passing in the steamboats or canoes. In fact the pleasure of canoeing becomes almost prohibitory through the action of these bathers.

The police should take a hand in the fun some evening and if a few arrests were made for indecent exposure it might act as a check to the disgusting habits into which the bathers are falling. Gentlemen complain of being kept down the lake half the night through the fear that some of the language used by the boys in swimming may be heard by the young ladies who are enjoying an evening on the water.

It seems that no pier except the one nearest the channel will suit the bathers, but if they are foolish enough to persist in drawing attention to their nudity when steamboats and canoes are passing, disagreeable consequence to themselves will surely follow.

Restrictions regarding the time and place for swimming should be immediately enforced. In the cove just south of Burnham's Point there is a fine beach which is quite secluded, and to such spots should the bathers be confined.

REPAIRS TO THE DAM.

The Dickson Company Has Raised the Water to Its Normal Level.

The street lights were lit last night for the first time since the sluiceway at the Dickson Company dam gave way depriving the generating house of power.

A coffer dam has been placed in position across the sluiceway in order to give the men an opportunity of putting in a new floor in place of the one which was swept away.

The flooring of the sluice has been in position since the flood of 1870 when it was swept away.

Another coffer dam will be erected at the south end of the sluice, when the bottom of the river will be laid bare. The space between the two coffer dams at the north and south ends of the sluice will then be filled with stones to a height of four or five feet when cross timbers will be put in and a substantial flooring laid upon them. It will take a couple of weeks to complete the work.

DR. WILSON DROWNED AT KEEWATIN.

Death of a Young Man Well Known in Peterborough.

The following from the Tweed News refers to Dr. Wilson, son of Rev. J. C. Wilson, formerly of Ashburnham, and a nephew of Mrs. M. T. Jory, Downie street. Dr. Wilson, when he lived here was well known to especially the younger citizens. He spent three years in Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store preparatory to his graduation as a physician. A despatch from Winnipeg says:

Winnipeg, July 12—Dr. Wilson, a highly respected physician of Keewatin, while out sailing yesterday afternoon is supposed to have been caught in a squall and drowned. His dog was found on an island, and his canoe partly full of water was discovered near Keewatin Island. Searching parties are out looking for the body."

Much sympathy is felt in Tweed for the bereaved parents and sister. Deceased who was but 25 years of age, graduated with first class honours from Trinity Medical College, Toronto, in 1893, and practised for a year and a half at Cannington, and two years ago went to Keewatin, where he was building up a large and successful practice. Owing to the scattered location of the place he was compelled to use his boat to attend to his practice, and it is supposed that he was on a mission of this kind when the sad fate overtook him. He was a strong swimmer and an expert canoeist and usually took his dog with him when crossing the bay, and it is supposed that the dog became restless during the storm and upset the canoe. (It is learned later that some accident to the stepping of the mast was the cause of the terrible mishap.)

Dr. Wilson was a young man of exemplary habits and disposition, having been converted when he was but eight years of age and has ever since been an ardent worker in all departments of church work and for some time has been leader and organist of the Methodist choir at that place. He was a student of great ability and a young man of very refined tastes. It has been his custom to write to his parents regularly every Saturday, and during the past nine years, not a Saturday has passed over his head that he did not pen at least a few lines home. The day before the accident was no exception, and on the day following the receipt of the telegram came a letter from their son, whose body was then in a watery grave. The letter was full of hope for the future and naturally only made the agony more intense.

The tidings of his death were received here with universal sorrow and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family. Deceased, who was unmarried, leaves a sorrowing mother and father and one brother and sister to mourn his death.

Rev. J. S. I. Wilson, of Wilfrid, brother of deceased, arrived in Tweed on Tuesday morning, and on Wednesday morning the father left for the scene of the accident to continue the search for the body, which has not yet been found.

DEVLIN ON THE DEFENSIVE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—A number of my customers have spoken to me during the past week about some stories they had heard that I had been started in business by Mr. B. F. Ackerman, of the Peterborough harness factory, and that I do not make my own harness, but that it is made for me at Ackerman's factory.

Such yarns, intended to reflect on my skill, as though I couldn't make my own harness, are hardly worth noticing, but lest some may be influenced or prejudiced by them, I take this opportunity of stating that they are both false and malicious, and without one iota of foundation.

I am in business for the benefit of myself and my family, and no one else has any interest in it whatever, except my customers, whom I wish to serve to the best of my ability. I manufacture all my own harness by hand, right in my own shop, and I just want to say right here that no local harness maker can manufacture any better or quite as good.

If the malicious party who has been mean enough to circulate such falsehoods will take the trouble to call at my store and see for themselves, I think I can satisfy them in two minutes that what I say is correct.

I wish it distinctly understood that no reflections are intended on Mr. Ackerman's work. I have worked for Mr. Ackerman, and know what I am talking about when I say that the work turned out of his factory is classed among the very best in Canada, that no local harnessmaker can beat it, and I am glad to be able to say so voluntarily.

Now, will my jealous friends put up or shut up.

Yours truly,
W. J. DEVLIN,
for Devlin & Co.

THE WHEEL.

Mr. A. H. Stratton, president of the Victoria Bicycle club, received notice yesterday from Geo. H. Orr, President of the C.W.A., to the effect that he had been appointed as representative on the Board of Officers of the Association of the district.

The newly-invented tire is styled the "Hub," "a novelty of undoubtad practical value." It is formed of a series of inflated balls instead of a continuous tube. Each of the balls is detachable, and is secured to the rim in a very simple manner, so that the balls are separately inflatable, and can be given any pressure the rider may desire. When a punctured ball is removed a new one is inserted, and the tire thereby restored to its original condition. Should a ball become deflated when on a journey it will not fall out or become dislodged, so that the machine may be ridden just the same.

It is perfectly possible to enjoy cycling during the warm days that are now at hand just as much as during the spring months. Dress coolly and seasonably. Buy a cash suit and wear a negligee shirt. Don't scorch. Don't try to ride over 12 miles an hour. Positively the most uncomfortable thing to do is to hit upon a lively pace until the perspiration runs down in streams and then stop to cool off and complain of the heat. With a nice easy pace no rests will be necessary, and the temperature will never be one-half so noticeable as if the other plan is is followed. But the ideal method of summer cycling for pleasure is to start so as to reach the destination by 9 o'clock, rest in the heat of the day, and return home late in the afternoon. It requires early rising sometimes, but it pays.

A marked element of fatigue in bicycle riding has its source in the vibrations which are transmitted through the pedals to the person of the rider by reason of the rigidity that exists in the frame and driving connections of the machine as usually constructed. Such vibrations benumb and tire the muscles by administering a continuous series of shocks of tremulous blows upon the legs while working the pedals, and tend to produce exhaustion and consequent loss of power, the effect being practically the same upon the muscular and nervous systems as the action of a galvanic battery. To overcome this defect a Chicagoan has invented a new pedal. In describing it he says: "I interpose springs between the shaft and foot tread of the pedal in such a manner that the springs are compressed by the force or power applied to the descending pedal, in the downward or impelling stroke, and afterward react to lift the leg with an elastic movement in passing the dead centres, and on the upward stroke. I further apply these springs in such a manner that they may yield horizontally, as well as vertically, so as to take up the thrust of the foot, and obviate all mechanical vibration calculated to wrench or wrack the mechanism of the machine. Still further, I combine with the spring supports of the pedal a toe clip, whereby the foot is held in proper relation thereto, and by means of which the rider is given better control of his pedal."

While in South Dakota last summer a book agent had occasion to cross one of the great cattle range districts. He was making the trip on a bicycle and up to this time the journey had been very enjoyable. Fow, however, he was destined to meet with trials and tribulations that would be worth telling to his unborn grandchildren. He knew nothing of these untamed range cattle, and, alas, the cattle were equally as ignorant of scorching bicyclers.

According to our correspondent—a veracious chronicler of South Dakota happenings—the agent was making good time and lifting a free and easy soul to heaven, without a single fear of the browsing herds upon the rolling plains, when all at once the proverbial change came over the spirit of his dreams. One of the steers, more curious and observant than the others, spied the strange looking vehicle and was tempted to follow it. By and by other cattle joined in the chase, and then the entire herd became interested.

The agent began to grow nervous and increased his speed, but this only whetted the curiosity of the cattle, and they pounded along after him at a rate that was incredible to the agent.

The situation grew decidedly alarming, the mild inquisitiveness of the steers had changed to anger and they were going to run that peculiar species of cowboy down if it took all summer. Fortunately for the agent the cowboys on the range saw the peril, rode to the rescue, and succeeded in diverting the cattle from the hapless rider. It is probable that he will not care to canvass in that part of the country any more—not on his bicycle.

THE DAILY TRIPS TO IDYL WYLD.

Popularity of the Cheap Trips Increasing Daily—Prompt Running Arrangements of the North Star—Satisfactory Accommodation at Idyl Wyld.

The number of our citizens who have been taking advantage of the cheap and attractive daily trips to Idyl Wyld on the steamer North Star this season has been steadily increasing, and the excursions are being spoken of with pleasure by all who attend. The unusually cheap fare of fifty cents for the round trip, including dinner at the island, has of course largely influenced the number of excursionists. Although there are many of our citizens who have always preferred the river and Rice Lake route for a day's outing as well as for camping, fishing and holidaying.

Quite a large number have been going down every day this week, but on Thursday the number was larger than ever, including some of our best known citizens and their families, who express themselves delighted with the trip. The convenient hour of leaving town in the morning, does not disturb the slumbers of late sleepers, while the spanking speed of the comfortable little steamer gets her party there just as the sound of the Idyl Wyld dinner bell is wafted from the shore in the ears of the eager excursionists, whose appetites have been toned by the breezy breezes of Rice Lake.

It is a fact that too many fail to appreciate the opportunities offered by our local summer resorts, but rush off to distant places, leaving the natural beauties and advantages of our inland lakes and scenery with their warmth of colour and health-giving breezes, for the crowded hotel or close boarding house. Of the number of eligible places in our neighbourhood to spend a vacation, free from the cares of business and easy of access, none can surpass Idyl Wyld. In natural beauty or fine landscapes there is much to admire. The locality is salubrious, while the wide and expansive Rice Lake on which this breezy resort lies, always ensures a cool and bracing atmosphere. The hotel is in charge of Mr. Jas. Spellman this season, who is now well known in Peterborough and is making himself a popular manager at Idyl Wyld. Excursion parties from various points arrive daily and enliven the attractions at the Island. Regular weekly guests from different parts of Ontario and the U. S. spend delightful vacations at a small expense and return refreshed and recruited. The fishing is the best known by good sportsmen and boating is a great attraction.

On these regular daily trips the North Star leaves Idyl Wyld on the return trip between four and five o'clock and reaches the city wharf not later than eight o'clock. The captain and crew are obliging and attentive and the comfort of their excursionists is their especial care.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.09; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 35 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

Puzzling the Royal Society

The proceedings of the Royal Society of London were not taken so seriously 150 years ago as they are now. A sailor who had broken his leg was advised to send to the Royal Society an account of the remarkable manner in which he had healed the fracture. He did so. His story was that, having fractured his leg by falling from the top of a mast, he had dressed it with nothing but tar and rosin, which had proved so wonderfully effective that in three days he was able to walk just as well as before the accident. This remarkable story naturally caused some excitement among the members of the society. No one had previously suspected tar and rosin of possessing such miraculous healing powers. The society wrote for further particulars, and doubted, indeed, whether the man had been really fractured. The touch of the sort of the story, however, was proved beyond the shadow of a doubt. Several letters passed between the Royal Society and the humble sailor, who continued to assert most solemnly that his broken leg had been treated with tar and oakum, and with these two applications only. The society might have remained puzzled for an indefinite period had not the honest sailor remarked, in a postscript to his last letter:

"I forgot to tell your honors that the the leg was a wooden one." Harper's Round Table.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from overexertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

The Pope on Boiled Eggs.

I am surprised to see a question raised as to whether the Pope meant hard-boiled or soft-boiled eggs. What he said was that your eggs should be "hard-boiled or nearly raw."

In saying this he was exactly in line with the teaching of Brillat-Savarin and all the great cooks that eggs should be boiled either not more than two minutes or not less than twenty.

It is a fact known to every expert in the chemistry of cookery that an egg boiled two minutes is digestible, and so in an egg boiled twenty minutes, but that one boiled five or ten minutes is as leather to the digestive organs.

All those superb dishes which the French make out of hard-boiled eggs are not only palatable but digestible, and they are so because the eggs are boiled for twenty minutes.

The Pope was not speaking ex-cathedra, but he was infallibly right when he enjoined us to have our eggs "hard-boiled or nearly raw."—New York World.

An Ill-Fated Train.

Mr. J. Plimmer, of Windsor, Ont., was on the train which which went through the bridge at St. George, Ont., in 1888. In the accident his kidneys and back were seriously injured, and have since caused him great suffering. Mr. Plimmer says:—"Until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills I never knew what it was to be free from pain. They have entirely removed the pain, and I am able to work every day now. They have produced better results than all the other medicines combined which I have used in all my years of suffering. I regard them as a specific for kidney trouble."

WINNIPEG CREW IN FRONT.

They Won Their Heat at Henley Against the Dutch Scullers.

Henley-on-Thames, July 14.—A beautiful weather, although a stiff wind prevailed at intervals from the Berkshire side. The Henley regatta of 1897 began to-day. The crowd on the banks was not as large nor so demonstrative as usual, but the celebrated stretch of a mile and a quarter just below Henley bridge, which is the course of the regatta, was the scene of some admirable racing. Above the bridge a picturesque flotilla of small craft, with excursion launches, house-boats and innumerable smaller vessels, filled the eye of the spectator. Along the towpath were scores of experts, ready to watch with stop watches and field glasses the expected contestants. Others on bicycles or on horseback, rode to and fro, shouting to one another or giving instructions. Although the crowd was not so great as in 1896, a fact due probably to London's recent saturnalia of fashion and overflow of Jubilee emotion, it presented many brilliant social aspects.

From the Canadian and American point of view, the principal interest centered in the performances of the Winnipeg Rowing club crew and of Dr. W. S. McDowall of the Delaware Boat Club of Chicago. The Winnipegs spoiled all the predictions based upon their roughness of form by beating one of the Dutch fours of the Utrecht University Rowing Club in the first heat for the Stewards' challenge cup, and Dr. McDowall justified the faith of his backers by beating the Hon. E. A. Guinness in the second trial heat for the Diamond sculls.

The Eton College crews, of which young Mr. Astor, son of William Waldorf Astor, is a member, came off with flying colors in a trial heat for the Ladies' Challenge Cup, beating the crew of Ridley College by three lengths.

The trial heat between the Winnipegs and the Utrechts for the Stewards' Challenge Cup, had its amusing features. The Winnipegs got away swiftly, taking a prompt lead and striking the water at a 42 to the minute stroke. The Utrechts rowed at 40.

At near the top of Temple Island, the Dutchmen collided with the piles. This accident completely disconcerted the whole crew and from that point to the finish their steering was very bad, and sometimes ludicrous. But the Winnipegs did not make a much better showing. Their steering was very unreliable. At the half-way post their bout was in the Utrechts' water, and when the Dutchmen spurted the Canadians were within an ace of being fouled. The Winnipegs then returned to their own water. The Dutchmen with characteristic obstinacy followed them, leaving their own water.

Opposite the grand stand, when both crews were in neutral water, the Dutchmen followed the Winnipegs. For an instant both came virtually to a standstill. But they started again, the Winnipegs leading and winning what was certainly an exciting race in one respect by half a length.

The time was as follows: Quarter mile, 1m. 16s.; half mile, 2m. 40s.; three quarter mile, 4m. 19s.; mile, 5m. 50s.; full course, 7m. 47s. The boat of the Winnipegs seemed to travel badly, the Utrechts' cedar craft acted much better.

MORE MILITARY CHANGES.

A Pretty General Shake-Up Among the Permanent Officers — General News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 14.—In addition to the military changes already mentioned Lieut.-Col. Gordon, D.O.C., Fredericton, goes to Montreal in place of Lieut.-Col. Houghton; Major Roy is transferred from the position of Brigade Major at Montreal to the D.O.C. at St. Johns; Lieut.-Col. Buchan succeeds Lieut.-Col. D'Orsonnens in command of the depot at St. Johns; Major Young leaves St. Johns and goes to Toronto; Lieut.-Col. Henning, London, goes to Fredericton as D.O.C.

Hon. W. S. Fielding entertained about thirty delegates from Halifax to the Epworth Convention in Toronto to a visit to the Experimental Farm to-day, and treated them to ice-creams and refreshments on the grounds.

M. V. McInnes, Chief Immigration Agent for the Dominion Government in the Western States, arrived in the city to-day. He says that a class of very good settlers are leaving the American side for the Canadian Northwest. W. J. White, press agent of the Immigration Department, is also in the city.

Hon. John Costigan, speaking in regard to Hon. Mr. Balfour's scheme for the development of Ireland, says: "It has no bearing whatever on the Home Rule question. That is distinct and separate. There are many places, however, in the island which are not properly served by railway, and though of historic interest, closed from the outside world. These places will be thrown open and travel will be largely increased in all parts. In addition to this more work will be provided and more money put into circulation." In conclusion, Mr. Costigan remarked that it was a most fitting step to be taken in the year of Jubilee.

COUNTY REGISTRAR.

All Else Failing Mr. Geo. C. Ward is Cured by Eight Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope (Special) July 5.—No case of recovery from serious illness that has ever occurred in this community has caused as much talk as that of our esteemed fellow townsman, Mr. Geo. C. Ward, Registrar of this county, residing here. For a long time it had been well known to his intimate friends that he was a sufferer from kidney disorder. But for the past year he grew worse and all efforts to regain his strength were without avail. He is now cured, as he says, by using eight boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and is as well as ever he was in his life.

What a Cow Should Do.

It takes 150 pounds of butter at a good market price to pay for the keeping of a cow one year. At the standard of four per cent. of butter fat, that amount of butter will require about 3500 pounds of milk. Therefore a cow must yield 3500 pounds of milk, or, say, 1700 quarts, to just stand even with her owner, if butter is made. In order to give a fair profit on the investment a cow should yield at least 5000 pounds of four per cent. milk, which would produce, say, about 200 lbs. of butter. The value of skim milk, if handled with skill and intelligence, will be about $15 a year. All dairy cows not paying their own keep are a loss to the dairy.—Dakota Field and Farm.

The confidence of the people in Hood's Sarsaparilla is due to its unequalled record of wonderful cures.

Mrs. T S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent 289 George Street.

BOY BEHEADED BY A TRAIN.

He Fell With His Neck Across the Rail and the Wheels Severed It Completely From the Body.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 14.—(Special.)—On the Niagara branch of the Michigan Central to-night the 6 year-old son of John Harrington was walking up the track, with his aunt, Mrs. Nicholl, and when just east of the Welland-avenue crossing the train overtook them. Mrs. Nicholl jumped to one side and told the boy to do likewise. In attempting it he fell with his neck across the track. A young boy named Jepson made an heroic attempt to drag him off, but it was unsuccessful. The wheels completely severed the head from the trunk. Several witnesses saw the accident and claim the engineer did all in his power to stop the engine. The undertaker took charge of the remains without the presence of the coroner and an inquest will not be held. The railroad along that portion of the town is almost a public highway and there are many narrow escapes.

Chase's Ointment Cures All Skin Irritations.

GRACIE AITON.

Of the many skin diseases, eczema is one of the worst and most common. The one effective remedy so far discovered for it is Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. Mr. Andrew Aiton of Hartland, N.B., says:

"My little daughter, Grace Eliza, aged three and a half, was a dreadful sufferer from eczema for three years. We tried a number of alleged cures and several doctors, but all without effect. Her's was indeed a bad case. Her little body was entirely covered with rash. One day our local druggist, Mr. Wm. E. Thistle, recommended me to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. I did so, and four boxes effected a complete cure and saved our child."

Dr Chase's Ointment is just as effective for piles, salt rheum and sores of all descriptions. For sale by all dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto; price 60 cents.

There is nothing to equal Chase's Linseed and Turpentine for severe colds and lung troubles. Large bottle 25 cents.

Here is the Way.

To cure all heart and nerve troubles and weak, weary, tired feeling, sleeplessness, nervousness, etc., do as Mr. Thos. Glover, Chatham, Ont., did. Says Mrs. Glover: "One box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured me. I was so bad that I feared paralysis, but am now well and strong, thanks to these wonderful pills."

To destroy worms and expel them from children and adults use Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

A woman's work is hard in many ways. Unless the woman is strong and healthy her work will cause her much distress and pain, and she will suffer from headaches, and backaches and side aches, and each evening will find her utterly worn out, sick and disgusted with life. In this condition of mind and body she cannot be a loving and amiable companion for her husband when he returns from his work weary too in body and mind

If a woman wants to live a happy, contented, loving, helpful married life she cannot take too much care of the health and vigor of the organs distinctly feminine, for her general health and strength is largely dependent upon her special health in a womanly way. Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription enables a woman to be always well and strong where a woman most needs health and strength. It acts directly on the important and delicate organs involved in her wifehood and motherhood. It makes them strong and healthy. Taken during the period preceding motherhood it banishes the usual discomforts and makes baby's coming easy and comparatively painless. It insures a new-comer's health and provides an ample supply of natural nourishment. It cures all weakness and disease, and headaches, backaches, and side-aches no longer torture her in her work. Over 90,000 women have testified to the wonderful virtues of the "Favorite Prescription" over their signatures. An honest druggist will not try to force on you a substitute for the sake of a few pennies of added profit.

Dr. Pierce's 1008-page "Common Sense Medical Adviser" will be sent free, paper-covered, for 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only. Or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

HIS FIRST WIFE.

Madison Janeway was always pointed out as a "self-made man," and was apparently well satisfied with his own handiwork, for content radiated from his full face and from his figure, which had lost its youthful muscle under creeping waves of flesh. Mr. Janeway had satisfied his ambitions as far as it is possible for a man to do it. Fortunately for his content, these aspirations were of the kind that are most often realized. He had a handsome wife and three bright children; he was president of the State Bank, an institution known to be founded on the rock of sound finance; he had been mayor of Shewunee, and was a member of the legislature. So much of earthly glory had fallen to his share.

When he read the obituary of another self-made man, he always nodded his head sagely, as much as to say: "I know how it goes; I started with nothing myself." In fact, Mr. Janeway's election to the legislature came of the admiration the electors had for a man of the people. When his constituents hired a band and went to congratulate him, they found him ready with a speech. He said: "Fellow citizens, I will not try to hide from you my deep gratification at the result of the election. I wanted to be elected. I have wanted a good many things, and I've generally got them, but not without working. I started with nothing; I did chores for my keep; I went to school when I could, picked up a penny here and a penny there; I did any honest work that I could find. And where am I now? President of a bank, ex-mayor and a member of the legislature. I thank you, friends, for your votes, yet I feel that I have won my own way; that I am one, a private, perhaps, in the great army of self-made men." He bowed, and retired amid loud applause. In another this speech would have provoked criticism, but one of the privileges of the self-made man is to praise his maker without stint.

Mr. and Mrs. Janeway had but just come from a visit to their own house, which their architect assured them was in the purest style of the Gothic renaissance. But they were sure, too, which seemed to them of far more importance, that it was the finest house in town, and quite eclipsed Mr. Morgan's red brick mansion.

They were to move into it at once, and Mrs. Janeway went about the old house planning what should be left behind, as not coming up to the artistic standard of the new place. "Come here a minute, Madison," she called from an obscure entry back of the dining-room.

Mr. Janeway laid down his paper and went to her, followed by Florry, their youngest child. "What is it, my dear?" he asked.

"Hadn't I better pack this away? The frame's so shabby that it isn't fit for the new house." She pointed to a faded photograph hanging in a dark corner. It was the likeness of a plain woman, with a broad mouth, and eyes widely separated; the hair was parted and drawn back from the forehead like two curtains; a watch chain picked out in gilt encircled her neck, and her lips and cheeks were touched by carmine, giving the face a ghastly pretence of life.

Mr. Janeway stared at it meditatively. "I hadn't noticed it for a long time," he said.

"Who is that lady, papa?" Florry asked, looking at the picture as if she saw it for the first time.

"Why, Florry, that was my first wife," he answered surprised that she had not known it before.

"Was she my mamma, too?"

"No, no," he replied, hastily; "she was Sarah Deering."

"Wasn't she any relation to me?" the child persisted. She was but eight years old, and the ramifications of kinship were yet a mystery to her.

"Of course not," her mother said, rather sharply. "Your papa was married to her when he was very young—long before he lived here or knew me. I thought you had heard that before." She turned to her husband. "Madison, shall I lay this picture away?"

Mr. Janeway looked at her attentively. Was it zeal, or an artistic sense, or was there a lurking jealousy of the woman who had come before? "Pack it away if you like," he said, turning away. "It is shabby."

Long after his children and wife were sleeping, Mr. Janeway sat smoking, and thinking complacently of his success. He, Madison Janeway, had begun with nothing, and at 50 he had won the things he had longed for at 20. The opening and closing of the door attracted his attention. He looked up.

A woman walked across the room—a plain woman, with an honest, ugly face and a short, thick figure.

"Who are you?" Mr. Janeway asked, frowning at her intrusion.

"Don't you know me, Maddy?" she returned.

He was startled when she called him Maddy; it was more than 20 years since he had been called that. "Are you—are you but you can't be Sarah," he stammered; "she has been dead these many years."

"I am Sarah," she answered. "You have changed, Maddy."

"Yes—yes. We are apt to," he replied, uneasily. "But you look just the same." He said this to see if she would account for her presence.

"The living can only see the dead as they were in life," she returned. "You sold the farm, didn't you?"

Mr. Janeway felt as if a reproach lay in the observation. "Yes, I sold the farm," he said. "I needed the money to put in other investments."

"I worked hard on that place," she said, crossing her hands—very rough, worn hands. "I worked hard there those years. I tried to save all I could, Maddy."

"You were a good wife, Sarah," he replied, "and both of us had our burdens, I guess."

"And it was my money that bought the farm. You had nothing when you came courting me, did you, Maddy? And you said that my being 30 years old and your being just of age made no difference."

"Yes, I suppose I said that, and I'm sure I always tried to be good to you," he said, in answer to that unspoken reproach that seemed to lie behind her spoken words. "I tried to treat you well."

"The money that came to me just before I died form Uncle John must have been a help. I left it and the farm to you, Maddy." Her dull eyes seemed to force him to acknowledge his debt.

"Yes—yes, Sarah. I know that I owe much to you. Without your help and money I should have had a much harder time getting on my feet. Yet I think I should have succeeded in any case." Mr. Janeway could not forbear offering this tribute to his self-esteem. "However, I gratefully acknowledge your aid, Sarah."

"You have another wife now, Maddy, and children," she said, "but I was first. I believed in you, oh, so willingly! I knew that you were different from me. I knew that you had hopes that stupid Sarah could never understand. I knew that I was your companion in your work, but not in your hopes. I knew that we were growing further apart every year that we lived together. I knew that while I was getting to be worked out and middle-aged, you were only coming to your prime. I knew that it was best that I died when I did—before I came to be a drag on you. Yet, Maddy, before her and her children, I think you ought not to shame me, for I was your faithful wife, the wife of your youth, and I gave you all I had to give—my money, my love, my toil."

Before Mr. Janeway could answer she was gone, and he sat alone.

The next day, however, he took the old photograph down and ordered for it a gorgeous frame. When it was returned, he hung it in his library, where it looked strangely alien between a St. Cecilia and the Arabian Falconer, bought at the instigation of the architect.

Florry, with a child's quickness, noticed the fine gilt frame that surrounded the ugly, good face. "What have you done to the lady?" she asked. "Aren't you going to pack her away, as mamma said?"

"No; the picture is to stay here. Do you remember who I said it was?"

"Yes; you said it was your first wife."

Mr. Janeway took her on his knee. "Florry," he said, soberly, "when I was a little boy, I was very poor, as poor as the Gaels"—a family celebrated in the town for ill luck and poverty. "I went to school when I could, but that was mighty little, for I had to work most of the time. Sometimes I'd get most discouraged, but I had to work just the same. One year I worked for a man name Deering. He had a daughter, and when she found how much I wanted to go to school, she lent me some money—money she had saved by pinching and scraping. After awhile her father died, and she married me. I had nothing, and she owned a good farm, but she married me. In six years she died and left everything to me. She gave me a good start. She was a good woman, and believed in me when nobody else did. The other night papa dreamed that he saw her and talked to her, and it made him feel ashamed that he had seemed to forget her."

The child wriggled from his arms and walked away, with an awed glance at the picture.

Mr. Janeway stared at it, musingly. "Are you satisfied now, Sarah?" he caught himself saying. "Pshaw! That dream holds to me still," he exclaimed, "but, anyhow, I've done her justice."

And though the architect declared that the photograph quite spoiled the effect of the library, and begged that it might be banished to some back room, Mr. Janeway was firm, and the dull, good face of his first wife kept its place between the St. Cecilia and the Arabian Falconer.—Chicago News.

"WHIP PO' WILL."

When stealthy shadows westward creep,
And stars through purple curtains peep
And south winds sing themselves to sleep;
From woodlands heavy with perfume
Of spicy bud and April bloom
Comes through the tender twilight gloom,
Far off and mellow
"Whip po' Will-Will oh,
Whip po' Will-Will oh!"
Whip po' Will, whip po' Will, whip po' Will-Will oh!"

The bosom of the brook is filled
With strange alarm, the thicket thrilled
By startled echoes and most skilled
To run the labyrinthine race
The fireflies light their lamps in haste
And join in that tumultuous chase—
Fleet footed fellow
"Whip po' Will-Will oh,
Whip po' Will-Will oh!"
Whip po' Will, whip po' Will, whip po' Will-Will oh!"

From hill to hill the alarums fly,
The marshy brakes take up the cry,
And where the languid waters lie
In calm repose, and shyly speeds
The heron through the rustling reeds,
The tale of that Will o' Wisp's misdeeds
Borne on the billows;
"Whip po' Will-Will oh,
Whip po' Will-Will oh!"
Whip po' Will, whip po' Will, whip po' Will-Will oh!"

Who is this Will? What has he done?
Has he in some wild freak of fun
Made frightened children homeward run;
Or dimly glimmering through the fog
Led some lone traveler through the bog
By stagnant pool, o'er fallen log,
Tussocks of willow?
"Whip po' Will-Will oh,
Whip po' Will-Will oh!"
Whip po' Will, whip po' Will, whip po' Will-Will oh!"

Where is he now for whom they shriek?
Is he just playing hide and seek
Among the dogwoods down the creek?
Or has he sought his grotto gray,
And flung his phantom torch away,
There resting from his prankish play,
Prone on his pillow?
"Whip po' Will-Will oh,
Whip po' Will-Will oh!"
Whip po' Will, whip po' Will, whip po' Will-Will oh!"

Acetylene Gas Alcohol.

A French chemist has discovered that alcohol can be produced very simply and easily from acetyline gas, at a cost not exceeding 16 cents per gallon and that it would be free from the essences which render vegetable alcohols unwholesome as the main ingredient of liquors.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS.

counsel as they were in the choicest English, were received with unstinted applause. Speaking to the visitors from the United States, he remarked that they had adopted a monarchical form of Methodism—[laughter]—whereas Canadians were working out republican Methodism. [Applause.] Coming to the question of belief and faith, the Doctor enumerated some of the modern fallacies and fancy doctrines that some would replace Christianity with, and the religions that some would compare with Christianity. "It is Christianity or nothing," exclaimed the Doctor with great vehemence and the big audience applauded most heartily. Some of the evils which the League hoped to lessen and even abolish were then enumerated, but the appeal for the death of the liquor traffic, with its awful desolation, was greeted with longer and louder applause than any of the others. The Doctor, in concluding his eloquent welcome, referred to the question of peace and arbitration. The great heart of the people on both sides of the line was right, and he hoped that the time would come when war and war's alarms would be heard no more. [Applause.]

That old favorite, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," was sung in spirited fashion, and then followed the reading of this message from Chancellor John H. Vincent of Chautauqua:

"Chautauqua sends greeting. May the Epworth League, like the Epworth League of Love, toil in the survival of the fittest, that is the survival of those who never "fit" at all. [Laughter.] Bishop Fitzgerald expressed his views on the arbitration question as follows: Cannibalism on the Congo could not be worse than war between civilized nations. The Bishop's address throughout was interesting and humorous and withal clever-ing. His rare humor at once constituted him a general favorite with old and young, and those who will have the privilege of meeting him during his visit to Toronto cannot fail to be cheered and benefited.

Rev. Simpson Johnston of Manchester, Eng., spoke on behalf of the Wesley Guild of England, an organization similar to the Epworth League. He described its methods of work and its aims and objects. His report of its success was heartily cheered. Mr. Johnston, who is a very earnest and fluent speaker, dwelt at length upon the necessity of converting the young to Christ, keeping them in the church and giving them Christian work to do.

The meeting, which was an unbounded success, closed with a number of announcements by the chairman of interest to the delegates and the singing of the doxology.

EVENING IN MASSEY HALL.

The evening meeting in Massey Hall attracted another immense audience. A fine musical program was rendered from 7.30 to 8 o'clock, while the crowd was gathering. Miss Kate Westman's soprano solo was heartily encored. Rev. W. F. McMurray, Richmond, Ind., was chairman of the evening, and Rev. John H. Race of Binghamton, N.Y., led in the devotional exercises. Three addresses were on the program. The first was by Rev. William J. Haven, D.D., of Brookline, Mass. Mr. Haven looks like a reverend father, but when he starts talking he proves that he is a good Methodist. His subject was "Red and White." He spoke in terms of color, referring to the red as representing sacrifice and war and the white as representing purity and peace. He pointed out the beauty and sufficiency of the white life of purity, and the need of many men and women living this life and fighting against the hordes of sensuality and vice of all descriptions.

Professors Gabriel and Excell delighted the audience with a splendidly rendered duet, "Let a Little Sunshine In."

Then followed Rev. J. E. Lanceley's address, entitled "What Meaneth This Host?" Mr. Lanceley's address was a characteristic one, being novel and full of exciting allusions to modern happenings that had excited the interest of the people. After describing many kinds of hosts, including the recent Carson City host, he asked what the press at host meant. In his opinion it meant a gathering of workers for Christ who had come to meet each other, hear each other's experience and be cheered and comforted by realizing how many brothers and sisters they had with them in the work. They would go back, each to his peculiar sphere, with a firm determination to work harder than ever for the Master.

The Carlton-street Methodist Church quartet sang "In the Sweet Bye-and-Bye," to the intense delight of the audience, and Rev. W. D. Broadfield of Galveston, Texas, followed with a very learned address, entitled "Back to Christ." Mr. Broadfield is a young man, but he is a fresh, clear thinker, and is well acquainted with every phase of modern criticism. He dealt with his subject in a most exhaustive and interesting manner, and at times startled his hearers with admissions, such as that the church had been driven from many positions which it formerly held by keen criticism. The church was in retreat, but intelligent Christians knew where the retreat would end. "Back to Christ" was the cry of the age, and when He was reached the retreat would stop and critics would criticise in vain.

The meeting closed with a prayer and the singing of the doxology.

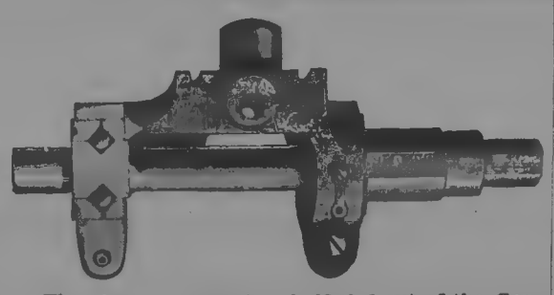
Crowded meetings were also held in the Metropolitan Church, Cook's Presbyterian Church and the Horticultural Pavilion.

The GENDRON

A Sure, Swift, Strong Mount.

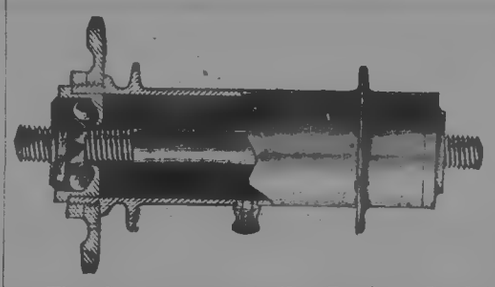
The Proof of the BEARINGS is in the Speed.

1892 4-POINT BEARING



The above represents a half size cut of the Gendron 4 point bearing, such as used on the Gendron Bicycle in 1892, discarded in 1893, adopted and PATENTED by other firms in 1895.

3-POINT BEARING 1897



The above represents the Gendron 3-point bearing, such as used on the celebrated "King of Canadian Roads," since 1892, when the 4-point bearings were then discarded as being a most miserable failure.

Some people still believe that the earth is flat. Their knowledge of natural laws is so limited that they cannot understand how men and women can walk at night when the earth is UPSIDE DOWN! The world tells them that the earth is round, but they cannot understand it, and WHAT THEY CANNOT UNDERSTAND THEY WILL NOT BELIEVE.

The cycling world tells us that the 3-point bearing is the most perfect known. Yet in the face of such odds, owners of imaginary patents have the nerve to claim that the 2 and 4-point bearings are the only good ones. Like the man who believes that the earth is flat—WHAT THEY CANNOT UNDERSTAND THEY WILL NOT BELIEVE.

All the most important events of 1896, with one exception only, have been won on the celebrated 3-point bearing Gendron Bicycle. From the Atlantic to the Pacific it holds the undisputed title of "King of Canadian Roads." It has won from the local 20-mile road race to the Dunlop Trophy Races, London and Winnipeg; from the Manitoba Provincial Tandem Championship to the Canadian Tandem Championships; from the Maritime Province Amateur Championship to the Manitoba Professional Championship. Two-thirds of all professional events of 1897 have already been won on the swift easy running Gendron, which has also captured first, second and third prizes in a Toronto 20-mile road race held recently. Yet, notwithstanding such overwhelming evidence of the superiority of the 3-point bearing over all others, some unscrupulous manufacturers would have us believe that an old-fashioned bearing, discarded by us five years ago as being only fit for a museum for antiquities, is still the best. Like the man who still wonders—WHAT THEY CANNOT UNDERSTAND THEY WILL NOT BELIEVE.

While in every part of Canada the easy-running Gendron is inflicting on their pet the most ignominious defeats, the advocates of the old-fashioned bearings will amuse themselves by showing the public how many wheels can be set in motion with a silk thread.

Now, gentlemen of the old-fashioned bearing fame, you have long been proclaiming the excellence of your bearings, now is the time to give us proofs. Show us your credentials and give the public an account of your achievements. We are weary of your silly arguments.

SUBSTANTIATE YOUR CLAIMS OR KEEP QUIET.

The Gendron 3 point Bearing Bicyle has won more races in one month than all the 4-point Bearing Bicycles put together have won in a year.

The Gendron also won recently, The 5-Mile Championship; The 3-Mile Provincial Championship, St. John, N.B.; The 1-Mile Open, Chatham; The ½ Mile Open, Chatham; The 100 Mile Race, Chatham; 5-Mile Open, St. John, N.B.; The ½-Mile Open, St. John, N.B.

FAIRWEATHER & CO.

NOTE—In addition to our discarded 4-point bearings, we still have in possession old drawings, patterns, etc., of Bicycle appliances such as used some 10 or 15 years ago. These we are prepared to dispose of at a much reduced price. In fact, we are willing to make a present of them to any antiquaries who have any use for them. GENDRON MFG. CO. LTD., TORONTO, ONT.

BERESFORD'S CRITICISM.

Colonies Would Do Better to Equip Naval Bases Than to Present Warships.

London, July 15.—Lord Charles Beresford has written a letter in reference to the magnificent offer of Cape Colony to present a first-class battleship to Great Britain, in which he deprecated the fact that the other colonies are hurrying to imitate the Cape, because, as he says, in the event of war strategic reasons might require the removal of the fleet from colonial waters, leaving the colonies open to hostile attacks; and this might cause soreness and misunderstanding on the part of the officials of the colonies, which had contributed to the purchase of ironclads. It would be much better, says Lord Beresford, for the colonies to provide well fortified and equipped naval bases where a fleet could be repaired and refitted in the shortest possible time. The increasing of such bases would do more to strengthen the Empire than the enlargement of the fleet; and Lord Beresford thinks it would have been wiser to spend £1,000,000 in making the Cape more effective as a naval base.

A Touching Letter of Gratitude From the Queen

TO HER MILLIONS OF SUBJECTS

London Papers Comment Bitterly on the Note Sent by Secretary Sherman Regarding the Seal Question—Frank Butler, the Australian Bush Murderer, Executed.

London, July 16.—A special supplement to The Gazette publishes the following letter from the Queen to Sir Matthew White Ridley, the Home Secretary, dated Windsor, July 15:

"I have frequently expressed my personal feelings to my people, and though on this memorable occasion there have been many official expressions of my deep sense of the unbounded loyalty evinced, I cannot rest satisfied without personally giving utterance to these sentiments. It is difficult for me on this occasion to say how truly touched and grateful I am for the spontaneous and universal outburst of loyal attachment and real affection experienced on the completion of the sixtieth year of my reign.

"During my progress through London on the 22nd of June this great enthusiasm was shown in the most striking manner, and can never be effaced from my heart. It is indeed deeply gratifying, after so many years of labor and anxiety for the good of my beloved country, to find that my exertions have been appreciated throughout my vast empire. In weal and woe I have ever had the true sympathy of my people, which has been warmly reciprocated by myself.

"It has given me unbounded pleasure to see so many of my subjects from all parts of the world assembled here and to find them joining in acclamations of loyal devotion to myself, and I would wish to thank them all from the depth of my grateful heart.

"I shall ever pray God to bless them and to enable me still to discharge my duties for their welfare as long as life lasts."

KILLED TOO PEOPLE.

Frank Butler, the Australian Bush Murderer, Executed on Thursday.

London, July 16.—A despatch from Sydney, N.S.W., says that Frank Butler, the Australian bush murderer, was executed yesterday. He confessed to having committed four murders.

The crime for which Butler paid the death penalty was the murder of Captain Lee Weller, whom he induced to go with him on a prospecting tour and whom he shot after they had arrived in the bush. After the murder of Captain Weller, Butler escaped from Australia on the ship Swanhilda, but upon the arrival of that vessel at San Francisco, on Feb. 2 last, he was arrested and subsequently extradited. The plea of the defence at the trial was that Captain Weller committed suicide. Among the murders with which Butler was charged was that of a metallurgist named O. G. T. Preston.

Early on the morning of his conviction Butler attempted to cut his throat with a piece of tin, but was seized before he had done himself any serious injury. Later he made the most violent resistance to his keepers while on the way to the court house. He fought with them like a wild beast, and was with difficulty subdued. The murders committed by Butler are among the most coldblooded on record.

MAJOR PERLEY IS DEAD.

The Well-Known Canadian Engineer Succumbs in London to Bronchitis.

London, July 16.—Major Perley, the well known Canadian, died of bronchitis last night at Bisley.

The deceased, who was a civil engineer by profession, was sent to Bisley by the Dominion Government to superintend the erection at Bisley of the permanent building for the accommodation of the rifle team which goes annually to the great shooting contest. Major Perley served for several years in the 43rd Battalion, and retired with the rank of major, though placed on the reserve of officers some time since. He was a member of the Council of the D. R. A., and took a great interest in rifle shooting, being the author of many newspaper articles and letters on the subject. To many of the Toronto militia force he was well known and his loss will be greatly regretted.

Major Perley's funeral will be a military one, and will take place at Brookwood Cemetery at 3 o'clock Sunday.

Kolapore Cup Captured by the Victoria Team—New Zealand Second.

Bisley Camp, July 16. (Telegram Cable.) For the Kolapore Cup to-day ten teams were entered, the largest number that ever shot in this competition. The Jubilee festivities brought representatives from faraway India, Australia and other places that otherwise would not have been present. The following were entries: Mother Country, Canada, India, Victoria, New Zealand, Cape Colony, Queensland, Natal, Jersey and Guernsey.

The match is called after the Rajah of Kolapore, who established the event in 1871. In addition the National Rifle Association adds a colonial prize of £80 for the Indian or Colonial team making the highest aggregate score. The cup is shot for at 200, 500 and 600 yards, seven shots at each distance, the highest possible attainable being 840 marks. The competition is restricted to efficient volunteers in teams of eight as follows: One team of volunteers from the Mother Country, one team from the militia or volunteers of any British colony or dependency, and one team from members home on leave of the Indian staff corps, or of the covenanted or uncovenanted Indian service or Indian volunteers, or of all four.

Score of the Canadians.

London, July 16. (Associated Press Reports.) In the competition for the Kolapore Cup at Bisley today, open to teams from the Mother Land, India and the colonies with seven rounds each at distances of 200, 500 and 600 yards, there were ten entries.

The Victoria team won, with a total of 751. The New Zealand team came second with a total of 748, and the Canadian team third with a total of 735.

The following are the individual scores of the Canadian team:

NOTHING WILL BE DONE.

British Government Will Not Prosecute the South Africa Officials.

London, July 16.—In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Balfour, the Government leader, said in reply to a question on the subject, that the Government did not intend to institute any prosecutions as the result of the report of the select South African Committee.

Speaker Gully, replying to Mr. Labouchere, ruled that as the committee had not reported the contumacy of Mr. R. F. Hawksley, the attorney of Cecil Rhodes, for refusing to produce certain telegrams at the time the offence was committed, the question of summoning him to the bar of the House of Commons could not now be raised.

MASSACRE ALL BUT ENGLISH

Is the Advice of the Chiefs of the Tanalos Tribe in Madagascar.

Paris, July 16.—Figaro publishes a proclamation, alleged to have been issued by the chiefs of the Tanalos tribe of Madagascar, inciting their followers to massacre all the Europeans in the island, with the exception of the English, who, according to the proclamation, must be regarded as "allies of the Malagasies."

Commenting upon the activity of English intrigues in the island, Figaro adds: "Whenever the natives revolt against us, we find them in alliance with the British."

DISASTROUS EARTHQUAKE.

A Town in Austria Nearly Destroyed—Eighty Large Chimneys Fell.

Vienna, July 16.—A violent shock of earthquake visited the town of Laibach, 35 miles northeast of Trieste, at 7 o'clock this morning. Many houses were reduced to ruins and the inhabitants were thrown into a panic. The damage is widespread and very heavy. The shock lasted six seconds. Scarcely a house in the town remains intact. Eighty chimneys, including several factory stacks, fell. The collections in the museums were thrown together pell mell, and many of the articles were shattered. Great cracks were made in two church steeples. After remaining for hours on the streets, the inhabitants are now returning to their houses.

JACK M'LEAN'S ESCAPE.

The Police Commissioners Find That There Was Gross Carelessness—Too Much Figurehead at Headquarters.

Toronto, July 17.

The circumstances connected with the escape of the notorious criminal, Albert W. McLean, from Police Headquarters last Monday were gone into thoroughly by the Police Commissioners yesterday morning.

The finding of the board was "that Inspector Stephen was guilty of gross carelessness in allowing iron stakes to be left in the corridor at all, and particularly in letting them remain there for seven weeks. The board regrets that so careful and efficient an officer as the inspector has been should be thoughtless enough and by his carelessness indirectly allow a criminal to escape. The board recommends that the door in the basement be strengthened and that the weakness in the cell bars should be immediately remedied."

EPWORTH LEAGUERS.

Some Splendid Meetings in Toronto Yesterday.

GREAT CROWDS IN ATTENDANCE.

Speeches by Eminent Men From Both Sides of the Line and Papers Read and Discussed—Sunrise Prayer and Praise Meetings in Park and Church.

Toronto, July 17.

The Epworth Leaguers yesterday had a day after their own heart. Often had they sung "Early in the morning our song shall rise to Thee," and quite a number of them fulfilled this promise to the astonishment of those who were uninitiated. Soon after day broke youthful enthusiasts—sisters as well as brothers—hied them to the Armouries, and the big hall resounded with holy chant and psalm and invocations on the day's proceedings. Then the bugles sounded and, under the escort of the Toronto Methodist Cyclists' Union, they sped "so early in the morning" to High Park. Here in Nature's Cathedral, amid the fragrant foliage and the sun-bathed scene, the voice of prayer arose subduing the matins of the birds and causing wonderment to the rustics on the way to their day's toil. But there was praise as well as prayer, and the sweet, old, familiar strains of "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "Stand Up, Stand Up," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Blest Be the Tie," arose on the morning air and echoed through the woodland glades. "Testimonies," all to the same effect, were given by speakers from all quarters of the compass, and let us hope that blessings more plentiful than hope were rife.

A little later similar scenes were enacted down town in Elm street and Metropolitan Churches, and thus good preparatory work was done for the day's proceedings.

The joint committee appointed by the cabinet to select the next place of meeting of the convention decided on Indianapolis. The other candidates for the honor were New York, Seattle and Omaha.

AT MASSEY HALL.

Three Highly Successful Meetings Were Held Here Yesterday.

There was an interesting conference in Massey Hall in the morning on spiritual work. Rev. G. S. Clendennan, Ottawa, was chairman. Papers were read by Rev. H. M. Dubois, Jackson, Miss.; Mr. C. E. German, Strathroy; Miss Grace Putnam, Chattanooga; Mr. Charles O. Stonnard, St. Louis; Rev. Frank Gary, Galveston, Texas, and Rev. J. O. Knott.

The immense audience at the afternoon meeting at Massey Hall seemed to argue that hundreds of delegates are arriving every day to join in this great convention. Many were turned away, and sought admittance to some of the other meetings. The song service preliminary to the regular program was joined in by the thousands who came early and secured seats. This song service has come to be one of the most enjoyable features of the day's program. The enthusiasm of the delegates finds welcome vent in the singing of the good old hymns.

The venerable Bishop J. M. Walden acted as chairman of this meeting, and the devotions were conducted by Rev. J. W. Newman, Birmingham, Ala. The meeting proved a bright, interesting and helpful one. The subject of discussion for the afternoon was "Christ For The World." The first topic, "Christ In Personal Experience," was dealt with by Rev. S. T. Westhafer, Chattanooga, Tenn.

During the intermission the following message of greeting was read and received with applause:

"Fellow Laborers—The District of Columbia Christian Endeavor Union sends fraternal and Christian greeting. From past experience we know what you can do. Yours for Christ and the Church. Anson S. Taylor, first vice-president."

The reply adopted was as follows:

"Thirty thousand Epworth Leaguers return kindly greeting with the assurance that they will unite with you in winning the world for Christ."

The next topic—"Christ in the Home"—was dealt with by Rev. J. H. Riddle, B.D., Winnipeg. Mr. Riddle is a muscular divine and a strong and eloquent pleader in the cause.

Chaplain Lozier of Mount Vernon entertained the audience with a sentimental song, written by himself, entitled, "Your Mother's Apron Strings." The chaplain has a fine voice, and the song was thoroughly enjoyed.

"The Leaguer in Politics" was the topic chosen by F. D. Fuller, a young layman of Topeka, Kan. He pleaded for more active interest on the part of Leaguers and Christians generally in politics. It was a high and inalienable duty that Christians should exercise their citizenship, and see to it that good men were put into public office. He had heard that the young people of Toronto had been taken to task because they were too active in the recent Sunday car contest, not being taxpayers or voters. Well, they would be taxpayers and voters some day, and it was perfectly proper that they should interest themselves in such matters. (Applause.) In his opinion Sunday cars had carried because too many Christians had neglected to go to the polls.

Professors Excell and Gabriel favored the audience with a duet entitled "His Love Can Never Fail." Their rendition of this beautiful song was heartily applauded.

Rev. W. Sparling of Quebec spoke on the topic "Christlikeness in Spirit and Service."

Rev. Charles B. Mitchell of Minne-

So thoroughly related is the nervous system to disease that some physicians prescribe Hypophosphites alone in the early stages of Consumption. GUARDING THE TREASURY.

It has been said, remarks the Montreal Herald, that governments cannot be conducted successfully unless they continually placate their supporters. By placate we take it to be meant the expenditure of public money upon projects whose claims are presented by a Government's friends. As against this notion the Government of Ontario is standing proof. That Government has, for over a score of years, conducted the business of that province on business principles. A common plaint of some Liberal politicians in Ontario is that if a Conservative tenderer for any public work is lower than his Liberal rival he gets the contract; also that if a Liberal wants any public money expended in his constituency it is as difficult to get it done as though it was asked by the Government's opponents.

The Government of Quebec seems determined to follow the Ontario Government's good example. Of course, a new broom sweeps clean. But it is a good omen that Mr. Marchaud and his colleagues are endeavouring, even at the risk of alienating those political friends whose first thought is of self, to inaugurate a new era at Quebec. It is clearly the duty of all good citizens to assist them in withstanding the demands of importunate friends.

We have reason to know that the Government are taking the ground that they were elected to economise, to retrench, and to establish an equilibrium between receipts and expenditures. Such a position is foreign to the traditions of latter-day statesmanship of this Province, and some people consider it untenable. Time will tell. Meanwhile, Mr. Marchand is entitled to the support and sympathy of all patriotic citizens.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE new pastor of the Bond street Congregationalist church, Toronto, (of which Rev. Dr. Wild was prophet at one time), who was imported from Detroit, prefers being called "Mr." Morgan Wood instead of "Rev." Morgan Wood. The wishes of so modest a clerical gentlemen should be respected. No man knows better than himself whether he deserves the title, "reverend."

"THE trouble with Mr. Whitney's addresses is that he does not make clear either the nature of the defects in the education machine or of the remedies which he would apply," says the Toronto Star. "That's Mr. Whitney all over," adds the St. Thomas Journal, underneath and around. He won't say what he'll do, but he says he'll do something."

SIR WILFRED seems determined to be premier in more than name. He declines very positively to ratify the Cabinet changes made by Conservative news mongers and journalistic inventors. He also declines to approve of the recall of Sir Donald Smith (or Lord Glencoe, if that's his title) and the appointment of Sir Richard Cartwright as Canadian High Commissioner in London.

GRACEFUL, courteous, and, above all, truthful, was the tribute the Hon. Edward Blake paid the Canadian Premier at the Dominion Day banquet, in London, in these words:—"I have had occasion to vindicate my French-Canadian fellow-countrymen in the House of Commons and elsewhere, but here to-night, in the presence of their most illustrious son, the Prime Minister of United Canada, after his speech, they need no other vindication. He is their vindication. He is my proof."

THERE are many indications of returning good times. Among others it may be noted: The total tonnage of ships entering the port of Montreal since the opening of navigation up to July 1st, is a little over four hundred thousand, or between fifty and seventy thousand more than during a corresponding period in any of the last three years. The Elder, Dempster Company has ordered two new large steamers for the trans-Atlantic trade. This is certainly an indication that trade is reviving.

EXTRAORDINARY demonstrations of welcome which are being planned in Montreal and Toronto to honour Hon. N. Clarke Wallace on his return in August from the Triennial Council of Orangemen at Glasgow will, it is said, be the active commencement of the boom to make the Grand Sovereign the leader of the Conservative party in the Dominion. Mr. Foster is the other candidate for the supremacy. The "Cumberland war-horse" is, figuratively speaking, to be turned out to grass, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper is an impossibility, Mr. Haggart is not in the running, Mr. Chapleau doesn't want it, and therefore it comes to this, that the contest is between the gentlemen mentioned.

THE United States is indeed the land of liberty. The President is expressly forbidden to leave the country, so that if President McKinley wished to take the liberty to come to sample the fish at Chemong, he can't do so. That's where the liberty of the President is trammelled. If the people of the United States, through their representatives, pass a law, the President can veto it by an exercise of autocratic power that even the Queen of England does not wield, and only the Sultan of Turkey exercises. That's where the liberty of the people is trammelled. Yet "Liberty" is written on every two-penny coin in the country,-is blazoned on every beer bottle and bar of soap, and the eagle screeches it from every hill top every morning.

Thinks as Highly of Paine's Celery Compound as He Did Years Ago.

Mr. J. T. Dillon, Chairman of the Board of Assessors of the City of Montreal, is one of the best known and most popular citizens of the great metropolis.

As Mr. Dillon had some years ago given public testimony regarding the life-giving virtues of Paine's Celery Compound, he was recently asked if his opinion had in any way changed as far as the value of the great curing medicine is concerned.

Mr. Dillon's reply was prompt, and his statement as strong as words could make it. His brief letter read as follows:

"I am in receipt of your valued favour, and would say that I most cheerfully testify again to the worth, value and merits of Paine's Celery Compound.

"I am never without a bottle of it in my possession, and I partake of it daily. This I have been in the habit of doing for some seven years, and can affirm that, judging from experience, it is a most wonderful nerve restorer and tonic. Hardly a day passes by me that I am not asked the question, "What do you do to yourself to preserve your youthful appearance?" My reply is, "I take Paine's Celery Compound."

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

Clear Evidence.

Prisoner: I'm Pat Murphy, your honor.

Begorra, your honor. I live next door to Pat Murphy.—Punch.

Very Romantic.

"Wasn't that romantic?" said the elderly maiden boarder.

"Wasn't what romantic?" growled the bachelor boarder, as there was no one else at the table to pay attention to the lady's question.

"Here is a story of a man who put down his wife's name in his tax list and valued her at $1,000,000."

"Huh! I'll bet he is figuring on letting the taxes go delinquent and having her sold."

MUST BE DISSOLVED.

Kidney Disease Can Only be Cured by a Remedy Which is in Liquid Form—Common Sense of Science.

For a disordered stomach or sick headache, pills and powders are not without effect, but when these same remedies are said to cure kidney disease the common sense of science rebukes the claim. This insidious and growing disease will not be driven from the system unless a medicine is given that will dissolve the hard substance—uric acid and oxalate of lime—that give rise to the distress and pain that is common to all who suffer from kidney complaint. South American Kidney Cure is a kidney specific. It dissolves these hard substances, and while it dissolves it also heals. The cures effected leaves no question of its efficacy. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS.

ohs, an eloquent young divine, was the last speaker. His topic was "The Mission and Motive."

Mission Hall has been packed at every meeting since the convention opened, but last night it was overpacked. To the afternoon meetings were attracted many, and in the evening thousands were unable to gain admittance. With the exception, perhaps, of the welcome meeting, which was the finest of the series, the gathering last night was the most enthusiastic and spirited of them all.

The topic for the evening was "The World for Christ" and three able speakers addressed the audience on this subject. Rev. Dr. Sutherland of Toronto was first called upon. He gave one of the finest addresses that the Leaguers have had the privilege of listening to. He dwelt upon the certainty of God's kingdom being set up upon earth and the church's paramount duty to preach the gospel. The great missionary movement of the age, he claimed, had its birth in the spirit of Wesley.

Speaking of missionaries, he said that only the best men should be sent to the mission fields. There was no use of sending men who had never been of any service to Christ at home.

These were days when everything was being shaken that could be shaken. Well, he was willing to have things shaken that could be shaken. Truth would survive all shakings. [Applause.] Referring to the statement of a celebrated writer that the Old Testament was the millstone of Christianity, Dr. Sutherland added that the New Testament was the other stone and between the two God would grind to finest powder the sophistry of the critics. [Applause and cheers.]

Rev. W. P. Thirkield of Atlanta, Ga., followed with some trenchant thoughts upon the same subject.

Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education for Ontario, gave a short, eloquent address, which was heartily applauded.

AT THE METROPOLITAN.

Important Papers and Discussion Morning, Afternoon and Evening.

The Metropolitan Church was crowded at 9.30 yesterday morning at the meeting of the literary section. Rev. T. J. Barr, Merritton, presided. Admirable addresses were given by Bishop John Hirst of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Bishop Fitzgerald, Mr. Elvin Swirthout, Grand Rapids.

Hon. William L. Woodcock of Altoona, Pa., spoke upon "Lectures and Lecture Courses," and Mr. H. A. Schrotter of Covington, Ky., on "How to Manage a Reading Circle."

Rev. James G. Campbell, Ph. D., Rephi, Ind., spoke upon "The Value of Literary Work in the League."

Books at Reading.

This was the subject treated by Mr. J. Macdonald Oxley, Montreal. The excessive indulgence in newspaper, magazine and novel reading, he said, was the most menacing characteristic of the present age intellectually. He urged his hearers to have their own books, not to rely too much upon libraries, and, even if they had to go without the latest make of bicycle, not to be without some shelves of good books, and to carefully guard the reading of their children and of themselves.

Rev. Dr. Dewart emphasized the necessity of wise reading.

It was unanimously decided that Mr. Macdonald Oxley's paper should be printed in full.

Prof. H. N. Snyder of Spartanburg, S. C., dealt with "Methods of Literary Work." He criticized the present work of the League, because it was confined to Methodist books and Methodist theology. He appealed for definiteness, interest, variety and flexibility in the literary work of the League.

Mr. Cody of Illinois went further than the reader of the paper in regard to the scope of the League catalogue, and insisted that it not only should not be limited to Methodist books, but should not be confined to belles lettres.

At yesterday afternoon's rally at the Metropolitan there was not so much to enthuse over, but there was a deal of common-sense expression of opinion. The meeting was taken up with the study of Christ, as exemplified in the various phases of modern life, and many were the signs of approbation.

A unique little incident preceded the regular exercises. Mr. Frank S. Moore, Roseburg, Oregon, presented to Chairman Rev. R. N. Burns, on behalf of the Epworthians of Oregon, a gavel made from the wood of the first apple tree planted west of the Rocky Mountains. The chairman accepted it on behalf of the conference.

"Christ in the Home" was the subject discussed by R. S. Copeland, M. D., Ann Arbor, Mich. He proved the emancipating and elevating influence of Christ in a home by comparisons of the homes of Christian and heathen lands, by a reference to the French, who had no term synonymous with the English word home. The consequence of this disregard for home ties was national degradation.

In a pointed address on "Christ in Business," Mr. Fred Daly, a fair-complexioned, thoughtful-looking young man from London, Ont., exhorted the Leaguers to remember that Christ was alive and that He was in all as well as over all. Concluding, he touched upon the sociological problem, urging shorter hours of work.

The seemingly paradoxical topic of "Christ in Politics" was ably dealt with by Rev. W. B. Slotz, D. D., Wichita, Kansas.

When the next speaker, a dusky scion of African stock, arose to the forum he received the ovation of the day. Rev. McB. Mason, D. D., is the corresponding secretary of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society of Cincinnati, Ohio. He is considerable of a Fred Douglas in his way, too. After capturing the vast audience by the remark that it made him blush to meet with such a reception, he proceeded with a disquisition on "Christlikeness in Spirit and Service." He has, like the majority of the sons of Ham, a strong voice, but somewhat husky. Christ was the friend and companion, the brother and the guide of man. When these facts were recognized a new day would dawn upon the poor, the oppressed and the unfortunate, and a new interpretation of the truths of the gospel will be seen in the personal character of men. Distant fields would again pass away and the cold and passionless life of the church find new fire.

When the Chautauqua salute had been offered as a tribute to African genius, a missionary address by Rev. W. J. Carpenter, Orlando, Florida, concluded the meeting, which, after the Leaguers had been duly warned against pickpockets, dispersed.

The addresses at the Metropolitan Church last evening were bright, logical and convincing. The church was as usual filled to its capacity, and, although there was no central feature of the service, the interest did not relax until the end.

AT THE PAVILION.

Interesting Papers and Discussions Yesterday Afternoon and Evening.

Although the weather was very warm, the Pavilion was well filled at yesterday afternoon's meeting. The chair was occupied by a young Texan, Mr. R. M. Kelley, Longview, who announced the meeting open by asking the audience to rise and sing, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," his request being heartily responded to by the vast throng of ardent sympathizers.

"Christ in Personal Experience" was the theme on which Rev. S. G. Bland, B.A., Smith's Falls, spoke.

"Christ in the Home" was the title of the address of Rev. J. F. Stout, D.D., St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. Bruce L. Bryce, Clarksville, Tenn., spoke on "Christ in Politics."

Rev. W. H. Jordan, D. D., Sioux Falls, S.D., spoke on "Christlikeness in Spirit and Service." This was a theme not only of to-day but of every day. The church never passed under a closer and more serious scrutiny than it does to-day. It isn't the outward appearances of wealth or numbers that impresses the world; that which does impress it and that which shall give grand triumphant victory is the Christlikeness in our spirit and in our service.

Dr. G. F. Sutton, Ph. D., St. Thomas, was the last speaker, who delivered an able address on "The Missionary Impulse and Motive."

The largest meeting that has yet been held in the Pavilion was that of last night, both galleries being crowded to their utmost capacity, the aisles downstairs all being greatly thronged.

It was a grand sight and the enthusiasm that at first pervaded the meeting was conveyed to all, as the large hall filled up, and it is safe to say no more enthusiastic meeting has so far been held.

Rev. Dr. Palmer, New York, was the first speaker, who devoted his remarks to mission work. "The World for Christ," said the speaker. "What a thought. Surely no nobler thought can enter the Christian's mind. In our times it is a question of men and money. In the Lord's time they had no money, but they had a large amount of hospitality."

Rev. Dr. Henderson, Toronto, thought the present a supreme time in Methodism. In the time of Wesley, he and his coadjutors were principally revivalists and it was not too much to say that that period was never surpassed. The present is the philanthropic, the practical age upon which we are entering. God can never touch humanity except through the medium of the human touch. The work of the human church is just as essential as that of the Divine Christ. Modern missions show us where true nobility is to be found. Mission work is not a failure and never did this weary world pant for God as it does at the present time. A noted atheist has said that never has Jesus been more popular than at the close of the 19th century.

"The Land of the Maple," was then rendered by Mr. Fred Warrington, the audience joining in the chorus.

Rev. Dr. McFerrin, Louisville, Ky., followed with a word for Christ.

AT COOKE'S CHURCH.

Topics at the Morning, Afternoon and Evening Meetings Yesterday.

Mr. G. N. Hart of Pine Bluff, Ark., conducted the morning session in Cooke's Church, which was filled, but not crowded.

The importance of social life in the church formed the subject for the first address, delivered by Mr. A. F. Swenerton of Halifax, N.S., and during its course he urged upon Epworth Leaguers the necessity of looking after the unfortunate ones in their various meeting places, believing that neglect and slight on the part of the most favored is a great barrier to the poor entering into the precincts of church societies. He also reminded the ministers that they should take a more vigorous part in the games of the young people than in the past.

The question drawer, conducted by Rev. J. J. Redditt of Brampton, Ont., afforded much amusement.

The afternoon gathering was rather slim, many delegates discovering late in the day that there were cooler places in the city of their visit than a crowded building, and that our parks and water reaches were infinitely more interesting than convention proceedings, be they ever so progressively philanthropic.

Miss Emma Tucker of Atlanta, Ga., in the soft, pleasing voice of the South, spoke on the subject of Christ in the Home.

"Don't be satisfied to live next door to a home where Christ is not," was her advice, "for it is your blessed privilege to introduce him there."

"Christ in Business" was talked about by Rev. J. W. Mahood, D.D., of Webster City, Ia. He stated as his opinion that the biggest gambling institutions of to-day are our boards of trade.

Strongly did the speaker condemn those who desecrate the Sabbath for gain, on the plea of necessity, which he considers for the most part hypocrisy.

Dr. A. W. Thornton followed upon the topic of "Christ in Politics," the great flaw in the science of government being the accursed partyism, he said.

Rev. J. A. Rice, president of the Columbia Female College, S. C., in extolling Christlikeness said it should not be so much the utterly selfish question "How can I keep out of Hell?" but, "How can I help others up who are down?"

Rev. J. C. Murray, D.D., of South Atlanta, Ga., finished the afternoon, dealing with the missionary subject.

In the evening Bishop Hurst occupied the chair at Cooke's Church. Rev. Dr. Smith of Lynchburg, Va., who was expected to address the audience, had not arrived in the city, so Bishop Walden of Cincinnati had more time than he had counted upon in which to deliver his lecture on Africa.

Rev. D. S. Houck of Picton, Ont., president of the Bay of Quinte District E. L., offered a brief prayer, and then Bishop Walden was called upon.

He believes firmly that Africa will be the great missionary field of the future.

Old Fogy and Short-sighted Merchants.

The manufacturers of Diamond Dyes receive letter orders every day from country places for Diamond Dyes. Ladies say their village store keeper has been talked into buying one of the very inferior makes put up to outwardly imitate the world famed Diamond Dyes. They have tried these dyes, and the result was failure and loss of goods.

These country store-keepers (many of them) will not put in a stock of Diamond Dyes until they get rid of their poor goods. This means loss of trade to the short-sighted dealer. Diamond Dyes are certainly the favourites in country, town and city, and all live merchants sell them.

Any lady in the country who cannot obtain Diamond Dyes from her dealer can write to Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, for the colour required, stating whether it is to dye wool, cotton or silk, and the dyes will be sent by mail.

The Telegraph in Venezuela.

Announcement is made that a syndicate has secured from the Venezuelan Government a concession which gives it a complete monopoly of telegraph, cable and telephone lines in Venezuela. The concession is for thirty years, and the syndicate has to pay the Government of Venezuela $150,000 a year. The syndicate will take over the existing lines which are owned by the Government, and at the end of thirty years the lines will revert to the Government on the payment by the latter to the syndicate of their appraised value.

Rapid Cable Laying.

An English naval officer has designed a system of rapid cable laying for war purposes, the idea being that in future naval operations it will be of advantage for a naval commander-in-chief to have at his disposal a means of establishing communication with either his base or outlying picket ships at a moderate distance, say from 200 to 500 miles. With the new system it is possible to lay such a cable in deep water at the fastest speed yet attained by any war-ship.

The Generous Band.

The public spirit of the Fire Brigade band is demonstrated by the fact that they give their weekly band concerts in the park free of charge, while in other cities the bands have to be paid—no pay no concert. Live Stock Notes.

On Saturday last Mr. H. P. Kennedy shipped seven carloads of stockers (300 head) per C. P. R. to the Buffalo market. Prices for this class of stock have again weakened about 25 to 30 cents per cwt., as the season is getting late for the American farmers to buy cattle to put on grass. To-day Mr. Kennedy expects to ship the largest consignment of the season, between 400 and 500 head. Unless the market improves, which is not likely, this will be his last large shipment, as the new tariff may take effect now any day.

The Tent Caterpillar.

The tent caterpillar has disappeared, but, though its ravages for this season are over, it is preparing for a vigourous campaign next summer. The caterpillar now surrounds himself with a cocoon, and will develop into a small moth, which will lay about 400 or 500 eggs. These eggs will hatch into caterpillars. So it will be seen that one cocoon destroyed means the death of about 500 prospective caterpillars. Every citizen who owns or values shade trees should make a systematic attack on the cocoons. They are to be found on the underside of the rails of fences and other similar places, in safe positions from the weather. Every cocoon should be destroyed. Now is the time to begin it. The town authorities should make some effort to secure systematic attention to the destruction of these cocoons. A little expenditure of time will result in averting a great danger to our beautiful street trees, the finest of any town in Canada.

DECORATION CEREMONIES AT THE L. L. CEMETERY.

ODDFELLOWS AND CITIZENS PAY TRIBUTE TO THE DEPARTED DEAD.

The Ceremony as Conducted by the Oddfellows Takes Place in the Evening, and Hundreds of Citizens were Present.

Decoration Day exercises, which are now recognized by the entire community, took place at the Little Lake cemetery last evening, when the ceremony of decorating the graves of the departed dead was generally observed by the citizens.

The cemetery was a beautiful sight—for although the day was established by the Oddfellows, yet the custom is of so pleasing a nature as to lead to its universal adoption, and by far the greater majority of the graves were visited during the evening and upon them were laid floral tributes of loving remembrance.

The solemn and impressive ceremony of the Oddfellows, which usually takes place in the afternoon, was postponed until the cool shades of the evening, and in consequence the attendance was far greater. The stores were closed at six o'clock in observance of the occasion.

The two local lodges of the I. O. O. F. assembled at about half-past six in the Central Park when, headed by the Canton in full uniform, and the Fire Brigade Band, they marched to the cemetery, each member carrying a large and handsome bouquet of flowers.

ON THE ARRIVAL of the procession at the cemetery the members of the Canton formed up on either side of the roadway and the members of the two lodges passed beneath their crossed swords. In front of the stone steps leading up to the chapel, the procession halted and was addressed as follows by Mr. J. Wesley Miller acting as Noble Grand:

My Brethren: Before we proceed with the duties of the day, and place over the mortal remains of our departed friends, the floral tributes we have brought, let us invoke the Divine blessing.

Rev. A. T. Dykeman then offered the following prayer:—O, Thou Great and Eternal God, our Father, Creator and Preserver of the Universe, look down and bless us in the solemn services of Decoration Day. Wilt thou give us grace to emulate the virtues of our brothers sleeping in peace beneath the silent sod? And while we pay our tribute to their memory, may we never forget that reverence for the dead is best shown by care for the living. Bless the widow and the orphan; and raise them up kind friends in their hour of need. And may we, together with our departed brethren, gain admittance to the Celestial lodge above—there to be with Thee forever.

The band struck up with the hymn,

"NEARER MY GOD TO THEE,"

which was sung by the brethren, after which the procession was divided into four sections, each of which was accompanied by a Noble Grand and an escort from the Canton. The latter crossed swords over the grave of the deceased brother, when the Noble Grand deposited the flowers upon it, pronouncing the words: "Peace to this man's memory; let it grow greener with years and blossom through the flight of ages."

Subjoined is a list of the deceased Oddfellows' graves decorated. The last two names have been added since last Decoration Day:

The four sections then reassembled in front of a platform which had been erected on the terrace east of the chapel, where they were briefly addressed by Mr. Miller who exhorted them to so live that it would be no idle thing to say that they were Oddfellows and the world might be benefitted by them. He then introduced pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, who in referring to the solemn memories which the occasion invoked, reminded those present that there were also many things in connection with the day which should be pleasing and gratifying.

It was the right and privilege of all to hold in memory dear those with whom they had been associated, but had been called away by death. It was right because of their relationship to God. It was right because of our relationship to them; because of the recognised fatherhood of God and the fact that we are thus all of one family, although divided by the narrow river of death. It was not only right but a privilege to remember the loved ones with whom we had been associated in bygone days. It introduced a reflex influence into our lives. It was impossible to entertain these feelings without there being a reflex influence of tender emotions. We were governed by circumstances and these emotions of the heart and soul awakening sympathy with others must be for our good.

We need that kind of thing in our lives. There are those with whom we have to associate who may have such characteristics that prevent us harmonizing with them and hardens our hearts, but a day such as this revives tender and sad memories, which makes us forget these matters of the world and leads us to think of the great eternity.

We are assembled, concluded Mr. Dykeman, under the auspices of a noble order, the principles of which are of such a character, as to help us obey Him along the line He indicates. Friendship, love and truth are three great governing powers in a man's life, and there is yet another character of the Oddfellows to which attention is directed by the ceremonies of the day—not only the living but the dead are cared for.

REV. J. C. DAVIDSON,

rector of St. John's, in addressing those assembled, remarked on the fact that for six or seven years past it had been his privilege to be present each season with the Oddfellows and with them commemorate the day in the most suitable and apt way in which they observed it. It must be a matter of gratification, he thought, to the Order to observe that the day had been taken up by the citizens in general, and now not only the Oddfellows' graves were remembered on Decoration Day, but those of many others as well.

The present year had been one in which much expression had been given to loyalty. The air was full of it. One person had come before all as she never before had done—our beloved Queen. He felt sure that the hearts of all had throbbed towards her with feelings of loyalty, warmth, love and devotion. She moved in a sphere higher than that in which we are allowed to move, but she comes before us all as though we were at her side. You are separated from some one else than the Queen and you are reminded of it to-night when recalling the bygone years and voices silent till judgment day. Though separated from them, yet they come before us plainly and distinctly, and to them our feelings go out as to our beloved Queen. Though separated from us by the river, though they move in a higher sphere, yet to us they are still real persons, and live in a real place, and it is some comfort to be assured of this fact. Our hearts can go out to those who have gone before. They are in Paradise—those who have left us and the King, himself goes out from his palace gate to hold sweet communion with their spirits.

How can we best show our loyalty and love to those who have departed?

We have already shown it in a very beautiful way this evening, and we ask cannot they look down and seeing us appreciate this little act of love?

There is also another way of showing our love for them—by caring for the living. Their relatives may be left poor and unprotected.

The feeling of loyalty which has animated us all has had another effect besides that of drawing our feelings towards our Queen. It has had the effect of drawing Canada and Australia and the other colonies together as one.

So it is this evening. We are all drawn together. May we leave this cemetery more closely banded together as citizens of the town than ever before.

REV. J. G. POTTER,

of St. Andrew's church, referred to the object of the assemblage as being a most commendable one from every point of view.

We are gathered together, said he, to look upon the spot where a loved one is buried and cheering is it to know that through the principles of our noble order these places this evening become of especial interest to us. Now that they are no more we join together to do honour to their memory and keep fresh the bonds of Friendship, Love and Truth. Some of us are bound by even stronger ties than fraternity and what a glow it sends to our hearts to see a day set apart which we can devote to the memory of one who is loved and gone. We mourn those whose departure darkened our home, yet such occasions as these are like rays of sunshine into a darkened life and though nothing can compensate for the loss, yet a bond is re-established on this day and we feel that we can say:—"The Lord hath given, the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the Lord."

By these flowers so beautifully pure much is suggested—the living only to die—the glory and grandeur of immortality and the ever living reminder of the Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley.

To-night our eyes are graveward, and this reminds us that our lives are also tending graveward. Each may now be standing on the spot where this this time next year there may be a mound containing their mortal remains. It is a solemn thought. If this should be the case, may we be worthy of such esteem and consideration as is shown the departed brethren this evening.

In this city of the dead we are in the world of life.

These graves gain even greater lustre when the one who is laid beneath the sod is of worthy character.

Let us remember this.

It is better to know spirits not dead but living. Let us show that true spirit of kindly brotherhood from day to-day, and seek to adorn and decorate the lives of our brethren, whilst they are still alive. Let us also remember the widow and orphan, and to them devote an especial care.

The chairman then announced that although Rev. S. J. Shorey, of the George street church, had been present during the early part of the evening, he had been called away.

The Oddfellows then reformed into procession and marched back to the lodge rooms.

The hundreds of citizens who visited the grounds during the day could not refrain from remarking on the excellent order in which is everything is kept by Mr. Foord. The greenness of the grass, notwithstanding the recent dry spell, is remarkable.

The extremly orderly and reverent bearing of the crowds that thronged the cemetery is worthy of special remark.

I. O. G. T. NOTES.

A small party of Good Templars drove out to Chemong Park yesterday afternoon, where a delightful time was spent. Boating and enjoying the fresh breezes of Chemong Lake was the principal order of the day; but the excellent repast which the ladies of the party kindly provided was by no means a feature to be despised, and every one partook of it in truly picnic style. After swinging and various amusements were engaged in the party left for town, arriving home at about half past ten.

UNTOLD AGONY.

Distracted by Excruciating Rheumatic Pains—Seven Years' Untold Misery—No Remedy to Help—No Physician to Thwart the Onslaught, but South American Rheumatic Cure Charms Away the Pains in 12 Hours, and the Suffering Slave is Emancipated.

J. D. McLeod, of Leith, Ont., says: "I have been a victim of rheumatism for seven years, being confined to my bed for months at a time, and unable to turn myself. Have been treated by many of the best physicians without benefit. I had no faith in cures I saw advertised, but my wife induced me to get a bottle of South American Rheumatic Cure. At that time I was suffering agonizing pains, but inside of twelve hours after I had taken the first dose the pains left me. Three bottles completely cured me, and I rejoice in having the opportunity of telling what a great cure it has wrought in me. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

If Weather Conditions are Right

Summer suits, summer boots, summer shoes, summer furnishings, fresh from the case. We hold the leadership in all. Satisfaction or your money back. GOUGH BROS., the Wonderful Cheap Men.

DEATH OF A PROMINENT CANADIAN.

Lt.-Col. Brown Chamberlain Passes Away at Lakefield—Sketch of His Eventful Life.

Lieutenant Col. Brown Chamberlain, D. C.L., C.M.G., who died on Tuesday last at his residence in Lakefield, was 70 years of age. The remains were on Wednesday taken via Peterborough to Ottawa, his former place of residence, whence he removed to Lakefield about three years ago, and has since resided. The members of Clementi Lodge, A.F. and A.M., of which the deceased was a member, placed a beautiful Masonic emblem, a floral square and compasses, on the casket in token of the brotherly love and esteem entertained for their departed brother. The Lakefield News reprints the following sketch of the deceased gentleman's life from the Dominion Illustrated, a journal that ceased publication several years ago:

Lieut.-Col. Brown Chamberlain, C.M.G., and D.C.L., was born at Frelighsburg, in the eastern townships of the Province of Quebec, on the 27th March, 1827. Was educated in the Grammar School of his native place and by private tutors, and at St. Paul school, Montreal; afterwards in McGill College and University, there receiving the degree of B.C.L. in 1850 and of D.C.L. in 1867. Was for several years an elective fellow, and member of the High School Board, as well as the first (and for several years) president of the Graduates' Society. He also received the degree of M.A. honoris causa from Bishop's College, Lennoxville. He of Lower Canada, in 1850, and practised law at Montreal and on the Missisquoi circuit for several years. But politics and literature proving more attractive than jurisprudence, he became joint proprietor and editor (with his brother-in-law, John Lowe, Esq.) of the Montreal Gazette in 1853. In the stirring times of 1849-50 he became a member of the British American League and of the Union Club, numbering among its members the late Lieut.-Governor Morris and other of his college mates, together with Mr. Low, Mr. Montgomerie, afterwards representing the Allan Line in England, Mr. P. S. Hamilton, of Halifax and others. These constantly thereafter, as occasion served, by lectures, pamphlets, articles in and communications to the newspapers, urged forward the union of the B. N. A. provinces. In 1853 he delivered a lecture on the subject before the Mercantile Library Association, of Montreal, of which he was for a time a director. This was subsequently published as a pamphlet. Having taken an interest in the work of the Mechanics' Institute, he was consulted by the late Chancellor Vankoughnet, then Minister of Agriculture, about the measure introduced and passed by him for the formation of Boards of Arts and Manufactures for Upper and Lower Canada respectively. Upon its organization he became secretary of that for Lower Canada, and continued in that office till 1862, when he was elected president, serving in that office for three years. While engaged in this work (in 1858) he visited Great Britain and France, and reported to the Board "Upon institutions in London, Dublin, Edinburgh and Paris for the promotion of industrial education." In that and in annual reports suggestions were made which have since been acted upon and developed by his successors. Also in respect of healthy homes for mechanics and labourers. He was sent as commissioner and secretary of the Canadian commission to the London International Exhibition of 1862. In 1867 he was elected member for his native county in the first Parliament of the Dominion. He did not take a prominent part in parliamentary life, however, speaking seldom and briefly, his remarks on perhaps alone being noteworthy. He introduced a bill for the reduction of the pay of the members of the House of Commons, which was, of course, defeated and he roundly abused; and he proposed and secured the introduction of a provision in the new extradition law, ordering prisoners committed for extradition to be held over for seven days in order to give time for a review of the case on habeus corpus. This was subsequently introduced into the extradition law of Great Britain passed in 1870. A sort of kidnapping of a Belgian out of Canada under the forms of judicial extradition induced his action. In the celebrated Anderson slave case, in that of the St. Albans raiders and the Lake Erie privateers, he had vehemently opposed what he had held to be the too great readiness of the Government to surrender persons claimed by a foreign power. All modern extradition laws and treaties embody views then urged. His one considerable effort on the stump was a speech made at Waterloo, Sheffield, in opposition to Mr. Huntington's soliverein, which was a good deal praised at the time. Upon the formation of the 60th (Missiquoi) Battalion of volunteers, he became first major and then lieut.-col. in command, and to fit himself for the work, went through a course in the Military School at Montreal, then conducted by officers of the 60th Rifles. (regulars.) In the early spring of 1870 his battalion was placed on active service to guard the Missisquoi frontier against an anticipated Fenian raid. He forsook his parliamentary duties and placed himself at the head of his corps, the district being under the command of Lieut.-Col. Osborne Smith, D.D.A.G. For many weary, waiting weeks, through all the discomforts of the rains and breaking up of the roads of spring, the watch was continued, then for a time abandoned, and then a new rush to arms, the occupation of the position on Eccles Hill during the night of the 24th, and the early morning of the 25th of May; at noon on the Canadian position, and the repulse of the first onset by a detachment of the 60th, assisted by a small band of sharp shooters raised among the farmers of the vicinity. Canadian reinforcements coming up, the Fenians made no second advance, but retreated during the night or dispersed. For this action he was rewarded by her Majesty with the companionship of St. Michael and St. George, receiving investiture of the decoration along with Lt.-Col. Smith, Lt.-Col. Fletcher and Lt.-Col. McEachern at the hands of the Governor-General, Lord Lisgar and Lady Lisgar. Upon his subsequent arrival at Ottawa the citizens presented him, through the Mayor, Mr. Rochester, with a beautiful sword, Lord Lisgar again presiding over the ceremony in the Senate chamber. In that year he married Elizabeth Dunbar Moodie, relict of the late Charles Fitzgibbon of Toronto, and daughter of the late Sheriff Moodie of Belleville, and of Susanna Moodie, nee Strickland, author of "Roughing it in the Bush," etc., and niece and namesake of Agnes Strickland, author of the "Queens of England," and of another Canadian author, Mrs. Traill of Lakefield. In 1870 he retired from politics, from the House of Commons and from journalism, and has since devoted himself to the quiet unobtrusive duties of a civil servant. He was then appointed Queen's Printer, and on the formation of the new Department of Printing and Stationery he was made its permanent head and Deputy Minister, retiring in 1892, and shortly after removing to Lakefield.

AN ATTACK BY THE FENIANS

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 54; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 90. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.60. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

FOR VANITY'S SAKE.

He was a happy and gay little singer,
With lyrics of summer pent up in his throat.
He sang from the dawn to the sunset, but always
He kept for the evening his tenderest note.
Then, when the little gold stars were twinkling,
He flew to the brim of his brown, woven nest,
And twittered soft nothings, received sleepy answers,
That made a glad quiver creep into his breast.

And ruffle his fuzzy red feathers. There surely
Was never a little bird gladder than he.
No other nest with so downy a lining
Was ever more cozily moored in a tree.

The air of the forest is heavy with fragrance,
As gay tinted flowers their petals uncurl;
But two flashing wings that God colored so brightly
Are rigid and still for the whim of a girl.

The little brook catches its breath as it passes,
A shadow lies dark on the woods' brooding face
A bit of God's music and sunshine gone from them—
Fettered by ribbons and meshes of lace.

A full-throated chorus, yet summer is grieving
Over the songs that will never be heard—
Locked in a small, stiffened breast. O, I wonder
What God is thinking, you poor little bird!

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from overexertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

Signals on the Engine.

The experimental use of signals by the Berlin fire department for its apparatus while on the way to a fire has been found to work so well that the system has now been definitely accepted. It consists in the use of an apparatus looking very much like a small semaphore, now in use on the railroads. The appliance is rigged up on the driver's seat, and is visible for quite a distance. When the vehicle is to go straight out the arm of the semaphore is placed straight up; is to go to the right or left into another street the arm of the semaphore is inclined in that direction. As the signals are always set for the next corner, drivers of other vehicles know at once what they have to do in order to get out of the road of the fire engine or other apparatus.

An Ill-Fated Train.

Mr. J. Plimmer, of Windsor, Ont., was on the train which which went through the bridge at St. George, Ont., in 1888. In the accident his kidneys and back were seriously injured, and have since caused him great suffering. Mr. Plimmer says :—"Until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills I never knew what it was to be free from pain. They have entirely removed the pain, and I am able to work every day now. They have produced better results than all the other medicines combined which I have used in all my years of suffering. I regard them as a specific for kidney trouble."

There Have Been Others.

"Now, sir," said the professor of medicine, "you may tell me to what class of maladies insomnia belongs."

"Why-er," replied the student, "it's a contagious disease!"

"I never heard it so described. Where did you learn that?"

"From experience. Whenever my neighbor's dog can't sleep I'm just as wakeful as he is."

One Method of Reasoning.

"That speaker seems to be very popular with the audience."

"I have my doubts," replied the contrary man; "I noticed they applauded him a great deal more on getting through with his speech than they did for commencing."

MYSTERIES OF THE SEA.

Novel Diving Bell Which Descends to Hitherto Unexplored Depths.

Marine men in all parts of the country are interested in the work the American Wrecking and Salvage Company is now doing in connection with the raising of the Pewabic, a Lake Superior steamer which was sunk off Thunder Bay, Lake Huron, in 1865, carrying down with it upward of one hundred lives and treasure which is said to be worth over $1,000,000, says The New York Herald. Many times the value of the steamer and cargo have been spent in attempts to locate it during the last thirty two years, and the only successful one was that made by the company in question, which discovered the steamer last week. It was only able to do the work through the agency of its diving bell, which in reality is a monster of the deep, capable of moving and lifting great weights at a depth which appears marvelous to those familiar with the history of diving.

The greatest depth ever attained by a diver with any success until the Smith bell was tried last summer was 171 feet, but with the new bell a party of six men has remained under water for six hours at a depth of 250 feet. This experiment was made in Lake Michigan, about 25 miles off Milwaukee. The bell is so constructed that it can withstand the pressure of an immense volume of water, and is also equipped with great automatic arms or legs, by the operation of which it can move around on the bottom of the sea with the ease of one of the monsters of the deep. These arms can also be used in lifting great weights, and in the experiments which were made off this port huge boulders were brought from the bottom to the surface by the use of the arms.

The body of this novel diving machine is a cylindrical steel tube, eight feet high and six feet in diameter. It is not bell-shaped and has none of the mechanical arrangements of the old diving bells.

The constructors of this marine wonder are careful that no one shall see the plans or shall get a photograph of its mechanism. It is made of one-inch steel, and the tube is arched on the top and bottom. It is fitted with glass windows, which have been tested to withstand a pressure equal to a water pressure at a depth of 400 feet. These windows are so constructed that should they break an automatic attachment will close immediately, without allowing any water to enter the compartment. There are fresh and foul air pipes, which connect with the surface, and a telephone.

On the outside of the case there is an arc lamp with an apparatus capable of generating a 2500 candle-power light, which enables those in the bell to see for a distance of at least 100 feet under water. The most wonderful and at the same time the part which, next to its capability to resist water pressure, gives the bell its value and its power, is the arrangement which makes it possible to move the bell about on the bottom of the sea independent of any cable connection with the surface. Attached to the case, and worked from the interior, are several long arms. These are used to move the machine about, to manipulate any tool it is desired to use or for the lifting of weights.

It now remains for the bell to demonstrate that its great automatic arms are of practical use in removing the cargo of copper ingots, valued at $88,000, which is on the main deck of the Pewabic. Old marine men have expressed doubts as to the truth of the statement that the company has succeeded in locating the Pewabic, but the salvage company has received advices stating that the first reports which were sent out are absolutely correct, and that it is in reality the long-lost steamer.

INSOMNIA.

Three Months Without Sleep—Wasted in Flesh and Given up to Die, but the Great South American Nervine Soothes to Rest With one Dose and Effects a Rapid and Permanent Cure.

Mrs. White, of Mono Township, Beaverton, P.O., was dangerously ill from nervous trouble. She was so nervous that she had not slept a night for three months. She was so low that her friends despaired of her recovery, in fact, had given her up to die. She was persuaded to try South American Nervine. Her relief was so instantaneous that after taking one dose she slept soundly all night. She persisted in the use of this great cure and gained in health rapidly, so that now there is not a sign of the nervousness, and she feels she is entirely cured. If you doubt it, write and ask her. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Tewfik is Very Cute.

Constantinople, July 15.—Yesterday Tewfik Pasha, who is conducting the peace negotiations on behalf of the Turkish Government, informed the Ambassadors of the powers that he hoped the council of Ministers would make a reply to the collective note that would prove satisfactory and that it would be presented this (Thursday) evening. His assurance gives rise to the hope that Turkey will comply with the demands of the powers.

Long Distance Electric Energy.

The true status of the long-distance transmission of electric power from Niagara is brought out by a recent statement of Professor George Forbes, the engineer in charge of the construction of the plant. He said that at Niagara they are competing with cheap steam power, coal costing only $1.25 a ton, and the cost of steam power is about the same 100 miles away. Therefore, as the profits of electric transmission diminish as the distance increases, it is commercially practicable to supply power only to the immediate neighbourhood of the Falls if the demand is sufficient. The distance to which electric power can be economically transmitted depends entirely upon the cost of power at that point; it may be 100 or it may be 1000 miles. For instance, Professor Forbes mentioned that he had recently returned from South Africa, where he had gone to look into the question of developing power at the Zambesi Falls and transmitting it electrically to the mines in Mashonaland, and on going into the question he had found that the scheme was entirely feasible, commercially, as the cost of power at the mines was excessive.

The man who neglects his health for the sake of the excitement of work and money-getting, is dancing with Death. It is a dance in which Death always comes out victor. If a man will only spare enough time to take care of health, to eat, and rest and sleep properly, and when he feels slightly indisposed will resort to the right remedy, he may work as hard as he pleases, and pile up money steeple high, without fear of untimely death.

The worst enemy with which hard working men have to contend is a disordered digestion. It is the starting point for most sickness and disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents sickness and disease. Its use insures a hearty appetite, and healthful, restful sleep. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver and purifies the blood. It tones the nerves. It makes pure, rich blood builds firm healthy flesh, and strong, elastic muscle. The man who resorts to it whenever he feels out of sorts, may, within reason, work as hard as he pleases. Druggists sell it.

"Enclosed please find 21 one-cent stamps," writes James Trent, of Clarendon, Donley Co., Texas, "for which please send me a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers. I have been taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood and think it is the best blood-purifier in existence."

One of the best-known of American medical men said: "If you want to reform a man, begin with his grandfather." That would be wise if it could be done. Since it cannot be done, try something else. Reform the future grandfathers and grandmothers. Do this through education. The greatest thing for a man or woman to know is himself or herself. To know one-half the capabilities and disabilities of the human body is a liberal education. A good start for this education is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Any one can have this finely illustrated 1000-page book for the small price of thirty-one one-cent stamps to pay for customs and mailing only. If you would like the book in fine cloth binding instead of paper, send fifty stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

NEW TYPE OF YACHT.

Handy Boats by Leading Designers Create Much Interest.

The opening of the yachting season of the West of Scotland Yacht Club took place at Gourock Thursday, May 20, when, owing to the weather, a modest program of the Clyde length class was given. The day was fine, a moderate southwest wind prevailing. The principal event was for 25-footers, and all the entrants were last year's boats.

The second race was the event in which most interest centred, on account of the boats being new and by representative designers. The entrants and starters were:

The Verenia, 19.24 feet. Mr. A. W. Steven (Fife).

The Hinemoa, 19.24 feet, Mr. R. Corry Clark (Linton Hope).

The Trebor, 19.24 feet, Mr. Morrison (McLean).

The finish was:

The Trebor (winner) 2h. 7m. 47s.

The Verenia, 2h. 10m. 8s.

In consequence of the interest attaching to the class the London correspondent of The New York Herald has sent sketches of the Verenia and her spar and sail plans, which may serve to give an idea of the class, the stability of the boat and the distribution of the sail plan. They are boats in every sense of the word, and can be built, including design, for about $900.

The Verenia is 19.24 feet on the load with a draught of five feet. She has an elm keelson, stem and sternpost, with oak and elm frames and bent timbers. Her beams are of larch. Her planking, of selected yellow pine, is three-quarter inch scantling. The lead keel, which is of a searching description, weight 33 hundredweight. The sagitta, or hollow in the bilge of the boat's hull, is 12 inches, which admits of her carrying the maximum of sail area—500 square feet. Rigged mainsail and jib, the feature of the distribution of her cloth is that it is mostly in the mainsail and low down along the vessel's hull, her boom exceeding 25 feet.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

"HERALD" BENNETT.

THE MAN WHO REALLY IS THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Although an American, He Enjoys Life in Europe, Where He Chiefly Resides—His Watchful Care Over His Great Newspaper Property.

James Gordon Bennett, editor and proprietor of The New York Herald, who recently paid a visit to the United States, has sailed away again, eminently satisfied with the conduct of affairs in his great newspaper office. Mr. Bennett enjoys life in Europe. Of late years his visits to New York have become fewer and farther between, although he "is the Herald" as of old. He is liberal as ever in the use of the cable, and sends long editorials about important affairs by the wire on the ocean's bed. Mr. Bennett has intense views on United States politics, and was pleased with the results of the late election. He had a horror of the free silver crusade and denounced it vigorously. Those who saw him recently noticed that time deals kindly with him. He still has the bright aggressive face and the big determination of character that was stamped upon his brow when he was a more familiar figure in the streets of New York than he is to-day. From his eyes flash the old energy and resolution to conquer at all hazard. Mr. Bennett watches his paper closely and pays more attention to its news enterprise in a large way than he does to its political policy. In this regard he is the same James Gordon Bennett that sent Stanley to Africa, with instructions to find Livingstone at any cost. His years of life abroad have not made him a European. And no one questions the fact that Mr. Bennett is a journalist, born and bred—a man who knows news and will have it regardless of obstacles.

A NEW "SIGHT."

Canterbury Chapter-House Restored to Its Old Glories.

Old Canterbury in England has a new "sight" for visitors in the beautifully restored chapter-house of its famous and historic cathedral. This part of the old cathedral was rapidly going into what would soon be hopeless decay when Sir Arthur Bloomfield, the noted architect, took hold of it. The work of the restoration was a most delicate matter, but it has been done with consummate skill, and the chapter-house is now open for the inspection of tourists who love to look upon old things and scenes as they appeared in the ancient times. The walls of this house date back to the Norman times, but they have been so often recased that those surfaces now visible are of the work of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries. The windows and the elaborate roof are of later date. The most interesting part of the edifice is the vesting. It is entirely of oak, and the most elaborate work of its kind in the world. Molded ribs divide it into eighty-four panels eight feet square. Each of these is subdivided into twenty compartments, twelve of which are triangles and eight rhomboids. All are elaborately cusped, and the intersections of the tracery are everywhere adorned with carved bosses representing roses, oak leaves, vine leaves and armorial bearings, the whole richly colored and gilt. This excellent work called for particular attention, as it had fallen away in several places from the rafters almost twelve inches, and to replace it without spoiling the geometrical uniformity of the design required infinite care. The great window has been filled with stained glass and represents the archbishops and sovereigns historically connected with the cathedral. The list of sovereigns begins with Queen Bertha and ends with Victoria.

Correspondence Points.

Write legibly; if you cannot, you should learn to do so. Practice makes perfect.

To write a good business is an essential accomplishment which every woman should acquire.

Answer every note or letter, except such as may be impertinent or insulting, these are not worthy your notice.

Plain, white unruled paper is always the most refined and elegant for note paper and envelopes, though a delicate gray is not in bad taste.

Place the postage stamp in a straight, that is, vertical position, in the upper right hand corner of the envelope. It argues great carelessness to put the stamp on in any sort of a fashion.

A Century-Old Romance.

A mantelpiece in an old mansion in Wethersfield, Conn., was being moved the other day, when a pile of papers was discovered in a space left by the boarding. Among them was this letter, dated 1801, the contents of which read as follows:

Dear Bell,—I saw your father and he treated me cruelly. Sad, if I loved you to show it by leaving. Meet me at the well-sweep after sunset and bid good-bye for a time. God bless you, Jonathan.

As there are no Jonathans in the family's ancestral tree, it is thought that the writer of the note took the cruel father's advice.—Boston Herald.

LACROSSE.

A mixed team composed of seniors, juniors and Graultes went to Hastings yesterday and were walloped by a cricket score—10 to 7. The boys say that the home fields of both teams were too strong for the defenses and every time the ball was drawn the team which secured it was sure to score.

The Hastings team has engaged Tim Kirk as trainer and he has the boys in fine shape, their combination play being very fine. Hastings has gone the right way about forming a team and it is to be hoped that the townspeople will stand to their backs and encourage them by their presence at the games.

The Peterborough lads were well treated at Hastings and when the return game is played here will try and return the hospitality which was extended them.

The game was close until towards the end. Hastings took the first two goals, then Peterborough evened the score, tieing it again when each side had five goals. Hastings then took the lead and finally won by 10 goals to 7.

The next game on the home grounds is with Markham on Friday and the Peterboroughs will practice every night next week. In order to win from Markham the boys will have to be in the best possible shape and must not be content with practising stick work, but must do a lot of running also in order to get in shape. By the results of the game with Markham they will be judged and the lacrosse players of the C. L. A. will await the results of the match with interest. Every man of the team should be on the field every night next week without fail.

THE WHEEL.

A meeting of the Peterborough Bicycle club is called for 8 p.m. Monday, at the Y. M.C.A. buildings. As important club business is to be discussed a full attendance is desirable.

A challenge has been issued from Gough Bros. establishment to race four of their bicycle riders against a team from any other business house in town. Quite a number of acceptances have been pouring into the EXAMINER office. Those received so far are from H. LeBrun & Co., Hall, Gilchrist & Co., Fairweather & Co., Ontario Bank and the EXAMINER office. The race will probably be a 20 mile one.

A repairer is authority for the statement that glass ranks first among the puncturing impediments. Nails come second and tacks third, according to his observation. This is quite different from the popular conception, which gives first place to tacks.

High-laced boots, with nice soft tops that do not impede pedalling, and exclude the dust, are now considered the best for lady riders. Low shoes, as near the shade of one's dress as possible, and leggings made of a piece of one's costume are very nice, and are preferred by many.

A TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Her Face Covered with Scales. Could Not Leave Home. Had to Sacrifice Hair.

Tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. Improvement in Three Weeks. Six Weeks Complete Cure.

Four years ago Eczema made its appearance on my head in its worst form. I was attended by two physicians, but notwithstanding their treatment it continued spreading, until my face was covered with scales and became a horrid, loathsome sight. For three months I did not leave the house. I had a fine head of hair, seven years' growth, and had to sacrifice it. I was in despair. The physicians had failed even to relieve me, when one of them recommended CUTICURA SOAP. I used three boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), one half dozen cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and in three weeks from the time I began, the scales had left my face and the skin lost its florid hue. In six weeks I was entirely cured. My face was smooth and my complexion clearer than it had ever been before. MARION A. SMITH, Sunbury, Pa.

THE NEW STONY LAKE PAVILLION.

Services Will be Held in it To-morrow at Juniper Island, Stony Lake.

The new pavillion on Juniper Island, Stony Lake, will be formally opened to-morrow morning at eleven o'clock, when Divine service will be held.

The pavilion is 35x50 feet in size, with a cottage roof. It is partially enclosed, but not so much so as to interfere with the view or the free current of air through it. It will accommodate 400 and is comfortably seated. Situated near the store, it is convenient to the landing, which is being enlarged. It is well located as to view and the site is such as to catch any breeze that is passing.

On Monday last, while Mr. Wm. Cox was working at the pavilion, he met with an accident. He was standing on one of the joists of the building when he suddenly became dizzy and fell down to the floor, being knocked unconscious. It was some minutes before he recovered, and it was found that he had received no injuries beyond a few bruises and being considerably shaken up.

COUNTY REGISTRAR.

All Else Failing Mr. Geo. C. Ward is Cured by Eight Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Port Hope (Special) July 5.—No case of recovery from serious illness that has ever occurred in this community has caused as much talk as that of our esteemed fellow townsman, Mr. Geo. C. Ward, Registrar of this county, residing here. For a long time it had been well known to his intimate friends that he was a sufferer from kidney disorder. But for the past year he grew worse and all efforts to regain his strength were without avail. He is now cured, as he says, by using eight boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and is as well as ever he was in his life.

Light Shipments of Frogs' Legs.

It has been a quiet season for the shipment of frogs, as the many places in this locality where some years ago they were numerous and grew to a large size, are about cleaned out, and catchers now carry on their work farther north and west. Some years ago a very lucrative business was done on the Trent waters, more than one thousand having been captured by two or three men in one night, and hundreds of pounds were shipped weekly, but now the numbers have been reduced to such an extent as to make the work unprofitable. Up to the present time there has been only ten or a dozen light shipments of 75 or 100 pounds each, at the station in Campbellford. Campbellford Herald.

Not in Little Dabs.

We don't buy in little dabs—a little of this for that department, a little of that for this department, a dab here and a dab there. When we buy we buy big. The manufacturers are looking for us, because we buy big bills and buy for cash, and cash is part of the start of the low prices we are enabled to quote you on our recent gigantic purchase of the E. A. Small & Co.'s stock, the best Montreal made clothing. You can rest assured that what you buy here is of a standard make. You can rest assured that you are getting the best possible goods at the lowest prices ever reached. All over our two stores there's a stirring raviving atmosphere that refreshes all kinds of pocketbooks.—GOUGH BROS., the Wonderful Cheap Men.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars.—G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

An Enterprising Youth.

The Lindsay Post says that a boy named Sam Hargreaves, aged 13, has been in the employ of Mr. Isaac Earles, of Valentia, for some time past. On Monday Mr. Earles and family left home to celebrate the glorious twelfth, and Sammy was instructed to look closely after everything about the farm, which he promised to do, but soon after their departure he hitched a horse left in the stable to a buggy and started off on a celebration of his own. Next day it was reported that he had been seen in the vicinity of Oakwood, and Chief Bell was wired to be on the look-out. That official started off to make a tour of the various hotel stables, and found the boy and outfit at Maunder's. When questioned as to his destination he said he intended making his way via Peterborough to Kingston to visit his sister.

Has Been Fixed As the U.S. Duty on Lumber.

OTHER TARIFF MATTERS SETTLED.

Will the Canadian Government Retaliate by Placing An Export Duty on Sawlogs and Pulp Wood?—A Raw Sugar Schedule Hides Not on the Free List.

Washington, D.C., July 17.—When the Republican conferees on the tariff bill representing the two Houses of Congress adjourned at 6 p.m. to-day the announcement was made on behalf of each of the houses that they had agreed upon all the items of the bill and that the result of the partisan conference would be submitted to the Democratic members of the conference at a full meeting to be held on Monday.

The bill as agreed upon will, when made public, present an entirely new sugar schedule, at least in the main item of duty on raw and refined sugar, the fourth presented since the bill emerged from the recess of the Ways and Means Committee.

The wording of the new paragraph is as follows:

"Sugars not above number 16 Dutch standard in color, tank bottoms, syrups of cane juice, melada, concentrated melada, concrete and concentrated molasses, testing by the polariscope not above 75 degrees, 95-100 of one cent per pound, and for every additional degree shown by the polariscope test three and one-half one hundredth of one cent per pound additional, and fractions of a degree in proportion; and on sugar above number 16 Dutch standard, in color, and on all sugar which has gone through a process of refining 125-1000ths of one cent per pound additional."

It will be observed that the modification of the sugar schedule still leaves the rate on pure sugar testing 100 degrees 1-95 cents per pound, which was the Senate rate. The differential on refined sugar is, however, 1-8 of a cent per pound, while the Senate differential was 1-5. The House also secures the elimination of 1-100th of a cent reduction allowed on low grade sugars testing below 87 degrees by the polariscope. It is claimed that the increase on the higher grades of sugar which will result from the increase of the polariscopic graduation allowance will add materially to the protection to the beet sugar industry. The refiners necessarily receive incidental benefit.

It is estimated that the changes in the sugar schedule will raise about $2,000,000 additional revenue.

Following are among the more important changes made in other schedules:

Hides, 15 per cent. ad valorem, in place of the 25 per cent. fixed by the Senate. The House representatives made a strong fight to have hides restored to the free list, but they were compelled to submit to the unyielding demand of the Senate.

Wool (as heretofore sent out), first class, 11 cents per pound; second-class, 12 cents per pound; third class, four cents on that below 12 cents per pound in value and 8 cents on that above 12 cents in value.

Lead, 1 1-2 cents per pound; pig lead, 2 1-4 cents, the Senate rates.

Coal, bituminous, 67 cents per ton.

Tobacco, $1.75 per pound on imported wrappers.

White pine lumber was restored to the House classification and the House rate of $2 per 1000 feet, instead of the Senate rate of $1.

The reciprocity clause has been transferred into a modification of both the Senate and House schedules—that is, the number of articles which can be used as basis for reciprocity agreements has been increased, but the President's discretion as to rates and the ratification of treaties by the Senate, which was the main feature of the Senate provision, has been rejected.

One of the biggest victories won by the House was in the restoration to the dutiable list of burlaps, jute and jute bagging, cotton bagging, gunny sacks, floor matting, and cotton ties, which the Senate placed in the free list. While restored to the dutiable list, however, the rates are lower than they have ever been on this class of articles.

Another victory of the House was the elimination of the Senate stamp on bonds and stocks.

Will Canada Retaliate?

By legislation passed at the last session of the Dominion Parliament, power was given to the Governor-General-in-Council to declare an export duty of not exceeding $3 per thousand on Canadian sawlogs and pulp wood in consideration of the action of the Republican Conference in regard to the lumber schedule.

A MURDERER AT HEART.

Welsh Who Shot Detective Mahoney, Sent Down for 20 Years Says He Will Kill Someone in Penitentiary.

Windsor, Ont., July 17.—Joseph Welsh, the escaped convict, who shot Detective Mahoney in the leg while endeavoring to avoid arrest, was this morning sentenced by Judge Horne to 20 years' imprisonment. Welsh pleaded guilty to three indictments, each of which was serious enough to send him up for life. Judge Horne said his record was a bad one throughout; that he had twice been sent to the penitentiary, and had an unfinished sentence before him. He had deliberately fired at an officer who was doing his duty, and might have killed him.

"But I did not try to kill him," interjected the prisoner.

"That makes no difference," the judge went on calmly. "The penalty for your offence is imprisonment for life."

Welsh almost collapsed, and the judge said he would exercise all possible leniency, and let him off with a 20 years term."

While he was being taken back to jail Welsh said to one of the guards: "I wish I had killed that fellow Mahoney, but I won't serve out my sentence. I will kill somebody down there first."

Detective Mahoney and Jailor Sparks will take Welsh to Kingston on Monday.

The Avenger Upheld.

Lexington, Ky., July 17.—City Judge Gray Falkner has acquitted Jacob S. Harris for killing his wife's lover, Thomas H. Merritt here last Friday night. The court held that the action of the man who avenges the destruction of his blasted married life and his dishonored children by striking down the destroyer, after all, must be determined at the bar of human nature, and human nature will excuse the man who so avenges.

Killed in Her Own Parlor.

Erie, July 18.—Mrs. Horace Noble, a prominent woman of this city, was instantly killed at Gill's Park, near here, to-day by lightning. She was sitting in the parlor with some companions when struck. No other person was hurt.

WHY TURKEY GAVE IN.

Germany Just Told the Sultan That He Had to, and He at Once Cried Peccavi.

Constantinople, July 17.—The announcement by Tewfik Pasha to the Ambassadors that the Sultan had agreed to the principle of their demand, and was prepared to accept their views on the conditions of peace, was due to a message sent him prior to the meeting to the effect that if the Porte had not previously replied satisfactorily, the Ambassadors would adopt an important decision with regard to their attitude toward Turkey. Tewfik Pasha turned up at the last moment and announced that he had been instructed to accept the proposals of the powers.

This change of front is now understood to be the result of the action of Germany. The reply of Emperor William to the Sultan's personal appeal was ambiguous and had induced him to believe that Germany would support him. When, however, Germany found the powers were resolved on coercion, Emperor William, desiring to prevent such an eventuality, instructed his Ambassador to go to the palace and state distinctly that the Turkish Government must conform absolutely to the decision of the powers. It is said, however, that the Council of Ministers is not unanimous in favor of yielding. Consequently further opposition is feared, although the Ambassadors pretend to be satisfied with Tewfik Pasha's declaration.

The Porte has informed the Ambassadors that it has abandoned its intention to send reinforcements to Crete. The Ambassadors and Tewfik Pasha met this morning at the Tophanch Palace to continue the negotintions.

THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

Five Thousand Men in the Lower Coal Fields of West Virginia Have Thrown Down Their Picks.

Huntington, W. Va., July 17.—Upwards of 5000 men employed in the lower coal fields on the Norfolk and Western Road threw down their picks to-day and swore fealty to the cause of their Pennsylvania and Ohio brethren. The agitators who have been in that vicinity for a week past will depart to-night for the Great Flat Top fields, 60 miles further up the Norfolk and Western, where about 7000 men are employed. They speak encouragingly of their work in West Virginia and assert that before Monday noon every miner in the Flat Top Field will be out. The indications are that their claims are well-founded, and in addition the Dingess, further down the line, which resumed work only a few days ago, will also have to suspend, as dissatisfaction has developed among the miners employed there. Seven hundred more men went out at the Kanawha to-day and the next big break is expected in the New River Fields.

A Complete Failure.

Fairmont, W. Va., July 17.—The miners' mass meeting so largely advertised for this evening was a complete failure, as none of the promised speakers were present, although telegrams of regret from them were read. To-day 17 miners at Monongs were discharged for attending Thursday night's meeting.

GRAND MEETINGS IN THE EVENING

That Was the Way the Epworth Leaguers Spent Sunday in Toronto—Saturday Afternoon They Gathered at Exhibition Park and Saw Lacrosse and Marching.

Toronto, July 19.

The Epworth League convention, which closed last night, has been very successful. Although falling far short of the numbers promised, many thousands, representing each of the three great Methodist branches on this continent, met in Toronto and showed how goodly it is for brethren to dwell together if but for four days in peace and unity.

Saturday was a great day, full of interest and variety. Over 1000 persons were present at the sunrise prayer meeting in Reservoir Park, most of whom had foregathered at the Armouries and joined in the bicycle procession. The service was conducted by Rev. J. W. McIntyre of Providence, R. I. This service, which was over by 7 o'clock, heads the record as the most unique in the history of Toronto's churches.

AT EXHIBITION PARK.

Great Demonstration of Enthusiasm on Saturday Afternoon.

Although arrangements had been made for the seating of 15,000 people, including the grand stand and the lawn in front, of the Epworth League gathering at the Exhibition grounds on Saturday afternoon, the provision was quite inadequate for the immense crowd that thronged the grounds. It is safe to say that no greater gathering ever took place within the confines of the grand stand.

So great was the interest shown by our visitors to witness an exhibition of the Canadian national game of lacrosse that long before the time announced for commencing play scarcely a seat remained vacant.

A scene of great enthusiasm was presented as the band of the Royal Grenadiers played a medley of war tunes, which included such familiar airs as "Down in Dixie" and "Marching Through Georgia," played as a graceful compliment to the visitors' national feelings. But the cheering that followed the above was not to be compared with the outbreak that took place when the band struck up "Columbia." Handkerchiefs were waved in the air, and fifteen thousand voices broke forth in song to the accompaniment of the music.

Following the lacrosse match came the flag drill and parade of nations, represented by 100 lads and lasses, under the direction of Major Thompson.

It was a very pretty scene and one long to be remembered, as each contingent passed, the band playing the national air of the country, represented as follows: "Maple Leaf," Canada; "British Grenadiers," England; "Yankee Doodle," United States; "Bonnie Dundee," Scotland; "Erin Go Bragh," Ireland; and "Men of Harlech," Wales.

Next followed a novel sight to many of the visitors, being the parade past the grand stand of six members of the 48th Regiment, in full Highland costume, playing Scotch airs on the bagpipes. They played well and were accorded liberal applause.

On account of the utter impossibility of the vast throng hearing what was said, the speeches were very short.

Rev. Dr. Potts thanked the Epworth League delegates for their visit, and asked them to come again, and "some day we may annex you," concluded the Doctor.

Rev. Simpson Johnston of Manchester, England, in his short address, said he had learned some new ideas of how to organize conventions and conduct public meetings, which he would be able to make use of when he returned home. He thought the churches of the Old Land should have made better use of its women in the past. They had a splendid example of what a woman can do in their own beloved Queen. [Great cheering].

Rev. Dr. Hamilton of Boston spoke a few words, concluding by exhorting his hearers to stand true to God's word and live as Christ's disciples.

James L. Hughes read a resolution, passed by the Epworth Leaguers of Toronto, desiring to place on record their conviction that the time had come for an arbitration treaty between the United States and Canada.

This was greeted with loud cheers, and the meeting broke up.

FAREWELL MEETINGS.

Great Gatherings and Enthusiasm Last Evening—Pathetic Scenes.

Pregnant with the old-time Methodist fire was the closing farewell rally of the Leaguers in Massey Hall last night. It was like the history of the Pentecostal day repeating itself when a vast audience of 5000 young persons rose to their feet, with scarcely a score of exceptions, to signify their belief and adhesion to Christ of Nazareth.

The closing meeting in the Pavilion last night was well attended and much enthusiasm was displayed.

There was a wonderful display of enthusiasm and even physical endurance last evening at the Metropolitan Church. Before 6 o'clock the people began to pour into the church, and it was half-past eleven o'clock before the strains of the Hallelujah Chorus ceased. The regular sermon was preached by a representative of the English Epworth League, Rev. Simpson Johnson of Manchester.

But it was at the late service, the "farewell" meeting, that the excitement rose to fever heat and continued so for three hours. Rev. Dr. Berry of Chicago was the presiding officer, though the General Superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, Dr. Carman, was on the platform. Except extensive use of the revivalistic stamp—there was no

OUR LADY OF THE SNOWS.

The Mercantile Guardian, London, England, in an article under the above heading thus deals with the relations of Canada and the Empire, and indicates the importance of the offer of preference in trade matters extended the Mother country by the government of "Our Lady of the Snows":—

Mr. Kipling is a poet of a very prosaic age, and the mission he has set himself in literature is that of idealizing common things. No other man could have found an inspiration for his genius in a parliamentary bill about tariffs. In some verses which he recently published in the Times, the laureate of the barrack room has glorified the Canadian Dominion under the misleading title of "Our Lady of the Snows," the cause of the poetic canonization being evidently found in the proposals of the Canadian Finance Minister to relieve the import duties on British goods. Canadians may forgive the poetic license which describes the beautiful country as a region of snow, when it is really a land of many climates, and only think of the poet's kindly intent. Their policy, the verse writer regards as an expression of filial devotion which ought to be chronicled for all time. Yet the action seems to be only natural and financially patriotic. At all events it is a sound policy and whether dictated by a high imperial interest or by party exigencies will certainly pay both Canada and the Empire of which she is a part.

No declaration of fiscal policy ever made by a Canadian Minister has been received with such popular enthusiasm, nor been more significant in its intent. It has, indeed, been criticised severely only to be praised lavishly. It has been denounced by the press of competing nations, and Germany, after the manner of its exuberant Emperor, has blustered a little. "Letting off steam" is now a familiar and an amusing Teutonic game. The perturbation of the commercial classes in both Germany and Belgium may be taken as conclusive evidence that, when adopted the new Canadian policy will immensely augment our inter-colonial trade. It is not, however, the immediate effect which is so gravely feared by our trading rivals, but rather the example which Canada is placing before the rest of the Empire. It is beyond doubt that, by the letter of our commercial treaties, other countries are entitled to the same treatment from our colonies as that accorded to Great Britain, and that, apparently at least, Canada is bound to admit Belgian and German goods to her ports at the same tariff rates as those imposed on British merchandise. Both countries threaten to demand from Canada the same treatment as it is proposed to mete out to Great Britain, and timorous Canadian politicians consequently fear international complications or the refusal of the home Government to endorse the policy of the Canadian Ministry. But it does not seem that the Imperial Government can have any reason to interfere in restriction of the Canadian policy, or that we are under any obligation to consult foreign powers about the internal affairs of our own Empire. Two courses are open to the most favoured nations interested in the fiscal arrangements of the Canadian Dominion. They may accept the offer made by the Canadian Ministry, and by admitting Canadian goods into their countries at reduced tariffs secure the benefit of the new Canadian rates. This is a policy of reciprocity which they are not likely to adopt. They have the alternative of submitting to the denunciation of the treaties by the Imperial Government, and they might retaliate by imposing still higher tariffs on British goods. The law of retaliation would, however, be a somewhat expensive luxury to them. Increased rates on British products would mean increased prices to the foreign consumer, and both Belgium and Germany will be driven to the conclusion that the compromise is better than complaint. Canada, meanwhile may rest assured that the Imperial Government will not desert her in the new departure. Any sign of giving way to the demands of Germany or Belgium, any indication of sacrificing either the honour or the interests of the Dominion by recognizing the pretensions of European powers to supervise Canadian affairs, would be angrily resented in Great Britain. No sane Government would imperil its popularity by yielding to foreign protests on the subject.

The tendency of British opinion now is not to consider possible complications, but encourage other colonies to follow the Canadian example. All around us, we see our rivalling neighbours competing with one another in the endeavour to benefit themselves by crippling British commerce, and we cannot help acknowledging that their attempts have been rewarded with some small measure of success. In face of the organized opposition of other nationalities, the only policy left to us is the union and consolidation of the fiscal interests of all parts of the Empire. We want reciprocity, and plenty of it, within our own Imperial limits. Up till now, we have been asking for it in vain and hoping for the advent of the Imperial statesmen who could reconcile the commercial interests of the Colonies with those of each other and of the Mother Country. Canada has answered the appeal by opening up the way for the fiscal rapprochement which, if her example be followed by other colonies, must lead to local union and Imperial uniformity. In the fiscal union of the colonies and Great Britain our neighbours fear more serious consequences to their commerce than can be anticipated from the isolated section of the Canadian Dominion; they do not perhaps imagine for a moment that the policy of exclusive protection will be adopted throughout the whole Dominions of the Queen. We are commercially wiser in our generation than they and if we are sick of the universal and unadulterated application of the principles of Free Trade, we look for both security and profit in the establishment on a broad but sure basis of a system of commercial reciprocity. With Kipling and Our Lady of the Snows we merely insist that our commercial gates are our own to open and our own to close.

A PIONEER'S STORY.

Following an Attack of La Grippe He Suffered Day and Night for Four Years—A Well Known Clergyman Endorses His Statements.

From the Record, Windsor, Ont.

Among the residents of Kingsville, Ont., none is held in higher esteem than Mr. Jas. Lovelace, who is known not only in town, but to many throughout Essex county. When a correspondent of the Record called upon him and asked him to verify certain statements as to his cure from a painful malady after several years of suffering, he cheerfully did so. Mr. Lovelace said:—Four years ago I had a bad attack of la grippe, which left me with a severe pain in the pit of my stomach. After trying household remedies and getting no relief, I consulted a doctor, but after a long treatment which did not help me, I became discouraged and concluded there was no relief for me. Night and day for four years that pain never left me. At times it was so bad that I had to give up work. I had frequently read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and perhaps as much out of curiosity as with an hope that they would help me, I bought a box. I followed the directions carefully, and by the time the box was finished I was surprised to find that I was getting relief. I could not understand how, after all the medicine I had previously tried had failed, this one box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should help me. I now cheerfully continued their use and by the time I had taken five boxes every trace of pain had left me and I felt as well as ever I had done in my life. To-day I am as sound as a dollar and believe there is no man of my age in Essex county who can stand a harder day's work.

Rev. R. D. Herrington, Baptist minister at Kingsville, says:—"Having known Mr. James Lovelace for the past thirty years, I believe the above statements made by him to be strictly true. I might also say that I have been greatly benefitted myself by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Plowing Under a Green Crop.

The benefit derived by plowing under a green crop is not yet fully determined. Yet when manure is not readily obtainable it is one of the most convenient and economical ways of building up the fertility. Even when manure is plenty it can often be done to good advantage for this reason: Soil that is cropped year after year soon becomes hard and dead and lumpy. It packs so hard and so tightly around growing plants that cultivation becomes difficult. Vegetable mould or humus is the great need of most soils that are cropped continuously. Barnyard manure or commercial fertilisers do not furnish this in sufficient quantities for securing the best results, nor do they restore to the soil as much as each succeeding crop requires.

It is largely on this account that it is always advisable to plow under not only a green growth whenever a favorable opportunity occurs, but also to plow under weeds, stalks or grass, rather than to burn them. There is, of course, very little manurial value in dry weeds, stalks or grass, but the mechanical effect is always beneficial.

One of the objects in plowing under a green growth, especially of clover, is that nitrogen is thereby added to the soil. Nitrogen is one of the three essential elements of plant growth.

Growing plants contain the largest per cent. of nitrogen when they are in full bloom. At this stage they also contain the largest per cent. of humus; hence to secure the largest benefit in plowing under a green growth, it should be done when the greater part of the plants are in full bloom.

The Storing of Oat Straw.

Oat straw damages in the stack much more easily than wheat straw. As with clover and millet, if considered best to stack, some care in selecting a location convenient to the feeding places will help materially in lessening the work of feeding it out. Oats cut at the right stage, well cured and stored away where they can be kept in good condition make one of the cheapest and best feeds that can be given to stock. They furnish grain and roughness, supplying the elements needed for the growth and development of bone and muscle.

There's no question about it. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier. This is proven by its wonderful cures of blood diseases.

PRAYER AT SUNRISE.

ing worthy of note in the addresses on the "Equipment for Service" and "Baptism of Power," by Rev. G. M. Campbell, Charlottetown, P.E.I., and Rev. R. B. Ramsey, Memphis, Tenn.

Then Dr. Berry touched a responsive chord when he said the Epworth League had held three conventions, to which the three degrees of comparison might be aptly applied. When he said "Toronto's is superlative," applause broke forth, which was renewed when he told in what this superlativeness consisted. But he averred that, great as had been the success of the Toronto Convention, it would be worse than nothing unless practical Christianity were its outcome. The real success of this Canadian meeting must be thus judged.

Then he gave all a parting motto: "Be good, but not be good simply—but good for something every day." Volleys of "Amens" endorsed this advice.

The consecration service followed, conducted by Rev. Dr. Hard of Kingston, Pa. His farewell address was very touching, and many were the moist eyes as he proceeded. He asked all to stand and sing as a prayer "Nearer, My God, to Thee." This was done with fine effect, and the enthusiasm was kept up by the subsequent singing of stanzas of such favorites as "Rock of Ages," "Take My Poor Heart, and Let it be Forever Closed to All but Thee."

Then came testimonials from young and old of benefits received at the Toronto meetings. When these were specially touching, the vast congregation would join in singing well-known snatches, "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," "Blessed be the Name," "Joy to the World," "Waft, Waft, Ye Winds, His Story," "The Old-Time Religion," "The Half Hath Never Yet Been Told."

His Worship Mayor Fleming received the Chautauqua salute when, on the platform, he gave his testimony. "These meetings," said he, "have been a great blessing to me; and I hope all who have taken part in them or been present have been profited thereby."

"Praise the Lord" and "Amens" followed and the Mayor was applauded for his little complimentary address.

Then came the very serious business of dividing, as it were, the sheep from the goats. All the unconverted were asked to stand. None responded promptly. So other tactics were resorted to: All who knew they were Christians were asked to stand. This left many gaps in the ranks. Those who remained seated were prayed for and lovingly spoken to by their saved neighbors. Some professed to enter the kingdom.

Then the States of the Union and the names of the Canadian provinces were called, and the representative characters of the gathering were seen as those from the different localities stood forward. The larger aggregations were loudly cheered.

Then, with variations, the people sang a farewell favorite, "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder." When the words were sung, "I'll be There," the right hand was raised; when the words of the next stanza, "In the triumph of that day" were reached, handkerchiefs were joyously waved; and at the concluding verse, every one in the crowded church shook hands. And it was no mere formality, as the writer can testify, for bright eyes sparkled along with the fervant grasp and the words "You'll be there," "God bless you," were heard on all sides.

But all was far from over. There were self-consecrations, renewed consecrations, prayers standing and prayers sitting, silent prayer, and vocal praise; all culminating with the singing alternately by male and female voices of the popular hymns, "God be With You Till We Meet Again," and "In That Land of Joy and Song We Will Never Say Good-bye."

Then came pathetic closing appeals and prayer and benediction and doxology and the Hallelujah Chorus, and one of the most impressive services ever held in the Metropolitan Church was over, half an hour before midnight. The heat was very great and, although many on this account had to leave, the majority of the congregation stayed till the proceedings closed.

THE COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS.

Thanks Tendered to Toronto Where the League Stands on Moral Questions.

Following is the report of the Committee on Resolutions:

The third annual conference of the Epworth League congratulates itself upon being permitted to assemble in the City of Toronto, inexpressibly beautiful for situation, by reason of the intelligence, public spirit and philanthropy of its people, the pride of the whole Dominion, and on account of the high character of those in authority, the just administration of its laws and the civic virtues of its citizens, the joy of Christians everywhere.

1. We return to the Premier of Ontario and to His Worship the Mayor of Toronto our grateful appreciation of their generous words of welcome and of the unusual civic courtesies extended to us; express to our sister Methodism the grace of their Christian greeting and return to the thousands of homes where we have been entertained our hearty thanks for their delightful and unwearied hospitality.

2. We acknowledge our debt of gratitude to the Dominion authorities in permitting us to use their splendid Armouries for our headquarters and the special courtesy of the increased force at the customs, thus obviating all unnecessary delay.

3. We appreciate the prompt and accommodating service of the various transportation companies and felicitate ourselves and them that without accident we have been able to make a speedy and comfortable journey to Toronto.

4. We desire to thank the city papers of Toronto and the Press Association of the United States for the complete, graphic and accurate reports of the convention; to express our delight at the superbly appointed buildings furnished for our assembly, and our perfect satisfaction with the painstaking and successful service rendered by all local committees.

5. We express our unwavering devotion to the cause of temperance, pledge ourselves to total abstinence from intoxicating liquors and urge the complete prohibition of the liquor traffic. We commend to the Epworth Leagues early affiliation with the Anti-Saloon League and earnest co-operation with their plans for the elimination of the open saloon. We are likewise unalterably opposed to the use of tobacco, and urge our members to abstain from it in all its forms.

6. We call upon all members of the Epworth League, together with all friends of true morality, to aid by their personal influence the maintenance of the Christian Sabbath. We have been most favourably impressed during our brief visit to Toronto with the strong public sentiment here present on this question, and the thorough determination of our Canadian brethren to maintain in its integrity this holy day, absolutely essential to a religious life, public righteousness and Christian civilization. We pledge ourselves to the most earnest efforts to awaken and instruct the public conscience on this subject, and heartily endorse the work of the American Sabbath Union. We recommend that our members on the coming Sabbath attend the several services in the churches nearest to their place of entertainment and stand here and everywhere strongly against all pleasure seeking on the Lord's Day.

7. We hold that it is our Christian duty to participate in all matters that concern the National, State and Municipal Government, and urge and entreat our young people, without respect to their political affiliations, to ally themselves with all movements for civic reform and social righteousness.

8. The Epworth League of the United States and Canada, embracing 2,500,000 members, pray for and anticipate the day when Great Britain and the United States shall determine by honorable treaty the terms of a perpetual peace, resolve henceforth to avoid war with each other, and settle all international difficulties by arbitration.

9. Resolved, That we express our devout gratitude to God for the spiritual power and blessedness of these assemblies, for the joys of our fraternity and the happy prospects of increasing unity.

10. We make no apology for our existence as a denominational society, and deprecate the uncharitable utterances of those who, by their words, deny to the right of such organization. We express again our wish to cooperate with the young people of all denominations in all practical Christian work, and our willingness for federation with them.

11. We recommend that the three separate Epworth League organizations continue to use the same series of topics for the devotional meetings.

12. We recommend that the fourth international convention of the Epworth League be held in July, 1898, at Indianapolis, Indiana, and that the usual committees of arrangement shall be appointed by the General Cabinet of the Epworth League, by the Executive Committee of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church South and by the Epworth League Board of Canada or its Executive, to whom the details of arrangement shall be submitted for approval. Signed for the committee,

A. Carman, President.
F. D. Fuller, Secretary.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Syracuse, July 18.—The Stars pounded Staley unmercifully here to-day, making 23 hits, with a total of 30 bases. They played a fine fielding game and Lampe was more or less of an enigma to the Canucks. The result was never in doubt. Score:

Syracuse	2 0 2 5 3 1 2 1 * 16

HITTING ALWAYS WINS.

Springfield, Mass., July 17.—Toronto won to-day's game by a fast spurt at the finish. McGinnis' arm gave out and he retired in the third innings. Mains pitched well up to the one eighth, and lost his grip. Empire Keefe's collar bone was broken by a hot foul tip from Toomey's bat in the ninth innings, but he stuck to his indicator until he fainted away. Score:

Toronto	1 1 0 0 0 0 0 4 2 -8

GAMES ON SATURDAY.

Eastern League: Buffalo 4, Providence 1; Syracuse 2, Wilkes Barre 1; Scranton 3, Rochester 0 (first game); Scranton 5, Rochester 11 (second game).

National: Pittsburg 5, Boston 6; Cleveland 5, Brooklyn 2; Cincinnati 14, Washington 2; Louisville 3, New York 4 (first game); Louisville 12, New York 6 (second game); Chicago 2, Baltimore 20; St. Louis 10, Philadelphia 5.

BASEBALL ON SUNDAY.

At Louisville—The Browns played good ball and were in the lead until the eighth inning, when the Colonels found Donohue's delivery for five hits and as many runs, all of which were earned. Hallan had an argument with Umpire Hurst in the fifth innings and was put out of the game by that official. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	0 0 2 3 0 0 0 5 *—10	11	2
St. Louis	0 0 4 0 1 0 1 1 0— 7	13	1

Batteries—Cunningham and Wilson; Donahue and Murphy.

At Cleveland: Dark clouds and thunder, which threatened rain throughout the afternoon, kept the attendance at the second Sunday game down to 3000. Powell's great pitching won easily for Cleveland, while the brilliant fielding of both sides was another feature. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	2 0 0 0 4 0 0 2 0—8	10	0

Batteries—Powell and Zimmer; Dunn and Glan.

At Cincinnati: It took 10 innings to decide the game between the Senators and Reds, which was one of the most exciting seen here this season. It was a pitcher's battle throughout. In the 10th innings Umpire O'Day ordered Captain Brown off the field for questioning a decision at first base. Score:

Washington ...	2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—3	8	1

Batteries—Breitenstein and Peitz; Mercer and Farrell.

At Chicago: The Colts took the last game of the series by better hitting, Hoffer's wildness and Baltimore's only error, a wide throw by Clark. Griffith pitched a steady game, but was off in fielding, muffing a thrown ball and making a low throw that netted three bases. Connor's batting was a feature. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	1 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—3	7	1

Batteries—Griffith and Donohue; Hoffer and Clark.

HAMILTON 7, GUELPH 4.

Hamilton, July 17.—The baseball match between Hamilton and Guelph this afternoon was exciting, and Jeffers, an old International League umpire, umpired it. Roberts, the Guelph catcher, abused him continually. In the eighth innings Roberts was ordered to the bench, and when he refused to go, the game was given to Hamilton by 9 to 0. The score was: Hamilton 7, 10, 5; Guelph, 4, 9, 3. Batteries, Cochrane and Conwell, Bradford, Crowe and Roberts.

A TORONTO LADY TELLS ABOUT THE PROPER TREATMENT.

Mrs. Jas. Astleford, 228 Robert Street, Toronto, says:—"When I began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a short time ago I was so excessively nervous that I was almost afraid of my shadow. Such things as the closing of a door or unexpectedly meeting any person would make me jump and completly upset me.

"I felt fatigued and worn out nearly all the time. My heart would palpitate violently, and my physical strength was at a low ebb. These pills have strengthened my nerves, restored healthy action of the heart and removed all the troubles from which I suffered so severly.

"I have been invigorated and built up in a remarkable manner by their use. You have no idea what a comfort it is to have regular healthy action of the heart when one has experienced the torture of heart trouble.

"I can only say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a magnificent medicine, for they proved so in my case."

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. THE PARK NINE PLAYED BASEBALL

BUT THE ELMS, OF TORONTO, WERE TOO MANY FOR THEM.

The Locals Show That They are Made of the Right Sort of Stuff, but They Need Steadying Down and More Frequent Games—The Visitors had a Strong Organization.

The first game of baseball of the season was played on the P.A.A.A. grounds on Saturday afternoon between the Elms, of Toronto, and the Park Nine, of town.

The attendance was small, owing to the fact that the merchants and their clerks were too busy to go over to the ground on a market day.

Although the Toronto team brought Garey, one of the fastest amateur twirlers in the city, with them, yet the Park Niners hit him hard and but for their own errors in the field they could have won the game easily. Of course the local team was weakened by the absence of Graham, Sheridan and Scott, yet the want of practice was shown at critical points in the game, when opportunities were afforded for brilliant play. Peterborough is credited in all with seventeen errors, but the occasional bits of fast work which were seen were sufficient to show that the boys had plenty of snap and ginger in them and there is plenty of the material of which are made in the team. It needs steadying down, that is all and before the season is much further advanced the Peterborough public may expect to see some rattling good ball games on the P. A. A. A. Grounds.

The Elms went to bat first. Ross sent a big fly out to right field, which Halpin missed, and a wild throw by the catcher to second base let the man complete the circuit of the bases and score. Maddocks then batted one through the infield. Might got his base on four balls and Maddocks scored on another wild throw of the catcher to second base. Lee, Burns and Young were all sent to first base on balls, allowing Wright to score. Lee scored on a wild throw to first base by the catcher, who endeavoured to catch Young napping. White struck out. Murray batted a high fly, which Melrose gathered in. Watt was given a base on balls and Ross, on coming to the bat for the second time, batted one to Connors, who fielded the ball and got it over first base before the batter, retiring the side with four runs. For Peterborough Cassidy made a base hit, stole second and scored on a wild throw from the short stop to first base to catch King who had batted out an easy one. A succession of errors enabled King to get around home and score.

Halpin and Parnell both struck out. Melrose through the second baseman, and Dolan placed a safe one in left field and went to second on it advancing Melrose to third. Thorne struck out, returning the side with two runs.

PUT A HOT ONE

Maddock got to first on a wild throw by Arsenault, after he had stopped the ball well, but Parnell caught him trying to steal second. Wright batted to Melrose, who stopped him at first bag. Lee batted a very high fly which King gathered in so neatly as to win considerable applause. 0 runs.

For Peterborough, Arsenault struck out, Conners made a base hit and got to second on a passed ball. Cassidy struck out, and Connors was caught trying to steal 3rd. 0 runs.

Burns was retired by Arsenault who captured a hotly batted ball and got it neatly over to first. Young took his base on balls and stole 2nd. White was given his base on balls and got to second, whilst Young moved on to 3rd on a passed ball. Murray hit to Connors, who held the ball fearful of sending to 1st, as Young had led off 3rd base a long distance towards home. The batter reached 1st in safety, Walsh sent a fly out to centre which Thorne missed and Young scored. Ross batted out a long fly to right field. One man scored on the throw in, but another was caught at the plate. Maddocks went out by Arsenault's assist to first base, retiring the side. Three runs.

King sent so hot a liner to first base that the player could not stop it. He afterwards stole 2nd and 3rd. Halpin struck out, Melrose went out on a foul to 1st baseman.

KING SCORED ON

Dolan's hit, and Thorne went out on a ball batted to the pitcher. One run.

Wright struck out. Lee batted to Melrose who tossed the ball to King at first. It looked so easy that Lionel was too sure of it, and let the runner get to first in safety. Burns hit a two baser, sending Lee to 3rd. Young struck out and Lee scored on a passed ball. White got to first on Arsenault's error and Burns scored. Murray and Watt gained their bases on balls and Ross fielded out to Thorne. Two runs.

Arsenault and Connors struck out and Cassidy was retired by a foul fly to the catcher.

Maddocks and Wright each made long drives out in the field, as did Lee, but Parnell made a sensational one hand catch and retired the latter, but Maddocks scored on the throw in. Burns struck out. Young got his base through being hit by the ball. White's grounder to Melrose was stopped, but King missed at first. He recovered the ball however, sufficiently quick to catch Wright at the home plate. One run.

King, Halpin and Parnell all struck out.

The game went on this manner, the visitors adding four runs to their score and Peterborough being retired in one, two three order until the last innings, when Arsenault with a terrific drive over the centre field fence made a home run. King did the same thing a minute later, but as somebody told the umpire that he "skimped" a base on the way round, he was declared out.

This ended the game, and the Toronto boys had just time to catch their train home.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

LACROSSE.

Practice every night this week. No player should be absent from the field even one night as the game with Markham will require every effort to win. It will without doubt be the hardest game of the season. The Markhams went to Toronto and defeated the Elms by 7 goals to 1, whilst Peterborough defeated the Elms by 6 to 2 here. This means that the boys will have their work cut out for them on Friday.

Marmora went to Madoc on Friday last and in a league game tied the Madoc's on their own grounds, each team scoring four goals. Marmora will, therefore, probably win on its own grounds, in which event there will be a strong probability of Peterborough having to play off against Marmora instead of Madoc this season.

Markham won from Stouffville on Saturday by 8 goals to 1.

The Port Hope Times says: Perhaps Peterborough will now admit that her team doesn't know the game commonly called lacrosse. It was bad enough when the hated Port Hopers beat them, but to be licked by a little place like Hastings, as they were yesterday, must have had an awfully reducing effect upon their self-conceit. And when that country team from the village of Markham gets at them next Friday, there will be mighty little of it left. To think that even Hastings can bang them all over the field! Dear, dear!

The Times evidently forgets that Peterborough won from Port Hope by six straight goals here on Jubilee day.

THE WHEEL.

Members of the Peterborough Bicycle Club will please remember the meeting of club this evening in the Y. M. C. A. building at 8 o'clock.

Toronto Saturday Night says that the day of the C. W. A. annual meet, as at present constituted, is about over, and that meets for purely racing purposes, and by professionals, are to supersede the giddy gatherings of the past few years. One thing is certain—next Good Friday will hardly witness such a struggle for the meet as that of last Good Friday.

A meeting of the Victoria Bicycle Club is called for this evening to make final arrangements for the race meet on August 5th. The Peterborough Bicycle Club will also be present at the meeting and will co operate in making the meet a success. The members of both clubs should all be present.

COBOURG RACES.

The mid-summer meet of the Ontario Trotting Association will be held in Cobourg on Aug. 19 and 20. Entry blanks are asked for from all points. It bids fair to be one of the biggest events in provincial sporting circles. Better purses, better horses, and faster time than ever this year, are going to make the summer meet at Cobourg a decided success. Many American horses are expected—Cobourg World.

THE OLDEST INHABITANT

Ashburnham Loses a Resident at the Age of Eighty-Five Years who has Lived in the Village for 60 Years.

The oldest resident of Ashburnham died in that village on Saturday last, when Sarah MGill, relict of the late Mr. John Sheridan, passed away.

The deceased was eighty-five years of age(and was)born in County Cavan, Ireland. On coming to Canada at an early age she lived in Port Hope, but came to Peterborough county some sixty-one or two years ago, first taking up residence on the site of the present town of Peterborough. The family then moved to Ashburnham and purchased a house on Brown street, where they have lived for the past sixty years. The deceased was married twice, her first husband, Mr. John Marshall, being killed at an election in 1871. The older residents will readily recall the affair, which created a great stir at the time and has frequently been referred to in the papers since.

The late John Sheridan was the second husband. One daughter and two sons survive, viz., Mrs. John Forsythe, of Pontypool; Mr. John Sheridrn, who resides in United States, and Mr. Robert Sheridan, of Ashburnham.

Mr. John Hamilton Marshall, a son of the deceased by her first husband, died, it will be remembered, a few weeks ago. She has another sister still living, it is thought, but her residence is unknown.

The funeral took place from the family residence, Ashburnham, to the Little Lake Cemetery this afternoon.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. C. W. Hedley, now of Brantford, preached in St. Luke's church yesterday morning, taking for his text the passage, "Nevertheless, at Thy word I will let down the net," from which he delivered a very instructive discourse on obedience as the law of the spiritual life. Mr. Hedly also assisted the rector at the evening service.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, of St. Paul's church, is away on a holiday trip down the St. Lawrence river. During his absence the pulpit of St. Paul's is being filled by Rev. Dr. Hunter, of Erskine church, Toronto, who is being entertained at the residence of Mr. T. G. Hazlitt during his stay in town. Rev. Dr. Hunter is a brother of Mr. David Hunter, of Douro. His parents reside in Millbrook.

"The Glory Land" was the anthem sung in the George street Methodist church last evening. An excellent duet was ably executed by Miss A. Belleghem and Mr. Browne. "The King of Glory" was sung as the anthem in the morning, Mr. J. Miller taking the solo with fine effect.

Mrs. Arthur Brooks, contralto soloist of Meriden, Con., kindly assisted the choir of the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday morning, and during the offertory rendered Marston's "My God and Father while I stray," in a very effective manner. Mrs. Brooks posseses a powerful and sweet contralto voice, and there were many who regretted her inability to be present at the evening service, as previously announced, but look forward with much pleasure to hearing her at both services in the same church next Sunday.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars. — G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The Grand Trunk Railway authorities have decided upon a new regulation uniform for their passenger train crews. The uniform will be the same colour as at present, blue, but the coats will be cut alike, sack shape, with close-fitting collar. The brass buttons will be done away with, being substituted by white metal. On each lapel of the coat will be the name of the road. Each man will be expected to wear a stand up collar and white shirt with a neat tie. This will make alike every member of the different passenger train crews.

The President of an electric railway company complained to the superintendent—a Hibernian named Finnegin—that his daily reports of trouble on the line were too long, too wordy. Cut 'em short, said the busy president. The superintendent's next report of a car off the track satisfied all hands. It was:

"Offagin,
"Onagin,
"Awayagin,
"Finnegin."

A gravel train is engaged in doing some necessary re-ballasting on the Missing Link. The gravel is being procured near Bethany.

As if by Magic.

This is always the case when Nerviline is applied to any kind of pain; it is sure to disappear as if by magic. Stronger, more penetrating, and quicker in action than any other remedy in the world, pain cannot stay where it is used. It is just the thing to have in thh house to meet a sudden attack of illness.

Not in Little Dabs.

We don't buy in little dabs—a little of this for that department, a little of that for this department, a dab here and a dab there. When we buy we buy big. The manufacturers are looking for us, because we buy big bills and buy for cash, and cash is part of the start of the low prices we are enabled to quote you on our recent gigantic purchase of the E. A. Small & Co.'s stock, the best Montreal made clothing. You can rest assured that what you buy here is of a standard make. You can rest assured that you are getting the best possible goods at the lowest prices ever reached. WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 54; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. ❋ 1871 ❋

In this year Messrs. Mason & Risch started in business with small capital and no reputation, but with a determination to sell pianos of such unquestioned merit that each customer would be an aggressive advertiser for them.

❋ 1897 ❋

The enviable position that this firm occupies to-day is the best proof that their policy when they started was a wise one. They have sold over 6000 Mason & Risch Pianos in addition to many thousands of pianos and organs of other makers, establishing for themselves a reputation for piano building such as no other Canadian maker has achieved, also the recognition of prominent musicians in the United States and Europe. There is no experiment in getting a Mason & Risch.

THE GEORGIA POET.

Frank L. Stanton, Who Is Known to All Newspaper Readers.

Frank L. Stanton, the Georgia poet, whose verses are so familiar to all newspaper readers, is a rare genius and something more. His only school was the school of adversity. The misfortunes of his early childhood swept this fatherless boy past the doors of academies and colleges, and he was glad enough when just entering his teens to act as office-boy for Joel Chandler Harris on The Savannah News.

In a short time the boy drifted to a small town in South Carolina, where he went to work in a printing office.

He was fond of books, and began to rhyme in numbers at the age of 6. His rhyming gifts were wonderful, and when he was only 15 he made a dash into print.

One night he wrote a short poem and sent it to his favorite paper, with the following businesslike note to the editor:

"Dear Sir: I want $1 for this."

The dollar was promptly forthcoming and the poem was printed in the course of two or three weeks.

Then young Stanton tried his luck again. He wrote a longer poem, and his note to the editor ran as follows:

"Dear Sir: I want $2 for this."

The money was sent to him, and his verses appeared in a short time.

His next venture showed that the money devil had captured him. He forwarded a poem to the editor, with a note in which he said:

"Dear Sir: I want $3 for this."

Again fortune favored him. The editor published the poem and paid the sum demanded.

Stanton's memory is something phenomenal. He can repeat the whole of

FRANK L. STANTON.

In one respect Stanton resembles his distinguished co-worker, "Uncle Remus." He is unwilling to leave Georgia, and seems to think that a position on a big newspaper in any other state at double his present salary would be utterly ruinous.

It is passing strange that these two men are willing to remain practically prisoners in "pent-up Utica," when business and pleasure offer them wealth and fame in our great centres of population, but they are so constituted and they cannot help it.

Stanton is now 43 years old. He is of medium height, with a gunpowder complexion and fierce black eyes.

In Atlanta he is, of course, out of place. The Georgia capital is a busy, money-loving city, and it will be fully a half-century before it will begin to cultivate the literary side of life. The average Atlantan thinks more of potatoes than of poetry—more of bricks than of books—more of capital than of culture.

It is a cold, chilly city for a poet, but in the narrow way the people are proud of Stanton, and it pleases them to know that his verses can be coined into dollars elsewhere.—Wallace Putnam Reed in San Francisco Call.

A Colored Parson on Joshua.

"Yes, my bredderin'," said the colored exhorter, "Joshua wus a colonel in de army, an' wuz a-fightin' one er de biggest battles of his life when he see de sun haulin' up de kivver engwine ter bed. So he holler out:

"Stan' still dar, I tell you, tell I done whup dis heah battle!"

"But de sun wus gettin' powerful sleepy, en so he up en say:

"'Looky heah, Brer Joshua, I'll make you sweat fer dis! You know I done my day's work, en I am tired out. I done git home, en I gwine ter my rest."

"'Stan' still, I tell you!' But what Joshua say. 'I done bet 10 dollars I gwine ter whup de fight, en ef night overtake me I'm gone chicken, kase kersene's one dollar a quart, en hit's 10 miles ter de nex' grocery.'

"De sun he sorry for Joshua, en so he stan' still tell Joshua kill out all he enemies en pocket de gate receipts."—Atlanta Constitution.

Wise Men Know

It is folly to build upon a poor foundation, either in architecture or in health. A foundation of sand is insecure, and to deaden symptoms by narcotics or nerve compounds is equally dangerous and deceptive. The true way to build up health is to make your blood pure, rich and nourishing by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache.

SUPPRESS THE JINGOES

Or They May Make Serious Trouble Between John Bull and Uncle Sam.

London, July 16. Commenting on Secretary Sherman's letter, The Daily News says editorially: "Unless we get an arbitration treaty the day will come when the unbridled verbiage of a small section of American politicians will magnify petty insult into a petty war. Secretary Sherman's despatch is too undiplomatic for English ears, and too hollow for American common-sense. In the interests of humanity, the rumored alliance between Japan and Spain is desirable. Our Yankee friends want a little blood letting to bring them to a sensible international policy, and this would best be done by any hands other than those of England."

The Times, in an editorial article, says: "It is impossible to doubt the authenticity of the document. It is a manifest account, in offensive language, to fasten upon England a charge of bad faith. If this was not Secretary Sherman's intention, he has shown himself singularly unfitted for the delicate and responsible duties of his office; if it was, then the statement he recently made repudiating the charge of bad faith was deliberately misleading. When he was first appointed to his present office, doubts were expressed as to the wisdom of the choice. If he really sent this despatch they will be fully confirmed."

Suggesting that the despatch was published with the connivance, if not the active aid, of the jingo Senators, who were under a solemn obligation to treat it as confidential, The Times proceeds to quote from New York papers condemning the tone of the despatch, and expresses the belief that this will be the attitude of the American public. The editorial concludes by calling attention to the financial articles in another column of The Times, and adding that "Jingoism has a business aspect unfavorable to the revival of American prosperity."

The Times, in its financial article today, referring to U. S. Secretary of State Sherman's communication in reference to the seal controversy, says: "Mr. Sherman's despatch is not regarded seriously, but the fact that American statesmen, or rather politicians, think it useful from time to time to indulge in language of scarcely veiled hostility will not pass unnoticed, and will add to the prevailing indisposition of prudent investors to buy American securities."

The Post, in an editorial on the Sherman despatch, says: "Every indication points to the certainty that Great Britain will be compelled to fight for her existence against the United States as soon as an American Government believes that war can be safely begun. In such a situation war cannot be averted by justice nor good-will. Our statesmen must search their consciences and make sure in any controversy that may be raised that their attitude is just and fair. They should concede so long as there is any reasonable doubt concerning the justice of their position, but they must be prepared for an appeal to force. We can imagine no more dreadful calamity.

"Our duty is to make sure that it comes by no fault of ours and that it shall find us united and prepared. The respite will in all probability be the time needed for the creation of a more powerful American fleet, say three or four years, or for the creation of a political combination with some naval power, say as many months. The organization to sustain such a contest may be short. The time to face the situation is not in three years or three months, but now."

Another Swell Dinner.

London, July 16.—Lord and Lady Londonderry gave a dinner this afternoon, at their residence, Londonderry House, Park Lane. Among those present were the Prince and Princess of Wales, Princess Victoria of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, and the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough. The dinner was followed by a ball, at which the Duke and Duchess of York, and Prince and Princess of Saxe-Weimar, the Duke of Cambridge, Prince Christian of Denmark, the Duke and Duchess of Teck, Prince and Princess Von Pless, and Ambassador and Mrs Hay were present.

Earl Russell's Appeal Denied.

London, July 16.—To-day, by a vote of 5 to 4, the House of Lords dismissed the appeal of Earl John Francis Russell, and confirmed the judgment of the Appeal Court, setting aside the verdict of the court of first jurisdiction, which had granted him a separation from the Countess, who was Miss Mabel Scott, on the ground that she had been guilty of legal cruelty in accusing him of an unnatural offence.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from overexertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

An Ill-Fated Train.

Mr. J. Plimmer, of Windsor, Ont., was on the train which which went through the bridge at St. George, Ont., in 1888. In the accident his kidneys and back were seriously injured, and have since caused him great suffering. Mr. Plimmer says:—"Until I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills I never knew what it was to be free from pain. They have entirely removed the pain, and I am able to work every day now. They have produced better results than all the other medicines combined which I have used in all my years of suffering. I regard them as a specific for kidney trouble."

A TASTE FOR THE ANTIQUE.

Plain, old-fashioned people! Them's the kind I like;
Either keepin' still or tellin' truths where they will strike.
Never sayin' "not at home" to callers down below,
Nor sendin' "their regrets" to where they didn't want to go.
Er "Sorry said, "Glad to see ye!" way
There wasn't more to tell,
They didn't say to sick folks, "Dear, you're lookin' very well!"
Them's the sort that really seems to suit my sentiment—
Folks that never spoke without your knowin' what they meant.

Them was our forefathers. They didn't throw no flowers
To please the pride of others when they didn't care for ours.
They rix right up and lectured till the very air was blue
About "our lives, "our fortunes," and "our sacred honor," too.
They didn't choose long sentences that only waste your breath;
They summed it up in "gimme liberty or gimme death!"
I like to read their words again that echoed o'er the sea,
Plain old-fashioned people—them's the kind for me!

Linseed and Turpentine is not only a popular remedy, but the best known to medical science for the treatment of nervous membranes of respiratory organs.

DR. CHASE compounded this valuable syrup so as to take away the unpleasant taste of the turpentine and linseed. It was the Doctor's last and greatest remedy, and more of it is sold in Canada than all other cough medicines combined.

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affection of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dewson, of the Standard Bank, now of 14 Melbourne avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good. It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

W. B. RICKEY

Wide Awake Tobacconist, 415 George St.

When we read of a mother who leaves her newborn babe shivering on a doorstep, unguarded from the elements, and to suffer at the mercy of strangers, we wonder at her cold heart and lack of mother-love. There are other ways, than desertion, of exposing a child to a life of suffering. The mother who, through ignorance or neglect of the health and vigor of the organs that make motherhood possible, brings into the world a sick and puny child is at fault for the life of suffering to which it is condemned. If a woman would have healthy, robust, happy children, with bright futures, she must take proper care of her womanly self.

The best of all medicines for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly and only on the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity. It makes them strong and healthy. It prepares for wifehood and motherhood. Taken during the expectant period it banishes the usual discomforts and makes baby's coming easy and almost painless. It insures a robust, healthy newcomer and ample, natural nourishment. Over 90,000 women have testified to its merits over their signatures. All good druggists sell it.

Mrs. Ursula Dunham, of Sisterville, Tyler Co., W. Va., writes: "My baby now is nearly a year old. She was born last March. After she was born I had local weakness. I could not stand up long enough to wash the dishes. In September I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took three bottles and it has cured me. I can now do all my work."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets.

If constipation was painful like a toothache, sickness would to a very great extent be a thing of the past. If it was painful, the proper remedy would be promptly resorted to, and the long train of disorders for which it is responsible would cease to exist. But unfortunately constipation is the easiest to neglect of all sickness-breeding conditions. A resort to the right remedy is put off from day to day. It shows itself in a headache, and some injurious headache powder that gives but temporary relief is used. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets go to the first cause of the trouble and cure it. They are a prompt and permanent cure for constipation. They cause no pain and never gripe. Druggists sell them, and sell nothing else that is "just as good."

WILLIAM Q. ORCHARDSON.

The Man Who Has Been Ordered to Paint a Royal Jubilee Group.

William Quiller Orchardson, the noted English painter, has been commanded by the Queen to paint a Jubilee group picture of herself, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York and little Prince Edward. Mr. Orchardson, although now an old man, has lost none of the cunning that distinguishes his early efforts at portrait and figure painting. Twenty years ago he was made a Royal Academician and since that time he has turned out pictures that have become familiar to the people of the civilized world through their reproduction in cheap forms. Mr. Orchardson is a Scotsman born and his early training in art was received in Edinburgh. There, too, his first exhibitions were made. In 1863 he went to London for the superior advantages to be had in the metropolis. In that year his first English exhibits were made in the Royal Academy. They were "An Old English Song," and "Portraits." In the following year he exhibited at the British Institution "Peggy," and at the academy a Scottish subject, entitled "Flowers o' the Forest." Next came "Hamlet and Ophelia," and "The Challenge." Mr. Orchardson painted "Prince Henry, Poins and Falstaff," "Day Dreams," "The Market Girl," "Toilers of the Sea" and other canvases that have since become classic. He won the highest praise at the Paris Universal Exhibition, which is a rare honor for an English artist. The French critics were lavish in their praise of his "Challenge" and "Christopher Sly." A list of his paintings would include no less than dozens of pictures that have been reproduced in chromos, photogravures, wood engravings, on the covers of candy boxes and in a hundred different ways.

THE FIRE TOPOSCOPE.

A MACHINE WHICH LOCATES A BIG CITY'S FIRES.

The Vienna Department Has This Mechanical Wonder, Which Is Said to Work With Unerring Accuracy—Sketch of the Plan.

Although the city of Vienna has an up-to-date fire alarm system, there is, however, constantly maintained a fire watch of several men, on duty at all times in the tower on St. Stephen's Cathedral, the highest point in the city. For the purpose of locating a fire there is in use a novel instrument known as the "toposcope," which is said to do its work in day or night with unerring accuracy. The toposcope consists of a good telescope, which is solidly attached to an arrangement of levers, while graduated sections of a circle are arranged horizontally and vertically in such a way that the moving of the telescope sideways or up and down results in a change of position of the hands attached to the levers in reference to the graduated scales. It is obvious, the stability of the apparatus being assured by their being firmly fastened, that, whenever the telescope is focussed upon the same object, the hands will point to the same figures on the horizontal and on the vertical sectant, and since an index of the whole city has been made it is a matter of but a few seconds when a fire is discovered at night, to direct upon the spot the topscope on the respective side, to read off the numbers, to look up the object, and to wire it to the central fire station, with all the details observed. Local conditions are, of course, necessary for the successful operation of this apparatus, but in this case they are almost perfect. St. Stephen's tower is over 500 feet high, and the great area of the city is situated in the road valley of the Danube, allowing an uninterrupted panorama to the city limits. The atmospheric conditions are also favorable. The toposcope by there works so accurately that even at night the exact house and number were often given to the central by the watchman on the tower, while the next fire-alarm box, being at a distance of three or four blocks, could not have given the exact location of the fire, and this would have delayed the arrival of the fire department accordingly.

THE FIRE TOPOSCOPE.

His Trouble.

The boy came into the house weeping, and his mother was naturally solicitous.

"What's the matter, Tommy?" she asked.

"The boy across the street hit me," he replied.

"Oh, well, I wouldn't cry for that," she returned. "Show that you can be a little man."

"I ain't crying for that," he retorted.

"Then what are you crying for?"

"He ran into the house before I could get at him."

A Passage at Arms.

Recently a newspaper man who wished to interview an officer at the barracks found that his man was in bed and soundly sleeping.

"Is there no way of getting at him?" he asked.

"No," replied a humorous sentinel, "he's now a retired officer."

"Smart, ain't you?" said the newspaper man.

"No," replied the sentinel, "Smart's on the retired list, too. I'm Brown."

The Wrong Fish.

Scene—The bar parlor of the Prince George, Brighton. Pipes and beer all round. An old salt saying:

"I've got a riddle to ask you chaps, If a 'erring and a 'alf cost three farthings, 'ow many could you buy for sixpence?"

Profound silence and much puffing of pipes. Presently a voice from the corner:

"I say, Bill, did you say 'errings?"

"Yes, I said 'erring."

"Drat it, I've been a-reckoning of mackerel all this ere time!"

Hog Food.

It was Johnson's humor to be anti-Scottish. He objected theoretically to haggis, though he ate a good plate full of it.

"What do you think of the haggis?" asked the hospitable old lady, at whose table he was dining, seeing that he partook so plentifully of it.

"Humph!" he replied, with his mouth full, "it's very good food for hogs!"

"Then let me help you to some mair o' 't," said the lady, helping him bountifully.—From What to Eat.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

Here is the Way.

To cure all heart and nerve troubles and weak, weary, tired feeling, sleeplessness, nervousness, etc., do as Mr. Thos. Glover, Chatham, Ont., did. Says Mrs. Glover: "One box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured me. I was so bad that I feared paralysis, but am now well and strong, thanks to these wonderful pills."

AMONG THE POULTRY.

Trite Truths That Will Pay For Putting Them Into Practice.

Keep water where the ducks can help themselves while eating.

The freshest eggs are always the best for hatching.

Geese and turkeys will not thrive if closely confined.

Pekins are the best breed of ducks to raise without water.

When the hens have the scours feed chalk in the soft feed.

When the hens are confined they should have plenty of cool, clear water.

Always feed chickens before giving them water in the morning.

From now on the best place for spring turkeys is on the range.

By having low roosts the fowls will be more comfortable and bumble foot may be avoided.

Dig up a part of the poultry yard and give the fowls an opportunity to exercise.

Damaged grain or soft feed is always dangerous; it is apt to induce disease.

Ducks can live in water all day, but must have dry quarters at night.

Removing to warm, dry quarters will fight the biggest half of any disease in poultry.

Hens that are over-fed are not healthy and will not lay regularly. Good thrift will give the best results.

Eggs should be cleansed as soon as gathered, if soiled, especially those you intend to store away.

Burn up the old nest materials and replace it with new as soon as a hen comes off with her brood.

Boiling the milk given to the hens will increase its value and lessen the risk of its producing disease.

Fowls that have a good variety of food do not need artificial stimulants or condiments to make them lay or to keep them in good health.

If you feed the fowls to short legs you gain in having more meat on the body.

If geese are kept at the lowest cost, it is essential that they have good water and good pasturage.

Loss of feathers is usually caused by want of green food or want of a dust bath, or both.

Pullets should be kept for laying, but a sufficient number of the best old hens should be kept especially to lay eggs for hatching.

In some cases late broods may be made profitable, but is rather the exception than the rule.

THE CRACKS AT BISLEY.

Canadians Capture Many Prizes—England Won the Elcho Shield—Gift From Lord Mountstephen.

London, July 17.—At Bisley to-day in the shooting for the "Imperial" prize, second stage, squadded competition, ten shots each at 800 yards, with service rifles, Sergeant Whitehead of the Third South Staffordshire Regiment was first, with a score of 144. Of the Canadian team Windatt wins £5 sterling and a gold medal for the highest colonial score. Miller became entitled to shoot off for the bronze medal with a Queensland rifleman.

Other Canadians winning prizes in the contest for the "Imperial" are Skidden, Broadhurst, Smith, Drysdale and Capt. Davidson, each of whom takes £2, and Lieutenant Davidson, who takes £1.

In the competition for the "Indian and Colonial" commemoration prize, open to the highest duly qualified scorers in the "Imperial" competition, Windatt, of the Canadian team, was first, taking £25 sterling; Miller, of the Canadian team was third, taking £10; Skidden sixth, Broadhurst seventh, Smith tenth, Drysdale twelfth. These four take £5 each.

The shoot off for the bronze medal was won by Miller. The claim of the Canadians for an inner at the 200 yards distance in Langstroth's score in the competition for the Rajah of Kolapore's Imperial Challenge Cup yesterday has been disallowed by the committee, thus reducing Langstroth's four points and making the Canadian team fourth instead of third, the Motherland team having a total of 732.

Major Perley will be buried at Bisley to-morrow. The pall-bearers selected are Colonial Majors, including Major Mason, Major Dunbar and Major Henderson of Canada.

In the competition to-day at Bisley for the "Elcho Challenge Shield," England won with a score of 1603. The competition is open to one team of eight from England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales respectively, with the distances of 500, 900 and 1000 yards (aggregate), and 18 shots at each distance. The weapons are match rifles, and no sighting shots are allowed. A silver miniature shield is presented by the National Rifle Association to each member of the winning team, to its captain and its adjutant.

EASTERN TELEGRAPH CO.

Said to Have Got Its Clamps on the Canadian-Australian Scheme.

New York, July 18.—A London despatch to The Sun to-day says:

"Reference was made in this correspondence a couple of months ago to the fact that the cable octopus, the Eastern Telegraph Company, had one of its heavy arms upon the Pacific cable project. When the scheme of laying a cable between Vancouver and Australia was first mooted the Eastern Telegraph Company swore that the thing should not be done. The proposed cable threatened one of its most profitable monopolies, and promised to release the British colonists from the thraldom under which they had long groaned. So the Eastern set to work in the usual fashion to strangle the infant enterprise.

"When Mr. Chamberlain became Secretary of the Colonies he developed a keen interest in this cable scheme, and under his fostering influence it revived. The Eastern Company brought all the vast political influence which it unfortunately possessed to bear upon the Government, and if a weak man had been in the Colonial Office the machinations of the company undoubtedly would have been successful. Mr. Chamberlain, however, put his back up, and the Eastern Company was compelled to change its tactics.

"It has not been possible yet to ascertain exactly what has occurred, but it is certain that there has been a secret deal of some kind, for the Eastern is now enthusiastically supporting the Pacific cable project, and this month it has secured the control of it. This will be bad news for Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Those important states have joined England in the necessary guarantees, and it is likely that they will want to know what is the use of spending their money upon something which will merely confirm the existing extortionate monopoly."

SOUTH AFRICAN AFFAIRS.

Mr. Chamberlain Will, It Is Said, Demand Some Important Changes.

New York, July 18.—The London correspondent of The Sun cables to-day, regarding South Africa affairs, as follows:

"There is a good deal of speculation regarding the Government purposes as to the South Africa Company. It is indicated, with some show of authority, that Mr. Chamberlain will demand a complete change of the personnel of the Board of Directors. The forfeiture of the charter, of course, was long ago abandoned. 'Vested interests,' which are omnipotent in England, are far too strong for that.

"The Government desires that the directors shall no longer be ornamental, like the Duke of Abercorn and his colleagues, but men of business. It is prepared to name several gentlemen for membership in the Board.

"Informal conferences have been held in the past few weeks between representatives of the Government and Lord Rothschild. It is reported that the latter has agreed to the nomination of Mr. Alfred Rothschild to the Board. The Government will insist upon the modification of the charter to the extent of placing the administration of the country in the hands of Imperial officers."

OVER 50 MINERS ENTOMBED.

A Calamity in the De Beers Mines of South Africa—Only 70 Rescued.

Cape Town, July 17.—Reports from Kimberley are to the effect that several Europeans and 50 natives are entombed as the result of an accident at the De Beers mine last night. Twenty natives were rescued. There is little hope of effecting a rescue of the others.

Those Consular Appointments Confirmed.

Washington, D.C., July 17.—The Senate to-day confirmed these nominations:

SIR WILFRID IN PARIS

British Sentiments Voiced in the French Language

BY THE PREMIER OF THE DOMINION

Madame Laurier Was Also Present a Dinner Given at the British Embassy—Matters Which Came Up in the House of Commons—Cable News.

Paris, July 19.—A banquet was given by the British Chamber of Commerce in Paris, this evening. Among the guests were: Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of the Dominion of Canada, and Lady Laurier; Mr. Fabre, Canadian delegate to the Paris exposition of 1900; Mr. Fisher, president of the St. John's Board of Trade, and Mr. Beaugrand, formerly Mayor of Montreal.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier made an address, speaking in French, which language he said he had learned at his mother's knee. In the course of his remarks, he referred to the ties which exist between Great Britain and Canada, which, he declared, are destined to grow closer; and delivered a panegyric upon the glories of France. He said he would be proud to see Canada represented at Westminster by descendants of the French race, and adds: "We are faithful to the nation that gave us birth, but we will remain faithful to the nation that gave us liberty."

THE SEAL QUESTION.

Mr. Curzon Enlightens Mr. Davitt to a Considerable Extent.

London, July 19.—In the House of Commons to-day, the Hon. George N. Curzon, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, replying to Mr. Michael Davitt, anti-Parnellite, member for South Mayo, said the Government was convinced that the seals in the Behring Sea were in no imminent danger at present. Correspondence which has passed on the subject between the two Governments would be presented in due time to the House, but probably not before the close of the present session. He said that the expert investigations were being continued. Two British gunboats were employed in those waters in 1895, three were sent in 1896 and two this year. The Admiralty had been asked whether a third could be spared for service there.

The United States, on the other hand, employed no gunboats, but sent six revenue cutters in 1895, six in 1896 and five this year.

Mr. Curzon said also that some delay attended the completion of the report of the British Commission, but the Government had never contemplated holding it back until the publication of the American report. The British Government had declined, he added, the request of the United States for a conference to consider more adequate regulations to prevent the extermination of seals, as such a conference would be premature until the experts now engaged in collecting statistics had completed their work. The agreement made in 1894, continued Mr. Curzon, forbade the use of firearms by British sealers in the Behring Sea, but it was found in practical experience that these prohibitions were not effective in protecting the sealers from unnecessary interference, and in 1895 the Government decided not to renew the agreement.

The regulations under the Paris award did not contain, said Mr. Curzon, a provision forbidding sealers to be in the possession of arms, but arrangements were made by which vessels clearing direct from British Columbia were furnished with certificates that they had no firearms on board; while for vessels on the Asiatic side, arrangements were made whereby they deposited their arms at some rendezvous before entering the sea. The delay in the completion of Prof. Thompson's report was due partly to his professional duties and partly to the necessity of awaiting the arrival of certain notes and information which he had asked Mr. Macoun, the Dominion agent, to furnish him.

Mr. Curzon described the Pheasant as a first-class gunboat and the Wild Swan as a sloop.

Mr. Curzon made a statement on the Foreign Office vote, with reference to Corea, during which, after making light of the British trade interests there, he said:

"Our main interest is to see the independence of Corea maintained, and that she be not territorially or administratively joined to Russia, and that her harbors be not made the basis of operations which might disturb the balance of the power in the East or give any power maritime control of the Eastern seas. If any such attempt be made it will be for us to protect our own interests."

After a lively debate in the House of Commons Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, promised that a day would be fixed for the discussion of the South Africa inquiry.

A warm passage-at-arms occurred between Mr. Arnold-Forster, member for West Belfast, and Mr. Balfour. The former sharply attacked the Government for, as he said, trying to avoid a discussion on the subject, and declaring that an intentional policy of concealment with regard to the affairs of the South Africa Company has been pursued.

Mr. Balfour, flushed with anger, retorted with a series of personal sneers, and insisted that the leaders of the Opposition were jointly responsible for what the Government had done or had omitted to do. Mr. Balfour's departure from his usual courtesy was received with loud protests from the Radicals, and the Conservatives were only lukewarm in their support.

Change in the Diplomatic Service.

London, July 19.—Mr. Henry Outram Bax-Ironsides, second secretary of the British Legation at Washington, has been appointed Secretary of Legation at Pekin.

Labby is After Rhodes.

London, July 19.—Mr. Henry Labouchere, M. P., who was one of the members of the Parliamentary Commission, appointed to enquire into the Transvaal raid, has given notice that he will make a motion in the House of Commons that the name of Cecil Rhodes be removed from the list of privy councilors.

They Will Agree to It.

London, July 19.—According to a despatch from Yokohoma the Japanese official press say it is probable the Mikado's Government will agree to the Hawaiian proposal to submit the pending dispute to arbitration.

The Hungarian Harvest.

Buda Pest, July 19.—The harvest in Hungary is proceeding. It is estimated that the yield of wheat will be 28,000,000 to 29,000,000 metric hundred weight, as compared with [illegible] metric hundred weight in 1896; that of rye, 10,300,000 metric hundred weight against 13,400,000 last year; barley, 9,300,000 against 12,900,000, and oats, 8,700,000 against 10,900,000.

Ambassadors Talk Straight.

Constantinople, July 19.—The Ambassadors have informed the Porte that they wish a written declaration as to the intentions of the Turkish Government, which have hitherto been communicated orally by Tewfik Pasha, and have stated that if this is not forthcoming they will suspend the negotiations and refer the whole matter to their respective Governments with a view of adopting coercive measures.

Nothing to be Done by Diplomacy.

Constantinople, July 19.—The terms of the Turkish Government as submitted to the Ambassadors by Tewfik Pasha on Saturday not only proposed a change of frontier but fixed the amount of indemnity at four and one-half million pounds Turkish, and renewed the demand for abolition of the capitulations granted the Greek subjects in the Ottoman Empire. It is regarded as clear proof that the Ambassadors of the powers will be unable to effect anything by mere diplomatic negotiations.

Evacuation of Thessaly Demanded.

Berlin, July 19.—According to a special despatch received here, the Emperor Nicholas has telegraphed the Sultan, demanding the immediate evacuation of Thessaly, and threatening otherwise that the Russian troops will cross the frontier.

It is said here semi-officially to-day that all the Powers except Great Britain have consented to this course.

YOUNG BROWN IS SAFE.

The Epworth Leaguer Missed His Father at the Cave of the Winds.

Toronto, July 20.

The mystery of the whereabouts of John L. Brown, an Epworth Leaguer from Tennessee, reported in yesterday's World, has been solved. It appears that when he came up from the Cave of the Winds at Niagara Falls on the occasion of his visit there last week, he missed his father, who accompanied him to Toronto, and for three days they have been chasing each other. It was thought the young man had lost his footing and fallen over the precipice. Last night Mr. J. A. Harvey of the Toronto House Renting Company, who had charge of billeting a section of the Tennessee contingent, received word from the Falls that father and son had located each other, the son being in Toronto and the father at the Falls. They had passed in another in the middle of the lake.

KILLED SEVERAL DOGS.

A Man Who Worked on the Principle "Give a Dog a Bad Name," Etc.

New York, July 19.—A vicious bull dog owned by "Father Bill" Daly, the well known horseman, attacked Mrs. Calvin Owens and her child, which she was drawing in a carriage in Gravesend last night. The child was bitten so severely that it will die, and the woman was lacerated about the arms. Owens is a policeman. When he learned of the biting he went to Daly's place, and seeing a bull dog shot him, and to make sure of killing the right one shot two other dogs.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Deputy Postmaster-General White Retires

AFTER A LONG TERM OF SERVICE

Dr. R. M. Coulter of Aurora Appointed to the Position Thus Vacated Death of an Ex Member of Parliament Wheelmen to Go Round the World Capital Notes.

Ottawa, July 19.—Lieut.-Col. White, C. M. G., Deputy Postmaster General, has been superannuated. Lieut.-Col. White was born in London, England, on Jan. 6, 1830, and entered the Imperial service as clerk in the general post office at London in February, 1846. He resigned this position in April, 1854, and was appointed chief clerk in the money order branch of the postoffice department in Canada on its establishment in December, 1854. In January, 1861, he was promoted to the secretaryship of the department. He was also appointed a commissioner in 1880 to enquire into the organization of the civil service. Since 1888 Lieut.-Col. White has been deputy head of the department. Among those who were honored with titles last June was Lieut.-Col. White, whose long and honorable public service was recognized by the conferring of the order of Commander of St. Michael and St. George. The Colonel is author of a postoffice gazetteer of the Dominion. He was commandant for years of the 43rd battalion, but had to resign on account of his pressing duties as head of the department. Mr. White carried with him the respect and good will of the community generally, and especially of those who have had business dealings with the department. It is understood that Dr. R. M. Coulter of Aurora, Ont., is to succeed Lieut.-Col. White as Deputy of the Postoffice Department.

Sir Oliver Mowat will leave in a few days for Toronto.

Over nine hundred persons, mostly ladies, went on the pilgrimage to St. Anne de Beaupre this morning over the C. P. R.

A lad 15 years old, named J. Boucour, was drowned in the Rideau River near St. Patrick-street bridge while bathing this evening.

Word was received in the city this afternoon that Mr. M. K. Dickinson, ex-M.P., died to-day at his home in Minnetick. Mr. Dickinson was ill since last winter. He was at one time a member for Russell county, being elected in 1882.

BRUCHESI WITH A RED HAT.

A Good Many People Would be Pleased to See the New Archbishop of Montreal Made a Cardinal.

Montreal, July 19.—(Special.)—All rumors were set at rest this morning regarding a pretended hitch in the appointment of Mgr. Paul Bruchesi as Archbishop of Montreal by the arrival of the papal bull at the palace. The important document had been sent to the senior bishop of the district, Mgr. Moreau, and that prelate forwarded it to the new dignitary in Montreal.

"His Eminence Cardinal Paul Bruchesi." That would sound very well, and there are a great many people who believe that the new Archbishop of Montreal will in the near future be a prince of the church and member of the College of Cardinals. It is no secret that the venerable Cardinal-Archbishop of Quebec cannot live very long, and it seems to be understood that the next Canadian cardinal's hat will be placed upon the head of Montreal's learned archbishop.

Last week was another satisfactory period for the two big Canadian railway companies, each showing substantial increases although not so big as the previous week. The Canadian Pacific statement shows an increase of $68,000 over the same week last year, the figures being for the period from July 7 to July 14: 1897, $477,000; 1896, $409,000. Increase $68,000. The Grand Trunk increase was $6261. The statement for the same period is: 1897, $379,299; 1896, $373,038. Increase, $6261.

Mr. W. A. Cooper, formerly Inspector, has been appointed assistant superintendent of sleeping, dining and parlor cars, with offices at the Canadian Pacific headquarters, Montreal.

H. Y. Lyman of the well-known druggist firm of Lyman & Sons died to-day, aged 84. Deceased was born in Derby, Vt., but was a staunch Britisher to the end.

A COLORED SAMSON.

He Can Lift a Man on His Hands and Get Up From a Prone Position.

Ellicott City, July 19.—For a man to stretch himself flat on the ground, face upward, and with both hands extended arise without assistance and without touching hands or arms to the ground is counted something of a feat of strength and agility, but there is a Howard County strong man who can not only do this, but at the same time lift up a man standing on the palm of his hands and weighing 150 pounds. The man is a colored farm hand, employed by Mr. Charles H. Rhine on the farm of State Attorney McGuire. He is 26 years old and weighs 180 pounds. He is the wonder of the neighborhood. With the entire weight placed on his hands in the way described, he can get up and stand erect.

French Officers Killed.

Paris, July 19.—At to-day's meeting of the Cabinet, M. Lebon, Minister of the Colonies, announced that a force of French cavalry from Timbuctoo, while pursuing a band of robbers, met with a serious disaster. Two European officers, two non-commissioned officers and 20 native Spahis were killed or are missing.

A Semb-n Boy Killed.

Chatham, Ont., July 19.—Fred, the 12-year-old son of James Bolton, Sombra Township, was thrown out of a vehicle while with his parents near Wallaceburg this morning and killed.

Mrs. Danten, another passenger, was thrown out and seriously bruised, and Mrs. Bolton less severely.

There doesn't seem to be very much the matter with your child. He doesn't actually lose weight, but there is no gain He belongs to that large class of children that don't seem to prosper. You look at him a little more thoughtfully than you do at the rest and say "He is not doing well." Failure to gain in weight in a child is a danger signal. Scott's Emulsion should be taken at once. It puts on fat where health demands it, strengthening the digestion.

MR. LAURIER'S HOME-COMING.

Mr. Laurier has done a great work since the people of Canada placed the Premiership in his hands. He has settled a perplexing question that baffled his predecessors, who had eighteen years of experience in governing. He has placed Canada in actual touch with the Mother Country, and given her such a prominence in the world that British governments will no longer have any doubt as to where Canadian territory lies any more than British statesmen will have any doubt where the country stands in relation to the development of the interests of the Empire. He has made Canadians prouder than ever of their country, and he has, which is more important, elevated Canadian national sentiment to a plane above the narrow range of mere party aspirations. He has given, so to speak, a more cosmopolitan character to the spirit of Canadian patriotism; he has robbed party warfare of its rancour, and has made it possible for Canadians to unite as Canadians in the recognition of his valued services, forgetful for the moment that he is the head of one of the two great parties into which the country is divided. Among other evidences of the prevalence of a spirit of Canadianism, as distinguished from partizanship, the following remarks by a prominent Conservative journal, the Quebec Chronicle, are worthy of special note. The Chronicle, in speaking of Mr. Laurier in relation to the Jubilee proceedings in England, says: "He has represented us so honourably and well at the seat of empire that the Chronicle believes him to be entitled to a generous national reception on his return to Canada. He should be accorded such a demonstration as could be participated in by all classes of our people. Let us for once be thoroughly united, and casting aside our politics, let us combine hand in hand to do honour to the man who has directed so much attention to Canada and the Canadians, and caused the reflection of so much Imperial honour upon them. Give Sir Wilfrid, on his return to Canada, a reception worthy of him, and worthy of his country and of its people." Mr. Laurier has been one of the most conspicuous features of the great Jubilee demonstration, the greatest imperial event the world has ever seen. He has had "greatness thrust upon him," he has encountered the difficulties of the recent situation with a modest dignity, "he hath borne his faculties so meek, hath been so clear in his great office," made himself so worthy of respect and honour, that no Canadian, be he never so loyal to his own party, can feel any loss of self respect, can subject himself to no charge of party disloyalty, in joining with the members of the party Mr. Laurier leads, in giving a fitting welcome home to the great Canadian, who makes that title his proudest boast.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If the north pole were in the United States instead of being in territory under Canadian jurisdiction, we should find the United States taxing Herr Andree, the baloon explorer, for the privilege of landing.

Speaking of Mr. Laurier's visit to the old country Principal Grant, in Queen's Quarterly, says:—"Taking his speeches in Great Britain as a whole, they mark the highest point he has reached as a statesman. The manner was perfect, dignified and courteous; the touch light, as it always should be when high-bred men are addressed; while the thought was sincere, suggestive and suited to the time. Some of his supporters are disappointed at his accepting a title; but to refuse honours from the Queen on such an occasion would have shown pride akin to contempt. It was more generous to accept what was graciously offered; and that being so, no more need be said on the subject."

One of the points brought out at the great convention of Epworth Leaguers in Toronto was the declaration of the fact that it is a Christian duty to take part in public affairs. This is doubtless a truth, but the exercise of activity in public affairs should be very carefully guarded. Nothing so greatly discredits a moral cause as to make it the medium for a display of party animus. We have too often seen the temperance cause prostituted to the end of serving the interests of a party In such cases the interests of the cause itself have been lost sight of in the interests of the party sought to be so aided. If moral reformers, leaders or co-workers can subordinate the party spirit sufficiently to work on the lofty plane of independent action regardless of parties there is hope of good being accomplished, but nothing but evil can result to the best of causes by unscrupulous advocates making them a tool to carve out party advantage.

THE YEAR'S FINANCES.

Montreal Herald.

Those members of Her Majesty's loyal Opposition who have been waiting for the opportunity to rejoice over the discomfiture of the Government will be disappointed at the result of the financial operations of the Laurier Government during the the twelve months ending June 30th last. Their disappointment, however, will hardly be shared by the public. The ordinary sources of revenue have yielded an increase of one million two hundred thousand dollars over the amount produced in the last year of Conservative Government. The postal revenue alone is greater by three thousand dollars; and that this increase is not wholly due to what a contemporary calls "Mr. Mulock's Jubilee stamp fake, is proved by the fact that the increase in postal receipts for June over the corresponding month of last year was only a little over two hundred thousand.

While the receipts of he year are thus twelve hundred thousand dollars greater than those of 1895-96, the expenditure has only advanced some half a million, the increase being attributable to the cost of the extra session of Parliament. So that the net betterment is very appreciable.

Less money has been expended on capital account during the first year of Liberal Administration than in the preceding year. The greatest contrast is the item of railway subsidies. The Conservatives spent over eight hundred thousand; the Liberals less than four hundred thousand.

In criticising the budget speech last April, Mr. Foster estimated the ordinary revenue for 1896-97 at thirty-six million six hundred thousand. "Time, the great arbiter," to which he then appealed, has decided against him. His estimate has already been exceeded by over a quarter of a million, and when the final statement of the year's transactions is in the Minister looks for an additional million dollars. This will bring the revenue of the year almost exactly to the figure estimated by Mr. Fielding in his last budget speech.

In his prediction of a two-million dollar deficit for the year closed, the ex-Minister of Finance is also doomed to disappointment. The country has for some years past been accustomed to deficits, and the task of restoring financial equilibrium and correcting the administrative errors of his predecessors is one which the ablest Finance Minister cannot accomplish at once. The Hon. Mr. Fielding has, however, commenced well. The deficit, if any, will be slight this year. By persevering in the exercise of a careful guardianship of the public funds, gradually reforming the methods of his predecessors until all abuse shall have been removed, Mr. Fielding may hope shortly to show a surplus at the close of each year.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

Funeral of Major Perley.

The remains of the late Major Perley were interred in the churchyard at Bisley yesterday. Representatives of the colonial militia were pall-bearers, the six being Major Mason of the 13th Battalion, in command of the Canadians; Major Dunbar, adjutant of the Canadian team; Major Henderson of the 48th Highlanders, Major Scarfville of New Zealand, Major Woodhead of the Cape, and Major Hamilton of Queensland. A Canadian flag covered the coffin. The firing party was furnished by the Canadian team now at Bisley. The flags all over the ranges were lowered to half-mast.

Duke of Connaught Visited Them.

London, July 19.—(Associated Press Report.)—The Duke of Connaught inspected the bungalow of the Canadian riflemen who are taking part in the competitions at Bisley to-day, and signed the visitors' book as "Arthur, General Commanding the Aldershot District." He said the building was almost too good for a fortnight's occupation, and that it was a good thing to be a member of the Canadian team. His Royal Highness seemed to take a great interest in the building.

In the 200 and 500 yards ranges in the competition for Her Majesty the Queen's prize, Lieut. Davidson of the Canadian team secured a total of 68, making the highest possible score at 500 yards range. Simpson scored 66, Miller Langstroth and White 65 each, Marks, Corrigan and Carson 64 each, Blair, Ross and Swaine 63 each, Korr, Lieut. Stewart, Capt. Davidson, Smith and Drysdale 62 each. King 61, Carter 60 and Henderson 59.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Providence, July 19.—Providence defeated Toronto to-day in a very close and well balanced game. A couple of two-base hits, an infield play and a single produced two runs for Providence, and a base on balls, with three singles, yielded a run for Toronto. There was sharp and effective fielding on both sides. Score:

At Springfield—Woods was responsible for another victory. He shut the leaders out without a run, and with but five singles and his two-bagger, with two out, in the fifth, scored the only run of the game. The fielding was sensational on both sides, not a possible chance being missed anywhere. Keefe was unable to umpire and Thomas Tinney of Philadelphia was sent by President Powers to take his place. Score:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Cincinnati—About 3000 people saw the Reds defeated by the Bostons here to-day. Damman was relieved by Ehret in the fifth innings, after the visitors had scored seven runs. The Reds were unable to hit Nichols only six hits being made off his delivery. Score:

Midsummer Care of Roses.

In many amateur gardens the rose bushes are, after the blooming season of May and early June, left to shift for themselves. If the soil is moderately rich they start new growth along the old wood or send up shoots from the root which push their way in any direction among the tangle of spent stems and branches. Various insects attack them—especially the perforating rose slug, so recently domesticated among us, the leaves become yellow and brown with leaf-spot disease and long before autumn they have ceased to grow and present the appearance of vegetable wrecks.

For the benefit of rose growers whose experience is limited, a few directions for midsummer treatment may be given. As soon as the blooming season is over all annual and hybrid perpetual varieties should be judiciously cut back and the new growth brought into shape. With the old wood many insect pests will be removed, and so it is advisable to burn the trimmings at once. If the new growth shows any leaves with numerous holes or ragged edges, syringe the plants with white hellebore tea—one even tablespoonful to a gallon of water—taking care to wet every leaf and twig. In case the leaves turn brown and begin to drop prematurely, give them a syringing with Bordeaux mixture. A heavy mulch with well-rotted stable manure or compost mixed with a large proportion of bone meal will put them in condition for strong new growth and, in the case of the hybrids, will promote the formation of buds for another period of bloom late in summer and continuing until frost.

The tea roses and kindred strains bloom most freely and perfectly, if provided with sufficient moisture during the heats of July and August, while the other varieties are resting. Watering, when done at all, should be copious, and evaporation checked by stirring the soil of the bed to the depth of a couple of inches, making what is called a "dust blanket." To follow these methods will require but little time or toil in rose beds of ordinary size and will be followed by satisfactory growth and bloom.

They do not Despair.

An utter loss of hope is not characteristic of consumptives, though no other form of disease is so fatal, unless its progress is arrested by Scott's Emulsion, which is Cod Liver Oil made as palitable as cream.

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." MRS. ADDIE PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." CORA PECK, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Must Pay for the Paper.

The publishers of the Avoca Herald recently, says the Palmerston Reporter, sued a delinquent subscriber and recovered judgment for seven years' subscription with costs, amounting to $34. The paper had been ordered stopped and had been returned from the post office as refused, but the subscriber had not paid up arrearages and his name was continued on and the paper mailed to his address. The decision of the court was that a subscriber remained a subscriber until all arrearages were paid.

Tragedy at Chemong.

Chemong had a tragedy the other day when a young puppy belonging to one of the residents at the Park took a fit and was lassoed, strung up and hung by its owner, who thought it had gone mad. It seems that the puppy has been kept shut up in the cellar all spring and the hot sun was too much for it. The animal was a Scotch collie and very valuable, but it is not the loss of the dog which Mac regrets so much as the fact that every cottager at the Park knows that for several months, three times a day, he carried a bottle of milk from his house down to the puppy, which he kept in the cellar of his store, and a good many jokes are being passed on the matter. The other Mac who owned the puppy in the first place will present the last owner of the dog with a book on natural history, in order that he may know the difference between a puppy in a fit and a mad dog.

JACK MERVIN ROBBED.

Burglars Enter His Residence and Make a Rich Haul on Saturday Night.

A most daring burglary took place at the residence of Mr. John Mervin, on the Boundary Road, near the Roman Catholic cemetery, on Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Mr. Mervin went home from his place of business shortly after eleven o'clock and on reaching home at once retired to bed and fell asleep immediately.

On awaking on Sunday morning and feeling for his watch under the pillow he found that it was missing, as well as the vest in which it was placed. His trousers which had been left on a chair were also gone with about eighty dollars in the pockets.

An examination of the house showed that the burglars had entered through an open cellar-way leading into the yard and had made their way up into the house through a trap door.

No trace whatever of the thieves could be discovered but a note was found on the premises yesterday telling Mr. Mervin to say good bye to his clothing.

The loss is estimated at about $200, as the watch and chain were both of gold.

SUPPLYING LIQUOR TO MINORS.

The Penalty Provided by the Amended License Law.

A member of the Board of License Commissioners has called attention to the paragraphs of the amended license law relating to the supplying of liquors to minors. He tells of a case where a lad under the legal age boldly planted himself on the foot rest in front of a bar, making himself of a height sufficient to deceive the bar-tender who attended to his demand for a drink. The amended law provides for the punishment of the vendor who supplies liquor to a minor or minors.

Sub-section 7 of Section 10 of the License Act, amended at the last session of the Legislature, says:

Any licensed person who allows to be supplied on his premises by purchase or otherwise, any description of liquor whatever, to any person of either sex, apparently, or to the knowledge of the accused person, or of the person supplying such liquor under the age of twenty-one years, shall as well as the person who actually supplies the liquor, be liable to a penalty of not less than $10 and not exceeding $50, besides costs, for every such offence. This sub-section shall not apply when such liquor is supplied to a person under twenty-one years of age upon the written order of his parent, guardian or master.

Sub-section 4 of the same section forbids the allowing of minors, unaccompanied by parents or guardians, to loiter about the premises where liquor is sold under a penalty of not less than $2 or more than $10 fine.

ATTACKED BY TRAMPS.

Roland Lee is Brutally Beaten Near the Locks by Hoodlums.

Mr. Roland Lee, an employee with Mr. J. J. Howden, met with an accident of a most mysterious nature on Friday evening last, from the effects of which he will not recover for several weeks.

He had been sent to the pasture field near the locks for the horses and when going through the Archway in the old house just across the locks' bridge, he suddenly received a violent blow in the face which felled him to the ground and deprived him of consciousness.

When he recovered sufficiently to arise, he made his way up town in a dazed condition. His face was found to be badly cut and bruised, but the young fellow has not the remotest idea how or by whom he was struck.

The archway is quite a rendezvous for tramps and hoodlums and on different occasions passers by have been "held up" at this point and relieved of their purses.

The affair is therefore laid at the doors of the tramps, and it is in order for the county constabulary to rout them out.

AND THE WHEEL CAME BACK.

It was not Stolen after all, but a Series of Mishaps Prevented its Return.

On Friday last Clarence Hoards rented a bicycle from Talbot Bros. and rode down to Hastings to witness the lacrosse match. He afterwards went to Campbellford, thinking he could catch the evening train from there and return to Peterborough, but he missed the train, and rode out in the country some nine miles to spend the night with some relatives.

When the wheel was not returned Friday evening Talbot Bros., not knowing the lad who had rented it, put the matter in the hands of the police and on Hoard's return to Campbellford a day or so later he found himself in trouble but he explained things to the satisfaction of the Campbellford constable, who gave him a passport to Peterborough in order to save him trouble on the way.

The wheel broke down, however, on the way home and the young man just arrived in town this morning.

Counterfeit Dollars.

A counterfeit one dollar note of the Dominion Government, clumsily done, but still dangerous to those unaccustomed to scan paper money, is circulating in Ottawa and Toronto. The portrait of Lady Dufferin in the imitation is very poor, and the signature of T. D. Harrington, which is written on the counterfeit, is on the original printed from a steel plate. The imprints 'for the Minister of Finance' and 'for Receiver-General' and also the imprint 'British American Bank Note Company, Montreal,' are omitted altogether in the counterfeit.

FELL OFF THE WHARF.

A Woman Rescued From the Water by Mr. Geo. A. Kempt, Formerly of Town.

The Steveston correspondent of the Vancouver, B.C., World, makes the following reference to an heroic action on the part of Mr. Geo. A. Kempt, son of the late Dr. Kempt, of town, who is out on the Coast:

"Mrs. A. Klootchman fell off the wharf on Monday night about 11 30, but, fortunately George A. Kempt was just closing the books in Mr. Nadleman's store and hearing her cries, without calling for assistance he immediately proceeded to the rescue and, single-handed, with a good deal of risk to his own life, rescued the drowning woman and packed her to Bishop's drug store where she received all possible care. Anyone who knows the place where the poor woman fell in will understand the chances he was taking. A medal from the Humane Society would not be too much of a reward; in passing on through life how cheering it is to still find that manhood is shorn of none of its glory."

BATTALION NOTES.

An important order respecting age limits of officers of the active militia was issued recently at Ottawa. It is as follows:—Lieutenant-colonels who attain the age of 60 years, majors of the age of 50 years, and lieutenants of the age of 45 years will, unless very exceptional circumstances, be placed on the retired list. This regulation will apply also to the regimental staff officers, according to their honorary rank. No officer or person having attained the limit of age fixed for holding a certain rank is to be recommended for promotion or appointment to that rank. District officers commanding will submit a separate report on each officer whose case comes within this regulation immediately after the annual training in each year. The age of the foregoing officers will be calculated from the 31st December in each year. In pursuance of this order district officers are required forthwith to submit a list of officers retirable under this regulation.

Sapper Gale, 34th Company of the Royal Engineers, at Gravesend, England, has accomplished the remarkable feat of making a score of 104 out of a possible 105 with the Lee-Metford rifle. And this, too, in spite of a strong and unsteady wind.

The competition in which Sapper Gale was firing was under the usual conditions—that is to say, seven shots at 200 yards, 500 yards and 600 yards, in military positions. Recently a similar score was made by Sergeant Alexander Dalgetty, a well-known marksman in the Berwick-on-Tweed Rifle Volunteers, so that the total, which is a record one, has now been made by both a representative of regulars and of the volunteers. There is this to be said for the auxiliary forces, however, that the new weapon has been in their hands for only a very short time.

Again, the shooting demonstrates the superiority of the Lee-Metford over the old Martini-Henry. The highest score ever made with last-named weapon under the same conditions was 103.

COURT OF REVISION.

Appeals Against Several Assessments Considered Last Evening.

A meeting of the Court of Revision was held last evening to consider appeals against the sewer assessments.

The members present were Councillors Nell, Cobb, Robertson and Leplante.

An adjustment was made of several measurements which were incorrect through an error made in finding the boundaries of several lots. Other assessments were confirmed. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company appealed against being assessed for the sewer on the east side of the depot, claiming that they derived no benefit from it. The assessment, however, was also confirmed.

Several Hundred Citizens Take in the Annual Excursion to the Shrine.

Excursions left on the C. P. R. and G. T. R. this morning for the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre.

Special trains left on both railroads—that on the C. P. R. pulling out at 10.30 a. m., and the Grand Trunk sending off one at 1.30. Probably about two hundred citizens altogether took advantage of the cheap rate offered.

None of the local clergy accompanied the pilgrimage.

The special train will return on Friday next.

POISON IVY.

A Common Plant That Causes Skin Poisoning How to Distinguish it From the Common Ivy.

Look out for it; it is dangerous. There is little poison ivy in the vicinity of Peterborough, but it is to be found in some places. The poison ivy, rhus toxicodendron, belongs to the hedera family and is a climbing plant with a woody stem and smooth, rather pretty, tripoliate leaves. It is to be carefully avoided; contact with the leaves or, in the cases of many sensitive persons, the air blowing from the vines causes a troublesome cutaneous poisoning. Little clusters of pustules or blisters form on the skin causing great discomfort. The best remedy is perhaps to apply to a properly qualified physician, though in country places where a doctor is not easily obtainable simple remedies are employed such as firmly washing the pustules with buttermilk impregnated strongly with salt is a severe but reputedly effective remedy. Washing the parts with a solution of soda (bi-carbonate of soda) allays the irritation.

Many persons are subjected to danger of injury by not being able to recognize the poison ivy or distinguish it from the harmless vine. The difference is easily perceived. The poison ivy is trifoliate or three-leaved, while the harmless ivy is quinquefoliate or five-leaved. The poison ivy grows freely in the Stony Lake and Rice Lake districts, and cottagers campers and tourists, especially those ignorant of the hurtful qualities, are liable to be poisoned. A little care will enable them to avoid the plant and perhaps very unpleasant results. Poisoning by the ivy if neglected or improperly treated is apt to be troublesome and dangerous if the vicinity of the eye is affected.

A Runaway Accident.

Last evening Mr. John Hewson, of Cavan, called at the residence of Mr. Walter Scott, corner of Charlotte and St. Joseph street. Mr. Hewson was sitting in the buggy waiting for his wife, who was inside, when for some unaccountable reason the fiery animal made a sudden plunge throwing out the driver, and striking against a post broke the shafts sharp off and escaped. Mr. Hewson was considerably bruised, especially about the shoulders, but was able shortly after to return home with a neighbour.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

The Peterboroughs have made arrangements to bring the Orillias to town on Friday next. It was thought that Markham would be able to come on that date, but that team will have to play Stouffville on the following Saturday in a league game, so, naturally, does not want to risk having any of its players hurt by accident in an exhibition game here the day previous.

Arrangements were made by telephone with the Orillias last night and that team will be here to play instead of Markham. Everyone knows what the Orillias are and what kind of lacrosse they play. Already this year they have won from the Elms by 9 to 1, and the Tecumsehs only beat them by 6 goals to 4.

This will be one of the greatest matches of the season, as the Peterboroughs will have a chance of seeing how their strength compares this year with the club which it will play off the semi-finals with.

The Peterboroughs are going to try another change around in the players for Friday's match. Jim McCabe will play point; Galley, centre; King on the home side of centre, and Borland in his old place at 3rd defence. Geordie Lipsett goes into his old position at inside home, where he used to play such a brilliant game some years ago, and Jack McCabe will be found at outside home. Phelan goes farther out in the field, and Rubidge comes in closer to the flags. The boys are bound to try every conceivable combination to strengthen the team before the league games commence.

Chapman, one of Uxbridge's fast home men, is in town visiting and was over at the field practicing last night. He thinks the Peterborough's are about as fast as they make them.

Perth is writing for a game here with the local club, as they are making negotiations to play in Madoc. Peterborough has made them an offer for a game.

Every player is expected to turn out for practice each evening this week in order that all may be in shape for the Friday match.

THE TURF.

At the Colborne races Wm. Henry took 3rd money in the three minute class. Jessie B took 3rd money in the half mile race.

THE WHEEL.

In connection with the bicycle run on Thursday evening a cordial invitation is extended to all the members of the Peterborough Bicycle Club, whether holding full member-ship tickets or not, to drop in at the new Y.M.C.A. and test the baths after the run.

At a meeting of the Peterborough and Victoria Bicycle Clubs last evening it was decided to entrust the management of the Circuit Meet on Aug. 5th to a committee to be composed of members of both clubs. The same committee will handle the big C. W. A. meet if it comes to town next July.

Sandwiched between amateur bicycle races of little consequence, at Cincinnati on Saturday, Harry Sidwell, of Covington, Ky., in a mile race for time, made the distance in 1.46 3-5, breaking the world's former amateur record of 1.47¾, made by Amos Hughes at Denver in 1896. The race was from a running start and was paced by a quad. It was run on the Chester Park banked track.

BASEBALL.

The Port Hope Times under the heading "A Peterborough trick,' says: "Peterborough baseball team was defeated on Saturday in Peterborough by the Elms of Toronto, 14 to 4. The Elms passed through here on their way to Toronto, and while here told a tale of woe as to their treatment at the hands of their competitors of the day. It seems the Elms went there on the understanding that they were to receive two meals and their car fare. All they got was their meals and one dollar and a quarter. Verily it seems certain, that sporting institutions of Peterborough, have neither honour or money to display to their visitors. The Elms are a jolly lot of young fellows, and are desirous of meeting the Port Hope baseball team."

The Elms have no reason to complain. They were given their choice of their car fare or their meals in Peterborough and they chose the latter. The Peterboroughs have the correspondence to prove this.

CRICKET.

The Lindsay Cricket Club are coming on Thursday next for a game with the local team. The match will begin at 1 30 p. m.

As if by Magic.

This is always the case when Nerviline is applied to any kind of pain; it is sure to disappear as if by magic. Stronger, more penetrating, and quicker in action than any other remedy in the world, pain cannot stay where it is used. It is just the thing to have in the house to meet a sudden attack of illness.

If Weather Conditions are Right

This week ought to be another rousing, hustling spell at Gough Bros. mammoth sale of the R. K. Small & Co's stock of fine clothing. The tide of trade has become enormously increased by the tremendous cut in prices, and a considerable portion of Peterborough's male population will be clothed at about half ruling prices before the attention of the people can be arrested. Summer suits, summer boots, summer shoes, summer furnishings, fresh from the case. We hold the leadership in all. Satisfaction or your money back. GOUGH BROS., the Wonderful Cheap Men.

CAPT. JOHNSTON'S REPLY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—In Mr. McWilliams letter published in your issue of the 14th there appeared some statements that, with your permission, I would like to refer to.

First. As to the place we should have occupied. I don't set myself up to be an authority, I merely quoted the Queen's Regulations and Orders for the Army, Sec. II, paragraph 25.

"Precedence among the different branches of the colonial forces is regulated by local ordinances."

Regulations and Orders for the Militia, Canada, 1897, paragraph 48.

The following is the order of precedence of the several corps of the Militia of the Dominion of Canada. Corps of each arm taking precedence according to date of formation.

1st—The Gentlemen Cadets of the Royal Military College.
2nd—Cavalry School Corps.
3rd—The Governor-General's Body Guard of Cavalry.
4th—Regiments, squadrons and troops of cavalry.
5th—Regiment Canadian Artillery
6th—Field Batteries.
7th—Garrison Artillery.
8th—Engineers.
9th—Mounted Infantry School Corps.
10th—Infantry School Corps.
11th—The Governor-General's Foot Guards.
12th—Battalions of Infantry or Rifles.
13th—Provisional Battalions and companies of Infantry or Rifles not in battalions.
14th—Naval Brigades.

This is the rule laid down and in an experience of twenty years I have never seen it departed from.

It is also as near as the circumstances permit a copy of the regulations for the Imperial forces.

With regard to the Queen's coronation I have nothing to say. It was rather before my time, but as to the Jubilee the report I have seen give two procesisons in this way: The Colonial mounted men followed by the Infantry, a rear guard being formed by a detachment of the Mounted Police. Fifty minutes later these followed by the Queen's procession, and as there were none but mounted units (cavalry and artillery) taking part there had of a necessity to be some of them in the rear. As to the rest of Mr. McWilliams' letter I have nothing to say. It is thoroughly in keeping with the treatment we have received all through.

To the public I would like to say, while we were under no obligation to do so, we did parade on the 22nd, and that no member of the cops thought of making any conditions about turning out.

I told them I would provide a dinner and a feed for the horses, and I did so. They never asked for it, and some of them refused to accept it. Our men are never paid until they return their equipment therefore there was no exception made in this case. To at their efficiency and loyalty are beyond question even of the distinguished gentleman who does the honours for the town.

We came to town on Jubilee Day expecting to give you an exhibition of cavalry drill and had made our arrangements accordingly. All that we would have required from the town was sufficient ground to manœuvre on and that it be free to the public. Instead, at the eleventh hour, we received, in an offensive manner, an order to take the place in the procession assigned us or nothing, and, while I accept full responsibility for what was done, it had the approval of every officer, non-commissoned officer and man in the squadron.

I decline to discuss the matter any further with Mr. McWilliams.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your space and courtesy, I remain,

Yours truly,
W. D. JOHNSTON.

SPECIAL REDUCTIONS

in Stamped Linen Goods this week. Stamping a speciality, at MISS MELVILLE'S 424 George Street.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Lindsay is again enjoying its weekly half holiday this summer.

—It is rumoured that some radical changes will be made shortly in the staff of Grand Trunk officials in the different stations.

—The New York World thinks that next year most people will find wheels costing less than $20 good enough. That may be too sanguine, but there is no reason why the best of wheels should not be sold at or below $50.

—The man who doesn't know it was loaded and the man who rocks the boat have been joined by the man who looks behind him when on a wheel. The fool-killer finds plenty to do yet.

—Beginning with yesterday the names of stations on the Grand Trunk Railway will be omitted in checking baggage. Every station will have its number and baggage will be checked accordingly. There are 1,700 stations on the system.

—The jubilee stamps bear the likeness of the Queen as she appeared in 1837 and as she appears now. Some people have been tearing these stamps in two and putting one half on a letter, and in every case the letter has been returned to the dead letter office.—Cobourg Post.

—Two of Port Hope's nice young men went in bathing in the blue waters of Ontario the other day. They left their clothes high upon the bank, and when in the water failed to notice the approach of a cow. The animal spied the clothes and calmly lunched off two straw hats, besides tramping on and destroying shirts, collars and other articles.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 50; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

Receipts at the live stock market yesterday were 65 carloads, made up as follows: Cattle 1258, sheep and lambs 952, calves 70 and hogs 1350. On Tuesday there was not enough shipping cattle, but yesterday it seemed to an onlooker as if there were too many, and the market seemed to drag. Prices remained about the same, both for export and butchers' cattle. Stockers were in better demand, and six carloads were bought to ship to the Western States. H. & E. Maybee bought 3 loads for Illinois.

Heavy bulls and fat cows are wanted for export.

Good sheep are wanted at Tuesday's quotations, $3 to $3.25 per cwt.

Calves sold better yesterday, and were worth from $4 to $5, and a carload was bought for the Buffalo market.

Lambs in better demand and sold at $2.75 to $3.50 each.

Cows sold from $20 to $35 and there were about 50 on the market, which was somewhat dull.

Hogs in good demand, and prices firm, with an upward tendency.

The shipments per C.P.R. were as follows: W. H. Dunn 1 car, W. Levack 5 cars, H. A. Mullins 1 car, R. Ironsides 2 cars, A. McKintosh 2 cars, J. & J. W. Dunn 2 cars, all of which were for export; M. Cobden Club on the Preferential Trade Idea.

RESULT OF CANADA'S LEGISLATION

Will the Cobdenites Think Have a Different Effect from That Generally Supposed Great Eastern Monopoly Said to Have Grasped the Pacific Cable — Other Cablegrams.

New York, July 18.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford, in his special cable despatch from London to The Tribune, says:

The Cobden Club is getting on and really learning something. It has presented Sir Wilfrid Laurier a gold medal and a copy of resolutions, declaring that Canada's preferential tariff does not invalidate the Belgian and German treaties, and adding that, even if it does, the most favored nation treaties must be abandoned by England. As to the Cobden Club Guards, the Ark of the Covenant of Free Trade, this is an orthodox declaration that the most favored nation principle is a hocus pocus, and that Canada has hit on the practical method of using the tariff as a lever to force foreign nations to open their markets.

This, of course, is precisely what the English fair traders have advocated, and what the free traders have sternly condemned. The Cobden Club now redeems the doctrine from the reproach of heterodoxy and proclaims it as an article of the true faith.

A Gift From Lord Mountstephen.

London, July 17. In the Prince of Wales' prize, 200 yards, Lieut. W. L. Ross, 13th Battalion, won £5 and Sergt. R. Corrigan, 59th Battalion, £3.

Lieut. N. C. King won £3 and Pte. W. Swaine, 14th Battalion, £2.

Lord Mountstephen gives a £50 prize for competition among the members of the Canadian team. It will take the shape of a trophy or money prizes, the choice being left to the decision of Major Mason, the commandant.

Loud Mouthed American Diplomacy.

New York, July 18.—Harold Frederic, in his special cablegram from London to The Times, refers to the discussion over Secretary Sherman's note on the sealing question, and with respect thereto says:

"It is impossible, indeed, for Americans to extract either pride or comfort from the episode; for, even those best disposed to us can only learn that American diplomacy often ignorantly says much louder and more truculent things than it means."

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from overexertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

Miners Guarded by Winchesters.

Cincinnati, July 17.—A special to The Commercial Tribune, from Wheeling, W. Va., says:

The organizers held a meeting at Coalburg, but got only 60 men to attend. Of these nine voted in favor of a strike. At Wamifrid, the organizers and their striking allies found 100 guards armed with Winchesters at the edge of the company's property, inside of which are located the company's mines and the homes of the miners. They did no business.

Gone Back to Work.

Huntington, W. Va., July 18.—The miners at Thacker, Logan and Dingess, who yesterday decided to strike, held a mass meeting to-day and reconsidered their action. They will return to work as usual Monday. The Elkhorn miners who yesterday decided to strike will, it is believed, follow their example.

MINE MANAGER ARRESTED.

He is Charged With Conspiracy to Defraud the Public in Orphan Boy Affairs.

Vancouver, B.C., July 17.—(Special.)—The manager and secretary of the Orphan Boy Mining Company were arrested to-day at the instance of the Attorney-General, as representatives of the company, charged with conspiracy to defraud the public.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Haselhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Haselhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

Mrs. Brown Badly Hurt.

Colborne, Ont., July 17.—A serious runaway accident happened here this evening. While Capt. W. W. Brown and wife were driving from town to their home a bolt in the whiffletree came out and the horse made a dash down the street, coming in contact with a telegraph pole. They were both thrown out and Mrs. Brown was seriously injured, but the Captain came off with only a bad shaking up.

AT STITTSVILLE!

The Town's Leading Merchant Laid Up

Rheumatism in various forms is one of the most common diseases there is. It arises generally from impure blood and a broken down system. In the limbs it is painful; in most of the internal organs dangerous, and in the heart usually fatal.

The experience of Mr. S. Mann, the well known general merchant of Stittsville, is interesting:

"Last winter I was badly afflicted with rheumatism. I decided to try Dr. Chase's Pills. To my surprise, I got immediate relief, and before I had used one box my affliction was gone.

"I was also troubled with biliousness for years, and at intervals of three or four weeks would be laid up with a severe headache and sick stomach. Since using Chase's Pills I have not had an attack of either.

"I may add that Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles and skin diseases in just as effective as Dr. Chase's Pills for blood troubles. I have a clerk who suffered terribly from bleeding piles. He tried Chase's Ointment and in a few days was completely cured."

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia---Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

The weakest place in a house or fort, or any place of defence, usually turns out to be that which was thought strongest. The weakest place in a man's body is that in which he esteems himself strongest. Achilles never thought he would turn his heel to an enemy, but it was in that unarmored place the fatal arrow was planted. It is usually the organ in his body that a man thinks strongest, that disease assaults and batters down. Caution a man about neglecting his health and mention consumption, and he will pound his chest and laugh you to scorn. He does not realize that consumption beats down this defense imperceptibly, inch by inch. The lungs once attacked the only weapon of defense is the right remedy.

98 per cent. of all cases of consumption are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It corrects disordered digestion, invigorates the liver, makes the appetite hearty and assimilation perfect, fills the blood with the elements that build healthy flesh and muscle, and drives all impurities and disease-germs from the blood. All druggists sell it.

"I have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' in my family," writes Mrs. G. A. Conner, of Alleghany Springs, Montgomery Co., Va., "and have found it to be the best medicine that I ever used. I have also used his 'Compound Extract of Smart-Weed,' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' They will do just what they are recommended to do."

The newly-wedded wife, above all other women, needs a good medical book. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser fills this want. It contains over 1000 pages and 300 illustrations. Several chapters are devoted to the physiology of the organs distinctly feminine. Send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., for a free copy, paper-covered. FOR THOSE WHO SUCCEED.

A song for those who succeed;
(You there!)
You whole successful crew,
Ye men of the strong, heroic stripe,
Here is a song for you.
Now who is there here in this whole wide throng
In whose honest ear I can sing my song
(Stand up!)

Ah, here's my millionaire;
(Come here!)
Good sir, your wealth is great,
And well you have scooped your fortune, man,
From the loosened grasp of fate.
You have picked up gold as the long years roll,
But while picking up gold you have dropped your soul;
(Go back!)

Ah, here's my wide-browed sage;
(This way!)
Five thousand years of lore!
Faith, man, 'tis a goodly heritage,
But you nee[illegible] little more.
You have ga[illegible]d all thoughts from the four wir[illegible]own,
But forgotten [illegible]atime to think you own;
(Sit do[illegible]n!)

Ah, here's my artist friend:
(Step up!)
You have given dreams to men,
Yes, a world of dreams you have bodied forth,
With chisel, brush and pen;
But you've lost the meat of the tough world's strife,
And missed the juice of the vintage of life;
(Step down!)

Who's that old woman there?
(Sit down!)
She has no lore or pelf,
And has worked so hard for those she loved,
She had never thought of herself;
Step up, step up, in the whole world's view,
Ah, madam, this song is meant for you!
(Step up!)

—SAM WALTER FOSS.

A SOCIAL LESSON.

"I never can forgive Caleb Bradford—never!"

So spoke George Stanton, as he rested his hands firmly upon his knees, and shook his head with that slow, emphatic motion which denotes a strong effort of will.

Near by him sat his sister Eliza. George was young—only twenty-five—while Eliza was forty. She was a widow, and had returned to the old home for a season, where her younger brother held possession.

"I mean it," the young man added, when he noticed how curiously his sister regarded him—and he closed his hands upon his knees as though he would fortify his resolution.

"I thought he was one of your most intimate friends?"

"He has been."

"And I thought he had loved you and you loved him."

"I have loved him," said George. He spoke quite feelingly, though a little petulantly.

"Then tell me what Caleb can have done that should thus affect you," urged Eliza.

"He has trampled upon me—he has abused my confidence—he has proved treacherous!" cried the youth, growing indignant with his own warmth of feeling.

"But what has he done?" asked the sister, in the same quiet tone.

"I asked him to loan me his span of horses to take Clara and the baby over to Winfield, and he told me they were not fit to drive. Of course, I should have thought nothing of this; but on the evening of that very day he lent the team to John Jackson; and when I spoke to him about it he rather intimated that it was none of my business to question his motives."

"In all probability," suggested Eliza, "when you spoke to Caleb on this subject you did not speak very kindly."

"I don't know about that," said George with a nod of the head.

"I can guess pretty nearly how you spoke," the sister rejoined.

"Never mind," said the youth. "It is enough for me to know what transpired. I want nothing more to do with him. My mind is made up to that."

"You'll forget all this in a little while, George."

"You think so, do you?"

"I know it."

"Then I hope you'll watch patiently for the result."

"There is no need of my watching very narrowly, for it will come soon enough."

George seemed at first inclined to be very indignant at being thus doubted; but when he met the calm look of his sister, so full of reason and confidence, he curbed his impatience.

"Eliza," he said, quite earnestly, "do you think I don't know what to say?"

"Oh, you know that well enough; and you know what you mean, too," replied the sister, with a smile. "But," she added, "you don't quite know your own soul yet."

"What do you mean by that?"

"I'll tell you at some future time."

"Tell me now."

"No, not now, George; but I may tell you in a few days."

"I suppose you will tell me something wonderful." This was spoken in a tone which was intended for a very sarcastic one. But the sister smiled, and shook her head, and said:

"I shall not aim to give you any dangerous shock, my brother, but only to help your own reason. However, we won't say any more now, for I must help in the kitchen."

George went away shaking his head and inwardly declaring that he would never forgive Caleb Bradford in the world, while Eliza went smiling and nodding, for she felt that she knew her brother better than he knew himself.

It was something new for George Stanton to carry enmity in his bosom—and especially enmity against one whom he had loved so well. As such a state was not natural to him it became necessary to the continuance of the enmity that he should nourish it, and in doing this he robbed his own soul of its joys. Twice he met Caleb Bradford, but he would not speak to him. In the evening he was careful to avoid every place where Caleb was in the habit of calling; so that by the time he reached his home, he began to feel troubled. He almost wished that his old friend would come and see him and ask to make up; but he could not take the initiatory step himself—oh, no.

On the afternoon of the third day Eliza saw her brother in the parlor.

"Well," she said, at the same time laying her hand upon his arm, "how do you prosper?"

"What do you mean, Eliza?"

"How do you come on with your hatred of Caleb Bradford?"

"Hatred? I do not hate him."

"Ah! I thought by this time you would have come to hate him with a perfect hatred."

"You needn't try to play with me in this way, Eliza. I know what you mean. You are mistaken if you think I am a fool."

"Pooh, George—why do you speak so to me?" And as the sister said this she took her brother's hand and looked up into his face with a kindly smile. "Come—let us reason. Do not try to ings about as well as he could tell them, hide a feeling or a thought from me, for I know something of your nature, and I think I know pretty well how your heart beats. Now, tell me, is it not very unpleasant to be at enmity with Caleb Bradford?"

[illegible] not hesitate long, for he [illegible] to his sister, and he knew, [illegible] she could read his feel[illegible] she had been as a mo[illegible] and care, for several years so he yielded much to her on that account.

"Of course, it is unpleasant," he said.

"Then why do you bear it?" asked the sister.

"Because I cannot help it," returned George.

"Yes, you can help it. A word from you will heal all, why should you suffer then?"

"Ah!" replied the young man, very philosophically, "there are some duties in life which are by no means pleasant ones."

"And you think this hatred of your friend is one of them?"

"He is no friend of mine—he is a friend no longer."

"He is the same man you have loved so long, and his heart has not varied in its instincts or its affectations."

"Still, he has wronged me," returned George.

"How many times?"

The young man looked up with a puzzled expression.

"How many times?" he repeated. "Why, he has proved false, and that is enough."

Eliza looked at her brother a few moments and then said, in a tone and with an expression of love and kindness:

"My dear brother, I wish you would listen to me one moment, for I want to give you a lesson in social life which may be of advantage to you. You know I would not tease you, and that I would only speak for your benefit. You certainly feel that."

"Of course, I do," responded the youth.

"Then you will be free and sincere, and answer me after the dictates of your own instincts?"

"Yes."

"Thank you, brother. And now, just tell me this: How many deeds of kindness and love has Caleb Bradford done toward you?"

George was silent.

"Have they not been many?" pursued the sister.

"Why—yes—I suppose they have," the young man finally answered with some reluctance.

"Aye," added Eliza, warmly, "I know they have. I know that for much of your joy you have been indebted to him, and that he has loved you well and truly. He has done this for years—for long years he has been true and faithful, has he not?"

"Yes."

"And now—how much evil has he done you? How many deeds has he done to harm you?"

George did not answer.

"I shall have to speak for you," Eliza said, speaking with more earnestness as she proceeded. "Just think of it! Allowing that Caleb has done all that you accuse him of having done, and what does it amount to? To just this: He has given you ten thousand blessings, and with them has come one little deed of evil.

"You have a splendid watch which your father gave you, and I know that you value it highly. Suppose it should stop, would ye throw it away?"

"Of course not," said George.

"No," added Eliza, "you would say—the watch has been faithful for years, and I think its nature is so to be. This must be the result of some accident. And you would take your watch to a watchmaker, and he might find a little piece of dirt lodged among the delicate machinery, and you would have the dirt removed, and the watch would run as before, and you would trust it as of old.

"Need I say any more? I will, however, say this: Take counsel of your noble instincts, and make yourself as happy as you can in the path of the right."

With these words Eliza arose and left the room, and George was left alone. Awhile he sat upon the sofa, with his head bent, and then he got up and paced the floor a few minutes. It did not take him long to understand what his sister meant, nor did it take long for him to discover and appreciate its truth; he did this as he spoke, for it had appealed to the judgment of his own soul. He only stopped to consider how he should meet Caleb Bradford, and at length he had decided that point.

That very morning as George stepped out from the postoffice, he saw Caleb Bradford coming up the street. He had made up his mind and he would not flinch. He meant to try the experiment at any rate. So, as his old friend came up, he put forth his hand and smiled. Caleb grasped it in a moment, and smiled in return.

"We won't explain now," said George, shaking the hand he held warmly.

"No," replied Caleb with the same heartiness in his grasp.

Aye—for their hearts were as true and warm as ever, and their instincts as safe and sure only a little mote in the sunbeam—a little bit of dirt in one of the fine wheels, so that the tiny cogs got choked and stopped—that was all. And when this was removed the two men were happy as ever, and the delicate, sensitive structure of friendship between them was free again and perfect.

IT'S A GREAT PITY

That Correspondence Between England and America Cannot be Restrained and General Language Used.

London, July 19. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., in yesterday's Weekly Sun, says: "Mr. Sherman, the American Secretary of State, is a useful reminder to the rulers of the country that the world is not all peace and friendship to England. It must appear to every humane man something of a pity that these constant bickerings should take place between two nations so bound up by common interests and great common heritages as America and England.

"There are doubtless sections of opinion in America which are distinctly pro-English. The section of which this can be said with the most certainty is the Episcopalian body.

"Episcopalians of the United States have strong affiliations with the Anglican Church, and in religion blood is thicker than water. Moreover, this body, though not numerically very large, is very influential. Some of the greatest financiers of America are Episcopalians, and financiers all over the world have a good deal to say on the great issues of peace or war.

"This section of opinion is dead against any misunderstanding, much less conflict, with England, but, after all, the truth must be faced. There is in the United States a very powerful, very constant and at times a very rabid current of hostility to England; and statesmen will be foolish who do not recognize this fact, and, recognizing it, take steps to bring it to an end.

"Meantime, it is somewhat to be regretted that diplomatic correspondence between the two governments cannot be carried on in language a little more restrained. The American statesman is a little too downright for the language which men are accustomed to use when they are dealing with such dreadfully inflammable forces as national passions.

"I see that some of the Americans frankly criticise the tone of Mr. Sherman's despatch, and, in the face of that criticism, it is not necessary for British journalists to say much more. Let us hope that the wisdom and good sense of the Government of Lord Salisbury will see this country through this imbroglio. Seals are valuable things in their way, but the real interest of the two countries is a peaceful and cordial understanding, and that is worth a good many seals."

THEY MEAN FIGHT.

United States Conferees on the Tariff Bill Propose to Meet an Export Duty by a Charge to Match.

Washington, July 19.—The following are among the changes made by the conferees on the tariff bill:

The paragraph on anthracite coal in the free list reads:

"Coal, anthracite, not specially provided for in this act, and coal stores of American vessels, but none shall be unloaded."

The conference restored raw cotton to the free list.

The changes in the wool schedule made in conference leave the duties on disputed items as follows:

Paragraph 354—The duty on wools of the first class which shall be imported washed shall be twice the amount of the duty to which they would be subjected imported unwashed; and the duty on wools, finest and second class, which shall be imported scoured, shall be three times the duty to which they would be subjected if imported unwashed. The duty on wools of the third class, if imported in condition for use in carding or spinning into yarns, or which shall not contain more than eight per cent. of dirt or other foreign substance, shall be three times the duty to which they would be otherwise subjected.

The following was substituted for the paragraph on hewn timber: "Timber, hewn, sided or squared (not less than 8 inches square) and round timber used for spars or in building wharves, one cent per cubic foot."

The paragraph relating to sawed boards and planks is amended by striking out the words "white pine" at $1 per thousand feet, and the rate on all the other items of the schedule, making the rates 50 cents per thousand feet for each, planed or finished, $1 for tongued and grooved, and $1.50 if planed on two sides and tongued and grooved.

The legislative proviso for this paragraph, inserted by the Senate, was changed so as to read as follows:

"That if any country or dependency shall impose an export duty upon saw logs, round unmanufactured timber, stave bolts, shingle bolts or heading bolts, exported in the United States, or a discriminating charge upon boom sticks or chains used by American citizens in towing logs, the amount of such export duty, taxed, or other charge, as the case may be, shall be added as an additional duty to the duties imposed upon the articles mentioned in this paragraph, when imported from such country or dependency."

Fence posts are reduced from 20 to 10 per cent. ad valorem.

Tariff Report Adopted.

Washington, D.C., July 19.—The conference on the tariff bill was adopted by the House shortly after midnight by a vote of 189 to 115, and at noon to-morrow the report will go to the Senate for action there.

Duty on Wood Pulp.

Washington, D.C., July 19.—The duties on wood pulp for paper are converted into specific form at substantially the present ad valorem rate, with a proviso added for an additional duty as against any country that imposes an export duty on pulp or woods. The duties on manufactures of paper are substantially as they passed the senate.

EPWORTH LEAGUE BOARD.

Thankfulness for the Realization of Last Year's Anticipations Absent the Recent Convention

Toronto, July 20.

The annual meeting of the General Sunday School and Epworth League Board of the Methodist Church (Canada) was held in the board room of Wesley Buildings yesterday, Rev. Dr. Carman in the chair. Members present were Revs. J. E. Lanceley, Brampton; W. J. Ford, London; R. W. Woodworth, Woodstock; E. N. Baker, Chatham; C. W. Watch, Brighton; G. W. Kerby, Brantford; W. W. Andrews, G. T. Scott, St. Thomas; Dr. Griffith, Brockville; J. G. Lewis, Tamworth; A. C. Crews, Tweed, and Messrs. W. Johnson, J. S. Deacon, Milton; Warring Kennedy, Toronto; N. W. Rowell, Toronto.

The vacancy caused in the board by the death of Mr. W. G. Smith, Guelph, was filled by the appointment of Mr. T. R. Preston, Brantford. The General Secretary's report was read and received. Mr. Warring Kennedy, treasurer of the Sunday School Aid and Extension fund, presented his statement, which was adopted. The debt on this fund has been reduced by the sum of $500. Mr. J. W. Flavelle, treasurer of the Epworth League section of the board, read his annual report. The total receipts amounted to $3994, and after all expenses had been paid a small balance remained in the treasury.

It was moved by Rev. E. N. Baker, seconded by Rev. C. W. Watch, and resolved, "That having had the pleasure in the annual meeting of the board last year of anticipating the International Epworth League convention of 1897 to be held in Toronto, and said convention having now been held, with decidedly greater pleasure we now place on record our gratitude to God for the abounding success of the convention attended by over 20,000 Epworth Leaguers, and by very many of the leading men and women of our churches, also our appreciation of the loyalty and zeal of our Canadian Leaguers in furthering the interest of the convention. We heartily join in the prayer that the wonderful inspiration of the convention be made a blessing to all the churches in the rich and continuous descent of the Holy Spirit and His constant abiding in our hearts, guiding and invigorating all our operations."

It was moved by Rev. Thos. Griffith, seconded by Rev. Prof. Andrews, M. A., "That this board has witnessed with the greatest possible pleasure and delight the arrrangements made for the great International Epworth League Convention which has just concluded its sessions here. The arrangements for the reception, entertainment and general conduct of the whole matter have been such as to merit our unqualified approval. We therefore beg leave to extend to the Committee of Arrangements our sense of indebtedness to them for their untiring services and devoutly pray that the great Head of the Church may crown their lives with untold blessings through all their coming years."

It was moved by Rev. R. W. Woodworth, seconded by Mr. Warring Kennedy, and resolved: "That having heard from Mr. F. C. Stephenson in regard to the Students' Missionary Campaign work, we hereby express our hearty approval of the said movement and commend it to the leaguers throughout the work for their cordial adoption."

THE DEPARTING HOSTS.

Exciting Scenes at the Wharves and Union Station Yesterday.

Toronto, July 20.

The Epworth Leaguers impressed us with their numbers scarcely less by their departure than by their stay among us. Down by the water-front at an early hour yesterday morning there was an unprecedented crush of returning United Statesers. The Chippewa, which leaves at 7 a.m., had her full legal complement of passengers before half past six. By the time she put out there were enough disappointed ones left behind to fill the Chicora at 9 o'clock. It was amusing to see the confident air of numbers of Leaguers, as they marched down at 8 o'clock, thinking that an hour would certainly be enough margin to ensure at least standing room on an outgoing steamer. Great was the surprise and correspondingly long were the faces when upon arrival at the wharves they found that a couple of thousand had been there waiting two hours.

A similar scene was enacted when the Corona left at 11, as well as when the Empress and Lakeside left with their full capacity of hymn-singing, departing enthusiasts.

At the Union Station the scene was an animated one. There were no special trains, excepting those for side excursionist purposes, but each regular passenger train was reinforced by extra cars. The excursionists for the most part went to Montreal and the Thousand Islands, but the regular returning delegates crowded the coaches to Hamilton and the Falls.

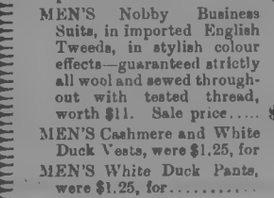
High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.



The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

NEGOTIATIONS OFF AT PRESENT

While the Ambassadors are Awaiting Fresh Instructions From Their Governments - Britain is Losing Patience, But Russia Asks for Delay - News by Cable.

London, July 20.—The Daily Telegraph's Vienna correspondent says he learns from a trustworthy source that the British Government has demanded the immediate coercion of Turkey. Russia, on the other hand, has declared that the moment for coercion has not arrived and that the situation must not be complicated. Germany, the correspondent states, has concurred in this view. The correspondent also says it is reported that Djevad Pasha has been appointed Grand Vizier

Negotiations Broken Off.

Constantinople, July 20.—The Ambassadors have forwarded to their respective governments their joint suggestions relative to the measures they think necessary in view of the contumacy of the Porte. Pending the arrival of fresh instructions, the negotiations with Tewfik Pasha have been entirely suspended.

BORNESK REBELS GOT AWAY.

But the British Expedition Brought the Treasurer to Safety.

Labuan, Island of Labuan, British Borneo, July 20.—The British Resident, who on the 12th inst. started in pursuit of the rebel chief, Matsalley, who had attacked and burned the Government station at Gaya the previous day, looting the town, sacking the treasury and carrying off the treasurer and about £2000 on deposit, has returned from the punitive expedition, having rescued the treasurer. The British force arrived at Matsalley's headquarters last Friday and immediately opened a cannonade, but it was found that the rebels had fled. A number of the rebel villages were burned by the expedition.

BRITAIN AND THE STATES.

London Morning Post's Way of Sizing Up the Possibilities.

London, July 20.—The Morning Post in its issue to-day again discusses the relations existing between the United States and Great Britain, and the possibility of a war being forced upon the latter. The paper says that the idea of damaging America by bombardment of open coast towns is nonsense. Great Britain will not make war upon helpless non-combatants. A war with the United States would first be a contest of navies and an effort on the part of British cruisers to protect British seaborne trade. Its second phase would be a blockade of the ports of the United States—not an easy matter—and a land defence of Canada.

These two operations would have to be continued until the people of the United States asked themselves the question: "What is the war about?" Eventually they would discover that there was no real cause, and peace would be made, which would leave the two countries exactly where they are, but both impoverished needlessly and embittered against one another.

This picture may seem one-sided to Americans who recall the splendid exertions of the United States in the late civil war, but the victories of Grant, Sherman and Thomas were won in the great cause of union and emancipation.

SEVEN MILLION FRANCS

To be Spent by France in the Improvement of Her Navy.

Paris, July 20.—The Chamber of Deputies, by a vote of 510 to 7, to-day passed the direct taxes bill, for which M. Cavaignac on Friday last endeavored to substitute an income tax proposal, which the Chamber defeated by a vote of 282 to 260.

The Chamber by a vote of 518 against 18, without debate, and after the Government had declared it a matter of urgency, adopted the recommendation of the Budget Committee granting a credit of 7,000,000 francs to be included in the accounts of the current year for commencing new warships, expediting the reconstruction of the navy and establishing a naval base at Bizerta, a fortified seaport of Tunis, and the most northern town of Africa.

BOTTLED MESSAGES.

Prof. Andree, the Polar Balloonist, Will Send News to Earth That Way.

Berlin, July 20.—The special correspondent of The Local Anzeiger, who was sent on a steamer chartered by his paper for the purpose of witnessing the ascent of Prof. Andree, and who so graphically described the thrilling occurrence, now relates some things that may be expected to occur in the near future.

In the first place, he says that before Andree started he asked that seamen and coast dwellers be requested to be on the lookout for news from him, which he will convey from his aerial vessel in small bottles, which, when they fall into the sea, will bob up neck above the waves. The bottles are painted yellow with blue stripes, and from the neck project small Swedish flags. They are not made of glass, but of a very light metal, and are large enough to contain copies of daily memoranda of his progress toward the pole. These metal bottles are so made, however, that they are able to withstand the pressure of the ice, where other materials would stand in danger of being crushed in the floes.

The correspondent asserts that Prof. Andree seemed as confident of success before starting as if he were going on a train from Berlin to Paris. Dr. Eckholm declares that even if the report be true that Andree had left his drag rope behind and had no other in his basket, the aeronaut could easily take the long ropes that hang from his balloon as ballast and splice them into a long enough drag rope.

MR. BALFOUR FIELDS.

Will Have the South Africa Company Investigated—Hawksley to Come to Time.

London, July 20.—Under pressure from the Liberal side Mr. A. J. Balfour has consented to furnish an opportunity for the House of Commons to discuss South African affairs, stipulating, however, that the matter be raised on a specific resolution.

Mr. Philip J. Stanhope, Liberal member from Burnley, gave notice that he would move a resolution deprecating the inconclusive action and report of the South Africa Committee, especially its failure to recommend specific steps regarding Mr. Rhodes, and to report the refusal of Mr. Hawksley to produce certain telegrams before the committee. The resolution, he added, would also demand that Mr. Hawksley be summoned to the bar of the House and compelled to produce the telegrams.

BRITISH POSTOFFICE CLERKS

Still Refuse to Work Overtime and Ask for an Investigation

London, July 20.—Postoffice clerks at the General Postoffice, St. Martin-le-Grand, still maintain a firm attitude and refuse to comply with the order of the Duke of Norfolk, Postmaster-General, directing them to sign the agreement consenting to work overtime weekly. The general public is inclined to endorse the refusal, and the question is likely to come up in Parliament.

From a ballot taken by the clerks in the postoffice and the telegraph division it appears that 70 per cent. are in favor of an abolition of the system of overtime, to take effect on July 26. The clerks are well organized and have presented a strong memorial to the Duke of Norfolk, pointing out that the postal authorities have long been indifferent, to notorious grievances in the department, and urging him to give the matter his personal attention, with a view to preventing a more serious conflict between them and the authorities. The Duke had threatened to discipline the officers of the association for taking the test ballot, but this threat has not been carried out, nor is it likely to be.

M'KINLEY KEPT HIS PROMISE.

England Will Survive the Dingley Tariff and Go on and Prosper.

London, July 21.—The Standard says editorially this morning: "Mr. McKinley has redeemed his pledge and has led the country back into the maze of ultra-protectionism. Europe survived the McKinley tariff and will also survive the Dingley tariff, which guarantees to England continual supremacy on the overseas carrying trade; and, therefore, is likely to do us more good than harm; while the prospect for America is further deficits, gold shipments, a fatiguing succession of strikes and panics and fanatics as political saviours."

An Old Volunteer Dead

London, July 20.—Sir John Charles Bucknill, one of the founders of the volunteer movement of 1850, is dead. The deceased was in his 80th year.

The Kaiser's Damaged Optic.

Berlin, July 20.—The Reichsanzeiger publishes a bulletin from Emperor William's physician, the Duke of Bavaria, saying that an examination of his Majesty's eye, which was recently injured by a blow from a piece of rope at Odde, shows that the sight is in no sense impaired, though there are still symptoms of irritation, compelling the exercise of great care in the use of the organ.

DESPERATE THUGS.

Heavy Sentences Passed on Clark and Maloney.

ONE SEVEN, THE OTHER TEN YEARS

Barrie Magistrate Metes Out Fitting Punishment to the Safe Crackers—The Hand of McLean, the Fugitive, Visible All Through the Evidence.

Barrie, Ont., July 20. (Special.)—The trial of Maloney and Clark, two desperadoes who cracked safes and burglarized stores and houses in Bradford, Markham, Victoria Harbor, Oro, Penetang and other places, took place here to-day before Magistrate Ross. These are the worst criminals who have been in the hands of the local police for years, and their reputation attracted a large crowd to the trial. The court room was completely filled, among the spectators being many ladies. The Crown was represented by County Crown Attorney Cotter. The prisoners defended themselves. Clark proved himself a clever cross-examiner, and exhibited considerable knowledge of criminal law.

The charges against the prisoners were as follows:

1. Breaking into Thomas Caldwell's house at Oro on July 7 and stealing therefrom.

2. Breaking into Charles Beck's store at Penetang on July 3 and stealing therefrom.

3. Blowing open William Hodgkin's safe at Victoria Harbor on July 5.

4. Breaking into the G.T.R. tool shop at Victoria Harbor on July 5 and stealing a jigger.

5. Breaking into the G.T.R. station at Waubaushene on July 5 and stealing therefrom.

The charges of assault upon Jailer Sissons and Turnkey Caldwell on the night of July 10 were not gone into, as convictions were secured in the other cases. The prisoners were found guilty on each of the five charges. Maloney was sentenced to seven years in Kingston Penitentiary, and Clark to 10 years in the same institution on each of the charges, the sentences to run concurrently.

Mrs. Maloney of Toronto Junction and Detective Davis, the clever Toronto officer who arrested Jack McLean, another member of this gang, gave important evidence. The charges in the G.T.R. cases were laid by Detective W. J. Cockburn, who worked up the evidence, and who deserves great credit for the part he has played in landing the country of these desperate characters.

In sentencing the prisoners, Magistrate Ross remarked that McLean was a notorious criminal, and that to let him escape after his clever capture by Detective Davis through such shameful neglect was a disgrace to a city like Toronto.

Clark was identified by Detective Cockburn as Charles Anderson, alias Alverick, alias Clair. This criminal with the many names is well known to the police of Detroit and Denver. In 1892 he was sentenced to three years for postoffice robbery.

The arrest and conviction of Maloney and Clark has resulted in the breaking up of one of the most desperate gangs of safe-crackers and burglars that have operated in Ontario for years. The leader of the gang was Jack McLean, who was arrested at Mrs. Maloney's house, Toronto Junction, on Saturday night, July 10, by Detective Davis, and whose escape from No. 1 Police Station in broad daylight on the following Monday caused such a sensation and resulted in an official investigation and the censuring of Inspector Stephen for carelessness in allowing crowbars to be left near the cells.

The gang operated principally along the Midland and Northern Railways. They burglarized a store at Holland Landing on June 27, and on the same date blew up the safe in the G.T.R. Station at Bradford, securing about $18. From Holland Landing they came to Maloney's house at Toronto Junction with some booty they had secured at these places, and on the following Tuesday night went to Markham, where they robbed the safe at the G.T.R. Station. Then they went to Black Creek, Penetang and Victoria Harbor, where they committed various robberies, and on Saturday, July 3, they shipped stuff from the latter place by express to Toronto, and on the same night cracked the safe at Victoria Harbor Station. Then they drifted to Barrie, where the officers ran them down and nearly lost their lives.

Not only was their arrest effected at great risk of life, but on Saturday night, July 10, the very night that McLean was arrested in Toronto Junction, the prisoners made a desperate attempt to break jail. They secured the legs of a stool that was left in the cells, and made a vicious attack upon Jailer Sissons and Turnkey Caldwell. They were overcome, but not until the officers covered them with their revolvers and shot Clark in the leg.

Maloney was evidently one of the gang's "pick-ups." He lived in Toronto Junction, and in her evidence to-day his wife swore that he left home to go with Clark and McLean on Tuesday, although she tried to persuade him not to go. Maloney swore that he was traveling around looking for work, but maintained that he knew nothing of the robberies at Penetang or elsewhere.

The hand of McLean was shown all through the evidence, and proof of the fact that he is a professional safe-blower was that the piece of fuse used in blowing open the safe at Victoria Harbor was the exact counterpart of the fuse found on McLean when arrested by Detective Davis at Toronto Junction.

When Clark and Maloney were arrested they threw a kit of burglars' tools into the bay, and a diver was procured, who fished up a drill which fitted the hole in the safe at Victoria Harbor. Detective Davis' evidence was given from the standpoint of a practical machinist and engineer, and he showed the peculiarity of the drill used by these desperadoes.

The magistrate was profuse in his compliments of Detectives Davis, Cockburn and Beardsley.

Maloney has a bad record. He had been convicted seven times previously and had spent 15 years, 4 months and 5 days in prison.

Clark is a noted criminal, and is well known in Detroit.

Detective Davis returned last night from Barrie, where he attended the trial of Maloney and Clark.

San Francisco, July 19.—The parents of Theodore Durrant, the condemned murderer, have been consulting astrologers to ascertain what the stars say about his fate.

Durrant's father is trying to gain permission to photograph his son for animatoscope purposes, but it is doubtful whether the prison directors will permit this.

STILL MORE MALADMINISTRATION.

The record of the late Conservative Government was bad enough on the surface, and it was predicted that when the Liberal Government gained access to sources of official information that the revelations would indicate a state of affairs of far worse character. This was justified in, especially, the Kingston Penitentiary investigation, and it now appears that St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary has even a worse tale to u. old. The Globe's Ottawa correspondent says: It is said that the investigation into the affairs of the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary reveals a state of affairs which eclipses anything at Kingston. Large quantities of material charged for cannot be accounted for. Some of the stone was found in buildings adjacent to the penitentiary. A large rake-off on certain hospital supplies and high grade groceries, not under contract, is said to have been exposed. It is said that a certain high official of the penitentiary, not now on duty, has been communicating surreptitiously with the prisoners with a view of colouring evidence. All round it is said a pretty mess has been discovered, and the whole tale has not yet been told.

TO-MORROW (Thursday) the general elections take place in Prince Edward Island, the smallest province of the Confederation group. A Liberal Government is in power and Conservatives, especially, are anxious to know as they will soon know whether or not the unbroken line of Liberal successes is to be maintained in this case. The fight is to be a hard one as candidates are nominated in every constituency.

THE Shoe and Leather Journal says that the agitation now going on in the States over the action of the Senate in imposing twenty per cent. duty on hides, will probably be a good thing for Canada. The United States Leather Co. is reported to be contemplating the establishment of several yards in Canada, where they will manufacture hemlock sole for the English export trade. We have cheap bark, cheap hides and cheap labour, where living is moderate and all the climatic conditions favour the cheap production of sole leather on a large scale. The establishment of branches of this company in Canada would be a boon, as it would not only give employment to many hands, but it would stimulate the trade of those already established here by advertising Canada as a sole leather producer, superior to the States, which we are in any event. The establishment of this industry in Canada could not work to our disadvantage, while there is every likelihood that it would tend to improve conditions of trade.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases coms from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

EMIGRANTS FROM WALES.

Agent Griffiths Holding Out Inducements to Get People to Come to Canada —Ottawa News.

Ottawa, July 20.—The Department of the Interior has received information from its agent in Wales, Mr. William Griffiths, that a very successful meeting was held amongst Lord Penrhyn's quarrymen at Bethesda Chapel on Saturday night, July 3, at which Mr. Griffiths read a telegram he had received from Hon. Clifford Sifton, intimating that the Canadian Government was making arrangements for 1000 Welsh immigrant laborers in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, and undertaking to provide employment for them on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway in the neighborhood of the settlement, thus enabling them to make some money with which to start farming operations on the land grants. Mr. Griffiths reports that the announcement was received with the utmost enthusiasm, that the Executive Committee of the quarrymen held a special meeting to consider the offer and provide ways and means for sending a detachment of emigrants, and that the prospects of a large emigration from Bethesda to Canada are excellent.

Rev. Father Corbett, who is doing emigration work for the Dominion Government, passed through Ottawa to-day on his way to Manitoba, with some 25 French Canadians from the United States, who intend settling on lands at St. Boniface.

The loss caused by yesterday's fire to the McKay Milling Company will be about $25,000. The insurance on the machinery in the part of the building which was burned amounts to $10,000, divided equally among the Millers' and Manufacturers', the Lancashire, Commercial Union, Western and North British and Mercantile. On the stock of this part of the building there was an insurance of $3000, divided among the Queen, London and Lancashire and the Millers' and Manufacturers'. On the burned building and machinery, owned by W. C. Edwards & Co., there was an insurance of $12,000, equally divided among the Guardian, Royal and London. The same companies had $2000 each on the mill machinery of the part of the building which was saved.

SIR DONALD SMITH

Has Not Yet Chosen His Title, But May Make It Lord Montreal or Lord St. Lawrence.

Montreal, July 20.—(Special.)—A patch of interesting news was received here today from London by private letter. In the first place, the Canadian High Commissioner will not be called Lord Glencoe. That is decided, and Sir Donald is thinking about assuming the titles of Lord Montreal or St. Lawrence; or Montreal and St. Lawrence combined, with a liking on the part of the new peer for the latter name.

It is also understood that Sir Donald Smith, William McKenzie, James Ross and other wealthy Canadians will join Petersen, Tait & Co. in the floating of the fast line scheme, notwithstanding the report that Sir Charles Tupper is in London working against the Petersen scheme and in favor of the Allans.

Another alleged miracle has been operated at Ste. Anne de Beaupre. On Sunday last some 3000 pilgrims from different parts of the province repaired to the famous shrine, and amongst them was a fisherman named Asilu, from Gaspe. He had been suffering for two years with ulcers in the throat, and no medical treatment was of any avail. Two days ago he went to La Bonne St. Anne, and after performing the accustomed exercises of piety he felt that he was cured. The ulcers had in fact completely disappeared, and the believing man returned to his home rejoicing.

Mr. William McKenzie, President of the Toronto Street Railway, was here to-day en route for Toronto. He reports that the Birmingham Railway has increased its earnings $100 daily, although it has not yet been decided whether the new electric transmitter will be overhead or underground.

The preliminary arrangements for the construction of two new and very fast steamers were discussed at a special meeting of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company directors this morning. The plans and specifications are being prepared by a noted designer of inland craft at Detroit. The idea is to run these steamers, which are to be modern and up-to-date in all respects, between Toronto and Prescott. Though not decided upon as yet, the turbine system is favored as regards power, and the chances are that it will be adopted.

Messrs. D. Torrance & Co. received a telegram from Halifax announcing the report that the steamship Baltimore City has been wrecked at Port au Choix, on the Labrador coast, in the Straits of Belle Isle, about forty miles this side of Point Amour.

The Baltimore City is a 1798 ton vessel, belonging to the Furness Line, of which Messrs. D. Torrance & Co. are the agents. She left Montreal for Manchester with a general cargo, including live stock, on July 12 and passed outward at Quebec on the 14th.

It was finally decided to-day that the consecration of Mgr. Bruchesi is to take place Aug. 8.

It is reported that the new Chair of Zoology, endowed by Sir Donald Smith in McGill University, will be filled by Prof. MacBride from Cambridge, Eng.

Shortness of Breath.

"Since last year I have had serious heart trouble caused by malaria. Shortness of breath, smothering spell on retiring, violent palpitation, etc., often made me gasp for breath. On procuring Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I found to my surprise and delight that they gave almost instant relief. I got healthy, restfull sleep, my heart troubles disappeared, and I now feel very well and strong indeed," Mr. Hugh Moore, Ingersoll, Ont., makes this statement for the public good.

At Wilkes-Barre—Wilkes-Barre-Montreal game postponed; wet grounds.

Batteries—Malins and Duncan; McPartlin and Zahner.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Pittsburg—Pittsburg won two great games from Brooklyn. The pitchers were all in good fettle, and only 19 single hits were made in both games. With fewer hits in each game the Pirates won out by quick head playing and during base running. Score:

First game—		R.	H.	E.

Batteries—Killen and Sugden; Payne and A. Smith.

At Louisville—The Senators turned the tables, winning out in the eighth innings. Magee pitched good ball until the eighth, when a base on balls, four singles and two dumb plays gave the Washingtons four runs. A sensational catch by Wagner was a feature. Score:

	R.	H.	E.

At Cincinnati—The Reds and Bostons played two games and broke even. Lewis pitched fine ball for the visitors in first game, while Dwyer was hit rather hard. In the second game Klobedanz was sent to the slab for the visitors and Billy Rhines for the Reds. Klobedanz was touched up for 19 hits in the six innings, while the visitors made only two off Rhines' delivery. Umpire Hurst called the game after the sixth innings on account of darkness. Attendance 10,200. Score:

At Cleveland—The Indians defeated the Orioles in a featureless game. Young pitched effectively, while Blackburn was hit rather freely. In the eighth innings Jennings suffered a severe injury to one of his fingers and had to retire. Kelly took his place, O'Brien going to left. Score:

At Chicago—A very costly error on a chance that should have retired the side without a score was followed by a gift and a fusillade of six hits, giving the Quakers 7 unearned runs in the first innings. The Colts played a patched up team, Griffith on third and Callahan in centre. Their fielding was a little off, but they led the batting with four and three hits respectively. Attendance 1200. Score:

	R.	H.	E.

LEAFS' WINNING STREAK.

Hamilton, July 20.—The baseball match between the Hamiltons and Guelph was rather wearisome. It was a pitchers' battle up to the sixth innings. There were several amusing plays. One was when the Leafs' team thought three Hams were out and there were only two. The visitors started to walk in when the reporters told the umpire how things stood. The players saw their mistake and there was a rush for places. A base runner who was at third bag got on second, the third baseman going to his bag with the ball. Reid of London was umpire and was jawed a good deal by Roberts and other visitors. The score:

										R.	H.	E.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

The Head Master.

Gentlemen,—I have found great satisfaction in the use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberries, and consider it invaluable in all cases of diarrhœa and summer complaint. It is a pleasure to me to recommend it to the public.

QUEEN'S AND GRAPHIC

First Stage in the Big Event at Bisley Finished.

SOME CANADIANS STAND WELL UP

King and Broadhurst Made Possibles at 500 and Lieut. Davidson and Staff Sergt. Marks at 500 Yards—Davidson Wins First in the Graphic Match.

Bisley Camp, July 20.—This morning the marksmen who are contending in the first stage of the Queen's Prize fired over the 900 yards range. The wind was fitful and tricky all morning.

The shooting of Sergt. Broadhurst and Lieut. King provoked great enthusiasm among the Canadians present. Both scored possibles. Broadhurst was very steady in his arm throughout. King fired with good judgment. Lieut. Kinnear put together a creditable 34 points, one of his shots missing the bullseye by a small margin.

At the five hundred yards range in the first stage of the Queen's prize the Canadians made the following scores:

Blair, Sergt. H. C., 78th Batt.	34
Carter, Lieut. R. S., 93rd Batt.	28

Toward noon the storm increased with great violence. Rain fell in torrents, accompanied with hail. There were no signs of abatement, and it was decided to stop all shooting for the day.

The Martini Challenge Cup was being fired when the storm forced a cessation of work for the day.

So many possibles were made in The Daily Graphic match to-day that it is not likely that any of the Canadians will figure prominently in the prize list.

In the Stewards' Prize to-day Lieut. Ross made 34 points.

During his visit to the Canadian quarters yesterday H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught expressed regret for the loss the camp had sustained by the death of Major Perley.

Lieut. Ross of the 13th Batt. was nominated by the wife of Adjutant Dunbar to represent her in the Ladies' Match. With great judgment he compiled a perfect score of 35, his shots being bunched on the right hand side of the bullseye.

REMARKABLE CASE WHICH HAS LATELY COME TO LIGHT.

Our reporter visited Mr. Alfred Crowhurst, and from him received the following statement. Said Mr. Crowhurst, "I have suffered greatly for sometime with pains across my body and in my side. The pain was often so great that I could not sleep. I took many kinds of medicine but they did me no good.

Finally I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at T. Geo. Watson's Drug Store, and have now used two boxes with the result that I am perfectly cured. My wife has also taken them with beneficial results, and as a kidney medicine I heartily recommend them, for I know of no other remedy which could exercise so benefical an influence in so short a time.

I esteem these pills a blessing to humanity, and trust that all who suffer as I did will give them a faithful trial."

The specific and direct action of Doan's Kidney Pills on the kidneys always restores them to healthy natural action, thus curing all diseases arising from disorder of the kidneys, bladder or urinary organs.

Bank

President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength.

"I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very good medicine, especially as a blood purifier. It has done me good many times. For several years I suffered greatly with pains of in one eye and about my temples, especially at night when I had been having a hard day of physical and mental labor. I took many remedies, but found help only in Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me of rheumatism, neuralgia and headache. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself a true friend. I also take Hood's Pills to keep my bowels regular, and like the pills very much." ISAAC LEWIS, Sabina, Ohio.

Died in Montana.

Mrs. Charles Hauxwell, Great Falls, Montana, died on July, 9th. The deceased lady who was a sister of Mr. Edward Courtney, Ashburnham was well known to many in Peterborough, which she visited for some weeks about four years ago. She had been ill with typhoid fever for some weeks when the bursting of a blood vessel resulted in her rather sudden death at the age of 36 years. The funeral was largely attended and the offerings of flowers were profuse. The Sons of St. George, of which her husband was a member, attended the funeral in a body.

"Facts and Fiction."

FACTS AND FICTION, "that sprightly western monthly," is building an enviable reputation as a leading western publication. Mechanically it is neat unto dantiness, being printed on a superior grade of paper and handsomely illustrated with copper plate engravings. In contents it is varied to afford both entertainment and instruction. A typically strong story in each number is a valuable literary feature. Leading articles on matters of world-wide interest appear as subject matter presents itself. "The Lincoln Page," in which is appearing in a well edited form, a vast amount of special matter about the great martyr president, is attracting wide attention. Architecture, fashion, authors and books, facts about the press, encyclopedia of facts, fancies, personal notes, etc., are well sustained departments, and combine to form an excellent monthly. A feature original with this publication is its series of frontispiece portraits and accompanying sketches of western authors. This portrait gallery in itself is worth more than the subscription price of the magazine. The Chicago Daily News says of this publication: "Among the magazines that are full of interest and value is Facts and Fiction. Condensed learning is easy to take when presented in such attractive guise." A free sample copy may be had by addressing the publisher, The Dominion Company, 338 Dearborn street, Chicago. Fifty cents a year, five cents a copy.

TESTED THE AUBURN BRIDGE

And Found It Perfectly Satisfactory in Every Particular.

The new railroad bridge across the Otonabee at Auburn, built for the Grand Trunk by the Dominion Government in order to obviate the necessity of using the old bridge across the canal for the Lakefield branch, is now completed and was formally tested by the Grand Trunk officials this morning.

Supt. Tiffin, of Allandale; J. Shear, General Roadmaster and George A. Mitchell, Bridge Inspector, accompanied by Mr. H. S. Greenwood, of the Trent Valley Canal system, went up to the bridge this morning, with locomotives No. 637 and 157 in charge respectively of drivers Hagarman and Levoy. The engines were linked together and made a most elaborate test of every span, concluding by running over the full length of the bridge under a full head of steam.

No fault could be found with the structure and Mr. Sandy, local station master, who was present at the trial, states that the Government may turn the bridge over to the Grand Trunk authorities almost any day now.

THE MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.

It Proved a Great Success Last Night on the Little Lake.

The steamer Eclipse, with palace scow attached, took a private moonlight excursion out on the Little Lake last evening and several hours were spent very enjoyably on the water.

The boat anchored between the Ashburnham wharf and Burnham's Point and dancing was indulged in until midnight.

The sound of the music attracted dozens of canoes across the lake and as they floated about the barge, which was gaily decorated with Chinese lanterns, the scene was a pretty one.

Messrs. Ed. Cox, John Gemmell and Wm. Bletcher composed the committee which managed the affair so successfully. The music was furnished by Miss McCabe, Miss Bell and Mr. Charlie Wesley.

BROKE HIS SHOULDER BLADE

By Falling Heavily from a Swing—Accident to George McGregor, of Ashburnham.

Little George McGregor, son of Mr. Wm. McGregor of Ashburnham, met with a serious accident yesterday at the farm of Mr. Wm. Brayley of Otonabee, where he has been visiting for the last couple of weeks.

It seems that he was swinging on a large swing which had been erected for the children's amusement, when he suddenly fell off at a considerable height from the ground. In his fall he broke his shoulder blade.

George is a delicate little fellow, and a great favourite with his playmates in Ashburnham who will be grieved to hear of the accident, which will confine him to bed for several weeks.

AN ACCIDENT ON CHARLOTTE STREET.

Charlie Curtis is Thrown Down and had his Lip Badly Cut.

A little lad named Charlie Curtis, son of Mr. George Curtis, bricklayer, Aylmer street, met with a painful accident this morning, through getting tangled up in the ropes by which brick and mortar are hoisted to the top of the new building which is being erected next to the Snowden House.

Young Curtis drives the horse which supplies the power for the hoisting apparatus, and the animal, which is somewhat skittish, started off suddenly when he was not expecting it to do so, this morning, and caused the lad to get tangled among the ropes. He was thrown heavily to the ground, and had his under lip badly cut through contact with a stone. The cut was sufficiently deep as to need dressing by a physician.

The salesmen are congratulating themselves on receiving the highest price paid for July cheese this year in Canada.

Mr. Hodgson complained before the opening of the Board that Cedardale after accepting 7¾c from him at the last meeting of the Board, resold its cheese at an advance of 1 16c to Mr. Rollins.

Mr. Anderson, who acted for Cedardale that day in the absence of Mr. Thompson, stated that he never heard Mr. Hodgson's bid and therefore could not have accepted it.

Mr. Peter McFarlane, Dominion Government Inspector of cold storage for creameries, was present at the meeting of the Board and made a few remarks to the salesmen on the advantage of having their factories in such a condition that they could be changed into butter factories at a moment's notice if the price of cheese dropped.

THE KLONDYKE GOLD FIELDS.

The Canadian Yukon Strays Over Golden Sands.

The recent reports from the Yukon district, northern Canada, confirm the rumours of astonishingly rich deposits of gold in the sands of the tributaries of the Yukon river, situated in Canadian territory. The Klondyke region where the richest discoveries of free gold have been made is 650 miles from Juneau, and about 700 miles from Sitka, in Alaska. It can be reached overland from these points, or it can be reached by boats up the Yukon river, whose mouth is at St. Michael's Island, in Behring Strait. The route up the Yukon is about 1,500 miles in length.

The mines in the new district are what is called placer mines, that is the fine gold is washed out of alluvial gravel taken from the beds of streams by the use of pans. The stories of the fabulous wealth of some of these deposits are confirmed by the reports of Mr. Wm. Ogilvie, of the Dominion Geological Survey who has been exploring in the Yukon district for several years past.

The reports tell of $1 to $12 per pan and as there are nine or ten pans to a cubic foot, it means millions of gold in a small area. And when it is remembered that this stretch of extraordinary richness extends fifteen or twenty miles some idea may be formed of the great wealth of this new land of gold.

Inspector Strickland, who commanded the detachment of Mounted Police which has been stationed at Fort Cudahy for the last three or four years, and who passed through Peterborough yesterday on his way to Ottawa to report, states that last winter no less a sum than $1,500,000 was mined in the Klondyke district. Between 2,000 and 3,000 persons are now located there, and claims have been staked which will afford employment for 5,000 persons. He anticipates that there will be that number in the district before the close of next month.

A steamer, the Portland recently arrived from Klondyke brought down it is estimated between one and two millions of gold.

Of course there will be a great rush to the new gold region, and already there are scores of companies being organized for exploring the new fields in search of gold.

Persons should be careful about rushing to the gold fields. It would be impossible to reach there before September and the point being so far north winter will have set in by that time, or at least the ground will be covered with snow.

STOLE HIS COAT.

A Tramp Walks off with Mr. George Stevenson's Coat in the Centre of the Town.

Mr. Geo. Stevenson, of No. 473 Water street is the latest victim of the tramp nuisance.

On Monday evening Mr. Stevenson was teaching his little daughter to ride a bicycle on Water street, and the work got so warm that he took off his coat and laid it on the boulevard.

As the lesson progressed the little girl was able to ride faster and faster, and finally turned the corner and went down Murray street with her father beside her.

On coming around the block again Mr. Stevenson missed his coat, and was told by a couple of little girls that as soon as he had turned the corner a tramp had came across the road and picking up the coat made off with it. Fortunately there was nothing of any partiular value in the pockets.

ST. ANDREW'S EXCURSION.

The Sunday School Scholars Spend the Day at Jubilee Point.

St. Andrew's Sunday school excursion yesterday was a great success. The City of Peterborough left her wharf at 8 a.m., and calling at Ashburnham and Campbelltown en route, arrived at Jubilee at noon.

Dinner was then served in family groups, and at 1.30 o'clock half the excursionists took advantage of the trip to Idyl Wild, arriving at Jubilee again at 4 p.m. Those who remained with the Sunday school scholars enjoyed the afternoon in their own way—some in boats, some in the water, others taking advantage of the shade, while the committee on sports endeavoured to run off the different numbers under a broiling sun.

The time being limited all the list of sports could not be completed. The following were the winners.

Boys under seven—1 Eddie King, 2 Stanley Wade.

Girls 7 to 10—1 Maggie Reid, 2 Amy Jamieson.

Boys 10 to 12—1 Stanley Alford, 2 John Morrison.

Girls, open to all—1 Mabel Robertson, 2 Lottie Boyce.

Boys, 12 to 15—1 Willie Richardson, 2 Willie Peace.

Girls, 12 to 15—1 Mabel Robertson, 2 Lottie Boyce.

Potatoe race—1 Willie Richardson, 2 Willie Morrison.

Three legged race—1 Willie Peace and Willie Rich.. on, 2 Holly VanEvery and Wm Morrison.

Ladies', open to all—1 Lucy Anderson, 2 Lizzie Allen.

Sack race—1 Willie Morrison, 2 Willie Peace.

Blindfold, boys—1 John Morrison, 2 Stewart Lang.

Blindfold, girls—1 Eveline Morrison, 2 Mabel Robertson.

Jockey Race, Boys Brigade—1 Willie Peace and Willie Richardson, Stanley Alford and Holly VanEvery.

The boat left Jubilee at 4 45 and arrived home at 8 45.

This year the excursion was worked on an altogether new plan. It was free to the members of the Sunday school and the congregation, but those who wished to contribute donations towards defraying the expenses were permitted to do so. To the pleasure of the finance committee the expense of hiring the boat was more than met by this free will offering. It was also much pleasanter for the children to have their parents accompany them.

INSPECTOR MACFARLANE HERE.

He Addressed the Members of the Cheese Board This Morning.

Mr. Peter Macfarlane, Dominion Government Inspector of Cold Storage for Creameries, is in town to day on his way west to report on a number of applications which have been received for plans, etc., in connection with the establishment of the proposed system.

Mr. Calcutt, of the Ashburnham Brewery, asked to have plans forwarded to him from Ottawa and Mr. Macfarlane thought it was for a creamery, hence his presence in town.

At the meeting of the Cheese Board this morning Mr. Macfarlane was asked to address the salesmen. He stated that it was the general opinion that because he talked butter up, he would have something against cheese. But this he assured his hearers, was not the case, as his object was only to try and put Canadian butter on the same excellent footing in the English market as Canadian cheese.

Last year a large number of cheese factories were so improved as to be capable of transformation into butter factories at a very short notice.

The output this year of cheese was something immense, running as high as half a million pounds weekly in Canada. If the market did not drop "butter would not be in it" this year.

We, in Canada, continued Mr. Macfarlane, make butter of a high standard, and we think that if we can put it on the market in England in as good a shape as we put it on our own, that we can capture that market of fifty five million pounds a year. Our butter to-day commands a cent a pound more than that of the United States creameries.

The speaker then urged on the salesmen the necessity of having their factories so arranged that if the cheese market dropped below the paying point, that at a moment's notice they could begin the manufacture of creamery butter. The English market required 55 million pounds of butter annually and the demand for cheese was steadily growing, 26 million pounds being purchased last year.

This week ought to be another rousing, hustling spell at Gough Bros. mammoth sale of the E. K. Small & Co's stock of fine clothing. LACROSSE.

Every member of the lacrosse team was out at practice last night, with the exception of three men. It is to be hoped that the entire twelve will show up to-night as there are just the two more practices before Friday's game with Orillia. The boys are in fine shape and will take another long run after practice to-night.

The Hastings Star, in its report of the recent match in that village, says: The game lasted two and a half hours, one and a half hours actual time being played. This is the fastest and best game that has been played by our boys this year, and everyone seems satisfied. The Peterborough boys are a gentlemanly lot of fellows and no rough work was done during the game.

CRICKET.

The secretary of the Cricket Club received word this morning that the Lindsay eleven would be unable to play here to-morrow, but expect to arrange a date a little later on. To take the place of this game an eleven composed of university graduates will play the town. The university eleven will be chosen from the following:—Rev. H. Symonds, Rev. E. V. Stevenson, Dr. Young, D. M. Rogers, Harold Burnham, Dr. Eastwood, W. A. Stratton, Garvin, Lefevre, Spence, Anderson, Jones, Thomson, Smith. Game will commence at 3 o'clock sharp.

THE WHEEL.

If there were a cross of honour that the city of Denver or the State of Colorado gave for heroic deeds, the wheelman that saved a baby from death yesterday afternoon should wear it on his breast. But there is no such decoration, and if there was nobody would know to whom it belonged. The cyclist saved the child and went on about his business. But Denver s ringing with his praise.

It was about six o'clock in the evening. At the corner of Sixteenth and Stout streets a throng of people waited for the suburban electric cars. Across the intersection the cars went in endless procession, close together, belated business men running to catch them and women with their arms full of bundles crying to the conductors to wait. It was one of the busiest corners of the city at that hour. A little way from the tracks some children were playing. They laughed and ran and tumbled in childish glee, accustomed to the cars, and heeding them and the people very little. There was one wee tot in dresses, flaxen-haired and dirt begrimed, and not more than three years old. She had played alongside them day after day, and was not afraid of them, nor the clanging bells, nor the cross conductors. With childish audacity she ran back and forth across the tracks, thoughtless, indifferent, and perfectly happy.

Some freak of fancy struck the baby. She stopped to play, looked up the street toward where the cars were coming swiftly, ran away from the track, and then with the utmost deliberation stepped back between the rails. With her little yellow head uplifted saucily, she looked at the big white car coming down upon her and laughed.

It was not ten feet away, the big electric car, and could not be stopped. The motorman whirled his brake and yelled savagely. The people on the corners were rooted to the spot with horror. The baby was as good as dead, crushed beneath the heavy wheels.

At that instant a wheelman came down Fifteenth street. He was of that sort known and execrated as a scorcher. His back was humped, and his chin was familiar with his handle bars. But he knew his wheel. The wheelman saw the baby and the car and the horror-stricken people. Quick as a thought, simultaneous with the thought, he sprinted. His wheel glided close by the side of the car, turned directly in front of it so that the guard rail almost grazed his head, and shot across the track. There was barely three feet between the car and the baby. But it was enough. As he passed between them the wheelman reached out his arm, grabbed the impudent tot by its dress and lifted it out of danger.

The people yelled and clapped their hands and some women cried. But the wheelman, without stopping, dropped the baby carefully on the nearest sidewalk and went on down the street, not as much as once turning in his saddle.

Port Hope has a bicycle rider named Johnston, who has aspirations as a sprinter and who had the temerity to challenge Milt. Walker, of Peterborough, to a race. Walker conceded him everything he asked, including the time and place of the race, but so much money was floating around to back the Peterborough flyer that Johnston, true to his breeding hole, turned tail and defaulted. The race, which was to take place Friday has therefore been cancelled. Port Hope turns out some great sporting blood, but the strain is one which has caused their town to be looked at askance in athletic circles all over Ontario. Disrepute is attached to their cyclers, lacrosse players, curlers, hockeyists and baseballists. No one wants to have anything to do with them in connection with athletic sports of any kind.

YOUNG'S POINT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. John Graham of Toronto, is the guest of his brother, Mr. Wm. Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dunn of Peterborough, are visiting at Mr. Austin Dunn's.

The sawmill is doing a rushing business since the Rathbun Company rented it from Mr. C. Young. The lumber they are cutting is being piled on the east side of the river, and that part of the river is all occupied.

All the farmers around this neighborhood are busy harvesting. A number are cutting hay this week but report a light crop.

Fishing is excellent around the Point, and we hear a great many fish stories.

Quite a number from here took in the excursion to Ste. Anne de Beaupre, Quebec, on Tuesday.

Mr. Chas. Young, of Chicago, was out trolling one day this week and caught a lunge which tipped the scales at twenty pounds.

Mr. C. Young, who has been in Toronto the past few days, returned home on Sunday last.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1 00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.60. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

ABOUT MARK TWAIN.

THE CELEBRATED HUMORIST IN SORE STRAITS, BUT SMILES STILL.

The New York Herald Starts a Popular Subscription for Him With $1,000—An Interview With the Author of "Innocents Abroad."

Although natural delicacy prevents Mr. Samuel L. Clemens, who has made the pseudonym of Mark Twain a household word in two continents, from unveiling his private affairs to the public, it is well known that he is at present in sore pecuniary straits. Therefore the New York Herald has opened a subscription for him with the sum of one thousand dollars. It trusts that many will be glad to have this opportunity of testifying to the feelings of esteem, gratitude and sympathy which they feel for him.

There is a peculiar pathos in the situation which has overtaken the greatest merrymaker of the day. He who has lightened the load of life for an entire generation is now himself bowed down by care. Mark Twain is more than a mere jester. His fun is of the superior kind that is based on truth. He has a hatred of sham and humbug so keen that it can only find relief in the uproarious laughter that helps to clear the air of cant.

Apropos, The Herald's London correspondent cables an interview with Mark Twain, as follows, under date of June 12, 1897:

"Of course, I am dying."

And Mark Twain smiled grimly.

"But I do not know that I am doing it any faster than anybody else. As for dying in poverty, I had just as soon die in poverty here in London as anywhere. It would be a little more difficult, because I have got quite a number of friends, any one of whom I believe would be good for a month's provision, and that would drag out the agony a fairly long time."

I could not help thinking there was something forced in the careless tone. Was it possible that the reverses of fortune of the author of so many works bubbling over with wit and humor and philosophy and high spirits were as serious as has been recently stated? It is true that Mr. Clemens denied the report first published—namely, that he was dying in a state of extreme poverty—and certainly he looked in fairly good health when I saw him a couple of days ago in his house at Chelsea, and yet there was a difference in his physiognomy.

It was more lined and much thinner than when I saw him last. His hair is as bushy as ever and is now almost snowy white, and there was a species of hopeless resignation in his bearing that was in painful contrast to his one time easy going carelessness; and in spite of his assertion that he was perfectly well, I was convinced that if his physical health were of the best he was, nevertheless, so disturbed by mental worries that the report of his failing condition was practically well founded.

"No, I assure you," he added, "I am as well as ever I was. You see, you must not attach too much importance to my wife's remark that I was not in a condition to receive visitors. That simply meant that I was in bed. Now most women think that if a man does not get up before twelve o'clock there must be something wrong with him, and as I never do get up before then, my wife thinks I am not in good health. As a matter of fact, when you were announced I told her to have you shown up to my room, but you can never persuade a tidy woman to show a stranger into an untidy bedroom, and so that did not work.

"I said to her, 'Show him up. Send some cigars up. I am comfortable enough.'

"'Yes,' she said, 'but what about him?'

"'Oh,' I said, 'if you want him to be as comfortable as I am make him up a bed in the other corner of the room.' That did not work either, so I thought the best thing to do was to get up and come to see you."

Chatting in this way I introduced as delicately as possible the subject of the reports published recently in the press, to which he gave the answer that opens this interview.

As a matter of fact, however, I heard from other sources that since the death of his daughter, some months ago, Mr. Clemens has been trying to hide his grief, trying to live down his bereavement in complete isolation. Until a few days ago, in fact, very few people were in the secret of his whereabouts, and had it not been that a cousin of his here in London fell ill Mark Twain's name would not probably have been brought up in connection with any such statement as that he was dying and in complete poverty, for, although his losses with the Webster publishing firm have been so serious as to engulf the whole of his fortune, he is, perhaps, the last man in the whole world to let any one know wof his financial difficulties so long as he has strength to hold his pen or so long as his fertile brain can evolve thoughts. Indeed, he is bravely working away to fulfill his voluntarily-given promise to redeem $200,000 of that firm's liabilities.

From the same source I learned that, in spite of Mr. Clemens' sturdy disclaimer, he is overwhelmed with financial embarrassments, but there was only his air, which seemed dreadfully like that of a man trying to keep his head above water and not succeeding too well, to support his assertion.

"Poverty," he said, "is relative. I have been in poverty so often that it does not worry me very much. A more serious matter is the money owing to other people, not by any fault of mine, and yet owing to them by me. But I do not trouble about the rumors that go about in regard to me. Why should I? The rumor will die itself if you will only give it three days. I know perfectly well that the public will forget all about it if I let it alone. I keep on ploughing away and working and working and hoping, but the idea of being in poverty does not either trouble me or frighten me."

"What are you working upon just now?"

"On my journey round the world. Everybody has done the little circumnavigation act, and I thought it about time I did mine, so I have been getting it ready for the press since I have been here, and therefore, for the matter of that, the book is just my impressions of the world at large. I go into no details. I never do, for that matter. Details are not my strong point, unless I choose for my own pleasure to go into them seriously. Besides, I am under no contract to supply details to the reader. All that I undertake to do is to interest him. If I instruct him that is his fate. He is that much ahead."

"What is to be its name?"

"I had though of calling it 'Another Innocent Abroad,' but following advice, as lawyers say, I have decided to call it 'The Surviving Innocent Abroad.'

"When do you expect the survivor to appear?"

"Oh, about Christmas," said Mark Twain. "Christmas is a good time to bring out a book. Everybody is thinking about Christmas presents, and the pious are praying that Divine Providence may give them some clew as to what to give for a present, and the book, if it comes just at the right time, is about as good a thing as one could desire. It must come just at the right time though. In other words, the opportunity to secure the present must happen just at the moment when the impulse to give one is felt."

"It is a strange thing," he went on to say, "how much more charity there would be in this world if opportunity only coincided with impulse. It is years ago since a lecturer had a vast amount of experience among the city poor—among the worthy poor, I mean, for there are worthy. And one night I went off to hear about the misery and distress he had seen. I remember I had four one hundred dollar bills in my pocket, with some small change, just enough for the sake of appearance when the plate came round.

"Well, he began to tell us about suffering in the city slums, and about a husband, with his dogged courage, striving and fighting to make both ends meet, and about the little wife, with her brave smile, choking down the lump that rose in her throat, and about the children crying for bread. And as he went on I felt my enthusiasm for his cause rising higher and higher, and I said to myself, 'I'll give one of those bills when that plate comes round.' But he continued, and told about how work failed, and the husband came home with a white, despairing face, and the little wife looked up at him still cheerily smiling, while her heart was breaking, and how the children pined and wasted away for lack of nourishment. Oh, it was terrible! It was heartrendering! And it so played on my feelings that I thought, 'I cannot bear this any more. I must help them. I'll spare two of those bills!'

"And then he told how sickness came and how the brave wife at last lay dead and the husband sat by her side with his heart broken and his brain reeling, holding her dead hand in his while sheriffs took the bed upon which she had laid. And the children were huddled in a corner, crying softly and affrighted, and my feelings were wrought up to such a pitch that I said to myself, 'For God's sake, send that plate round, so that I can pour my sympathy into it. I'll give those four bills, and if I can get a piece of paper, I'll write a check for something more. I can very well spare a little money for a cause like that.'

"But the lecturer went on talking and talking, and as he talked my enthusiasm calmed and calmed, and the red flush of my sympathy became paler and paler. And when he had been talking about half an hour I had saved one of those bills, and when he had talked five minutes more two of those bills were mine again, and when he had been talking an hour I had won all four back, and, by gosh, when he finally did send that plate round I borrowed ten cents out of it to pay my carfare home."

There was such a sympathetic sound, however, in Mark Twain's voice that I wonder how much he really did put in the plate, for one of the most striking characteristics of the man is his profound affection for humanity, a characteristic that comes out in many and many an unexpected place in his writing, welling up from unsuspected depths of kindliness in his nature.

"As I said about charity, if the impulse to kill and the opportunity to kill come always at the same instant, how many of us would escape hanging. If one had done something to me that annoyed me or put me out, I would sit down and write a letter to him, and I would pour out all my thoughts and all the bitterness and anger and contempt and indignation and invective in my heart, and when I had cleaned myself out thoroughly, I would put that letter in the box, and my wife would see that it did not go.

"She used to say when she saw me sitting down:

"'What are you going to do?'

"'I am going to answer this letter. I would—'

"'But you know you won't send it.'

"'I know that, but, by George, I am going to write it.'

And Mark Twain laughed as though he enjoyed the matter very much, adding, 'I have been sorry many a time that those letters were not kept, because when a man is in a thoroughgoing temper he finds things to say worth preserving."

Draught Horses on the Road.

The strength of the draught horse enables him to make good time for a short sprint, despite the excess of weight he carries. But unless on soft dirt roads fast driving of draught horses should not be attempted, because the excess of weight makes the pounding of the horses feet on the hard surface all the more severe. It is well known that heavy horses are quite apt to have defective feet. This we believe to be the cause. Kept to their appropriate pace on the road and in the farm draught horses will live and do good service years after they are 20 years old. It is nervous worry that shortens life, rather than hard, muscular toil, both in horses and in men.—Journal of Agriculture.

Food for Growing Pigs.

The feed given to young pigs after weaning should be such as to promote the largest growth of bone and muscle, and such food should be fed that is composed largely of nitrogenous character. Fortunately we may have an abundance of it and of considerable variety. Skimmed milk stands, perhaps at the head, to start the young pigs, and may be continued with advantage to the end. Hogs, either old or young, should never be confined to pens in summer, but allowed a free range of pasture for exercise and fresh air, and the result will be a large, well-developed frame and vigorous health, fitting them perfectly for the fattening period.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia---Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, whole ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

Thousands of women go down to death every year through their own ignorance and neglect. Every woman should know something of the physiology of her womanly self. Every woman should appreciate the importance of the health and strength of the delicate organs that constitute her womanhood. The woman who neglects her health in this respect is sure to be a continual sufferer and is in constant danger of an early grave. To such a woman wifehood is a torture and motherhood a menace.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription acts directly and only on the organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It invigorates them and makes them healthy. It prepares a woman for an almost painless maternity. It does away with the dangers of motherhood. It insures the health of the newcomer in the family. Over 90,000 women have testified to its wonderful virtures. All good druggists sell it. There is nothing "just as good."

"If it had not been for your medicine and your advice," writes Mrs. I. E. Thomas, of Antoine, Pike Co., Ark., "I would no doubt be in my grave or in an insane asylum. Fourteen years ago, when my second child was born, I came very near losing my mind. My head would hurt so bad I could hardly live. I could not lie down and raise up without great pain. My life was a misery to me. God alone knows what I suffered. I had lost all hope of being cured, but I took your 'Favorite Prescription' according to directions. I used one bottle of the 'Pleasant Pellets,' two of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and six of 'Favorite Prescription.' In a little over one year after I began your medicine I gave birth to twins. Since then I have a boy baby ten months old. He weighed eleven pounds at his birth. I have been better in health since the birth of these children than I had been for years before. Before using your medicine my weight was about one hundred and thirty-five pounds, and now I weigh one hundred and sixty-five."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a safe, sure, swift and permanent cure for constipation. They never gripe. One is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them.

ONE GOOD RESULT.

With back humped up chin forward thrust,
And madly churning feet,
The scorcher, in a cloud of dust,
Went flying down the street.

And while he rubbernecked along
As swift as he could scoot
He smoked a villainously strong
And nasty cigaroot.

As over crossings rough he bumped,
And grazed sharp corners fore,
Pedestrians in terror jumped,
And crossed themselves—or swore.

Right in his way a horse stood hitched,
Whose mild and patient eyes
Wickedly as his tail he switched
And feebly fought the flies.

The scorcher swerved. A gadfly bit
The horse, who turned his head
To nip the insect—but he hit
That flying youth instead—

Right in the face! The scorcher stopped,
And with a sickening thud
He tumbled from his wheel and dropped
Down in a pool of mud.

And did it kill him? No, alas!
It only spoiled his suit,
It crushed, though, to a shapeless mass
The nasty cigaroot.

HAVE YOU CATARRH?

But One Sure Remedy—Obtain It for 25 Cents, Blower Included, and be Cured.

Catarrh is a disagreeable and offensive disease. It usually results from a cold and often ends in consumption and death. The one effective remedy so far discovered for it is Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

Physicians failed to cure Geo. Belfrey, toll-gate keeper, Holland Landing road. Chase's Catarrh Cure did it.

One box cured William Kneeshaw and two boxes James T. Stoddard, both of West Gwillimbury.

Division Court Clerk Joel Rogers, Robert J. Hoover and Geo. Taylor, all of Beeton, voluntarily certify to the efficacy of Chase's Catarrh Cure.

J. W. Jennison, of Gilford, spent nearly $300 on doctors, but found no permanent relief until he tried a 25-cent box of Chase's.

Miss Dwyer, of Alliston, got rid of a cold in the head in 12 hours.

Henry R. Nicholls, 176 Rectory street, London, tried a box with excellent effect.

Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure is for sale by any dealer, or by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Price 25 cents including blower.

Coughs, colds and bronchial troubles readily cured by the latest discovery, Chase's Linseed and Turpentine. Pleasant and easy to take. 25 cents.

Utilizing Canals.

The Congress of German and Austro-Hungarian Associations for the Promotion of Inland Navigation, recently held in Vienna, was brought to a close last week. In the course of the proceedings several matters of high importance for the commercial future of the Central European cities was discussed. Among other matters was the question of utilising the water-power of the projected Moldau-Danube canal to generate electricity for traction and other purposes. The Biwa-Kioto canal, in Japan, was referred to as the most striking instance of this description. There the power generated is used not only for the traction on the canal itself, but for lighting the various towns along its banks and for driving the machinery in a number of large and small factories.

Canterbury Cathedral.

Canterbury can boast a charm and interest which few other English cathedrals can rival, and well does it deserve to be called the premier cathedral of England. Within its walls are monuments which bear witness to its close connection with the great secular events of England's national history. The cathedral exhibits the first traces of early English style, and, besides the ancient Roman work recognised by archeologians in the crypt, it contains specimens of the pre-Norman, Norman, transition, early English, decorated, perpendicular, and modern styles.

They do not Despair.

An utter loss of hope is not characteristic of consumptives, though no other form of disease is so fatal, unless its progress is arrested by Scott's Emulsion, which is Cod Liver Oil made as palitable as cream.

To destroy worms and expel them from children and adults use Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

WHAT KEEPS THE SUN HOT.

It Will Probably Keep Warm for Twenty Million Years.

According to the most recent investigations the temperature of the sun is somewhere between 5000 and 6000 degrees centigrade, and there are reasons for believing that for hundreds of thousands, perhaps for millions of years, it has been radiating heat into space with no appreciable loss of temperature. Were the sun simply a cooling mass of stone or metal it must ages ago have lost both its heat and its light; were it a globe of burning carbon it can easily be calculated that it would have burned out in about 6000 years. Where, then, does it get its heat supply? is a question frequently asked.

We are so accustomed to regard fire, combustion, as the principal source of heat, or at any rate, of intense heat, that it is not easy to realize that there may be other sources, equally abundant, from which the sun may obtain its perennial supply of this article. Astronomers long since discarded the idea that there is any sort of combustion going on in the sun. Its heat is, more probably, of that sort known in physics as mechanical heat, heat that is produced by friction, by hammering or compression. We are familiar enough with the first two sources, though ordinarily the amount of heat which we perceive to be thus developed is not great; but heat produced by compression is not so often brought to our notice. From a variety of experiments, however, it can be shown that whenever a metal as a piece of lead, or the air, or, indeed, any gas, is forcibly compressed heat is evolved, and this is the source to which astronomers are now inclined to look for the main supply of the solar energy. This idea was first suggested by Helmholz, and it has been taken up and elaborated by Lord Kelvin. According to the theory of these scientists the sun, which is simply a mass of gaseous matter, is now and has been for ages contracting its dimensions—is growing smaller, and the mechanical heat produced in this process is precisely that which it is continually throwing off into space. Lord Kelvin calculates that a contraction of the sun, under the force of gravity which diminished its diameter to the extent of four miles a century, would fully account for its heat supply, enormous as it is. The sun might contract at this rate for several thousand years before there would be any diminution of its size perceptible even through a telescope. Of course, this process has a limit, and eventually the sun, having become too dense to contract further, must begin to cool off; but not for some ten or twenty million years, says Lord Kelvin. Philadelphia Record.

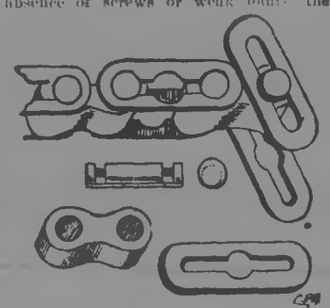
NEW BICYCLE CHAIN.

It Is Entirely Devoid of Screws, Nuts and Threads.

While it is a rather difficult matter to improve on the bicycle to-day, progress in the art of bicycle construction is never at a standstill, and no matter how small apparently each new improvement is a step further toward perfection. The latest improvement in bicycle chains is one which will probably be taken up everywhere as soon as it becomes known.

It comes from Stuttgart, Germany, where A. Stolz, a manufacturer of cast steel articles, has just secured a patent for it.

Its principal characteristics are the absence of screws or weak joints, the possibility to interchange any of the parts and to shorten or lengthen the chain at will to accommodate different gears. The chain can be taken apart easily and at any different point desired, and in the case of a breakdown on the road the chain can be replaced into perfect condition within a couple of minutes, if an extra link or two are carried by the rider. The chain weighs one-quarter less than any other chain of equal strength, and will wear longer, it is said, its work being distributed evenly over all parts, and there is no noise and no slipping with this chain. There are but three different parts, which are manufactured with such precision that they may be interchanged at will or replaced, if necessary, by anybody, no skill being necessary to do this. The links are composed of a heavy centre-piece with two holes, two thin side pieces with long slits, in the centre of which there is a somewhat larger opening to admit the bolts, and the two bolts, provided with incisions to fit the side pieces, so as to lock each link when pulled toward the end of the side piece. The several parts as well as the way to fit them together are shown so plainly in our cut that it is not necessary to further describe this simple operation.



SIMPLICITY IN A BICYCLE CHAIN.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

Pain in the Back.

WILL INSPECT THE SHOES.

Every Man in the Union Parade at Chicago Must Wear Union-Made Shoes.

Chicago, July 19.—Every man who marches in the big Labor Day parade must wear union made shoes with the union label imprint on the soles. A committee has been appointed to inspect every shoe in the line of march, and any man found guilty of wearing non-union shoes will be dealt with accordingly. The action to this effect was taken at the meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor on suggestion of William Jones, of the Boot and Shoe Union of America. Mr. Jones demanded that the Boot and Shoemakers' Union label be given the same place as printers, cigarmakers, coopers and horse shoers' copyrighted devices. He argued that the labor leaders had decided that no horses shall be ridden in the parade which are not shod with the union-made horse shoes, bearing the journeymen horse shoers' label, and, following the same line, he declared that the men must also be union shod.

* 1871 *

In this year Messrs. Mason & Risch started in business with small capital and no reputation, but with a determination to sell pianos of such unquestioned merit that each customer would be an aggressive advertiser for them.

* 1897 *

The enviable position that this firm occupies to-day is the best proof that their policy when they started was a wise one. They have sold over 6000 Mason & Risch Pianos in addition to many thousands of pianos and organs of other makers, establishing for themselves a reputation for piano building such as no other Canadian maker has achieved, also the recognition of prominent musicians in the United States and Europe. There is no experiment in getting a Mason & Risch.

THE DAIRY SCHOOL.

The First Course of the Season opens on November 25th Next.

The Dairy Branch of the School of Mining and Agriculture at Kingston, Ontario, which is maintained by the Ontario Government, re-opens for the season of 1877-98 on November 25th.

Six courses of two weeks each, and one of six weeks will be given as follows:

First course, beginning on Nov. 25th, 1897, and ending on Dec. 8th, 1897.

Second course, beginning on Dec. 9th, 1897, and ending on Dec. 23rd, 1897.

Third course, beginning on Dec. 30th, 1897, and ending on Jan. 12th, 1898.

Fourth course, beginning on Jan. 13th, 1898, and ending on Jan. 26th, 1898.

Fifth course, beginning on Jan. 27th, 1898, and ending on March 9th, 1898.

Sixth course, beginning on March 10th, 1898, and ending on March 23rd, 1898.

Seventh course, beginning on March 24th, 1898, and ending on April 6th, 1898.

These courses will provide for both theoretical and practical instruction in cheese-making, cream, separation, butter-making, pasteurising, milk testing and general dairy work.

About 5,000 pounds of milk will be manufactured into butter and cheese every day. Students will be required to do the work under the direction of several instructors.

The two departments (Cheese and Butter) are separate; and students may take up cheese-making without going into the butter-making department, and vice-versa.

Milk-testing is included in both cases.

Any student wishing to take up the both branches may do so by taking one after the other.

In addition to the practical work, one or more lectures will be given each day on the following or other subjects:

"The Composition of Milk," "The Fermentations of Milk," "Milk Testing," "Rennet, Its Use and Action," "The Principles of Cheese-Making," "The Process of Cheddar Cheese-Making," "Curing Cheese," "The Separation of Cream from Milk," "Butter-Making," "Dairy Bacteriology," etc.

The fifth or "long" course in Cheese-Making, which begins on January 27th, 1898, is intended to afford those who have the time and inclination an opportunity for more thorough training than it is possible to get in the shorter courses. During this course a series of lectures and demonstrations in Dairy Bacteriology will be given by W. T. Connell, M. D., M. R. C. S., England, of Queen's University. At the end of the course written and oral examinations will be held.

Examinations in practical work will be held during the summer in the factories where the candidates are engaged.

No applications will be accepted for this course except from those who intend to remain for the full term of six weeks.

Students in the fifth or "long" course of cheese-making, who pass all examinations and afterwards conduct a factory successfully for one season, will be entitled to a professional certificate.

Any person over sixteen years of age, who has worked at least one season in a butter or cheese factory, is eligible for admission to any of the courses, except the fifth or long course, in cheese-making, admission to which will be limited to those who have had at least two years' experience working in a cheese factory.

Each student will be required to pay a registration fee of $1.00, which will entitle him to free tuition.

All students are required to wear white aprons and caps, which for the sake of uniformity are supplied at the school. A fee of $1.00 will be charged to cover the cost of the aprons and caps, with expense of washing same, and other incidentals, such as breakages. These two items of $1.00 each are all that students will be called upon to pay.

The Dairy School building has been enlarged during the summer, additions having been made to both the cheese and butter departments. The facilities of the school have been much improved thereby. Room has been made for more apparatus and a larger number of students can be accommodated at one time.

Each department of the school is laid out and equipped along the lines of a model cheese factory on the one hand and an up-to-date creamery on the other. This being the case, the student has the advantage of working and receiving instruction under conditions similar to what he will meet with in any factory.

The Dairy School is situated almost in the centre of the city of Kingston. Good board may be obtained in the vicinity at at from $2.50 to $3.50 per week.

There is a a good dairy library and reading room in connection with the school.

Intending students are advised to make application for admission to the early courses. Only a limited number can be accommodated at one time, and as a consequence the last courses have always been overcrowded.

The management, recognizing the fact that the demand for men who can make both cheese and butter is increasing, are prepared to offer every facility to cheese-makers who are desirous of becoming proficient in the butter-making branch of dairy work.

Many inquiries are received during the winter from parties wishing to secure the services of GOOD makers, and especially those qualified to make both butter and cheese. So far the demand has been in excess of the supply of the right kind of men. While it cannot be promised that every student who attends the school will get a position, the chances for his doing so are certainly better after getting in touch with the institution. A large number of men have been helped to secure good positions since the school was organized.

Students may remain at the school as long as they wish. All are strongly advised to stay at least four weeks.

Forms of application for admission may be obtained from the Superintendent, Dairy School, Kingston, Ontario.

All communications should be addressed to the Superintendent.

AN AWFUL SORE

A Babe's Untold Suffering And Mother's Many Sleepless Nights.

CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS.

I herewith write out in full the beginning and end of that terrible disease, Eczema, which caused my babe untold suffering, and myself many sleepless nights.

My baby was born seemingly a fair, healthy child, but when she was three weeks old a swelling appeared on the back of her head, and in course of time broke. Every one called it a boil, and, now it had broken, would soon heal, but that was only the beginning of the trouble. It did not heal but grew worse, and the sore spread from the size of a dime to that of a dollar. I used all kinds of remedies that I could think of but nothing seemed to help, in fact it grew worse, her hair fell out where the sore was and I feared it would never grow again. It continued until my aged father came on a visit, and when he saw the baby he told me "to get CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA ointment right away." To please him I did so, and to my surprise, by their use the sore began to heal over, the hair grew over it, and to-day she has a nice head of hair, her skin is as fair as a lily, and she has no scar left to recall that awful sore.

CUTICURA soothes and allays all itching and burning that cause a child to fret and the mother to worry, and gives rest and comfort both to parent and child.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Rev. Mr. Kilgour of Cavanville, pastor of the Methodist church, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church the last two Sundays. Sunday service will be held at 6.30 p.m., when it is expected that Rev. Mr. Tanner will have returned from his vacation.

The scheme for draining the Long Swamp seems to have been "laid on the table." The drain is very necessary; it must come sooner or later. Then, why not have it now? We can pay for it as easily as the second generation hence can, and, perhaps easier, with the good times the Laurier Government has made the conditions for. The middle road through the swamp is gradually being inundated by the freshets of water in the spring that flow over it, and then, barred in their course, flow back to rest on and around the road, giving it the appearance of a mill race. It's going to cost money to replace the gravel road, which will have entirely disappeared in a few years. The 13th and 14th concessions east of the middle road could be made with very little cost if the drain were opened; its seems unlikely that we'll ever have these roads fit for traffic without the drain being first constructed. I believe that the contract could be let for a much less sum than the lowest tender of a few years ago, and that with the large portion of the debt that the township of Cavan would assume, that with the financial aid from the Provincial Legislature, the direct taxation on the land holders in the swamp would be so diminutive that they would scarcely feel it an incumbrance and I believe if the matter were placed in a proper light the great majority would sign a petition for the drain. This is a year of jubilee deeds—let some one urge our council to make it a jubilee for the North of Cavan by preparing to excavate a drain through the long swamp. Peterborough would benefit from this drain, as from 20 to 25 per cent. more of our marketable produce and grain would find its way to Peterborough.

Mr. John Best is renovating, renewing and repainting the residence on his farm.

The 12th of July passed quietly. There were no processions and no celebration. A few of our citizens visited Omemee and Port Hope.

Something Unusual

No matter how intense the heat, shopping keeps up unusually well here. It may seem strange to be selling so many goods at cost or below, but conditions warrant it. It is desirable to clean up stocks and especially towards the close of a season. There never was a time when bargains crowded each other more than they do now, and it is but fair to say that the steady crowds at the Golden Lion is an indication that nowhere will you find as many low prices as right here. The success of our Summer Sale of Hot Weather Wearables is quite remarkable. This is the way we go about it:—

Blouses with detachable Collars, formerly sold at 75c and $1.00, to be cleared at 50c.

Linen Coloured Blouses, with detachable collars and cuffs, also in light coloured Prints, formerly sold at $1.00 and $1.25, to be cleared out at 75c.

A line of better goods with the newest style of Collars and Cuffs, former price $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, to be cleared out at $1.00 and $1.25.

Wrappers Any lady who wants a wrapper for about the price of the material can have one as long as they last. Good styles and reliable qualities.

Ceylon Flannels (New) former price 25c, to be sold every yard at less than regular wholesale prices—15c.

See our line of Summer Corsets that we are selling at 50c cheap at 75c.

Parasols All our Fancy Parasols at prices fully one-half less than sold earlier in the season.

Parasols that formerly sold from $3.50 to $6.50, your choice of the whole line for $2.00. Beautiful Parasols at 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. This is a snap and will not last long.

Ladies' Vests and all lines of Whitewear at Special July Prices—that means to clear.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

Newspapers on the Attitude of the United States.

SOME PRETTY VIGOROUS REMARKS

Uncle Sam Called Arrogant and Grasping, and "Yankee Insolence" is an Expression Frequently Used—Turkish Government Comes to Terms—Other News From Europe.

London, July 21.—The impression that the people of the United States are determined to pick a quarrel with somebody is gaining ground quite rapidly in Europe, especially within the past few days. It is important that this fact be promptly recognized in America and as promptly dealt with, for it is just as possible to damage the reputation of a nation as of an individual, and the consequences are much more serious.

Systematic efforts are being made, not only in London, but by certain political organs in Berlin, Paris and Vienna, to put the United States in the role of a grabber. The American republic is described as the most arrogant and grasping nation of the earth, and "Yankee insolence" is a common newspaper phrase.

It must be admitted that the instigators of the attack are making clever use of the material at their command. It is represented that the whole policy of the United States is one of the most hostile aggression. Recent episodes with Spain, Japan and England, and the general plan of the new tariff bill of course, furnish the points on which the indictment is based.

The point which counts most seriously, however, especially on the Continent, is a mere matter of form. The use of plain language by Secretary of State Sherman instead of the circumlocution of diplomacy has, beyond question, given Europe the impression that the Government of the United States is seeking a breach of friendly relations. Everybody on this side, and probably everybody in the United States, understands that the same expressions between European chancelleries would be accepted as tantamount to a challenge of war.

THE MULLAH WILL FIGHT.

Trouble Ahead in India—Garrison Turned Out, But Found No Enemy.

London, July 21.—A despatch from Simla says a telegram has been received there from Sheranni, in the Tochi Valley, reporting that the expedition sent out to punish the Wezirns for their treacherous attack upon the British official who went to Sheranni last month to fix the site of a new outpost and to recover a fine imposed on local tribesmen for misconduct, has occupied Sheranni and Maizar without opposition. Both towns had been abandoned by the Waziras.

The telegram also says that the entire garrison at Dattakhel turned out at 3.30 yesterday morning, expecting an attack by the notorious Mullah of Powindah, who is at the bottom of the trouble. The British scouts had reported that he had collected 6000 tribesmen about 12 miles away, and was preparing to attack the British garrison. The attack was not made, but the attitude of the Mullah of Powindah shows that he intends to fight.

BROUGHT THEM TO TIME.

United States Warships Scared the Moors by a Demonstration.

London, July 21.—A correspondent of the Associated Press at Tangier writes: "The demonstration of the United States warships San Francisco and Raleigh has had a wonderful effect. The constant ignoring of the rights and claims of Americans had embittered the relations between them and the natives for some time, and finally culminated in the desperate assault on the Moors on the servant of Mr. Burke, who was carrying money to the bank.

"Mr. Burke promptly demanded reparation, but the Moorish Foreign Minister refused to act, and the attitude of the Moorish officials was so overbearing that Mr. Burke felt compelled to appeal to Washington, as has already been cabled, for help to enforce his demand.

"The San Francisco, by her prompt arrival, so stirred up the Moorish officials that the Foreign Minister immediately visited Admiral Selfridge, honor never before conferred upon anyone. The foreigners here are still commenting upon this unprecedented occurrence.

"The terms of the settlement of the trouble will soon be arranged, but the incident is being taken advantage of to make a display of American force at the towns along the coast which will insure better protection and more privileges for the Americans and their property hereafter."

AS TO ARBITRATION.

McKinley is Said to Favor an Arrangement With Great Britain.

London, July 21. The correspondent of the Associated Press learns that, while the statements in the English press to the effect that Sir Julian Pauncefote brought from the United States a draft of a new arbitration treaty are untrue, it is a fact that Sir Julian discussed the question with Secretary Sherman, and since his arrival here has discussed it with Lord Salisbury.

There is the best reason for believing that the matter will be re-opened at Washington in October, and that a short treaty, of less scope than the last, will be arranged for submission to the respective Governments. It is thought that the matter would not have been revived unless the feeling of leading United States Senators had been previously ascertained and Lord Salisbury been assured that President McKinley is in favor of such an arrangement.

OPEN TO THE CRANKS.

London Post Giving the Tail Twisters Every Chance to Air Grievances.

London, July 21. The Morning Post continues to keep its columns open for correspondence on the subject of the alleged desire of Americans to provoke a quarrel with England.

One correspondent says to-day: "Much continues to be said and written about the friendliness of the 'best Americans,' but, be they few or be they many, we only seem to hear of the few whose highest interest and aim are to conclude matrimonial alliances with the best English aristocracy, because it is the finest in the world. Why, in times like these, are the representatives of the knickerbockers in New York, the cavaliers in Virginia and the Puritans in New England dumb?"

Another correspondent thinks it is high time Lord Salisbury's reply to Secretary Sherman was published, and says: "It is devoutly to be hoped that negotiations will not be resumed until the Paris award has been paid," and concludes: "The country is momentarily expecting the news that a powerful British fleet has arrived in Canadian waters."

Another correspondent suggests a "campaign in behalf of love and peace throughout the United States."

The writer says: "Let this be supervised by a small committee, say Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Curzon, as both of them married Americans, or if their positions in the Government preclude, let the committee be composed of a number of ladies and gentlemen, and let the American wives of Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Curzon join the committee in performing this ministry of love and peace in behalf of their husbands."

Nine Sailors Drowned.

Southampton, July 21.—The British steamer St. Fillans, Capt. Stabb, which sailed from Rotterdam July 19 for New York, has arrived here with bows badly damaged. Yesterday, off the Isle of Wight, she collided with and sank the Belgian steamer Concha, from Mediterranean ports, bound up the channel. Nine of the crew of the Concha were drowned and seven saved and brought here on the St. Fillans.

MINERS ARE STARVING

But They Will Not Go Back to Work Unless They Can Secure Living Wages—Efforts to Settle.

Pittsburg, July 21.—Chairman Little of the Arbitration Commission, and President De Armitt of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company, arrived in Pittsburg to-day from the East, where they went to secure the co-operation of the mine owners along the Pennsylvania Railroad with the uniformity agreement. General Little said the interviews with the Eastern operators were confidential, but he could say in a general way that the result of the trip was very satisfactory, and that the success of uniformity now depended entirely upon the local operators.

Miners' Secretary Warner issued an appeal for aid to-day, in which he stated that the miners were in a starving condition. "The men," he continued, "are just as determined as ever, and will not go back to work without securing living wages."

Miners Go Back to Work.

Birmingham, Ala., July 21.—All the idle miners of the Sloss Iron and Steel Company, and all except those at Blue Creek, employed by the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway Company, returned to work today, having compromised with the operators at 37½c per ton, a reduction of 2½c. The same scale, it is expected, will be signed with the Blue Creek miners to-day.

He Died Instantly.

Ottawa, July 21.—James O'Neil, who lived near Chelsea, and who was engaged in helping his brother-in-law, D. McGinnis, to take in his hay crop, fell from the wagon in front of the wheels. The wagon passed over O'Neil's breast and he died instantly.

YANKEE SENATORS ON THE TARIFF

A Retaliatory Proviso Introduced and Adopted Southerners Opposed It But to No Purpose Lengthy Discussion on Reciprocity Amendment.

Washington, July 21. The Senate to-day further discussed the Conference Committee's report on the tariff bill. The early hours were spent in purely formal work. The first contest arose over amendment 65, relating to printing paper. The conference reported a retaliatory proviso as follows:

"That if any country or dependency shall impose an export duty upon paper-stock exported to the United States, there shall be imposed upon printing paper, when imported from such country or dependency, an additional duty of one-tenth of one cent per pound for each dollar of export duty per cord so imposed, and proportionately for fractions of a dollar of such export duty."

Senator Vest, Jones of Arkansas, and Teller vigorously protested against this amendment, saying it was a new proposition not acted upon by the Senate or the House and beyond the power of a conference Committee. Mr. Teller declared such conference action an outrage. The committee acted arbitrarily and came before the Senate, saying in effect: "What are you going to do about it?"

Mr. Jones made a direct point against the clause, on the ground that it was new matter, and asked a ruling on the ground that the clause was new matter. A long discussion followed on the powers of a Conference Committee. The Vice-President announced his decision that the point or order was not well taken, and the reading continued until the title amendment was reached, when an animated discussion was held.

The reciprocity amendment occasioned a lengthy debate. Mr. Teller inquired why the President had been restricted to two years in making reciprocity treaties.

Mr. Allison explained that it was desired to have our commercial relations definitely established within a reasonable time. It was believed this would be accomplished within two years.

Mr. Teller said his first thought was that the committee were afraid to trust the next President.

Mr. White criticized the provision that reciprocity treaties shall be "approved by Congress."

Mr. Allison explained that Congress had no means of negotiating with foreign governments, so that a treaty was essential before any reciprocal plan of tariff reduction could be executed.

The conference amendment striking out the Senate provision for a stamp tax on bonds and stocks also led to discussion. The formal reading of the conference report was completed at 5.25 p.m., and the Senate at once went into executive session, adjourning soon after.

CLARK AND MALONEY.

The Two Burglars Pass the Night at Police Headquarters on Their Way to the Penitentiary Maloney Talks

Toronto, July 21.

Among the passengers who stepped from the Barrie train which arrived at the Union Station at 5.15 last night was a little party composed of Maloney and Clark, the desperate criminals sentenced on Tuesday; Sheriff Miller and two assistants from Barrie and Detective Davis and G.T.R. Detective Hodge, who had boarded the train just outside of Davenport Station. The party stepped into a waiting hack and were driven to Police Headquarters, where there were enough officers to prevent an army of prisoners escaping, and it is safe to say that there was not even the suspicion of a crowbar in the block. The prisoners joked as they were being escorted to the cells, the bars of which have been strengthened since McLean got in his work on them. Both asked questions regarding McLean's escape, Clark expressing himself to the effect that it was "dead funny."

The personal appearance of the pair is alone sufficient to justify their arrest on suspicion of doing anything. They are a most unlovely looking couple, Clark having a particularly repulsive appearance. At a first glance his peculiar little eyes are noticed, and they seem to be shifting everywhere at once. His get-up is that of a genuine tough, including the broad-brimmed round hat of the kind that is the pride of a class of loafers that are only too numerous in certain parts of Toronto.

A reporter surreptitiously had a chat with Maloney, who is not nearly so tough a looking character as his pal, and he was inclined to be very communicative.

"You've got a long trip," remarked the reporter.

"Yes," said Maloney, "it is a long one, but we've got it."

"Did you expect to get so long a sentence?"

"No, I didn't. I thought they would give me five years all right, but they soaked me for seven. Clark's sentence was too bad. He should have got off, as there was not a bit of evidence against him on any of the charges."

"Do you see any crowbars knocking around the cells?"

"No, nary a crowbar."

"Have you looked?"

"Have I looked—well, have I? Guess they forgot to leave any round. Anyhow, we wouldn't have such a chance getting out as Mac did. All the bars have been strengthened, and, besides, I guess it would be hard to get past upstairs. There are no crowbars, anyhow."

"Do you think they'll recapture McLean?"

"Oh, I don't know, I don't think so."

"He is a pretty slick duck, is he not?"

"Yes, Mac's pretty slick."

"It is reported that he is hanging around the Junction yet. Do you think that's right?"

"No, he knows too much to hang around there."

"I suppose you could pretty near tell where he is likely to be just about now, couldn't you?"

"Yes, I've got a pretty good idea, but if he ain't caught until I help to catch him, they'll never get him. I saw the picture of him in The World to-day on the train. Holly Geo! but I wish I had a good, long drink."

"How about the rest of the gang? Do you think McLean's with them?"

"What rest of the gang. What are you getting at? There was only the three of us."

Maloney several times expressed his desire for a "bowl," and he seemed to mind his thirst even more than his long sentence. Clark was asleep, and apparently comfortable. The prisoners will be taken to Kingston by Sheriff Miller and his assistants on the train which leaves the Union at 7 o'clock this morning.

MR. WHITNEY'S TOUR.

The Mail and Empire in its flamboyant reports of the triumphal progress ("this is writsarkastic") of the leader of the Ontario Opposition, Mr. Whitney, throughout the province, has drawn the long bow with a generosity, unusual even to its experienced hand. The impression is created by its reports that Mr. Whitney has only to ask for the premiership of the province to have it handed over to him by an overwhelming majority. The Mail and Empire itself does not believe this. Mr. Whitney himself does not believe it, and the Conservative party does not believe it unless they are lulled into false security by the clamorous claims of the organ. Independent papers certainly do not entertain the rosy views of the Mail and Empire. Referring to Mr. Whitney's tour, the Dominion Sportsman, which from its character, is accustomed to size up tuations that have an element of speculation in them, says: The attempt of the Mail and Empire to convert into a triumphal reception the late tour of Mr. Whitney, the Opposition leader, is as stupid as it is untruthful. Stupid because it conveys to the party an altogether false impression and is therefore injurious to the true interests of the party. * * * If the campaign in question was mapped out by the Ottawa leaders at the time of Mr. Whitney's consultation with them, we need express no surprise, because every political move made of late years by the members of the guerilla band of self-constituted Conservative leaders has been a rank and dismal failure." The people of this province are a thinking and reading people and are not to be deceived by brass band bluster and ceaseless iteration in the statement of vague charges against a Goverment, which has, been refuted and exploded in turn at half a dozen general election campaigns. They demand a practical Government and are ill disposed to listen to the claims for confidence in a party that in the past has given only evidence of incapacity and weakness.

BIRD LIFE AND ITS FOES.

"Bird Day" is a new institution proposed in the schools in the United States. It is a not unnatural sequence to Arbour Day, and it will be well to teach the children the useful part the birds play in the economy of nature. The idea, says the Ottawa Free Press, is a good one, and may tend to bring home to every woman who wears a dead bird in her hat that she "is helping to make life hard for some farmer or gardener," as a naturalist has written. The Free Press might have added that the results might impress upon our boys and girls a higher idea of the importance of preserving bird life. We see during the early part of the season boys in bands engaged in search for birds nests with a view of securing their eggs, and, what is more surprising, we see parents who claim to be cultured and public-spirited citizens, winking at, if not directly encouraging the depredations of their children. Not to speak of the utility, the presence of bird life in its varied forms of singing and graceful movement, is one of the chief charms of our summer. But when we regard the bird as a scavenger, as a destroyer of insect life, that is dangerous to vegetation, we get the most important realization of the function of birds in the natural economy. We are troubled vexatiously enough now with various forms of insect pests, but there would be no impediment to the ravages of insect life if the birds were entirely removed, and in proportion as the birds are lessened the destructive work of the insects is encouraged. Not only are boys who destroy birds' nests doing an injury to the public interests, but are also doing acts of great and heartless cruelty. A cruel spirit is developed that will impress the character of the future man in a most baneful manner, We need not look to the law to protect the birds. Though it does so in name we must expect improvement through the developement of a Christian spirit of kindliness towards the most beautiful, innocent, graceful, as well as useful of God's creatures. The law is not enforced. In fact we see officials specially appointed as agents for the administration of the law ignoring if not winking at infractions of the law. Neither can we expect anything from women whose mania for fashion overrides every consideration of humanity. If a bird's wing is the fashion it must go on the hat, if the heavens fall. If every grove be robbed of its feathered tenants the head must be dressed a la mode no matter how the heart is disfigured or befouled with cruel and truculent imaginings in devising means to evade the law of humanity, gentleness, tenderness, kindness to satisfy the frivolous lust of fashion.

MINING NOTES.

Marmora Herald.

A carload of machinery, consisting of a diamond drill and other mining tools, arrived at the Marmora station this week. They were sent by the Ontario Government, with Mr. H. Cosette in charge. Tests will be made on different properties and, if satisfactory, we understand that development work will be done on a large scale. A test was made just west of the Canadian Gold Fields mill on Tuesday, the result of which we have not learned.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

Rain Has Drowned It Out, But the Directors Will Keep It Up Till Next Week Gold at Wabigoon.

Winnipeg, July 21.—(Special.)—The wet weather has almost completely ruined Winnipeg's big exhibition and caused a loss of many thousands of dollars to the association. The directors to-day decided to continue the exhibition next week, and the mayor has ordered a postponement of the Civic Holiday until then. Thousands of visitors are drenched and disappointed, but every effort is being made to get them to prolong their stay until next week.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Kootenay Coped with Eczema and Overthrew It.

James A. Wilson, of Paris, Ont., delighted with his Daughter's Cure.

All along the line Kootenay is marching to victory. Wherever there is a stand up fight between Kootenay and disease, Kootenay always comes out Victor. The "New Ingredient" gets in its home thrusts that make disease yield the battle. Nowhere is this better exemplified than in the case of any stubborn skin disease. The use of Kootenay means certain cure. It was so in the case of Miss Wilson, whose sufferings for 18 months from the cruel tortures of Eczema were such as to make her thankful for any remedy that afforded a chance of relief. Her father, Mr. James A. Wilson, writing under dates of April 29th and May 8th states:—"In regard to the health of my daughter, I am happy to inform you that she is cured of Eczema and has this Monday gone to work in the Woollen Mills here after being out nearly 18 months, and I give your Kootenay credit for curing her.

"You may use the contents of my letters as recommendations, for we believe that every person who has Eczema should know the benefits of Kootenay. There are lots of witnesses here to testify to the contents of my letters, people who saw her when she was very bad and to-day."

Signed, JAMES A. WILSON.

According to previous information received from this same gentleman, we learn that Miss Wilson had the disease for 11 months before beginning to take Kootenay Cure, and was under the doctor's care for about 8 months. He said the case was a very obstinate one and she did not get any better. She began using Kootenay on the recommendation of the Rev. Mr. Brown and Rev. Canon Richardson, of London, and is now well.

Here you have a complete history of a case from beginning to end and can see that when used with perseverance and conscientiously, how thoroughly Kootenay Cure gets at the source of all disease—Disordered Blood—purifies it, enriches it, cleanses all impurities from it and restores perfect health.

Winnings of Canadians.

London, July 21.—(Associated Press report.) The rifle shooting competitions at Bisley were continued to-day. Lord Mountstephen's prize was divided. The highest aggregate scores were. Lieut. Davidson, first, 194, won £15; Capt. White 190, £10; Corrigan 187, Langstroth 187, Broadhurst 186, Kerr, Capt. Davidson and Drysdale 185 each, won £5. Drysdale, with a score of 98, Smith and Kinnear, with 97 each, gained places for the shooting in the second stage of the competition for the St. George's prize. Capt. White won £2 in the first stage.

The feature of the shooting this year has been the remarkable accuracy attained with the Lee-Metford rifles. Nearly 70 of the contestants made the highest possible score at the 500 yards range in the St. George's competition this afternoon, and similar results have been attained in nearly all competitions. There is not the slightest doubt that the Council of the National Rifle Association will be obliged to reduce the size of the bullseye next year.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Toronto, July 21.

Flour—The demand is good, and prices are very firm. Straight rollers are quoted at $3.40 to $3.50 west.

Bran—The market is quiet, with bran steady at $8 to $8.25 west and shorts $9. Bran $10 here.

Wheat—The demand is good, and the feeling firm. Holders in many cases are asking 75c west for white wheat. Red sold at 70c west in the morning, but higher prices are now asked. No. 1 Manitoba hard is quoted at 78c, Fort William, and sales are reported at 82c, Owen Sound. No. 2 hard 80c, Owen Sound.

Buckwheat—The demand is limited, and prices nominal.

Barley—The market continues dull, and prices purely nominal.

Oats—The market is steady, with prices unchanged. White sold at 24c to 24½c west, and mixed quoted at 23½c west.

Oatmeal—The market is quiet and prices higher at $3.10 to $3.20 for cars on track.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The receipts of live stock on the market yesterday amounted to 58 carloads, and there seemed to be plenty of all kinds to supply the demand. Business seemed to drag.

The dealers say that cattle must come down in price, as the markets in the Old Country do not warrant present quotations.

It does not seem credible that dealers, after losing from $5 to $6 per head on their last shipment, would come and buy again at the same price, or nearly so, but such is the fact. The reason is that some dealers have space engaged ahead on the boats, and have to fill it. They hope that there may be a change for the better, but it does not seem to come, therefore the markets are not as brisk as they would be if there was a better feeling in the English markets. Export cattle, of which there was a large number of ordinary and a few choice cattle, sold at $4 to $4.40 per cwt., and it was said that 4.50 was paid for a few choice steers and heifers. The best load of cattle on the market was a load brought from the United States and unloaded there to feed by Joseph Featherston, who is exporting them to England.

Butchers' cattle, choice, are wanted, and extra choice would bring $4 per cwt. Stockers were in demand at $2.50 to $3, and two loads were bought by Murby and Crecloek for the Buffalo market. The latter price was only paid for the choicest stockers.

Bulls are not as plentiful as they were, but good heavy ones will bring $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt.

Cows were in demand, and about 25 on sale, which brought from $20 up to $35.

Sheep are cheaper, on account of the break in the English market, and good ewes sold at 3c per lb., and at that price they are wanted, but at nothing higher. Good lambs are wanted, and on the market were worth $2.50 to $3.25 each.

The hog market was firm and advanced for the best to $5.85 per cwt. The receipts yesterday were: Cattle 1000, sheep and lambs 750, calves 60 and hogs 900.

Shipments per C.P.R. were as follows: J. & J. W. Dunn, three double-deckers of sheep; W. Levack, four of cattle; R. Ironsides, one car; G. Denoon, one car; J. Bountree, one car, and W. Harris, two cars of hogs to Montreal. Per G.T.R.: James Eakins, 11 cars; Brown & Snell, nine cars; Featherstone & Mayne, two cars; S. H. Reynolds, one car, all export, and R. Hunter, one car of sheep to London, Eng., and J. H. Prall, one car stockers to Buffalo.

Cuban Insurgents Whipped.

Havana, July 20.—Official advices from Cienfuegos report that the Government troops have captured the insurgent positions in the Hondons Hills. Ten men and eighty women were taken prisoners, and the troops destroyed 50 huts, one of which was fitted up as a printing office. The wife of Dr. Hernandez, the so-called "Queen of Cuba," has been ordered to the Island of Pines as a prisoner.

Women Swayed the Council.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 20.—An ordinance has been passed by the City Council, and is now in force, which prohibits the public exhibition of pictures of glove contests by the vitascope or other similar devices. The ordinance is the result of the petition of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and was passed upon the recommendation of the Public Morals Committee.

Shortness of Breath

"Since last year I have had serious heart trouble caused by malaria. Shortness of breath, smothering spell on retiring, violent palpitation, etc., often made me gasp for breath. On procuring Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I found to my surprise and delight that they gave almost instant relief. I got healthy, restfull sleep, my heart troubles disappeared, and I now feel very well and strong indeed." Mr. Hugh Moore, Ingersoll, Ont., makes this statement for the public good.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George Street.

Eclipse of the Sun.

An eclipse of the sun will take place on Thursday, July 29th. It will be annular over a belt 25 miles wide, passing through Mexico. In this latitude the eclipse will be visible as a partial obscuration, beginning about 8.15 a.m., and ending about 10.40. In the case of an annular eclipse the moon is so far away from the earth that it does not completely cover the sun's face, but leaves a ring or annulus of light at the time of greatest obscuration. Such eclipses are observed chiefly to ascertain the times of contact and as tests of the calculated place of the moon.

WEDDING BELLS.

Celebration of the Nuptials of Miss Lola Pettit and Mr. Thos. Craig.

An event which has been looked forward to for some time took place last evening at seven o'clock, in the wedding of Miss Lola Pettit, daughter of the late Frank Pettit, and Mr. Thomas Craig, of Ashburnham.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's mother, No. 345 Rubidge street, by Rev. J. S. Shorey, of the George street Methodist church.

The bride was attired in a pretty travelling dress of green broadcloth trimmed with black braiding. She was assisted by Miss Nina Pettit, her sister, and the groomsman was Mr. Fred. Hubbs.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding dejeuner was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Craig left by the 8.45 train for Toronto and points west, on a bridal tour.

Amongst the many presents received was a handsome carving set from the employees of THE EXAMINER office.

The groom is a well-known lacrosse player and it is to be hoped that the new duties which he has undertaken will not deprive the club of his services.

A FIRE TEST.

An Alarm Sent in From the Dickson Company's Yards.

Inspector Howe of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association was in town to-day and had a test call sent in from the Dickson Company's lumber yards.

The response of the brigade was immediate. Hose was strung to the hydrants at the corner of London and Water and London and Waterford, and three streams were quickly in readiness to play on anything desired.

The engine was also brought up and stationed on the bridge with 200 feet of hose and an inch nozzle. The test must have proved most satisfactory to the inspector.

TESTING THE BRIDGE.

The Modus Operandi to Discover its Soundness, etc.

Mention was made in yesterday's issue of the EXAMINER of a test which had been made of the new railroad bridge at Auburn the day before.

The manner of testing a bridge is not generally known and therefore quite a number watched the operations on Tuesday with interest.

Poles were thrust through at the middle of each span and reaching to the bottom, and when the engines were run over the depression of the bridge could be noted, and in the case in question the settling was practically nothing—between an eighth and a quarter of an inch. The two heavy engines, run across the bridge at a speed of thirty miles an hour, produced hardly a perceptible lateral oscillation.

DROWNING ACCIDENT AT CHEMONG PARK.

MR. HARRY CHAPMAN, OF UXBRIDGE, MEETS HIS FATE

He was Visiting Friends in Town and Miscalculating the Depth of the Water in Mud Lake, Jumped out of a Canoe and Was Drowned —He was Unable to Swim.

A very sad drowning accident occurred last evening at Chemong Park, when Harry Chapman, of Uxbridge, underestimating the depth of the water, jumped from his canoe and being unable to swim, met his death in the waters of the lake.

Chapman has been visiting Mr. Jack Cowles, of the Brantford agency, since the first of the week, having been an old schoolfellow of his in Uxbridge. He intended leaving next week and joining a party of campers from his home, who intended summering at Rice Lake in tents.

Yesterday afternoon he and Mr. Cowles rode out to Chemong on their bicycles and between six and seven o'clock paddled in a canoe to a point considerably west of the Park and stripping, prepared for a swim. Cowles being able to swim whilst his companion was not. After leaving their clothes on the shore they pushed in the canoe and Cowles jumped overboard for a plunge. Shortly afterwards Chapman cried out that the water could not be very deep as he could see bottom. He then jumped overboard, but had mistaken weeds for the bottom of the lake and instead of being in two or three feet of water he found himself over his depth.

On seeing the danger of his companion Cowles states that he swam to him and was able to get him up on the bottom of the overturned canoe, but that he could not keep him there, and when Chapman slipped off he disappeared completely from sight.

Cowles then swam to the shore and, putting on his shirt and trousers, ran towards the Park. The first cottage he come to was that of Mr. Myles Henry. Just as he reached it he fell in a dead faint at the door. Mr. Tom Henry revived him with water but could make nothing out of his story, as the lad was so badly rattled that his utterances were incoherent. Tom accompanied him up to the Hotel and there he told the story of the accident, a large searching party was instantly organized among the guests, and they proceeded to the lake to try and LOCATE THE BODY.

On passing Mr. Henry's cottage Cowles again fainted through the effects of the shock to which he had been subjected in seeing his old schoolfellow drown before his eyes.

With the aid of grappling irons the body was discovered and raised, and was taken to the hotel, where Mr. D. Belleghem took charge of it.

The remains were taken to Uxbridge this morning on the 8.10 train being accompanied by Mr. Cowles and Mr. M. J. Walker.

Whilst in town young Chapman won the friendship af all the boys with whom he came in contact. On Tuesday evening he was over on the lacrosse field, and being a member of the Uxbridge team, he was invited to practice with the boys and was given a stick. During the time he was in town he did a great deal of wheeling, having come here on his bicycle. He also took a large number of kodak views, having mounted to the top of the stores opposite only yesterday morning to get a snap shot at St. John's church. His last act before going out in the canoe was to take a picture of a group of little children, bathing at the park.

The fact of his having met death when away from home on a holiday trip, accentuates the sad aspect of the unfortunate accident.

The deceased was in the employ Mr. Fletcher Brownescombe, of Uxbridge, a cousin of Mr. Felix Brownscombe of town.

The Peterborough lacrosse club sent a magnificent wreath of carnations and roses to be placed on the grave. It was furnished by Jordan Bros.

Cowles has been in such a fearfully excited state since the accident that it is hard to come to a correct understanding concerning the details. As well as the above version of the accident he has also stated that he was in the canoe at the time that Chapman jumped out and that the canoe upset throwing him into the lake.

LACROSSE.

The team committee has picked a strong twelve for to-morrow's game against Orillia and, as will be seen, have moved the players around considerably. The men are placed in the following positions:—Goal, Dobbin; point, Brown; cover point, Jim McCabe; 1st defence, Mein; 2nd defence, Glover; 3rd defence, Borland; centre Galley; 3rd home, King; 2nd home, Rubidge; 1st home, Phelan; outside home, Jack McCabe; inside home, Lipsett; field captain, Joe Begley.

There are now so many players eligible for the first team that it is proposed to give all the boys a chance to play by dropping off different men as each game is played. So far this season all the members of the seniors have been played at least once this year.

To-morrow's game will begin at 3.30 p.m. sharp, on the P.A.A.A. grounds, Ashburnham.

At Barrie yesterday Orillia won from the team of that town by four goals to one. Bear this in mind and don't miss to-morrow's game.

BASEBALL.

The following letter appears in to-day's Globe:

Sporting Editor Globe:—Sir,—In yesterday's issue of the Globe there appeared an account of the Elms vs. Peterborough baseball game, in which the Peterborough club is accused of ill-treating the visitors. On behalf of the Peterborough club I wish to repudiate this accusation, for all arrangements that had been made with the Elms were carried out to the letter, and if what they received was unequal to what they expected it was at least not less than what had been offered them. The members of the Peterborough club are sorry that this misunderstanding has led them to so much trouble, but in this case the fault is not theirs. Thanking you very much for space in your valuable paper, I am, yours truly,

A BASS HATCHERY.

A Novel Scheme which has been Tried Near Belleville.

The members of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association, who are trying to arrange for the establishment of a fish hatchery at the lakes, might take a leaf from the book of a Belleville gentleman who, as can be seen from the subjoined article from the Ontario, has established a private one.

The Ontario says:

Important as are our inland fisheries as as a means of furnishing both a livelihood and pleasure, there are probably not a great many Bellevillians aware of the fact that what forms the promising nucleus of an extensive hatchery is located almost at their doors—a thriving little private industry at Point Ann.

Its formation was based upon quite a simple incident. Last year Mr. Randolph McDonald, a contractor on the Morrisburg Canal, opened a quarry on property at Point Ann belonging to Mr. Thos. McDonald, but finding that the stone obtained was not suitable for his work, he sought another spot to quarry, after having excavated a hole about fifty feet square near the bay shore. This excavation filled with water from a running spring to the north of it, which after reaching a certain level, finds a ready outlet to the bay.

As a fisherman by occupation for over half a century, Mr. Thomas McDonald has made a special study of fish life, and it occurred to him to try the breeding of bass in this pond, which seemed to him the natural way of successfully combatting the constant depletion of this game fish. Last spring, before spawning time, he placed fifteen or twenty bass in the pond, which spawned in this improvised hatchery and to-day it contains many thousands of bass fry.

The result is an important one to the fishing industry of Ontario. The Department of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa has always found it most difficult to successfully breed bass. As every experienced fisherman knows, the reason bass in the bay is gradually becoming less in number year by year is because the spawn and the young fish themselves are eaten by the larger and rougher kinds, the young before they are large enough to take care of themselves. This discovery, consequently, promises to overcome that difficulty.

Mr. McDonald has communicated the results of his experiment to the department with the suggestion that the Government establish a hatchery at this place. As the right to control the fishing of inland waters is now under dispute in England no reply to his communication can be expected until the matter is decided.

Mr. McDonald is confident that whitefish may be handled in the same way, and he is satisfied that if a hatchery were established in the protected water of the bay in front of his property whitefish could be raised more successfully and much more cheaply than the present artificial hatcheries of the country. He believes that were several similar hatcheries started throughout the province, the young fish kept in ponds until they are large enough to take care of themselves, it would be but a short time until the waters of Ontario would be amply replete with this valuable fish.

Mr. H. K. Smith, official game warden, recognizes the value of Mr. McDonald's successful experiment and is greatly pleased with the prospect it affords. In it is he will be joined by all enthusiastic lovers of the noble sport of angling.

We See More Clearly

At all seasons of the year, that we made no mistake in adopting the Reduced Spot Cash way of doing business. Times may be hard and money scarce, but, all the same, men appreciate the value of special prices such as these:—

	SPOT CASH PRICE.	OLD CREDIT PRICE.
English Flannel (Coat and Trousers)	$9.00	$12.00.
Light Tweed Suits (Sack Coat)	$12.00	$16.00
Blue & Black Serge (Fast Colours)	$16.00	$20.00

That's what the Cash System enables us to do for you. The "Spot Cash" prices quoted are unprecedented, but quite consistent with High-Class Tailoring. Isn't the advantage of the Cash System very apparent?

MASONIC GRAND LODGE MEETING.

BEGAN IN BRANTFORD YESTERDAY.

Report of the Grand Master and Other Reports.

The regular communication of Grand Lodge was opened in Brantford on Wednesday. Before this, however, the Mayor and several aldermen waited upon the Grand Lodge at the opera house, and were given an enthusiastic reception. The Mayor read an address of welcome. Mr. Wm. Gibson, M.P., Grand Master, made a very neat reply.

The

was next in order. It was heartily applauded:

I have great pleasure, in referening to the condition of the craft within the jurisdiction, to be able to say from personal visits in every portion of the province, as well as from authentic information derived from the District Deputy Grand Masters, that our noble craft was never in a healthier condition than at the present time. On the register of Grand Lodge there are 357 lodges (the perfect number). It would, indeed be marvellous if every one was in a flourishing state, and still more marvellous if, in a membership of 24,000, every member was a model of what a Mason should be. It is, however, most gratifying to know that, generally, the lodges are in a flourishing condition, and that very rarely a member, by his life and conduct, brings discredit on the fraternity. As a rule the lodges are prosperous and successfully doing the work for which they were established, and the members are living up to their professions.

I am happy to call the attention of the members of Grand Lodge to our increasing prosperity. Notwithstanding the commercial depression of la e years, our capital account has reached the handsome sum of $94,202 17. During the past year the receipts of Grand Lodge have reached the largest amount in its history, viz: $20,828,82, being an increase of $613 65 over last year.

In my judgment the sub committee on Benevolence should be authorized to make larger grants than are now permitted in deserving cases, the maximum grants at present being $50 for a brother and $40 for a widow. I would recommend that $100 and $80 respectively be the maximum in special cases. I would further recommend that arising between meetings of the Grand Lodge the chairman of the sub-committee, with the approval of the Most Worshipful the Grand Master and the president of the Board of General Purposes, should be authorized to make a grant for purposes of temporary relief, such grant not to exceed $40 to any one applicant.

Her Majesty's subjects from every part of the British Empire have either by representatives or by addresses presented at the foot of the throne their devotion to the person of our gracious Queen, and in keeping with all Her Majesty's loyal and loving subjects the members of the Grand Lodge of Canada are having prepared a suitable address, which will be presented by our Grand Secretary, R. W. Bro. Mason, through His Royal Highness the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of England, assuring Her Most Gracious Majesty of the high esteem, respect and love the members of the Grand Lodge of Canada entertain for her person and her throne.

The command of the Canadian Bisley rifle team having been offered to R. W. Bro. Mason, I felt confident that in granting him leave of absence I should meet with the approval of Grand Lodge, as every member knows how faithful he has been in the discharge of his duties as Grand Secretary. For the past twenty-eight years, as he says in his report, it is the first time he has been absent from Grand Lodge, and it is certainly the first holiday that he has had since he became Grand Secretary.

I am happy to say that Grand Lodge is very fortunate in have the duties of Grand Secretary by M. W. Bro. Murray, who will be ably assisted during this meeting by R. W. Bro. R. L. Gunn.

WELL LOOKED AFTER

It is with feelings of the most profound regret that I make known to the members Grand Lodge the unavoidable absence of M. W. Bro. Daniel Spry, Past Grand Master, through severe illness brought on by too close attention to public business. Bro. Spry's genial face and kindly grasp will be sadly missed at this communication.

I might be permitted before closing, to thank the Masons of Toronto for the handsome address presented to me last September, and signed by every ruler of the craft in that city upon the occasion of my first official visit. Likewise to the brethren of Belleville, Pembroke and Kincardine for the same kind and thoughtful attention, addresses I will be proud to hand down to my children as an evidence of the good-will and affection of my Masonic brethren whilst occupying the Grand chair.

OTHER REPORTS.

The report on benevolence showed that 392 applications had been dealt with. The total grants made amounted to $8,625, a decrease of more than $1,200 from last year. During 1896 the sum of $14,223 was expended in benevolence. Several recommendations were made, which will be dealt with later.

The Finance Committee reported receipts $613.65 in excess of last year. Grand Lodge now has to its credit $94,202.19. Of this sum $80,000 is invested in securities, whilst the balance is in the bank.

The reports of the Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer were presented. The former showed receipts of $20,828.82 and expenditures of $17,613.08. The treasurer's showed receipts of $31,815.20, including a balance from last year of $10,785 38, while the disbursements were $17,613.08, leaving a balance on hand of $14,202.17.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

In the nomination for officers the following were re-elected by acclamation: Grand Master, Mr. Wm. Gibson; Deputy Grand, Mr. E. T. Malone; Grand Secretary, Mr. J. J. Mason; Grand Treasurer, Mr. Hugh Murray. W. Bro. S. F. Passmore, of Brantford, was elected Grand Senior Warden, and W. Bro. A. S. Ardagh, Toronto, Grand Junior Warden. Nomination for other offices were as follows: Grand Chaplain, the Rev. D. W. Bogart, Belleville; the Rev. H. S. Matthews, Newmarket; the Rev. J. W. Farncombe, Newcastle. Grand Registrar—V. W. Bro. W. A. Bishop, Owen Sound; W. Bro. A. Congdon, Dunnville; W. Bro. C. F. Harris, Walkerton; W. Bro. R. Higginbotham, Toronto; V. W. S. Westley, Barrie; Bro. Geo. Gott, Amherstburg. Some 20 nominations are in order for the General Purpose Committee. Five only can be elected. Toronto, Owen Sound, Sarnia and London were nominated for the 1898 meeting of Grand Lodge. Some 300 delegates are in attendance, and the hotels here are taxed to their utmost capacity.

TORONTO EXHIBITION.

Canada's Greatest Celebration of the Jubilee Year.

Fully alive to the times the management of the Toronto Exhibition, or as the title runs this year, "Canada's Great Victorian Era Exposition and Industrial Fair," is to be conducted on a scale, from August 30th to September 11th, that will even transcend any former effort made to promote this, the most popular, the most comprehensive and most attractive annual show held on this continent. Already a sufficient number of applications for space and of notifications of entries have been received to warrant the highest expectations. The management have increased the number of medals to be awarded and have made many improvements to the building and grounds, showing that they are resolved to leave nothing undone that will enhance the pleasure and comfort of both patrons and exhibitors. They have also determined on a special feature that promises to prove the greatest outdoor spectacle in the way of entertainment that Toronto or any other city has ever known, outside the world's metropolis itself. This wonderful spectacle will take the form of a reproduction of the wondrous Diamond Jubilee procession in London. Agents are now across the water hiring and buying the necessary property and costumes, which will be an exact replica of the uniforms and costumes worn by the soldiery, the sailors, the nobility and the yeomen of the guard in the magnificent procession. Scenes will also be reproduced of the ceremonies at Buckingham Palace, St. Paul's Cathedral and other places along the line of route. Many interesting specialties will also be introduced, while at night the effect will be heightened and magnified by brilliant illuminations and fireworks. Not only will spectators have brought home to them the grandeur and unity of the empire, but they will be practically taken home to Old England. While dwelling on this grand feature the material aspect of the Exhibition must not be lost sight of, therefore it is well to mention that entries of live stock, and the majority of the departments, close on Saturday, August 7th. Programmes containing all details of the attractions will be issued about the 10th of August. 1d1w

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy in for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.60. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

BOY WITH THE JEW'S-HARP.

How tender is the new born grass!
The earth again is fresh and young
But where's the boy that used to pass
A-twanging of his jew's-harp tongue?
For he was youth and joy and spring;
His bursted shirt sleeve showed his wing;
And how he made the bluster sing!
O, where is the boy with
The jew's-harp?

The jew's-harp boy was red with tan,
One trouser leg exposed his knee;
The other wight was the little man
With tattered shreds when gamboled he.
His bare toes in the green grass curled,
He cared for nothing in the world
But how the jew's harp music purled—
O, where is the boy with
The jew's-harp?

He called it juice-harp. His moist teeth,
All stained with berries from the woods,
Did clamp it with their ivory sheath—
It was the best of all his goods.
Unsight, unseen, he swapped and hung
His trophies round him; but he clung—
Excepting when it lost its tongue—
To that dearest thing,
The jew's-harp?

Sometimes I dream he has come back,
Has left the football, wheel and bat
And walks the same old village track,
A-twanging underneath his hat.
The low, sweet drone, the buzz and sting
Of jew's-harp tunes around me cling!
O, he was youth and joy and spring!
Where—where is the boy with
The jew's-harp?

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

Gen. Blanco in Cuba.

Madrid, July 20.—Senor Morety Prendergast, the Liberal leader and former Minister, delivered a brilliant speech at Saragossa last night on the Cuban question. He violently attacked the policy of the Government, especially its methods of campaigning in Cuba, and declared that autonomy must be proclaimed "Autonomy," he said, "for Cuba is as much a necessity of Spain as of Cuba." He dwelt impressively upon the dangers to which monarchy is exposed if it does not obey the force of public opinion.

PICKERING FARMER KILLED.

Was Driving a Mower and the Team Ran Away—Unknown Man Killed at Waterford.

Pickering, July 20.—Peter McDermaid, a farmer, who lived one mile north of Pickering village, was killed this m. ing while cutting hay. His team ran away; he fell in front of the machine and was dragged some distance before the horses were stopped. When taken out he was unconscious and died in about one hour. McDermaid was sixty years old. He leaves a widow and two sons. The sons, Donald and Malcolm, live at Indian Head, N.W.T.

A Barn Raising Accident.

Port Elgin, July 20.—Last evening at a barn-raising on the farm of Mr. Angus McGillivray, about two miles from this place a serious accident occurred. While pulling up one of the last bents one of the workingmen, Jackson Crowe, using a wrong rope, threw part of the timbers against some of the framework, and the whole frame fell over, demolishing the structure and seriously injuring Mr. Crowe and Mr. Schwahn. Nearly all the men were injured more or less. Many of the timbers are broken.

TORONTO BOY DROWNED.

Robert McVittie Fell Out of a Boat at Kincardine and Lost His Life

Kincardine, July 20. At about 2 o'clock this afternoon Robert McVittie of Toronto, a young lad of 12 or 14 years of age, was drowned in the harbor here. It appears that he, in company with a number of lads of his own age, were playing on a boat, he being alone in the bow, the others in the stern, when he slipped and fell in. His companions heard the splash, but did not see him fall, nor did they see him rise again. It is presumed that in coming to the surface he must have struck the bottom of the boat and been stunned. The body was recovered after being in the water about an hour.

TARIFF BILL REPORT

Adopted by the House of Representatives at Washington and Passed on to the Senate.

Washington, July 20.—The conference report on the tariff bill was adopted by the House shortly after midnight by a vote of 185 to 118.

The galleries were crowded up to the time the vote was taken, many distinguished people being present. Among them were a number of Senators, several members of the Cabinet, and a few members of the diplomatic corps.

Every Republican in the House who was present voted for the report. The Democrats, with five exceptions, voted against the report. An analysis of the vote shows that 180 Republicans and 5 Democrats voted for the report and 106 Democrats and 12 Populists against it.

The conference report on the tariff bill as adopted by the House came before the Senate to-day.

The lumber amendments led to animated debate. Mr. Teller and Mr. Vest contended that the $2 rate on white pine and the retaliatory clause against Canadian logs in effect permitted a double tax. Mr. Teller declared that the whole thing was conceived in the interest of a few mill men of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, by which they would be enabled to raise the price of pine $3 to $4 per thousand.

Mr. Pettigrew (S.D.) severely criticised the conference amendment, making personal references to the Michigan Senators. He said the $2 was designed to benefit a few men, who own what standing pine there is in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Commenting on a newspaper clipping as to gathering of lumbermen in Mr. Burrow's room, Mr. Pettigrew said it showed that the pine amendment would take over $6,000,000 out of the pockets of the people and put it in the pockets of "this little group of lumbermen gathered in Burrows' room."

While the debate was full of such tricks, Mr. Pettigrew asserted that the lumber rate was one of the worst and most barefaced tricks of the whole bill. The debate was fruitless of result, and the reading of the bill proceeded until the amendments to the sugar schedule were reached, over which there was an animated and protracted debate.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

Stamps and Collectors.

Newfoundland is to have a new issue of stamps to consist of seven denominations.

England will not permit stamp catalogues to contain illustrations of English stamps, but it does permit illustrated albums made in Germany to be sold in England. The stamp dealers think this inconsistent, and so it is.

An enterprising firm of Geneva lithographers have been doing an excellent business in counterfeiting stamps. Recently they had the audacity to attempt to copyright these imitations, but the Swiss government would not let them go that far.

Some of the utterances in relation to philately are very amusing. A writer comments upon auction sales of stamps, and objects vigorously to them, on the score that the prices realized are not up to catalogue values. "To-day," he says, solemnly, "one can buy almost any stamp he wants at from one-half to two-thirds of the catalogue price." It would seem to be apparent that this is proof that catalogue prices are too high, but the writer does not see it in that light.

The Farm.

Young pigs, just weaned, should never be put into a lot with older ones until they have learned to "hustle" for themselves.

Short whiffletrees one foot long are useful in plowing among trees. With them a horse can walk close to the tree without bruising it.

Use your spray pump for whitewashing the poultry house inside. Pour carbolic acid on the lime before slaking, make the wash very thin, add plenty of salt, apply liberally.

Denmark's foreign egg trade has grown to tremendous size, mainly with England. Twenty years ago the annual Danish export of eggs was 600,000; now it is reckoned at 111,000,000.

Something that follows and takes the place of asparagus is Swiss chard. The young and tender leaves make excellent greens, and when older, the centre or rib becomes large and juicy. Trim off leaves and cook like asparagus.

The little boy who tickles a tiger with a straw and the man who fools with his health are on a par. If there is any distinction it is in favor of the boy who imagines he is playing with a big cat and is not old enough to realize his danger. The man if he don't know, ought to know that when he neglects his health he is tempting fate and tampering with death. Nine men out of ten neglect their health. The result is that untold thousands fall victims every year to the insatiable tiger called consumption.

98 per cent. of all cases of consumption are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly on the lungs, building new tissue in place of old, and driving out all impurities and disease germs. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver and restores the lost appetite. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder, and nerve-tonic. Thousands have testified to their recovery under its use after their cases were given up by the doctors and all hope was gone. The druggist who claims to have something that will do just as well is untrustworthy.

"I was afflicted for four years with local weakness, but would not confess it for a time," writes Mrs. Beulah Woodall, of Bateman, Patrick Co., Va. "My mother told me she had read of Dr. Pierce's medicines and advised me to try them. I took the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and they cured me. I cannot praise Dr. Pierce's medicines too much."

Nothing will keep down the fortunes of an ambitious family more than big doctor's bills. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser enables a family to get along without calling in a doctor except in cases of serious illness or accidents. It teaches a mother how to treat the minor maladies and accidents of every-day life. It contains 1,008 pages, over 300 illustrations, and is written in plain English that any one can understand. Over a million homes own copies of it. A new edition is ready and will be given away absolutely FREE. If you want a paper-covered copy send thirty-one one-cent stamps, to cover the cost of customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association Buffalo, N. Y. If you want a fine cloth binding, send fifty one-cent stamps.

JIM'S CHANCE.

The sharp ringing of a bell sounded clear above the tumult of Hamilton Corner, where the busiest thoroughfares of Winchester meet. Close at hand came a lake car, and Jim Connolly, springing forward with his iron rod, shifted it around the curve into Centre street.

Jim was switchboy for the Electric Traction Company. His post was the middle of the street, where all day long he dodged teams and turned electric cars towards their various destinations.

It was late afternoon now; Jim was tired and rather lonely and as he glanced about for some acquaintance his eyes lighted on Ted Casey standing, with back to him, on the curbstone near by. A bundle of afternoon papers was tucked under Ted's arm, but he was staring idly at a fantastic poster.

The opportunity was irresistible. Jim quickly looked four ways, and seeing that the corner was now free from cars he darted over behind Ted and seized him by the collar.

"Aw, le' me be!" cried Ted, deeply aggrieved. Then, twisting around, he caught sight of his captor and grinned at him in a friendly way.

"Why don't you sell papers?" demanded the other boy, releasing him. "The last edition will come out before long, and you'll get stuck."

"Goin' ter," asserted Ted, stoutly. "Say, Jimmie, what's that in your pocket?" With sudden curiosity he snatched at a queer object which protruded from the inside of his friend's coat.

"Le' go!" Jim struck down the venturesome hand. "That's my life-preserver. Want to see it?" And with all of an inventor's pride he drew out a peculiar sort of clamp which he always carried about.

It was formed of two pine sticks rudely whittled into shape and hinged together at one end. On the inner side its jaws were faced with heavy strips of glass, whose use was not at once apparent.

"What's it for?" asked Ted.

"To handle live wires with. The glass is proof against electricity," explained Jim.

Ted eyed the strange instrument with increased respect. "Did any live wires ever get loose round here?" he asked, eagerly. "Say, Jimmie, le' me try it if they do?"

"They might break any time," Jim replied, sagaciously. "You go and tend to your papers; you haven't any business with the power." He dropped the clamp into a pocket, and, grinning significantly, raised his switchrod as if to strike the newsboy's leg.

But Ted glanced cunningly down the street. "Aw, there's a car!" he cried, and forthwith seized the chance to dart away and yell back derisively at his friend.

"They might break any time," he repeated, quite seriously. Once he had ventured to question officer Wayne: "What would you do if a wire broke?"

"Live wire? I'd clear the street and send for Higgins." Higgins was foreman of the repair gang. "If it dropped onto anybody, I'd have to ring up the ambulance, of course."

With a hearty respect for the force that kept all these cars in motion, Jim had picked up, from motormen, linemen and engineers, a store of practical knowledge which he was eager to put into use.

His opportunity had been long in coming, and this day promised to be as

You think of Scott's Emulsion as only for those who have consumption or who have inherited a tendency to it. Almost its greatest use is for those whose condition is so impaired as not to be able to get the good they should out of their ordinary food. In nearly every case with these, Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil brings back appetite, stimulates digestion, restores color and plumpness, and controls the diseases of thinness. moved over the [illegible] utes later the long expected accident occurred.

A car from the west side came out of Pleasant street and started north. As it swung around the curve its trolley slipped off and caught between the copper wires, snapping one of them near their junction.

The wire dropped into the street, and for a moment there was indescribable confusion as it bounded and writhed among frightened horses and scattering people. The corner was quickly cleared, and at a safe distance a ring of spectators formed to watch the wire spitting out blue and green flames on the pavement.

Down on his Centre street switches Jim had been startled by a quick, jarring ring of the wires. He did not need the cries and commotion, the rush of people and the stopping of cars to tell him what had happened. Instantly he saw that his chance had come, and running up he broke through the ring just at Officer Wayne's elbow.

"Live wire!" he gasped, plunging a hand into his coat pocket. "I can fix it!"

He had started forward impetuously, but Wayne caught him by the arm and pulled him back, understanding only that the boy meant to run into danger.

"Stand back!" said the officer, sharply. "Don't you know a live wire when you see it? If you touch that, you'll never know what hurt you."

"It won't hurt me!" cried the struggling boy, in a hot rage at this opposition. "I've got something to handle it with."

But Wayne would not argue. "You stay here!" he gruffly commanded. "Be quiet now! If you make any more trouble I'll arrest you!"

Indignant as Jim was, he had too much sense to contend longer with the policeman. But he felt that he represented the "road," and he was not yet defeated. Slipping back in the crowd, he ran around its outer edge and worked through at another point, whence he made a sudden dash for the wire.

A sharp, warning cry arose, for the bystanders looked to see him instantly killed. Wayne and others sprang forward, but before they could reach Jim he had seized the scintillating wire with his clamp. He raised it from the pavement, and lo! the live thing became tame and apparently harmless. He bore it to the corner of Pleasant street, the ring of people broke and followed him excitedly. It was a moment of peril for the heedless crowd, and Officer Wayne, seeing now that the boy knew his business, turned back to guard the sagging wire.

Jim glared with open contempt at the people who pressed about him. "Folks are fools about electricity!" he growled. "Just because the wire isn't sputtering they think it's dead!"

"Can you hold it that way a few minutes?" asked Wayne, looking doubtfully at the blockade of vehicles on all sides.

"Of course I can!" said Jim impatiently. "I could hold it all day. Why don't you move your teams? Have you sent for Higgins yet?"

"We've telephoned."

By this time the other policeman had come to Wayne's assistance, and the corner was rapidly cleared. On the farther track cars began to move north; the motormen started them slowly, and passed cautiously under the hanging wire, which Jim had straightened as much as possible, and only the southbound cars lay helpless in a long line on Main street.

"What can be done with these?" asked Wayne. "Nothing?"

"There's a switch on Main street a hundred yards away," answered Jim. "Run back to the switch and take the left track!" he shouted to the nearest conductor.

As a general rule a switchboy does not give orders to a conductor; but Officer Wayne stood beside Jim and imperatively seconded his commands. Word was passed along, and the line of cars moved back to return on the other rails.

The first motorman looked to Jim for further directions.

"Run to the switch in front of the City Hall, and shift back to the right track." Jim turned to Officer Wayne. "That's all," he said. "Keep 'em moving, and tell 'em to mind their own switches. I've got my hands full here."

On the corner near by stood a group of people who annoyed Jim with idle questions and comments upon his courage in holding the wire. Courage? He had not thought of it, though he was proud that he knew how to handle the power.

But no one spoke of his particular invention until Higgins arrived, clad in rubber boots and gloves which protected him from electric shocks.

"Have you got the wire, boy?" he asked. "What's that you're holding it with? By George, you'll do!" he exclaimed, taking note of the glass insulators. "But why didn't you ground the wire—touch it down to the rails?"

Jim laughed. "And stop the cars!" was his terse comment.

Higgins cast him a shrewd glance, and turned to his man. "Here, Jones," he said. "Catch hold of this contrivance. Now, boy, we'll manage the rest of it. Get back to your switches."

"He had grit," some one remarked as Jim ran off. "That was a risky thing to do, wasn't it?"

"We have to take chances," Higgins briefly answered. "The lad knew what he was about."

But though he said little he was aware that this young employe of the road had acted quite beyond his own line of duty. For this reason he reported the whole affair to the superintendent, and Jim was summoned to appear at the office after his day's work.

Ted heard the message, for since the episode of the broken wire he had hung around his friend continually.

"What'll they give you, Jimmie?" he asked in hopeful excitement.

"Oh, maybe a hundred shares of stock and a special car."

This reply was designed to tax the newsboy's credulity, for Jim only wanted a chance to display his invention. And like many another inventor, he forgot that his work could be easily done in a different way.

The superintendent was reading his evening paper when Jim entered the office. Common report among the employes had made him a man of strict rules and penalties, yet he did not seem as austere as Jim had imagined. "I was ordered to report here," said Jim, advancing to the desk.

"James Connolly, switchman at Hamilton corner?" asked the superintendent.

"That's my name."

"How old are you?"

"Seventeen."

"Higgins says you managed that break pretty well this afternoon. And you kept the cars moving. How did you handle the wire?"

"With this." Jim had expected the question, and in quiet triumph he passed his clamp over the desk. The superintendent smiled queerly as he examined it.

"Crude, but effective— and scientific," he commented to himself. Then aloud: "Higgins has another method of protecting himself which you will perhaps find more generally convenient."

He detected a look of disappointment on the boy's face, and added: "This is certainly ingenious. How did you happen to have the thing in your pocket?"

"Didn't happen," said Jim, bluntly. "I always carry it. I made it a-purpose."

"For just such an emergency? You seem to understand the power."

"I knew you can manage it, but you can't feel with it."

"That's the superintendent gossiped pleasantly. "It doesn't seem to pike. Well, your knowledge of that far more valuable than your invention. There are other boys who can tend switches, and Higgins needs a hero. He asked for you. To-morrow you will instruct the lad. Then I shall send you out on Monday you will report to Mr. Higgins. You are promoted to the repair gang." Youth's Companion.

Straw Scatteration.

"Sell the Straws!" "Sell at Once--Only Sell, Sell."

There's the only thought in our minds now. We have a sort of unreasoning terror of carrying Straw Hats over to another season, and we have just bought 100 doz. STRAW HATS to be sold here and in our Toronto stores.

Neither the tariff that's past nor the tariff that's here nor the preferential tariff that we are to enjoy more fully next season, had anything to do with the curious prices at which we bought these several lines of Straw Hats.

BOUGHT TO GET YOUR GOOD WILL.

We bought them because it gave us an opportunity to hand them out to you at over-the-sea prices—minus duties—minus profits to anybody—save a moderate one to us.

Without more explanations we will give you a few samples of the "Straw Satteration" that begins now:—

Extra Fine Split Straws and Bamboos, latest styles, ventilated or not, ordinarily worth from $1.50 to $2.00, now 75c.
Men's Fine Manillas, worth $2.50 and $3.00, now $1.50.
Ladies' Sailors, large flat Mackinaw Straws, also fine braids, to clear for 25c.
Fine Canton Braids, large, flat Mackinaw plaits and English Club Straws, for Men's wear. Latest shapes. Most merchants sell them from $1.00 to $1.50, our price 50c.
A big variety of Men's Straws, of different shapes and styles of braids, worth from 50c to 75c, now 25c.
Children's Straws to be sold at once for whatever they will bring.
See our window with choice for 25c.

Something Unusual

No matter how intense the heat, shopping keeps up unusually well here. It may seem strange to be selling so many goods at cost or below, but conditions warrant it. It is desirable to clean up stocks and especially towards the close of a season. Sir Wilfrid Laurier Finds French Enmity to Britain.

THE CANADIAN FAST STEAMSHIPS.

Mr. Chamberlain Explains to the Commons the Terms of the Contract—Turks Have Begun to Evacuate Thessaly—Peace Conference Proceeding at Constantinople.

London, July 23.—The Times this morning prints an account of a long interview had by its Paris correspondent with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier, in which the latter said that during his stay in Paris he had been struck by the signs of enmity displayed towards England, probably due to the Egyptian question, and by the activity of the colonization spirit of the French people. Colonization, Sir Wilfrid said, presented great difficulties to France because the country has no surplus population.

The Premier further said that the Canadians considered that the United States had committed two blunders. The first was the giving of excessive power to the Republican party after the war.

The defeat of Bryanism, he declared, should serve as a lesson to the Republicans, and should induce, on their part, moderation and prudence. The second blunder was a too wholesale application of universal suffrage, which should not be mere birthright, but should be won by an effort, however slight.

TURKS GETTING OUT.

It Now Appears That the Evacuation of Thessaly Has Begun—Peace Preliminaries Discussed.

Athens, July 23.—The Turkish military authorities have ordered the surrender of the Volo-Larissa Railway to the Greek Railway officials within 80 days. It is stated that the evacuation of Thessaly has already commenced. Eight regiments of Turkish troops from Domoko passed Larissa to-day en route for Elassona. Several officers have started for Salonica. Edhem Pasha, commander in chief of the Turkish troops in Thessaly, is expected to arrive at Volo shortly to superintend the evacuation.

General Smolentz, commanding the Greek forces at Arta, has been summoned to Athens.

Peace Preliminaries Discussed.

Constantinople, July 22.—At the sitting of the Peace Conference to-day, the strategic position proposed by the military attaches of the powers was agreed upon and the preliminaries of peace between Turkey and Greece were then discussed.

ALL FOR KLONDIKE.

Sir Donald Smith Besieged by Would-be Gold Finders in London.

London, July 22.—Sir Donald Alexander Smith, the Canadian High Commissioner in London, has been besieged for several days past by inquirers who desire to go to the Yukon mining districts. Most of the applicants for information are young men without money who are employed on farms and in factories. Would-be emigrants of this class are urged to stay at home, but hardened men with a capital of $100 or more are encouraged to leave for the gold fields.

Several London capitalists are interesting themselves in the Canadian mining territory and are making investigations with a view of organizing mining companies. Experts have been despatched to inspect the region.

Sir Donald Smith has issued a pamphlet containing much information concerning the new gold fields.

Regarding the suggested exclusion of Americans from the Yukon regions, officials here say there is nothing in the treaties between Great Britain and the United States to prevent such action on the part of the British Government, but that as a matter of policy it is unlikely the step will be taken.

Various steamship companies report that few persons have left England for the new gold fields thus far. This is probably due to the monetary considerations.

FROM BOMBAY AND SIMLA.

Editors to be Prosecuted for Sedition—Deaths From Cholera.

Bombay, July 22.—The Government has decided to prosecute some of the editors of the newspapers in the Poona district which have been most conspicuous in the publication of seditious articles of late, calculated to stir up the natives against British rule. The articles chiefly complained of are those that have put a false construction upon the efforts of the officials to check the spread of the plague. These endeavors have been represented as made in utter defiance to the native religions, customs and prejudices, the sanitary purpose of the regulations being absolutely, and, it appears, wilfully ignored. The publications are believed to have been largely responsible for the recent outbreaks in the Poona district and along the Hoogly, including the disturbances in Calcutta.

There has been during the last ten days an alarming increase of deaths from cholera in the Bombay Presidency and some recrudescence of the bubonic plague.

On the other hand, as a result of the plentiful rainfall, the crop prospects throughout the Presidency are improving.

Cantonments Act Repealed.

Simla, July 22.—The Viceregal Legislative Council to-day adopted the bill introduced by Mr. Chalmers on July 8, repealing the Cantonments Act of 1895, which itself had repealed a similar act of 1889.

The object of this action is to restore to the Governor-General-in-Council power to make rules for checking the spread of certain contagious diseases in cantonments, and to give him the same control in respect to these diseases that he has in the case of other contagious and infectious diseases. The effect of the bill is to untie the hands of the Government.

The Hon. W. Mackworth Young, Lieut.-Governor of the Punjab, in the course of the debate on Mr. Chalmers' bill, said that the repeal of the Cantonments Act of 1889 had proved very disastrous to the British troops in India. Experience had shown that it was not within the powers of the Legislature to raise the standard of morality.

KEROSENE FOR THE HAIR

Caused the Death of a Lady in a Hair Dressing Shop in London.

London, July 22.—The use of kerosene as a stimulant for the hair is becoming common in Europe, and already several persons have either lost their lives or been frightfully disfigured by not exercising proper care when near a fire.

The latest victim is Mrs. Samuelson, a daughter-in-law of Sir Bernard Samuelson, a well known engineer, who was burned to death in a hair dresser's shop in Conduit-street.

A man named Kopf, an operator in the shop, testified at the coroner's inquest that after he had used the oil on the head of Mrs. Samuelson he was twisting her hair to dry it. Suddenly there was a flash, and he and Mrs. Samuelson were wrapped in flame. He declared that the fire must have been of spontaneous origin, as there was no gas or other flame in the room. The weather was very hot and the sun was shining into the room through a skylight.

CANADIAN FAST LINE.

Mr. Chamberlain Explained the Terms of the Contract in the Commons.

London, July 22.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, replying to a question as to the present position of the projected fast mail service to Canada, said that by the terms of the contract two steamers must be ready to begin the service on or before May 31, 1898, and the other two not later than May 1, 1900.

Mr. Chamberlain said also that the contractors had agreed to deposit with the Canadian Minister of Finance, within sixty days of the date of the signing of the contract, a notification of their acceptance of its conditions, the sum of £10,000 and a guarantee satisfactory to the Minister of Finance for an additional £10,000, as security for the performance of the contract. The sixty-day period, he said, had not expired.

Americans Make a Sorry Show.

Brussels, July 22.—The finest showing at the exhibition here is made by France, Great Britain being a good second, and Germany, third, but the exhibit of the United States is most melancholy. There is an amazing display of cheap and shabby furniture, labeled as made in obscure Western towns. There is a creditable display of American tools, agricultural implements and bicycles. In fact the last named exhibits excel those of all the other countries.

Almost all the leading American exhibitors have criticisms to make.

Japan Doesn't Want War

London, July 22.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "The Japanese Minister here denies that the relations between Japan and the United States are strained, and says: We wish especially to avoid war with the United States. If we had wanted war we would have resisted Russia when she interfered with our war with China; but we decided that it was best to strengthen our army and navy and develop our resources."

HUBBELL NOT YET FOUND

The Ottawa Broker is Said to Have Plunged Heavily in Wheat—Lost Money on Toronto Sunday Car Vote.

Ottawa, July 22.—The talk in the city today is the Hubbell defalcation, which is turning out to be more extraordinary than was even at first anticipated.

Ald. Rogers refused to discuss the matter, but remarked that every dollar owing by the firm would be paid.

Hubbell is said to have lost heavily in wheat speculations, and it is reported dropped $3000 on the result of the Sunday car vote in Toronto. The Dominion police are trying to locate him, but it is thought he is across the line.

ANDREE HEARD FROM

Says He Passed the North Pole on July 15.

MESSAGE BY A CARRIER PIGEON.

British Geographical Circles Taking Great Interest in the Polar Trip by Balloon—Mr. Keltie, Secretary of the Royal Geographical Society, Gives His Views.

London, July 22.—A special despatch from Copenhagen says that a carrier pigeon has been caught in the vicinity of Tromsoe Island, near the north point of Norway, which has the following stamped on its wing: "North Pole passed fifteenth."

Keen interest is felt in geographical circles here as to the result of Andree's Polar expedition, and this is greatly increased by the arrival of the pigeons at Soevde and at Tromsoe Island, though there is some doubt as to whether either bird came from Andree.

It is a curious fact that the inscription "142 W., 86.02" agrees exactly with the geographical location from which the London experts believe they might hear from Andree at about this time.

Mr. J. Scott Keltie, secretary of the Royal Geographical Society, who is about leaving to attend the meetings of the British Association at Toronto, said to the correspondent of the Associated Press to-day: "I would not wish to speak officially for the society in this matter, but it is certain that if the wind were southerly when he ascended Andree would cross the Polar basin and come out near the Behring Straits. The figures '142 W.' mean the coast of North America, and if such a wind prevailed, under the most favorable circumstances, Andree would arrive there. If the description means this, it means also that Andree has passed right across the Pole.

"The inscription is the only thing leading to the supposition that the pigeon may have come from Andree, but it cannot be doubted that he will first be heard of on the extreme north of America, or the Siberian coast. Supposing him to have arrived at 142 W., with a disabled balloon, he can easily ascend the Mackenzie River, and reach the Hudson Bay settlements. Of course, if the balloon is not damaged, there is no reason why he should descend until he reaches comfortable quarters."

There is no special anxiety felt here as to Andree's fate, because, even if the balloon comes to grief, Andree will be no worse off than Nansen was after leaving the Fram.

They Don't Believe It.

Stockholm, July 22.—Dr. E. Khola, who was associated with Andree in the projected balloon expedition of last year, does not believe that the carrier pigeon caught on Tuesday in the neighborhood of Soevde, in Jiifylke, with a silver ring on one of its feet and the message "North Pole 142 W., 46.62" on its wings, is one of Andree's pigeons. He says that Andree's pigeons do not wear silver rings on their legs and they have "Andree" stamped on their wings. Moreover, he is confident that Andree would not send such an obscure message.

Ascent Made on July 11.

Prof. Andree's ascent was made from Tromsoe Island, at the Northern extremity of Norway, on July 11, at 2.30 p. m., in the midst of strong wind. He shook hands heartily with those who were assembled in the balloon house, nodded to the astonished trappers, who stood watching him, and addressed warm and heartful words to all whose hands he could not reach. Then the trio, Andree, Strindberg and Fraenkel, standing in the car, severed the ropes holding the balloon, while Andree counted, "One, two, three." The balloon rose majestically, while Andree gazed in happy confidence upon those who remained behind. Then all three waved their caps and shouted, "Greetings to all at home in Sweden." After the narrow escape from being driven against the rock in Swederinburg Sound, the balloon was seen moving northward easily, as Andree wished, over the flat peninsula of Hollhendernaes.

GEORGE A. EAMES DROWNED.

A Dingy Capsized in the Bay at the Foot of Princess-street Body Not Recovered.

Toronto, July 23.

George A. Eames, the 19-year-old son of Henry Eames, a guard at the Central Prison, who lives at 29 Sullivan street, was drowned in the bay at the foot of Princess street at noon yesterday and the body has not yet been recovered.

The young man went out on the yacht Alert for a sail in the morning, and after a short cruise the boat was anchored at its moorings only a short distance from the shore. Half a gale was blowing from the south and the water was so rough that the crew considered it dangerous to go ashore all at once in the dingy. Charles Love, 29 Davenport road, who is employed by the Incandescent Light Co., accompanied by young Eames, set out for the shore first, but when only a short distance from the yacht the dingy was swamped and both the men were floundering in the water. Another of the party, John Willis, 80 Kensington avenue, made a brave effort to save Eames. Love in the meantime having swam back to the yacht. Willis seized Eames, but owing to his struggles was compelled to abandon him to save himself, which he did by swimming back to the yacht after much difficulty.

MR. WHITNEY'S DENIALS.

At Ottawa Mr. Whitney complained that he had been represented as opposed to the succession duties. He had never said so, and he proceeded to define what he had been saying in his speeches. His utterances had been as follows, he said: "He had called attention to the Government's attitude in imposing a succession duties tax, because such a tax was justifiable only under an abnormal condition; for example, when they found themselves face to face with bankruptcy and had none of the ordinary means of taxation at their disposal, and only under those circumstances. He said that the Government were justified because they were face to face with direct taxation and had to find means to meet their debts." Here is, as the Globe remarks, Mr. Whitney's own language, and we presume he will find some difficulty in escaping from it. Its meaning is clear enough surely, and, in spite of his saving clauses, his statement amounts to a declaration that a succession tax is the last tax he would think of imposing—only to be imposed when we found ourselves face to face with bankruptcy and had none of the ordinary means of taxation at our disposal. What "ordinary means of taxation" are not at our disposal in the Province of Ontario? Mr. Whitney would have some difficulty in replying to this. Strictly speaking, these succession duties are the only taxes imposed in this province for Provincial purposes. The Liberal party will be quite prepared to meet Mr. Whitney on his statement that this is a tax that is only justifiable under abnormal conditions, such as when face to face with bankruptcy. We maintain, on the contrary, that it is one of the most legitimate and least oppressive modes of taxation. In Ontario an estate inherited by a wife, child or parent pays not a farthing of duty up to $100,000. Over that sum it becomes subject to duty. It will be the general opinion that an heir or heirs coming into possession of $100,000 or more is scarcely a proper subject for pity because he has to pay a small percentage to the Province in succession duties. Less direct heirs are taxed on smaller sums. In many of these cases it is like money found. In the great majority of them the piling together of the fortune was in no way due to any effort or labours of the heir, and it seems reasonable that the Province, or, in other words, the people under the protection of whose laws the amassing of the wealth was possible, should get some small share of it. It does no wrong to the dead, and the living can well afford to allow the public to have a percentage on the hoard which they did nothing to rake together.

Mr. Whitney speaks of it as if the tax were either unknown elsewhere or only in countries face to face with bankruptcy. The fact is it is in force in the motherland, and it is scarcely likely that Mr. Whitney will say that they are face to face there with bankruptcy. It has found favour with all recent writers on taxation. We do not know of one economic writer who in noticing it has not spoken highly of its justness and efficacy. It is rapidly being adopted by the most advanced and the most solvent countries and states. To say, therefore, that it is a sign of financial embarrassment is absurd. How a province that owns hundreds upon hundreds of square miles of merchantable timber, not to speak of other resources, can be described as face to face with bankruptcy may be left to Mr. Whitney to explain. He says that the writer who charged him with being opposed to the succession tax did not know what he was talking about. The reader may be left to judge whether the leader of the Opposition knows what he is talking about. If his attitude towards it is not an attitude of hostility, what is it? Not friendliness surely. It is the same with regard to the High Schools. The Opposition for a time was prodigal of its breathings about High Schools. They were being favoured at the expense of the Public Schools. When taxed with expressing hostility to the High Schools they immediately scuttle and declare that all they were complaining about was that the Public Schools were being neglected. If this was all, what need to mention High Schools in connection with the matter? To be plain, it was a cheap piece of demagogism. It was thought that a classes versus masses feeling could be got up by railing at the High Schools, but it was found that the people refused to consider that the High Schools were the property of any particular class. Finding that no grievance could be worked up in that direction the lieutenants have abandoned the agitation and now dislike to be told of it. Mr. Whitney says he took no part in it, and it is creditable to him that he did not.

This is the quandary the Ontario Opposition is in. It has undertaken a task that has no bottom to it. It has no substantial grounds for seeking to turn out the Administration, and in reaching around for things to construct a platform out of it takes up all sorts of cries, and when their baselessness or absurdity is shown its members hasten to explain that they did not mean any of the things that their declarations seemed to mean, but something altogether different. In this way they have been boxing around the compass for a quarter century, and no past experience seems to convince them of the futility of the whole business.

I will guarantee that my Kidney Cure will cure 95 per cent. of all forms of kidney disease. When the disease is far advanced and their are other complications, the patient had better send a four-ounce vial of their urine, with full symptoms. SCORES AT BISLEY.

Canadians Aroused a Good Deal of Enthusiasm.

NUMEROUS TIES TO BE SHOT OFF

Blair, Kerr and White Made 49 Each at the 600 in the Final Stage of the Queen's Lieut. Davidson Had an Off Day—Great Scoring in the Graphic.

Bisley Camp, July 22.—(Telegram cable.)- The second stage of the Queen's Prize is being fired to-day in charming weather. The conditions governing this stage of the contest for the blue ribbon of the National Rifle Association are these. Queen's Prize—Second stage—Spudded competition. Distances, 500 and 600 yards (aggregate). Number of shots, 10 at 500, and 15 at 600. The places of the 300 competitors to be decided by their aggregate scores in the first and second stages. The first 100 will be entitled to fire in the third stage.

Nine of the regular Canadian team had qualified to shoot in the second stage, and their scores at the 500-yard range were as follows:

Blair, Sergt H C, 78th Batt	49
Corrigan, Sergt R, 50th Batt	46
Davidson, Lieut R J, 8th R Rifles	46
Davidson, Capt W H, 8th R Rifles	45
Kerr, Corp H, 48th Highlanders	49
Langstroth, Tr A, 8th Hussars	47
Broadhurst, Sergt J, Royal Scots	44
Ross, Lieut W L, 13th Batt	47
White, Capt W J B, 14th Batt	49

At the 600 yards range in the second stage of the Queen's Prize the Canadians scored as follows:

Blair	63
Corrigan	63
Kerr	68
Broadhurst	62
White	69

It is also likely that Blair and Corrigan will have places in the final 100.

Kerr, Broadhurst and White are sure to have qualified for the third stage of the Queen's Prize, which will be fired on Saturday.

Every member of the Canadian team was entered for The Graphic competition to-day. The event is open to all-comers. The first prize is a silver cup, price £52 10s, and framed sketches, price £10 10s each, given by the proprietors of The Graphic, and £340 added by the N. R. A. Distance 500 yards. No. of shots, 7; entrance fee, 10s; first prize, The Graphic Cup; five prizes of three sketches in frame and £5, 10 of two sketches in frame and £5, five of £5, 30 of £3, 75 of £2.

The skill of the Canadians in The Graphic event evoked intense enthusiasm. No less than sixteen of the twenty scored 31 points or over; seven had 33; four 32, two 31, and three pinked the bullseye every time. It was a splendid exhibition of skilful marksmanship. The enthusiasm grew in volume when Lieut. Ross, Corp. Kerr and Sergt. Broadhurst, in shooting off their ties with possibles, each again tied the other, scoring a bullseye at each shot.

The scores made by the Canadians in The Graphic were as follows:

Blair, Sergt H C, 78th Batt	33
Carter, Lieut R S, 93rd Batt	33
Corrigan, Sergt R, 50th Batt	31
Davidson, Lieut R J, 8th R Rifles	33

In the St. George's Vase competition yesterday Capt. White of the 14th Battalion secured the 181st place, winning £2.

Lieut. Davidson of the 8th Royal Rifles won the cup offered by Sir Donald Smith, the Canadian High Commissioner. The same officer also won £15 of the Mountstephen prize. Sergt. Corrigan, Trooper Langstroth, Sergt. Broadhurst, Corp. Kerr and Capt. Davidson each captured £5 of the Mountstephen prize. The aggregates which counted were those compiled by colonial marksmen in the first stage of the Queen's Prize, St. George's Challenge Vase and the Martini Cup.

It is probable that four of the Canadian contingent will qualify for the second stage of the St. George's Challenge Vase competition.

Lieut. Ross, Sergt. Broadhurst and Corp. Kerr have been ordered to again shoot off their ties in The Graphic prizes.

The garden party at the Canadian quarters to-day was a great success. An excellent luncheon was served. Major J. J. Mason, who is in charge of the Canadian squad, presided at the function. Hon. Lieut.-Col. J. M. Gibson, Provincial Commissioner of Crown Lands, was also present, together with these prominent persons: Sir Donald Smith, Canadian Commissioner to England; Howard Vincent, Col. McKinnon, Sir Henry Fletcher, many of the Australian and Cape officers and the Rajahs.

Major Mason, in welcoming the guests, made a capital speech, that was acknowledged by regular visitors to have been the best made by any Canadian commandant at Bisley. He thanked the N. R. A. for the many acts of kindness shown the Canadian team, and he assured those present that they could rely upon the Canadian volunteers for support of England in case of trouble.

Lieut. Col. Gibson, in his speech, expressed the hope that friendship would long continue between the National Rifle Association and the Dominion Rifle Association. Sir Donald Smith spoke in a similar strain. Sir Henry Fletcher thanked the Dominion Rifle Association for passing the resolution complimentary to him for doing all that he possibly could to forward the erection of the building used as the headquarters for the Canadian squad.

Mrs. Mason was also present.

Mrs. Col. Gibson was also among the ladies at the garden party.

Sergt. Garson, Lieut. Ross and Staff-Sergt. Smith are among the prize winners in The Graphic competition. Lieut. King, who wins £28 6d in the same contest, shoots off a tie with 16 others. Lieut. Ross will also have to shoot off a tie in The Graphic.

The names of Sergt. Corrigan, Capt. Davidson and Lieut. Kinnear will probably be found in the prize list of the Daily Telegraph competition.

Sergt. Garson has qualified for one of the hundred who will compete in the second stage of the St. George's Challenge Vase match on Saturday. Garson fired a tie off to-day, scoring a possible 35 with his seven shots.

The Daily Telegraph match was shot to-day. This match is open to all-comers, the first prize being a cup, donated by the proprietors of The Daily Telegraph. The N. R. A. add £300 to the prize list. The distance is 600 yards, and the number of shots seven. There are 112 prizes altogether.

In this competition the Canadian scores were as follows:

DROPPED DEAD!

Suddenly Stricken Down by Heart Disease.

"A sad and sudden death occurred to a well-known citizen on one of the leading streets this morning."

Nearly every large city paper contains daily some such heading. The number of deaths from heart failure is very large, but it is only when they occur in some public and sensational manner that general attention is drawn to them.

Palpitation and fluttering of the heart are common complaints. With the heart itself there is nothing radically wrong. But the system is disorganized, the kidneys and liver are out of order, and the stomach is not in condition to do its work porperly. Between them all, they throw too much responsibility on the heart, and the latter is unable to stand the strain.

A box of Dr Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills at a cost of 25 cents will regulate the system, purify the blood and make a new person of every sickly man, woman or child.

Dr. Chase's Liver-Kidney Pills may be had from any dealer or from the manufacturers, Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. One pill a dose, one cent a dose.

Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine is and colds Largest bottle on the market; only 25 cents.

COULD NOT LIE DOWN!

Walked the Floor All Night Many a Time.

A Toronto Lady's remarkable Escape from Heart Trouble, and her Voluntary Testimony About the Safest and Best of Heart Tonics.

Toronto Testimony Comes Home to Toronto People.

Here is what Mrs. Robt. Mitchell 78 Huron St. says, "Three years ago I had rheumatism, since then I have had serious heart troubles, my physician said caused by the former attack of rheumatism.

My heart was so badly affected that I could not go upstairs or walk a short distance without experiencing violent palpitation, sometimes so badly that I could hardly breathe.

Sleep was almost impossible to obtain on account of the smothering nervous feeling which affected me. Frequently I was so bad that I could not lie down, or even sit down on account of my heart and the shortness of breath.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have changed these distressing and alarming symptoms. They have strengthened the muscles of my heart so that it now performs its duties in a natural way. I can now walk about without inconvenience, and sleep naturally and well.

Exertion does not affect me or cause my heart to beat unnaturally as before, and I am a great deal stronger and better than I have been for a long time. They have done me a world of good, and I heartily recommend them." 157

Gloom

Of ill health, despondency and despair, gives way to the sunshine of hope, happiness and health, upon taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it gives renewed life and vitality to the blood, and through that imparts nerve strength, vigor and energy to the whole body. Read this letter:

The Origin of a Name.

Many people have queried how the semi-rapids below the locks came to have the name "Yankee Bonnet" applied to them. Mrs. Traill in one of her charming sketches of early pioneer life in this section, in giving an account of the ascent of the Otonabee, says: "Owing to the rapids and shallowness of the river, the steamboat was unable to go up the whole way to Peterborough, so a large unwieldly-looking scow had been engaged to meet it at a point called the 'Yankee Bonnet,' so named from a fanciful resemblance the topmost branches of a tree growing on the bank had to the sort of cap worn by the Yankees."

Salvation Army Excursion.

The annual summer outing of the Salvation Army will be held on Civic Holiday, August 19th, at Sturgeon Point. The trip is to be made by both rail and steamer. The excursion will run by via G. T. R. to Lindsay, where the steamer Crandella has been chartered to take the party on to Sturgeon Point. This arrangement will add additional interest to excursionists and assure greater variety without any loss of time. A good time is promised all who attend. The posters will be issued to-morrow, giving full particulars. The excursion is in the hands of an excellent committee, including Captain Mapes, the new staff officer, Sergt. Major T. Michiel, T. Butcher and H. C. Bacon, Secretary.

D., 1897, at three o'clock in the afternoon, en bloc and in parcels. All this property was recently advertised for sale by posters and by advertisement in the "EXAMINER" newspaper. Further particulars may be had from Mr. Thomas McKee, Mr. John Haggart, Auctioneer, and Messrs. Scratton & Hall. 6d

STRUCK BY LIGHTING.

The Residence of Dr. Moher Partially Destroyed by Fire.

At about one o'clock last night the shed in the rear of the residence of Dr. Moher, Hunter street, was struck by lightning and considerably damaged.

The loft was stored with a quantity of furniture belonging to Mrs. O'Connor, mother of Mrs. Moher, who recently moved to town from Deseronto. A good deal of furniture belonging to the doctor was also stored in the same place and was totally destroyed.

Dr. Moher speaks most highly of the prompt way in which the brigade responded to the alarm. The loss cannot be estimated yet, but the furniture which was stored away was insured through Messrs. Cox & Davis.

Mr. Spillsbury was just closing up one of the windows of his residence when he observed a ball of fire strike the shed and set fire to it. Before he could alarm Dr. Moher, Mrs. O'Connor noticed the reflection of the flames and warned the household.

The premises are the property of Mr. T. Hurley and are also insured.

ATTACKED BY A DOG.

The Son of Mr. Joseph Bestard Badly Bitten Yesterday by a Collie.

Yesterday morning a little son of Mr. Joseph Bestard's was badly mauled and bitten by a big collie dog belonging to Mr. John Hayes, in the West End.

It seems that Mr. Hayes' children had come to dig for fish worms on Mr. Bestard's premises and brought the dog with them. At the time Mr. Bestard was digging in his garden and on turning up some worms called to his little son to come and get them for the boys. As the little fellow started to run over to him the dog suddenly sprang at him and catching him by the upper lip tore it completely open. It then made a snap at the ear and nearly severed the lobe from the rest of the member. Three stitches were put in the lip by Dr. King and this morning the little boy is as lively as ever but inspired with a mortal terror of dogs.

NOT McLEAN, BUT JUST AS DESPERATE.

A TRAMP DRAWS A GUN AND DEFIES CAPTURE.

A Young Desperado on the Rampage—The Police Are Hot Foot on His Trail—Constables All Over the Country on the Look Out for Him.

Great was the excitement which prevailed in town yesterday afternoon in consequence of the wild rumors which were flying about concerning a gang of desperadoes which were said to be established in Jackson Park to such a degree as to defy all efforts of the police to dislodge them. It was said that the gang was headed by the escaped burglar, Jack McLean, of Toronto, and that he defied capture at the point of the pistol.

Although the statements made were somewhat extravagant, yet the foundations upon which they were built were of a sufficiently important nature to cause the local police considerable trouble and placed one member of the force at least in some danger of his life.

The Chief of Police on going to the station house at about half past twelve found three little lads there who had hurried down from Jackson Park to tell him that a couple of tramps were engaged in cooking their dinner just north of the park and that one of them was wearing a pair of trousers which corresponded in pattern to those stolen from Mr. Jack Mervin on Saturday night last. The man was also described as being in of which quite a liberal display was made at times. On being shown the picture of the escaped burglar McLean, the eldest boy was positive that the latter of the two tramps was the man.

Knowing that police uniform would be detected by the tramps half a mile away, the Chief sent Constables Adams and Stewart in plain clothes out to the park.

Whilst looking up his men the Chief left the two boys in the office and when Bandmaster Miller came in they told him their story. He took a baton and together with John Irwin, set off for the scene of the tramps' rendezvous.

The boys conducted Adams and Stewart through the park along the railway track, but there was no sign of the tramps and the constables separated to beat through the bushes. Constable Stewart soon saw a man whom they had passed unobserved, jump up from beside the track and start to run across the park. The officer gave chase. Just as the fugitive was mounting the brow of the hill he almost ran into Mr. Tom Hooper, who was up in the park catering to the Lindsay picnicers, and was just returning from the spring.

The tramp must have thought that Tom was put there to head him off, for he whipped a brace of revolvers from his belt and sent a couple of bullets whizzing past Mr. Hooper's head. Officer Stewart, who was in hot pursuit, then opened up fire and after stopping to exchange shots with him the tramp fled on.

He crossed over to E. B. Edward's grounds and as he was confronted by Mr. T. Redner and a friend. Evidently thinking an effort was being made to surround him the tramp laid his still smoking pistol on the gate post for an instant and turning to the two men dared them to try and take him, advising them at the same time to clear the way for him unless they were looking for trouble. To emphasize his threat, a bullet was sent so close to Mr. Redner's head that he heard it whizz past his ear.

The man then took to his heels again and gradually distanced his pursuers, who were in no condition for a chase on a hot day.

He crossed over the intervening lots, past Wallace's Grove and encountering Mr. Giles at his residence, offered a dollar for a horse and boy to drive him on to Mr. Young's, where he stated he had business to transact. He attributed his heated and dishevelled appearance to a sunstroke and Mr. Giles in the kindness of his heart provided him with a rig and a boy to drive him.

The officers traced him to this point, and then had to stop, as they had no idea in which direction he would cause the boy to drive him. They from Mr. T. E. Bradburn's residence, but as considerable time had elapsed since the tramp had secured the rig, Adams advised the discontinuance of the chase.

Later on in the afternoon the Chief drove out to the Giles homestead to see if the boy had returned, but nothing had yet been heard of him.

Mr. Giles described the fugitive as being little more than a mere lad, appearing to be about twenty years of age. He therefore could not be the escaped burglar McLean, but nevertheless the police are very anxious to lay their hands on him, as they are of the opinion that a man who would defend himself so desperately must necessarily greatly fear arrest, arguing that he is is the author of a crime of considerable magnitude.

The following description of him has been wired to all stations in this part of the country.

Height, 5 ft. 8 or 9 inches, slight build, smooth face, dressed in blue sack coat, brown trousers, no vest, dark shirt with collar attached, light tie, white straw hat, black band. A warrant has been issued for his arrest on a charge of shooting at Thos. Redner. He had two revolvers and when he paid Mr. Giles the latter noticed that he had a large roll of bills.

On the return trip from Mr. Giles' residence, the chief observed a man running very fast across the fields and as he was coming almost directly towards the buggy, no demonstration was made of any kind until he came up, when the chief stopped him and asked him where he was going and where was his chum. The young fellow replied that he had been bathing in the creek, when they told him that the police were after his chum, so he was endeavouring to make himself scarce as soon as possible. He denied all knowledge of the other man further than having made his acquaintance on top of a C.P.R. freight car which he had boarded at Manvers and found the other there. They had arrived in town at nine o'clock in the morning and after begging a little had walked up the G.T.R. track to the park, where they camped quietly until they saw the police coming. Notwithstanding his plausible story the chief brought the man in to the police station with him.

What lent strength to the rumour that the tramp was none other than McLean was the fact that Mr. Jas. Stevenson reported that a man having a close resemblance to the escaped burglar had applied to him for assistance Monday evening. His daughter also remarked on the resemblance to the description published in the Toronto papers.

This morning Young Giles reported to the Chief of Police stating that he had only driven the tramp about three miles out in the country. The man had plenty of money on him and offered ten dollars to be driven to Omemee, but the boy refused. Giles said the tramp appeared to be suffering greatly from the effect of his violent exertions, and to be very weak. The police are sorry now that they did not follow on after him with another rig.

The tramp, whom the Chief captured, pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy in the police court this morning and was remanded for a week. He gave his name as William Mudon.

THE ONTARIO FORESTRY COMMISSION.

Return of Three of the Commissioners From the North—What They Saw and Say Our Forests Are like History, Repeats Itself.

Mr. Thos. Southworth, Mr. John Bertram and Mr. J. B. McWilliams, members of the Ontario Government Forestry Commission, have returned from a visit to the townships of Galway, Burleigh and Methuen and are in town to-day. Mr. Southworth, clerk of the Forestry Commisson, in a short chat with THE EXAMINER gave some interesting information.

In the townships mentioned, in places that had been overrun by forest fires, there was found vigourous growth of young white pine, thus demonstrating that our immense forest areas, even when destroyed by fire, are capable of reproduction.

In one case it was possible to fix the date of a fire—twenty-three years ago. There was found a fine thick growth of new pine, of fine quality—some of the trees being seven or eight inches in diameter. These trees have only been growing about nineteen or twenty years, for it takes two or three years for burnt areas to become seeded by means of squirrels, birds and the carrying power of strong winds.

The poplar or aspen (populus tremuloides) which is the first tree crop to follow a fire, in this section of the province, while commercially worthless as a timber, for the aid it affords to the growth of pine. It springs up quickly and shades the ground, thus creating favourable conditions for the germination of pine seed, and shelters the plant which is very tender in its early stage of growth, till its becomes vigorous. The poplar growing rapidly, the young pine naturally stretches up to the light, and thus a fine slender trunk is formed, which is extremely favourable to the production of a straight, tall tree, the most valuable of timber. The life of the poplars is only about fifteen or twenty years, and as they die they give place to the pine, which grows with great rapidity.

IS INESTIMABLY VALUABLE

If, as in the case cited above, pine grows from the seed in eighteen or twenty years to a size sufficient for minor building purposes, it is pretty certain that in fifty years it will grow into trees of merchantable size and value, and that the possibility of our forest resources being permanently exhausted is very remote. Especially with the care and foresight exercised by the Ontario Government will our forest wealth be preserved and renewed. The commission appointed last session is another evidence of the desire of the Government to secure the fullest information as the basis of further practical action for the preservation and renewal of our forest wealth.

THE LATE DR. J. A. G. WILSON.

Further Particulars Concerning the Sad Accident Which Deprived Him of His Life at Keewatin.

The interment of the body of the late Dr. J. A. G. Wilson, who was drowned at Keewatin on the 11th inst., took place in Little Lake cemetery this afternoon. Rev. J. C. Wilson, of Tweed, father of the deceased, and Rev. J. S. I. Wilson, of Wilfred, a brother, accompanied the body to Peterborough. Rev. A. C. Wilson, of Cannifton, uncle of the deceased, was also present at the funeral.

The following further particulars have been learned concerning the late Dr. Wilson:

The deceased was the younger son of Rev. J. C. Wilson, of Tweed, and only brother of Rev. J. S. I. Wilson, of Wilfred. He was born on December 9th, 1870. He matriculated in Arts at Victoria University at the age of 15. After spending three years in Macdonald's drug store in Peterborough, he entered Trinity Medical College in Toronto, where he graduated with first class honours in 1893. After practising for six months in Keewatin and four months in Cartwright, Manitoba, he took up his residence at Cannington, Ont., where he remained for 18 months, and was rapidly building up an extensive practise there, when a tempting offer of a partnership with Dr. A. H. Ednison, of Rat Portage, induced him to return to Keetwatin where has been busily engaged in the exercise of his profession ever since.

His professional career, though short, was eminently successful. He manifested superior skill and speedily won the confidence of all who had dealings with him, while his kind and genial disposition made him universally popular and beloved.

The following extract from a letter written to his parents by an intimate friend in Keewatin will be of interest to many:—"During my late illness (a few weeks ago) he attended me professionally, he saved my life with great care and attention. He has been an almost daily caller at the house during the last 16 or 18 months, as that dear and most amiable young lady whom he was so shortly to wed, lives with us as one of our family and I may say we had come to regard him as one of its members.

But you wish to learn of his demise. In fact there is little to tell. It is mere conjecture on the part of all as to the manner of his death other than that he was drowned. He was making a professional call. He took his canoe, sails on, and started on his journey; a squall must have struck him and capsized his canoe, and he in trying to get into his canoe was forced to sink from mere exhaustion. His canoe was properly righted, his paddle in it. It was half filled with water and of one thing I am certain, he never forsook his canoe until compelled to as I have intimated, for he has told me many times he never would.

When I think of his death my heart goes out in deepest sympathy to you his parents, sister and brother, oh how he loved you all; how his face would beam with joy on receipt of a letter from home! He would speak of you all in such endearing terms. He was at church Sabbath morning, sang in the choir, then came to our house with Mas. W——and affianced. He remained for dinner, and was so buoyant in spirits and happy. After the meal he remained for a short time, when he escorted his affianced to her home, after which he started on that journey so disastrous to you all."

Dr. Wilson was a young man of sterling Christain character. He scorned everything low and mean. He was connected with the Methodist church for over eighteen years. While in college he was closely identified with Y. M. C. A. work, and was especially zealous in assisting to mature the scheme inaugurated at that time for the support of a medical missionary in Korea.

Since that time he has entered enthusiastically into church work wherever Providence has placed him. He was passionately fond of music, a beautiful singer and has usually been a tower of strength to the church choir; he was also ardent lover of flowers. A voracious reader, and a quick independent thinker; he possessed intelligent and matured opinion on all leading questions of the day, and was unusually well informed on all topics of general interest.

His sorrowing friends wish to gratefully acknowledge the many expressions of sympathy they have received, but the best of all consolation is theirs, namely this: that "before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God."

OUR FIRE FIGHTING RESOURCES

The Visit of Inspector Howe—His Opinion of our Waterworks—The Maximum Distance of Hydrants.

THE EXAMINER had a few minutes chat with Mr. Robert Howe, inspector of the Underwriters' Association. He was naturally not inclined, in advance of his official report, to be very communicative as to his opinion of the test of the fire department's resources yesterday, but he was evidently well pleased.

His opinion respecting the efficiency of our system of water works, in relation to fire protection, was tersely expressed thus: "The Waterworks system is all right."

In regard to the distance at which street hydrants should be placed Inspector Howe was very decided. He said the maximum distance at which hydrants should be placed in the outer districts of the town was 500 feet. At no greater distance could hydrants give satisfactory service, and he very decidedly gave it to be understood that no greater distance than 500 feet would be satisfactory to the Underwriter's Association. In the business portions of the town hydrants should be placed much closer than 500 feet to insure satisfactory service.

A GREAT GAME OF CRICKET.

A great game of cricket was played on the Nicholls Park oval yesterday afternoon between University graduates and a team from the cricket club. The result was a great victory for the intellectual giants and demonstrated, as the latter claim, the superiority of brain over brawn—intellectual culture over the commercial culture that falls to the lot of common clay. The intellectual giants won by a score of over three to one—102 to 38. The following is a replica of the score sheet:

Summum	102

Generally summarizing the score, R. B. Rogers with a tally of 15, Dave Rogers with 13, and Dr. Young with 25, the three contributing over two thirds of the score, could each truthfully say with old Æneas, "et quorum pars magna fui," while the sad procession of "ducks" of the "common clay" eleven could, when asked as to their acta cricketiana, have feelingly said, with the same old classical yarn-spinner—if they had ever heard of him—"infandum  jub... renovare dolorem," for the round-armer Burnham and Rogers sent them in rapid succession to the Homeric doom—"lugro. olethron." For the common clay infants, McGill compiled more than half the score, 20. Sam Ray with a tally of 5, and Guy Rogers with a record of 4, Stetnem with 4, T. Burnham with 1, and somebody's leg with 3, were all the scorers on that side. Stocker's bowling was a feature, he has six wickets to his credit. It was a great game.

GOLF.

Messrs. H. Burnham, W. J. Montgomery, W. D. Parker, Worteil and P. Campbell went to Cobourg at noon yesterday for a friendly game of golf with the Cobourg club. The local club met with defeat at the hands of their hosts after a very pleasant game. A return match in Peterborough will probably be arranged for the fall.

THE INVINCIBLE INVERLEAS.

They Win at Association Football From the Electrics.

The Association football team from the Canadian General Works played against the Inverlea team on the Nicholls' Park last evening and were defeated by the score of one goal to none.

The teams were composed as follows:

INVERLEAS.		ELECTRICS.
Jas Doris	Goal	J. Picard
B. Simpson, G. Johnston	Forwards	W. Galley, T. Crowley
W. Parnell, Luddy, Crough	Halves	W. Wilgar, W. Crowley
Atkinson, Isbister, Thornton, Fowler, E. Simpson	Forwards	J. Holland, W Jackson, P. Might, Coventry, J. Foley

As the score shows, the play was very even, although the Electric men possess the heavier team. If the latter had adopted more aggressive tactics they would probably have done better, but their work was largely defensive, the forwards running back into their own territory, and not being up at the front to carry the ball along when their backs relieved the goal. With practice and competent coaching the Electrics should develop into a fine team.

The Inverleas are jubilant over winning the game, which adds another to their long series of victories.

M'CANN FOUND GUILTY.

He was Remanded for Sentence by the Magistrate this Morning.

McCann, the navvy from the T. V. C., who is under arrest charged with stealing a watch in Murphy's boarding house, went into the witness box this morning, and by his contradictory statements convicted himself.

He denied everything point blank that the witnesses had previously testified against him. He stated that he had not had a watch for two years and that he had not offered one for sale, although previous witnesses had proven both the facts.

As he was giving his evidence he looked at the chief in a peculiar way, and it just then occurred to the chief where he had seen the man's face before. He was the fellow who was sentenced here to six months in the Central Prison for stealing 20c. from a little newsboy about eighteen months ago.

The magistrate found the man guilty of stealing the watch and remanded him for sentence, at the same time telling him that if he had stayed out of the witness box he would have been discharged. Mr. Dumble also told the prisoner that if he told what he had done with the wasch his sentence would be considerably lightened.

TOES AND ANKLE CRUSHED.

A C. P. R. Brakeman Caught in the Wheels Near Indian River.

A wounded man being conveyed in a bus on a mattrass from the C. P. R. station to the Nicholls Hospital, in charge of Dr. Bell, attracted considerable attention yesterday.

Mr. J. A. Tobin of Havelock, was the injured man, having been hurt in the gravel pit near Indian River. He is a brakeman on the C. P. R., and his foot was caught under the wheels when the gravel train was shunting at the pit. Although the toes and ankles were badly crushed, amputation will not be necessary.

STE. ANNE DE BEAUPRE

Petrborough Party Arrives at the Shrine—Record of Miraculous Cures.

A member of the party that left Peterborough on Tuesday on the pilgrimage to the noted shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre, writes as follows:

STE. ANNE DE BEAUPRE, Wednesday.

The pilgrimage arrived here at nine o'clock this morning. Our train consisted of twenty one coaches and two engines, which was divided into two trains after crossing Quebec boundary. There are thousands of pilgrims at Ste. Anne and a very large number of visiting clergy. The Peterborough contingent explored old Quebec for fifteen minutes this morning.

At Benediction this afternoon in the Basilica and during the veneration of the relics a number of miracles occurred. Miss Amanda B. Enright, of Port Credit, suffering from hip disease for thirteen years was perfectly cured, her bandages falling off at the altar. Miss Daisy Whalen, sister of Rev. Father Whalen, of Toronto, a four years' sufferer from fracture of the ankle, left crutch and cane at the altar, walking away without them. I saw these young ladies. Another lady, whose name I could not get, was wheeled to the altar in a chair, but walked away without it—cured.

RAILWAY NOTES.

The New Lakefield Route.

This morning the first G.T.R. train to Lakefield passed over the short route via the new bridge at Auburn. The time will be considerably shortened. Under the old schedule by the old line the time from Peterborough to Ashburnham was seventeen minutes. Now, when the new line gets into proper working order it is probable that in a few minutes more the entire distance to Lakefield will be covered. The new service will be appreciated by summer travellers.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1895 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy in for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. WHERE IS HUBBELL?

An Ottawa Stock Broker is Missing and Quite a Number of People Want to Find Him.

Ottawa, July 21. Edward T. Hubbell of Rogers & Hubbell, stock brokers, left the city on Saturday, short several thousand dollars in his account with the firm. The defalcation may reach over $10,000. Hubbell went to Montreal, stayed there part of Sunday, and is supposed to have gone to New York that evening. Ald. S. M. Rogers, his partner, is endeavoring to trace him in order to have him arrested. The case is an extraordinary one for several reasons, above all the fact that Hubbell once before was in trouble for misappropriation of funds, was sent to penitentiary for two years, and on his release was taken hold of by friends and placed in an excellent business position.

About a month ago a lady resident in Ottawa asked the firm of Rogers & Hubbell to sell for her some $2500 of stock in a company in which she held shares. Hubbell disposed of the stock through O'Hara & Co. of Toronto, and on July 3 he drew on O'Hara & Company for the amount, $2500. The lady in question, the widow of a former well-known citizen, called on Hubbell several times for the proceeds, but he put her off with the plea that the Toronto firm had not yet forwarded the money. On Saturday she lost patience and telegraphed O'Hara & Co., asking them why they did not remit. They wired back that Hubbell had drawn on them for the money two weeks ago, and got it. She went to Hubbell to tax him with not accounting to her. Hubbell made excuses and succeeded in inducing her to agree to taking $1250 from him at once, and the balance later. Then he went to one of the city banks and managed to get a cheque of Rogers & Hubbell for $1250 honored until Monday, though there were at the time no funds to the credit of the firm.

He paid the $1250 to the lady, and, knowing that Monday would bring him trouble, he left that evening for Montreal. It is surmised that the only reason he paid over the $1250 is that if he had not done so he would have been followed at once, whereas by going off as he did there was no inquiry for a couple of days.

On Monday, there being no funds to meet the cheque, enquiry began. For a time it seemed incredible that Hubbell could have betrayed the confidence of a partner who had helped him to such an extent and trusted him. As the firm's accounts were looked into, however, it became evident that there was a very heavy shortage. By to-day it was clear that the defalcation would hardly be less than $10,000. The loss will fall on Ald. Rogers, who is determined to meet all the firm's liabilities in full, and will at once set to work to make arrangements to that end. It does not seem probable that anything can be recovered from Hubbell; indeed he is not supposed to have taken much with him, if anything.

When the firm of Rogers & Hubbell was formed Mr. Rogers made it a strict stipulation that the firm should do no business in stocks on their own account. The firm was simply to handle stock business for clients. Hubbell observed this, but the inference seems unavoidable that he did a lot of personal speculation, and to meet losses used the money of the firm and its clients. He also succeeded in getting a good deal of accommodation upon paper which he endorsed with the firm's signature. A prominent railway man is in for $3100 in this way, and another well-known citizen for $2500. These are, however, liabilities of the firm, as Hubbell used its name on the notes. He had power of attorney to use the firm's signature, so he is not responsible for forgery, although the effect is much the same.

The day before his departure Hubbell called on a leading lawyer, with whom he had business, and as a favor induced him to exchange cheques for $200. In other words, Hubbell got the barrister's good cheque for $200 and gave the legal man a cheque for $200, which was not to be presented at the bank for a couple of days. When it was presented there was no money to meet it. Meanwhile Hubbell cashed the legal cheque and has the money.

Efforts are being made to trace Hubbell.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

Providence Thanked.

It is with pleasure that I recommend B. B. B. for the cure of indigestion and impure blood. I had tried many medicines but received no benefit until, I thank Providence, I was advised to use B.B.B., and it resulted in a perfect cure.

Iron Exports for Germany.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

P. E. ISLAND ELECTIONS

Government Sustained, But the Majority is Small Recount Probable.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 21.—The provincial general election in Prince Edward Island to-day resulted in the Peters Government being sustained by a narrow majority. To-night's returns show the election of 16 Liberals and 14 Conservatives, the House having 30 members. Premier Peters ran in two constituencies. He won in Fort Augustus, but was defeated by Georgetown. It is believed Commissioner of Crown Lands McMillan has been defeated. Rogers, another member of the Government, lost in Alberton. In a number of districts the vote was very close, and recounts may materially affect the returns given. The names of the successful candidates according to latest reports to-night are:

Charlottetown—Prowse and Rogers, Liberals.

West Prince—Hackett, Conservative; Gaudet, Liberal.

Second Prince—McWilliams and Richards, Liberals.

First Queen's—McLeod, Conservative; Warburton, Liberal.

Second Queen's—Farquharson and Wise, Liberals.

Third Prince—Arsenau and McDonald, Conservatives.

Fourth Prince—Bell, Liberal; Campbell, Conservative.

Fifth Prince—Lepurgey and Desroches, Conservatives.

Third Queen's—Premier Peters and Speaker Cummiskey, Liberals.

First King's—McLean, Liberal; Rickbam, Conservative.

Second King's—Peters and McLaughlin, Liberals.

Third King's—McDonald and Shaw, Conservatives.

Fourth King's—McKinnon, Liberal; McKinnon, Conservative.

Fifth King's—Gordon and McDonald, Conservatives.

Death of Jean Ingelow.

Jean Ingelow was born at Boston, Lincolnshire, England, in 1820. Her first published work was "Tales of Orris," brought out in 1860, but it was her volume of "Poems," published in 1863, that established her fame. It has since passed through many editions. She was a prolific writer of verse and children's stories.

The sweetness of the first embrace — with the woman of his choice will always linger in a man's mind. It is a pity that the sweet memory should ever be poisoned by the taint of ill-health and consequent unhappiness. It is sad that the flower of a happy remembrance should be obscured and killed by the noxious weeds of sickness and sorrow. Too frequently this is the case. A woman cannot be a happy, helpful amiable wife who suffers from weakness and disease at the very mainsprings of her nature. Pity may grow up to take its place, but love itself seldom survives where this is the case. If a woman will, she may always hold her place in a man's mind and heart. If she will take the right care of herself in a womanly way she will never lose her rightful inheritance, a husband's love.

The best of all known medicines for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the important and delicate organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible and makes them strong and well. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones up and builds up tired nerves. It prepares for almost pangless motherhood and insures healthy children. Thousands of women who were sickly, nervous, fretful invalids are now happy, cheerful and helpful wives as a result of its use. All good medicine dealers keep it and there is nothing "just as good." Any dealer who tries to persuade you that there is, is thinking more of his profit than of your welfare and health.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a safe, sure, speedy, permanent cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Druggists sell them, and no other pills are as good.

A HOME ARTIST.

The Dignity and Far-Reaching Effects of Skillful Housework.

Think of the variety of duties that falls to the home-maker's share! No other occupation affords so wide a range or gives such opportunity for the exercise of what we call executive ability—that generalship that marshals into line the forces at command and concentrates them upon the most expeditious and economical performance of labor. Tasks are repeated again and again, it is true, but to-day's are not the mirror of yesterday's. Change of occupation is rest, and who finds so many changes as the housewife? Nor is the toil continuous; many a half hour can be taken for book or paper; whereas the girl in work outside her home must give every moment to her employer's service. Moreover, it is work that gives room for the exercise of intelligence and good judgment, and which should therefore arouse interest in its performance; while over all is the thought that it is toil for love's sake, for the welfare and comfort of those dearest to us.

When I hear girls declare they hate housework I always wonder under what circumstances they learned to do it. I am sure they are sometimes excusable for their dislike. Where everything is done with a slam and a bang, any way to get it done; where their is neither a knowledge of the best ways or a desire to know and practice them, and no pride felt in results, housework may easily be distasteful drudgery. Like or dislike is almost invariably born of home methods. Take for instance a small dark kitchen with no conveniences; oven door opening into the wood box, no way of getting water into the tank except via the dipper route, rusty tins and heavy iron pots and kettles, a black and forbidding sink and a stove set so low that the cook makes an interrogation point of herself over it. Such conditions would naturally produce a dislike to any work that must be pursued in the room. Add to this a system of management that lets the breakfast table stand as a banquet for the flies while the baking is being done in order to "clear up all at once," coupled with the idea that any way is good enough if it saves work, and no failure worth investigating for its cause, and any girl might well regard housekeeping as the meanest kind of drudgery.

Often the dislike of housework is the mother's own fault, her daughter simply adopting the view that has always been presented. Or, no pains has ever been taken to make of it anything more than a task to be got out of the way as soon as possible. Almost any child can be made to take an interest in little duties if taught to feel a pride in their performance and rewarded now and then by a few words of commendation. Liking to wash dishes is often merely a matter of hot water and clean towels—and a bit of praise for shining cups and glasses. Liking to cook depends somewhat on the appreciation of the cooking by the family, and a knowledge of how to do it properly. More than ever do I believe the table is the keynote in housekeeping. If meals are served neatly and attractively you generally find the rest of the housekeeping matches. This may be only a notion of mine, but I've seen it illustrated in a large number of instances.

The girl says she hates housework because it is "such drudgery." Yet it is drudgery that keeps the world moving. There is drudgery, bald, uninviting, monotonous drudgery, in everything. Nothing great was ever accomplished without a preliminary training that embraced plenty of drudgery. The pianist, the artist, the author, the statesman, the great general, passed through a routine that was full of it. Its tediousness was made bearable because of the end ever held in view. It was drudgery with a purpose. And right here I am sure I hear some bright girl say:

"Yes, they all mean to accomplish something by their drudgery. It is a means to an end." But housework is the same day after day, it's never done; there's nothing to show for it at the end of the year."

That is true. The artist and the pianist and the general must wait for the results of their discipline. Often death intervenes while they are still waiting. The housekeeper sees every day the result of her work in the well-ordered house, the health and comfort of her family, and feels the satisfaction that is born of duty well performed. She knows it is the quality of the food she sets before them that keeps her husband's brain clear for business and fosters a healthy growth in body and mind in her little ones.

She knows that in keeping them well and strong by providing the kind of food necessary to make healthy blood she is fitting them to undergo the drudgery that will inevitably enter into their life work and she does not consider hers a mean or ignoble duty. And if she wishes to realize her importance in the family she has only to drop out: go visiting or take to her bed—to demonstrate how much her services are missed. As a reward for putting her brains into her work, there comes to her at last the conscious ease of mastery; the "know how" born of experience, so that her tasks are no longer irksome, but accepted as a matter of course. She has conquered drudgery and earned the Mistress of Arts' degree in housewifery.

We must all expect to share in drudgery, for it enters into everything. It depends largely upon ourselves as to what extent it is a drudgery. We can make it a burden grievous to be borne, or a pleasure, if not a joy, just as we bring ourselves to look at it. We can toil only for the present and always with a protest against the tasks imposed on us; we can assume martyr airs and be thoroughly discontented and unhappy—and miss every atom of the joy that might be ours. Or we can accept what seems to be our lot in life with a determination to find and enjoy its best, to make ourselves and our work indispensable, to see the bright side and get out of every day its full measure of happiness and content. "It is not in our stars but in ourselves that we are underlings."

And so I say that housework is not drudgery to the woman who realizes its importance and its necessity, and who elects it shall be to her and to her daughters something more than "continuous toil without adequate results."—Beatrix, in Detroit Free Press.

Appetizing Relishes.

Chocolate blanc-mange is greatly improved by the addition of blanched and pounded almonds.

Glaced walnuts and Brazil nuts are a bon-bon often seen at luncheon.

Little cup custards are bottled with English walnut meats and tiny slices of citron.

Saltines spread with icee and chopped almonds and browned slightly in the oven are also a favorite luncheon dainty.

Tiny oval sandwiches of thinnest bread and butter, with a filling of chopped walnuts and a whole meat pressed into the top, are seen at receptions.

As a garnish for salads nuts are especially popular. A combination of apples and English walnuts makes a very good salad when served on lettuce leaves with a French dressing.

Dublin's New Archbishop.

Rev. Joseph Ferguson Peacocke, who has just been elected Protestant Episcopal Archbishop of Dublin, was formerly Bishop of Meath in the same church. He passes into the succession of the late Lord Plunkett, who died several weeks ago. The new Dublin prelate is 62 years old, and has lived in Ireland most of his time. He was bred within the old black walls of Trinity College, Dublin University, and was graduated from that institution in 1857. A year later he was ordained to the priesthood and began his clerical life as a curate. He made many changes as a curate, and all for the better. At last he was appointed canon of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin. This was in [illegible]. From 1873 to 1878 he was incumbent of St. George, Dublin, and from 1878 to 1894 he was rector of Monkstown. In the latter year he was consecrated Bishop of Meath, and the next step in the hierarchy was that which he has just taken. The archbishop is a scholarly man of great attainments and rare mental power.

ARCHBISHOP OF DUBLIN.

THAT SUDBURY COAL FIND.

It Looks as if, Geologists to the Contrary, the Citizens' Mine Would soon Produce Pure Anthracite.

Sudbury, Ont., July 21.—(Special.)—Samples of coal brought yesterday from the Citizens' mine show a decided improvement over previous ones. Public tests were made this morning in the presence of the board of directors, many prominent citizens and a representative of The Sudbury Morning News. A quantity of the substance was placed on a blacksmith's forge, and in a few minutes iron was brought to a welding heat. A fire was also built of the coal in a small stove used in Washburn's tailoring establishment, and with the assistance of a small quantity of wood the coal was easily ignited and gave out a strong heat. At every foot that the shaft deepens the carbon increases, and experts say we are only a short distance from the pure anthracite. Within two days 10,000 shares have been sold. These have been bought up by parties who have visited the mine, examined the product or seen the tests. One gentleman, Mr. Clarbois, went out last Friday, examined the mine, and on his return bought 2000 shares. There are only one or two sceptics left, and they are wavering.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

Doan's Kidney Pills.

Doan's Kidney Pills act on the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs only. They cure backaches, weak back, rheumatism, diabetes, congestion, inflammation, gravel, Bright's disease and all other diseases arising from wrong action of the kidneys and bladder.

* 1871 *

In this year Messrs. Mason & Risch started in business with small capital and no reputation, but with a determination to sell pianos of such unquestioned merit that each customer would be an aggressive advertiser for them.

* 1897 *

The enviable position that this firm occupies to-day is the best proof that their policy when they started was a wise one. They have sold over 6000 Mason & Risch Pianos in addition to many thousands of pianos and organs of other makers, establishing for themselves a reputation for piano building such as no other Canadian maker has achieved, also the recognition of prominent musicians in the United States and Europe. There is no experiment in getting a Mason & Risch.

Straw Scatteration.

"Sell the Straws!" "Sell at Once--Only Sell, Sell."

There's the only thought in our minds now. We have a sort of unreasoning terror of carrying Straw Hats over to another season, and we have just bought 100 doz. STRAW HATS to be sold here and in our Toronto stores.

Neither the tariff that's past nor the tariff that's here nor the preferential tariff that we are to enjoy more fully next season, had anything to do with the curious prices at which we bought these several lines of Straw Hats.

BOUGHT TO GET YOUR GOOD WILL.

We bought them because it gave us an opportunity to hand them out to you at over-the-sea prices—minus duties—minus profits to anybody—save a moderate one to us.

Without more explanations we will give you a few samples of the "Straw Satteration" that begins now:—

Extra Fine Split Straws and Bamboos, latest styles, ventilated or not, ordinarily worth from $1.50 to $2.00, now 75c.

Men's Fine Manillas, worth $2.50 and $3.00, now $1.50.

Ladies' Sailors, large flat Mackinaw Straws, also fine braids, to clear for 25c.

Fine Canton Braids, large, flat Mackinaw plaits and English Club Straws, for Men's wear. Latest shapes. Most merchants sell them from $1.00 to $1.50, our price 50c.

A big variety of Men's Straws, of different shapes and styles of braids, worth from 50c to 75c, now 25c.

Children's Straws to be sold at once for whatever they will bring.

See our window with choice for 25c.

LINES

ON THE DEATH OF WILLIAM ARTHUR STRAIN, WHO DIED MARCH 23RD, 1897.

Fare thee well, our first and fairest,
Dearest Willie fare thee well;
He who lent thee hath recalled thee
Back with Him and His to dwell.
Little more than twenty summers
O'er thy brow their lustre shed,
When thy spirit joined the seraphs
And thy dust the silent dead.

Snows o'ermantled hill and valley,
Sullen clouds begirt'd the sky;
When the first drear doubt oppressed us
That our child was doomed to die.
Through each long night-watch, the lamplight
Showed the hectic of thy cheek;
And each anxious dawn beheld thee
More worn out, and weak.

'Twas even then Destruction's angel
Shrok his pinions o'er our path,
Seized the first-born of our household,
Willie had been claimed by death.
Fearful, awful, desolation,
On our house then set his sign,
As we turned from Willie's death-bed,
Think was ever grief like mine?

Still while thinking of our lost one,
Of how dear you were to us;
Why should dreams of doubt and darkness
Haunt our troubled spirits thus;
Why across the silent church-yard
Flit our visions of despair?
Seated on the tomb Faith's angel
Softly says he is not here.

Where then are you? with the Saviour?
Blest forever, blest are you;
'Mid the sinless, with the holy,
Safely passed death's valley through.
Passed the shades of Jordan's river,
Now you lean upon His breast;
Where the wicked dare not enter,
And the weary are at rest.

A FRIEND.

As if by Magic.

This is always the case when Nerviline is applied to any kind of pain; it is sure to disappear as if by magic. Stronger, more penetrating, and quicker in action than any other remedy in the world, pain cannot stay where it is used. It is just the thing to have in the house to meet a sudden attack of illness.

A MINER'S CATECHISM

Which Those With Klondike Fever Should Study.

THERE IS LOTS OF GOLD THERE

But There are Great Risks The Government Will Take Steps to Protect the Revenue and Maintain Law and Order—Vast Will Next Spring to Go.

Ottawa, July 23.—Mr. Ogilvie's report on the Yukon was published to-day. It contains nothing new.

A meeting was held in Hon. Clifford Sifton's office at the Interior Department this afternoon, at which Hon. William Paterson and Hon. R. W. Scott were present, when the question of making some provision for opening up the Yukon country was considered. Mr. Deville, Surveyor-General, was also in attendance. It was decided to order two customs officers from Victoria to establish stations on the other side of the summit at the head of the Lynn Canal. Arrangements will also be made to enable Canadian boats from Victoria to report at Juneau, and take up their loads to the head of the canal for transport through the passes. The question of improved police protection, the establishment of additional mounted police posts, and the alterations in mining regulations, will all be discussed at a meeting of the Cabinet on Monday next.

A MINER'S CATECHISM.

If Would-be Gold Hunters Can Answer "Yes," Why Go to the Klondike If You Will.

Ottawa, July 23.—Mr. H. B. Cameron, a practical and experienced mining engineer of this city, writes as follows, which is very timely when so many are contemplating going to the Yukon gold fields:

A rush to the Yukon is inevitable, owing to the great gold discoveries made there of late. The newspaper reports are undoubtedly genuine, being confirmed to me by private information from personal friends, who were fortunate enough to reach Klondike last season, and who have already secured nearly $100,000 each.

Several people have already left Ottawa for the new eldorado, and to judge from the many personal enquiries and letters I receive it is evident that many more are on the balance. To these I would like to give a little timely advice, and ask them to ponder well the following essential conditions of success. Let each man contemplating the adventure ask himself these questions:

Have I a capital of at least $500?

Am I subject to any organic or chronic disease, especially rheumatism?

Am I physically sound in every way and able to walk 30 miles a day with a 50-pound pack on my back?

Am I willing to put up with the roughest fare, sleep anywhere and anyhow, do my own cooking and wash and mend my own clothes?

Can I leave perfectly foot-free, leaving no one dependent upon me in any manner for support?

Can I do entirely without spirituous liquors?

Can I work like a galley-slave for months, if need be, on poor fare, and sometimes not enough of that, and still keep up a cheerful and brave spirit?

Am I pretty handy with tools, and not subject to lazy fits?

Can I swim, handle boats and canoes, put up with extremes of heat and cold and bear incessant torture from countless swarms of mosquitoes, gnats and sand fleas?

Lastly, and very important too, can I stand sudden success without getting the "big head?"

To any one who can answer these questions satisfactorily, I would say, "Go, if you so will it," and may success attend you." But make up your mind before leaving that you have chosen no rose-leaf profession. Civilization wants pioneers, and pre-eminent amongst pioneers stands the gold miner and prospector.

MOSS TELLS A TALE OF HORROR.

Says He Saw Two Thousand Graves in the Klondike Country—Men Died of Starvation.

Great Falls, Mont., July 23.—Frank Moss, an old-time miner in this section, who four years ago was one of a party of Americans to first visit the Klondike country, returned to-day and tells a story of horrors and starvation seldom equalled even in modern novels. He describes Klondike as a placer camp, seven miles long and 13 miles wide, located in a sink, walled in by boulders of rock 3000 feet high. Gold, he says, abounds, but no ordinary man can stand the hardships of the uncivilized region. When Moss left here four years ago he was a sturdy fellow, over six feet tall. From hardships and privation he is to-day a cripple for life and badly broken in health.

In three years he saw over 2000 graves made in the Klondike basin, a large majority dying from starvation. The steamship companies bring in all food and allow no private importation. Consequently it is not uncommon to go for weeks with but a scanty supply and for days entirely without food.

The gold brought in last week to Seattle, Moss says, does not represent the finding of individual shippers, but a large proportion was confiscated from the effects of those 2000 miners who fell a prey to the hardships. At the death of a man possessed of dust his body was buried without a coffin and the dust divided among those who cared for him. With proper reliefs established by the Government, Moss says, gold can be taken out at the rate of $2,000,000 a month.

The richest strike has been made by a 21-year-old boy named George Hornblower of Indianapolis. In the heart of a barren waste, known as Bonderfield, he found a nugget, for which the Transportation Company gave him $5700. He located his claim at the find and in four months he had taken out over $100,000.

The richest section of Alaska, Moss says, is yet undeveloped. It is 100 miles from Klondike and known as the Black Hole of Calcutta. It is inhabited by ex-convicts of Bohemia, and murders and riots take the place of law and order. A few months ago Klondike organized a justice committee, and its law prevails there now.

With the great crowds preparing to go to the scene now, the old miner says hunger and suffering will be great when added to other hardships to be overcome by those who survive the terrible ordeal. Moss returned with $6000 in dust, and leaves to-morrow for his old home at Dubuque, Ia., where he will spend the balance of his years.

Hamilton Man Going.

Hamilton, July 23.—(Special.)—Mr. George Findlay, brother of Ald. Findlay, leaves for the Klondike district to-morrow, going to Seattle, and thence by the overland route. Mr. Findlay will put in the winter at the spot.

Captain Hays' Warning.

San Francisco, July 23.—The Alaska Commercial Company's ship Bertha arrived from Unalaska yesterday with 500 tons of concentrates from the Apollo mine at Unga and a bar of bullion from the same source, but brought no gold from the Klondike region. Capt. Hays of that vessel, speaking of the Klondike boom, said:

"The fact is that the new gold fields are 2000 miles from St. Michael's and the difficulties of transportation are innumerable, and cannot be too forcibly impressed upon intending prospecters. The newspapers will be responsible for the loss of many lives and a great deal of suffering and hardship if they do not strongly advise the public that the River Yukon, now that the mountain torrents have ceased running, is very low, and consequently much of the 5000 tons of supplies now awaiting transportation cannot possibly be conveyed to their destination for some time."

Give Him the Earth.

New York, July 23.—W. J. Arkell of this city announced last night that he purposed to claim the gold fields in the Klondike (Alaska) district by right of discovery for the estate of E. J. Glave. Glave, who has since died in Africa, was the explorer who headed the expedition to Alaska in 1890-91, organized by W. J. Arkell

Go in the Spring.

New York, July 23.—The World says: The Klondike fever has not abated a particle. The offices of the railroad companies and ticket agencies are visited by adventurous spirits eager to seek their fortune in the Alaskan gold fields.

From information obtained by World reporters, those seriously considering making the trip will do well to postpone their departure for some time. Under the most favorable circumstances, the working days in the Yukon gold fields cannot exceed 100 in the year. For the other 265 days the earth is covered with snow, the ground is frozen and the rivers closed by ice. Anybody starting from New York at this season would reach the Yukon River just about the beginning of the long Alaskan winter, and it would be far more comfortable for him to remain at home and proceed to the new Eldorado at a time which would make his arrival there simultaneous with the opening of good weather.

Foolish to Start Now.

Frederick Hobart, editor of The Engineering and Mining Journal, says of the Klondike: "It would be extremely foolish for anyone to start from New York for Klondike at this season, because he cannot get there in time to do anything this year. The Yukon River is navigable only during about three months of the year. It would be well for those who do not know that country to learn more about it before starting for the gold fields."

Leicester Allen, associate editor of The Engineering Magazine, said: "Naturally I have given a good deal of attention to reports from the new gold fields. It would be folly for anyone to start for that region at this time, as it is too late to accomplish anything this year."
